Another Secret Session On Schools

Committee Still Seeking Site In Newtonville—Other Matters

The Newton School Committee held a regular meeting Monday night, a discussion was held on the matter of opposing the bill now before the Legislature to make Armistice Day a legal holiday. Elliott B. Church, member from Ward 1 moved that the committee go on record as opposed to this bill and so acquaint the members of the Legislature representing Newton. He called attention to the number of legal holidays now observed and commented that to add another holiday will be imposing an additional handicap on school work. While agreeing that the American Legion is entitled to a holiday, he commented that such a day can be properly observed on May 30 and inasmuch as the survivors of the Civil War are rapidly passing on the Legion should carry on the functions of Memorial Day. He stated that school teachers assert that every holiday interferes with pupils' work both on the day preceding and the day following.

Grosvenor Calkins, member from Ward 7, inquired if it is customary for the committee to take action on such a matter. Supt. of Schools Wheeler answered in the affirmative. Maxwell Hutchins, member from Ward 4, argued that the members of the Legion are entitled to have Armistice Day observed as a legal holiday; he suggested that one of the other holidays be dropped to allow November 11 being made a legal holiday. The committee voted unanimously in favor of Mr. Church's motion.

The sub-committee which has been considering the petition of Oak Hill residents asking for free bus transportation for children from that section attending the Mason School can go home for warm dinners, reported adversely on the petition. Mr. Calkins of the transportation committee reported that 42 letters had been sent to parents of children in that district asking them as to their willingness to spend 10c per pupil per day to partly pay for this extra transportation; free transportation now being afforded to bring the pupils to school and to take them back to their homes. But 14 replies were received. Nine replied in the affirmative, five in the negative. It was voted not to grant the petition.

On the matter of tearing down the old school house at Oak Hill and using a portable school building there, it was voted to refer this question to the sub-committee on school buildings. Two residents of Commonwealth avenue, Newtonville, appeared before the committee and asked for special bus service to and from the Clafin School for the pupils living in that neighborhood.

The committee expressed its disapproval of the request received from the Near East Relief Association asking that Newton pupils bring cans of condensed milk to school for the children of the Near East. This matter was laid on the table for further investigation.

A communication was received from Alderman Woodcock of Ward 2 asking the opinion of the committee on the matter of permitting school children to take part in public performances given on evenings preceding days on which

Treasurer Resigns --- Served 45 Years

Frank H. Ratcliffe To Be Succeeded By Brookline Man

Frank H. Ratcliffe of Rice street, Newton Centre, resigned as treasurer of the Boston & Albany railroad this week, a position he held since September 27, 1899. He will be succeeded by George B. Foster of Brookline. Mr. Ratcliffe was born 83 years ago in Faversham, Kent, England, and came to this country when a boy of 9. He attended school in Boston and at 14 went to work in a wholesale shoe establishment in that city. In 1865 he entered the employ of the Western Railroad as a clerk and continued in this occupation when the Western and the Boston & Worcester railroads were combined to form the Boston & Albany in 1867. He was promoted to chief clerk and later to assistant treasurer prior to assuming the office which he has resigned from.

Mr. Ratcliffe has been prominently identified with Trinity Episcopal Church, Newton Centre, having served as a vestryman, junior warden and senior warden. He was also for many years active in musical circles in Boston.

PLUMBERS GET $11 A DAY

Wednesday night a meeting of the Master Plumbers and Master Steamfitters of the Newton-Waltham district was held at the State Armory, West Newton and decided to meet the demand of their employees for an increase of $1 a day over the wage rate of $10 per day which they have been receiving. The wage-agreement between the plumbers and their employees expired Wednesday and a strike was threatened unless the increase was granted. The $11 wage has been in effect in Boston for some months. The Newton-Waltham district includes besides these two cities—Needham, Watertown, Belmont, Wellesley, Acton, Natick, Weston, Lexington, Concord and other smaller places. Over 300 plumbers and steamfitters are employed in the district.

MRS. MARY McELROY

Mrs. Mary T. McElroy, wife of Stephen McElroy of Emerson street, Newton, died at the Newton Hospital yesterday morning, following a brief illness. Mrs. McElroy, who was born in Newton 59 years ago, is survived by her husband, one son by a former marriage, Frank Maher of Wellesley, and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Lowell of Winthrop. Her funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at the Church of Our Lady. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

schools are in session. The committee referred him to that rule of the School Committee which states that no meetings shall be held on evenings preceding a school day shall be allowed in school halls except with the approval of the Superintendent of Schools.

The committee went into another secret session to confer on the matter of specifying a site for the new school in the Clafin district at Newtonville. The committee had recommended that the south end of Cabot Park, adjoining Cabot street, be used for this purpose, but the Playground Commission opposed this proposition.

Dr. Karl Stolz To Talk At Newtonville

Religious Education Movement Has Rapid Growth in Past Decade

One of the movements that has attracted wide attention throughout the United States during the last decade is that of week-day religious education. The program conducted in Gary, Ind., which began in 1913, was one of the first to attract nation-wide attention. At the present time over 3000 children in the Gary schools are being excused at certain periods during the week to receive religious instruction in a church or building near the public schools. Children are dismissed on written request of their parents.

Week-day religious education is carried on at Dayton, O., Oak Park, Ill., Cleveland, O., Kansas City, Mo., St. Paul, Minn., and many other centers of population. In one state alone religious instruction is given on week-days in 120 cities and towns.

This phase of the program of religious education will be considered at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, when Dr. Karl Stolz, Dean of the Hartford School of Religious Education, of Hartford, Conn., will give an address on the subject at a meeting held Tuesday evening, March 13, under the auspices of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education and the Newtonville Woman's Club. The subject is one that will be of interest to the citizens of Newton.

NEWTON KIWANIS CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday was featured by an illustrated talk given by Richard Dwyer of the Newton Buick Company showing the famous proving grounds of General Motors Company near Detroit. The severe tests which the various makes of cars manufactured by this company are put through were shown on two films. Will White told of the progress which is being made on the testimonial to the late Leonard Jackson at the Community Theatre on March 8th. Glen Hermyan, who has been elected to assist in winning the attendance contest which is now under way among the Kiwanis Clubs of this district. The singing, as usual, was effectively led by Hugh Boyd.

At the Newton Corner alleys Wednesday night the bowling team of the Kiwanis Club defeated Cambridge Kiwanis three straight strings. The score:

UNION SERVICE IN ELIOT CHURCH

The second of a series of six union Sunday evening Lenten services, held under the auspices of four of the Protestant churches of Newton, will be held in the Eliot Church, Newton, on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., of the Emanuel Baptist Church, Newton, will preach the sermon. The quartet and choir of the Eliot Church will render parts of Maunder's cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary."

WANT SCHOOL NAMED "PINE GROVE"

A petition circulated at Lower Falls and to which about 75 names of residents there have been attached, is to be presented to Mayor Childs, asking that the new school in that village be named "Pine Grove School." This is the name which has been given to a new real estate development in that neighborhood.

Newton Citizens To Honor L. D. Jackson

Testimonial Performance in Community Theatre Next Thursday Night

Next Thursday night, March 8, at the Community Theatre, Newton, a testimonial of the people of Newton to the late Leonard Jackson who was killed in the explosion and fire at the Gorgone building on Lexington street, West Newton, on January 30. Jackson had gone to Gorgone's store that afternoon in line with his duties as inspector for the Board of Health. He had been in the store but a few minutes when a terrific explosion, caused by fumes from a huge still in the cellar, occurred and his life was snuffed out.

Leonard D. Jackson was born 30 years ago in the old Jackson homestead at 445 Crafts street, West Newton. He was the son of Frank A. and Elizabeth J. Jackson; his father for many years was station agent at the Newtonville depot. The old homestead was erected in 1749 by Joshua Jackson, one of whose sons was Major Daniel Jackson who served throughout the Revolutionary War and who won his commission for heroism in battle. When the World War came and this country was drawn into it in 1917, Leonard D. Jackson, although under the draft age, proved himself a worthy descendant of patriotic ancestors and enlisted in the United States Army.

He was a young man of exceptionally high character and had served this city devotedly at a small salary. About two years before his death he was critically ill for many weeks from a disease which he was supposed to have contracted in the performance of his work. This sickness occasioned him much expense which he had to bear himself. He is survived by his widow, his aged father and mother.

The committee in charge of the testimonial includes some of Newton's leading citizens. The tickets for the performance, which will consist of 10 acts of vaudeville by professionals from the Boston theatres may be obtained at the offices of any of the banks in this city. The price of these tickets is $1.00.

MIDDLESEX COURT REUNION

The 42nd anniversary of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., was observed at Elks Hall on Tuesday night. Chief Ranger Christopher Bradley presided and Thomas Fitzgerald acted as toastmaster. Among those called upon to tell of the work accomplished by the M. C. O. F. in Newton and elsewhere were Mrs. Mary Costello of Brighton, High Chief Ranger of the order; Mrs. Helen Gallivan of the High Standing Committee; John Gallagher of Watertown, deputy of Middlesex Court. Two charter members of the court, Street Commissioner George Stuart and John Sullivan, reminisced on the early days of the court. Past Chief Rangers Thomas F. Delaney and Thomas Hickey also spoke.

An enjoyable entertainment was provided by the Alpine Trio, the Morrison sisters, Daisy Bernier and Muriel Sullivan, Buddy McNeil and Mary Thomas, with John Dunleavy as accompanist. Refreshments were served. The new degree team of Middlesex Court, under the direction of Capt. Thomas Hickey, gave an exhibition. This team, composed of twenty young ladies, has been recently organized and will compete at the State Convention in Pittsfield next May.

NEWTON GIRLS PASS BAR

Among the 31 women who were admitted to the bar this week is Ruth B. Mulvihill of 77 Harding street, West Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mulvihill. She is a graduate of St. Mary's School, Waltham, and has been employed as a title examiner. Mrs. Margaret Smith of 172 Washington street, Newton, was another resident of this city in the successful list of candidates for admission to the bar.

Read Fund Lectures To Begin On March 15

Dr. Edward Howard Griggs To Give Course on "Moral Leaders"

The Trustees of Read Fund announced a series of five lectures to be given in the Underwood School Auditorium on Thursday evenings, March 15-22-29, April 12-19 at 8:15 P. M. The hour for the lectures is advanced fifteen minutes by arrangement with pastors of Newton churches in order to avoid conflict with mid-week church meetings.

The subject of the course this year is "Moral Leaders," and the lives and influence of the following great men will be discussed:—

March 15—Socrates: Moral Leadership in the Old Greek World.

March 22—St. Francis of Assisi: The Spiritual Awakening of the Middle Ages.

March 29—Savonarola: The Moral Prophet of the Renaissance.

April 19—Tolstoy: The Moral Leadership in Mysterious Russia.

Dr. Griggs needs no introduction to Newton audiences as this is the fourth consecutive series of lectures which he has given in this city. There are few lecturers in the United States who have won the reputation which Edward Howard Griggs has won and fewer still who have the loyal following that he has had, and continues to have in undiminished numbers.

Last year the hall to the Underwood School was crowded at each lecture. Doors will be open at 7:45.

WANT ALL OAK HILL SINGLE RESIDENCE

That part of Newton known as Oak Hill, comprising the large area southeast of Newton Centre and Newton Highlands, and extending to the Needham and West Roxbury lines, was, until the last few years, quite sparsely populated. Scattered farm houses dotted it here and there, and open country and woodlands abounded. But with the growth of Greater Boston this territory is being developed, and it is the desire of those who have erected attractive residences in it to have it grow as a high-class community of homes. A considerable section of Oak Hill is being developed by Arnold Hartman.

Much of Oak Hill is now zoned as a private residence district. This permits of two-family houses being erected in this zone. A petition has been received from Arthur L. Lewis asking that land in the neighborhood of Parker and Dedham streets be changed from the private to single-residence zone. The Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen has taken the stand that the practicable thing to do is to consider the zoning of Oak Hill in its entirety to forestall repeated hearings on small parts of this territory. So, at the request of Chairman Baker of the committee, the Board voted to hold a public hearing on March 7 at City Hall, when the question of placing all the territory south of Boylston street, in the Oak Hill district, in a single-residence zone. It is expected that this hearing will be largely attended.

EXTRA BUS FOR WABAN PUPILS

Two busses, instead of one, will be provided for Waban pupils attending the Levi Warren Junior High as a result of 64 Waban parents agreeing to have their children use the busses regularly. The sub-committee on transportation of the Newton School Committee sent out 80 letters to Waban parents regarding this matter. Seventy replied and sixty-four agreed to have their children patronize the school bus service.

APPOINTED TO PLUMBING BOARD

G. Wilbur Thompson of Newton Centre has been appointed by Gov. Fuller as a member of the State Board of Examiners of Plumbers to succeed David Craig.

State D. R. Honors Four Newton Women

Mrs. Adelbert Fernald Re-elected to Regency for Third Year

Several Newton women were honored by the State Society D. R. by unanimous election or re-election to office for another year at the annual meeting held on Tuesday at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. Mrs. Adelbert Fernald of Newton, who has already served two years as regent, was given the unusual tribute of a third year, something that has happened only twice before in the history of the society. Mrs. Gertrude H. Whitney of Ricker road was re-elected as recording secretary, Mrs. Clara J. Gould of Washington street was re-elected as treasurer, and Miss Emma D. Coolidge of Pembroke street was re-elected as historian.

The meeting was an all-day session, with Mrs. Fernald presiding throughout, and it was a day of inspiration for next year's work, and of wonderful reports of progress of the past year. Mrs. Whitney, in her report, reminded the members that this date was the 25th anniversary of the society. Miss Coolidge's record of "personalities," "state of health" and "outstanding events" occasioned great merriment, and members enjoyed the "play" upon their names in a record of history. The Junior director, Miss Pearl Wilkins, not a Newton woman, reported one fact that probably cannot be matched by any other organization—the membership of her three-months-old granddaughter in the Juniors, her application papers having been accepted by the General Society. Mrs. Fernald's address, expressing appreciation for the loyalty and co-operation of the council and individual members was most stirring. She foretold progress and growth in patriotic work and in friendships in the year to come and awakened much enthusiasm.

The noon recess was greatly enjoyed by parties of members who lunched at the Vendome or at nearby restaurants. A record attendance of members from all over the state was evident.

Other Newton women prominent in the day's activities were: Nominating committee, Mrs. Franklin Smith; tellers, also Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Willard Sampson, Mrs. Ellen Harris, Mrs. Clair Sigzins and delegates elected to represent the society at the convention of the General Society at Old Point Comfort, Va. in May, Miss Emma D. Coolidge and Mrs. Warren F. Gregory. Many other Newton women will also go to the convention as delegates from the Sarah Hull Chapter, and these have already been elected. Mrs. Sidney R. Porter reported for her chapter as regent of Sarah Hull for the past year.

An announcement that gave much pleasure was that of having raised, since October, for the Student Loan Fund, which is to be presented to Wheaton College to aid students in financial crises, $1,100, and this will be presented at once to the college—an achievement that may well indicate the splendid work this patriotic society is doing, and one that will stand on record for them for all time.

NEWTON DOG ON RAMPAGE

On Monday Mrs. Mary Glancy of 82 Pine street, West Newton, was in Newton court and given a suspended fine of $10 for having a barking and biting dog. She was told to keep the dog restrained and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine it. Wednesday the dog, a mongrel collie and St. Bernard, slipped its collar and, escaping from the Glancy yard, ran over to Waltham, where, after creating much excitement, it was finally shot in the Beaver Brook district by Patrolman McKewen of the Waltham police. The head of the animal was sent to Boston for examination to determine if it had rabies. Mrs. Glancy showed a commendable spirit in going to the Waltham police, when she learned of the dog which had been shot in Waltham and suspected it was hers, to inform them it had been suspected of having had rabies.

Will Not Allow Gas Rates To Be Changed

Public Utilities Commission Decides Against Gas Co.

The Public Utilities Commission has announced that it will not allow the change in rates which the Boston Consolidated Gas Company proposed to put into effect. The change was originally scheduled to start January 1st, but it was postponed pending the decision of the Commission. The Gas Company contends that a large percentage of its customers use gas merely as a matter of convenience and use so little of it that the company serves them at a distinct loss. From figures compiled by the company the claim was made that it costs more than a dollar a month to furnish service to a customer, read meters and make out bills. It was proposed to levy a service charge of $1.00 per month on customers and reduce the prices charged for gas. The new rates would make an appreciable increase in gas cost to those customers who now use but a small amount. They would provide a considerable decrease to customers who use gas for heating purposes or who do most of their cooking by gas. Persons who use gas just to get the breakfast quickly, or who do light housekeeping in apartments, instead of paying 50c or 75c monthly for this fuel, would have found their bills doubled.

The Public Utilities Commission announced that it considered the change uncalled for. It believes the Gas Company should derive its revenues through the regular sale of its commodity rather than by using a service charge to compel customers alleged to be receiving service at less than cost to pay a fair return for this service.

CITY HALL

The employees of the Public Buildings Department tendered a surprise party on Building Commissioner Chadwick Wednesday evening, February 29th, at his home, 39 Oakland avenue, Auburndale, the occasion being Mr. Chadwick's eighth birthday. Mrs. Mary Peppard, chief clerk in the department, presented Mr. Chadwick with a fitted toilet case, and Mrs. Chadwick with a bouquet of roses and a mixture of spring flowers, the gift of the employees. Games were played under the direction of Mr. Warren and Mr. Poole. Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Arthur Campbell, Miss Leona Joyal and Mr. Poole, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Peppard, pianist. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was had by all.

Alderman Norman F. Pratt has been on an extended tour of the Southwest visiting Texas, Louisiana and other states.

THORWALD HANSEN

Thorwald Hansen, 73, of 78 Nesbore road, Waban, who died at the Charlesgate Hospital, was buried yesterday in Mount Auburn Cemetery. The funeral services were conducted in the chapel at the cemetery by St. Omar Commandery, Knights Templars. Mr. Hansen was a native of Norway and came to this country when a young man. He was an inventor and expert machinist and made many inventions. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Harold Hansen of Lancaster, Clarence of Watertown and John of Cambridge, and four daughters, Mrs. William Baxter and Mrs. James Brock of Waban, Mrs. William Glidden of Richmond, Virginia, and Mrs. Thomas Wilson of Cambridge.

CHARTER MEMBER

Of the five surviving members of the Takawambait Lodge, L. O. E. F., one, Mr. Nathan E. Dewing, a resident of Auburndale. A celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Lodge was held in Odd Fellows' Hall, Natick, Feb. 28 and 29. Jewels, in the form of gold and enamel medals were presented to the three charter members present. Mr. Dewing has been a resident of Auburndale for some years, his present home being on Pigeon Hill.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

NEWTON ENTERS

22 IN STATE MEET

Newton high has entered twenty-two athletes in the Massachusetts High School Athletic Association track and field carnival tomorrow afternoon at the East Armory. A grand total of 322 entries representing 24 schools has been received by John M. Gallagher of Newton Highlands, junior master of the Boston High School of Commerce, who has charge of the entries. The committee in charge of the meet, in addition to Mr. Gallagher, includes Dr. Oscar Martin of Newton, E. M. Roberts of Brockton, and Ralph L. Kendall of Medford. Among the officials are John L. Sullivan, Newton high coach, John Lausen, and Clarence V. Moore as judges; Dr. Martin as time; and Henry Pierce, R. N. Sanborn, Horton S. Allen, Carl L. Swan as field judges.

Newton high has entered its full strength in an effort to bring home the honors. Medford high, winner of the recent Andover meet, is regarded as the favorite with a possibility of it scoring twenty-five or more points which should be sufficient to bring victory. Because of the fact that the Boston schools held their divisional meets this week they will not compete tomorrow as the coaches have ruled that competition once a week is often enough. This fact aids the Newton runners perhaps more than it does any of the other schools, as it will bring Newton's well-balanced material within the point division.

Other teams besides Newton and Medford to compete in Class A, will be Lowell, Lawrence, Rindge, Lynn Classical, Lynn English, Brookline and Brockton. Dorchester and Lawrence tied for first honors last year with Newton following but one-quarter of the schools out and Lawrence not having the material it had last year it looks like a close affair with Newton and Lowell forcing Medford to the limit.

Newton has a great chance of taking three first places which should give it a good start. Edward Ebelhare, winner of the high jump at Andover and in a quintuple tie for the first at the B. A. A. games last Saturday should win tomorrow. Robert Kinrade, who placed second to an athlete from the David Prouty school which will be in Class B tomorrow should annex the broad jump. Kinrade's best leap in the Andover meet was but a quarter inch shy of tying for first. Another event in which Newton has a fine chance to take first is in the 100-yard run for which McCrudden hopes to be in fine fettle. A few weeks ago the Newton long distance star cut his leg with an axe and did not put on a shoe until the Andover meet. There he won the first heat handily but the second heat saw Walter Langley, the Lowell star, break the record and take first place. McCrudden, who was lap by Coach Enoch and had not been forced to lay off while his injury healed would have been caught in faster time than Langley. Following the Andover meet McCrudden came down with the flu which kept him out of the B. A. A. meet in which he was figured to be among the point winners. If he is right tomorrow he and Langley will have a great race with the odds favoring the Newton runner. These three events should give Newton fifteen points and if McCrudden breaks the record for the 1000 an additional three points will be awarded.

Dick Reynolds has been literally flying around the Newton track in practice this week. He took off the 200 yards in 36 2/5 to tie the track record. He was entered in the 600-yard run and as the entries have closed must stick to that event in which he has a fine opportunity to place.

Another of the Newton lads who is in fine shape is Nathan Pearson. In a time trial this week he covered the 300 yards on the Newton track in 36 1/5 seconds which is the fastest time ever made there. He too will be one of the athletes to watch tomorrow. Romaine Cole and John Janis, the latter from Lawrence and state champion, should stage a beautiful race in the low hurdles. Eugene Record of Brookline, White of Medford, and Clifford of Brockton probable runners in the final heat. In the dash Newton's hope is Fowler Cole who placed second to Ralph Hewitt, the Worcester flash, in the second heat in the B. A. A. games. Creighton Gatchell or Carl Pescosolido have high hopes of picking up a point or two in the shot put with Tremblay and Janis, both of Lawrence, easy winners of the first two places.

The relay team, each man of which will run 352 yards, will probably consist of Dick Reynolds, Captain Malcolm Reed, Nathan Pearson and either Earlring Bearsto or one of the Cole brothers. Coach Enoch can put a team on the track that is just as apt to set new figures for the distance as any of the teams from the other schools. In the B. A. A. games each man ran 440 yards with Dick Reynolds the only man to keep his pace throughout. The other three runners on the team were not accustomed to the longer distance and as a result Eugene Record of Brookline, running second, gained a lead that was too great for Newton to overcome. Reynolds ran a nice three laps and was five yards ahead of Badaracco when he turned over his baton to the next man.

In tomorrow's meet a new type of medal will be awarded to the first four athletes in each event. Points counting five, three, two and one. The medals will be oval in shape with an outline of the state of Massachusetts running across its length. They will bear the inscription "State Meet—1928."

The meet takes the form of a memorial to the late Alfred W. Dickinson, Newton coach and one of the founders of the meet. The new Dickinson trophy will be awarded for the first time to the school whose team

RAE BREAKS TANK RECORD IN MEET

In the Newton Y pool Wednesday afternoon the Brookline High school swimming team defeated the Newton high natators, 39 to 23. John Rae, Brookline breaststroke star shattered the tank record for this event over the 100-yard course and won by seven yards over Conway, a teammate. Rae's time was 1 m 13 s, six seconds faster than the old record.

The relay race was the most thrilling ever staged in the Y tank. Thompson of Newton had a slight lead over Broadbent, the first Brookline swimmer, but Rae made up the advantage and turned over a slight lead to Fay. Davidson, the Newton third man, closed the gap and gained a slight lead which Marty Ford, Brookline anchor, was able to make up only after an exciting race against Captain Harry Lodge, Newton anchor.

Newton scored heavily in the 100-yard dash and dive. Captain Lodge was the high scorer with first in the 100 and second in the 40-yard freestyle events. Billy Perry and Jimmy Essen each scored a second and a third for four points apiece. The summary:

Relay—Won by Brookline (Broadbent, Rae, Fay, Ford); Newton (Thompson, Marshall, Davidson, Lodge), second. Time 1m 26 3/5s.

Dive—Won by McGrath, Newton; Prendergast, Brookline, second; Esson, Newton, third.

40-Yard Freestyle—Won by Ford, Brookline; Lodge, Newton, second; Esson, Newton, third. Time 22s.

100-Yard Backstroke—Won by Fay, Brookline; McTigue, Brookline, second; Perry, Newton, third. Time 1m 18 1/5s.

100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Lodge, Newton; Perry, Newton, second; Jerome, Brookline, third. Time 1m 38s.

Lose To Cantabs

Last Friday afternoon in the Newton Y tank the Newton swimmers lost a close meet to the Cambridge Latin mermen by the close score of 30 to 32. Newton started off well by taking the relay by a margin of five or six yards. Poltrac of Cambridge won the dive over Esson and McGrath the Newton entries. Squires of Cambridge took the 100 with Totten, also of Cambridge and Captain Lodge of Newton tied for second. This brought the Cantabs to within two points of the orange and black. Wales of Newton won the backstroke when Perry was disqualified on one of the turns, to increase Newton's margin to three points. The best Chapin and Scott could do in the breaststroke was second and third and Cambridge again crept nearer. Totten won the 40-yard dash, while Perry and Lodge finishing second and third and the lead was reduced to a single point with the 200-yard swim as the final event. Squires had a comfortable margin over Davidson of Newton so the third place was the deciding factor in the meet. Fitzmaurice of Cambridge and Littlefield of Newton had been trailing their teammates with the latter having the lead. The Cantab swimmer flashed a spurt on the last lap that carried him home ahead of the Newton swimmer by a narrow margin and Cambridge was the victor.

wins the most points. It will become the immediate property of that school. The trophy, which is the gift of the Mass. High School Coaches Association of which Mr. Dickinson was one of the founders, bears the inscription "The Alfred W. Dickinson Trophy—His Name Liveth Forever More."

B. A. A. Meet

The Newton high track team finished sixth in the 33rd annual B. A. A. interscholastic meet last Saturday at the Arena. Worcester Academy, with its captain and star, Ralph Hewitt, scoring thirteen points, outdistanced its nearest competitor Newark (N. J.) Prep school by two points. Worcester scored 24 1/20, Newark 22, Lowell 8 4/5, Lawrence 8, Exeter 7 3/10, Newton 5 3/10, Brookline 4 1/4, Boston English 2, Bridgton Academy 2, Salem 1 4/5, Boston Latin 1 1/2, and Brockton 1/2 a point.

Newark Prep's time of 3m 37 2/5 seconds in the relay race established the time for a mile race and the school was awarded three additional points for a new record. Newton's team trailed Brookline by ten yards. The latter's time of 3m 40 2/5s was equalled by Exeter academy as second best. Dick Reynolds started off for Newton and on the second lap passed John Badaracco of Brookline to hand over a four yard lead to Bearsto. The latter was running against the Brookline star, Eugene Record, who had little trouble passing him and opening up a lead of ten yards which Rogers and Werner maintained over Pearson and Reed, the Newton pair. Newton's time was good for 3 1/2 points.

Edward Ebelhare tallied Newton's other points in the high jump when he figured in a tie with four other jumpers at 5 feet 9 inches for 1 4/5 points each. On the toss for medals Ebelhare won the first prize. Fowler Cole placed second to Ralph Hewitt in the second heat of the dash but was shut out in the semifinals. Romaine Cole finished third in his heat in the high hurdles. McCrudden was expected to run the 1000 but as he had not recovered completely from an attack of the flu Coach Enoch would not permit him to run.

Ed Wilson of the B. A. A. track team and a resident of Newton, won the New England A. A. U. mile walk championship handily in 6m 54 2/5s. Wilson was one of a field of four starters and before the end of the race had lapped the entire field.

CANDIDATES FOR NINE TO REPORT

Coach John L. Sullivan of the Newton High School baseball team has issued a call for candidates to report on Monday in the old gymnasium at the school. While no batting practice will be held until the battery men are far enough along so that there should be no sore arms the players will have the chance to loosen up their muscles and get the feel of the ball in their hands. The Newton mentor will have a number of veterans around which to build his team and from performances the lads turned in last season this year's team should be up in the running for the Suburban league title.

Two or the so-called first-string twirlers from last year's squad are available and report that they are anxious to get under way. Don Wilson and Bill Reilly are the pair upon whom Coach Sullivan will probably rely for the major games. In addition to these two there are a number of other more or less experienced twirlers who will report chief of whom is Bob Bennett. Behind the bat the loss of Harold Andres leaves a big gap which will be one of Sullivan's biggest problems. However, he has three players, one of whom, it is hoped will come through. Phil Andres, who substituted for his brother in a few of last year's games, will be in the fight along with Arthur Wilson, a brother of the pitcher, and Langdon Powers, an intermediate catcher last year and a member of the championship hockey team.

The greatest strength on the orange and black team this year will doubtless be found in the infield where every position will probably be filled by a letter man on last year's nine unless some dark horse is uncovered who has the ability to displace one of them. Captain Spencer deMille will lead down the initial sack against where his height and reach give him a great advantage and make a fine target for the infielders to shoot at. Arthur Fletcher, also on the varsity hockey squad, finished the season last year at second base and is ready to give any of the other candidates, one of whom is likely to be Everett Scheinfain, captain-elect of football, a strenuous campaign for the berth. There does not seem to be any player on the horizon who can displace Frank Spain from his position at shortstop which he filled in fine style last year after displacing Captain Johnny Proctor. A nose sore sent him to left field. At the hot corner will be Edgar Warren, regular incumbent there last year after much experimenting. Previously Warren had been playing second but Fletcher showed enough to warrant his taking that base while Warren moved over to the other side of the diamond.

In the outfield Johnny Mullen will probably be seen in one of the three positions. Other likely candidates will be Phil Andres, Art. Wilson, and Creighton Gatchell. While there are many veterans available there is not position on the team that is not open and these same veterans may find the going rather fast when the squad gets out on Claffin Field and the unknowns begin to show their ability.

Faculty manager Dr. Oscar Martin has been working up a schedule which will be placed for approval before the athletic committee at its meeting sometime next week. Newton will entertain Waltham on one of the early season dates for the first game between the schools in several years. In addition to the regular Suburban league games the team will play Medford, Brockton and other leading Massachusetts high schools.

SPORT NOTES

Local Battery at N. U.

It looks as though the first string battery on the Northeastern University ball team this spring will be made up of two local youths. Neil Mahoney of Upper Falls, will be playing his third season as first-string catcher. He played for South Boston in the Twilight league last summer and batted for 365. Leo Crowley, another Upper Falls youth, won his letter last spring and is counted upon to bear the greater part of the pitching burden this coming season. He and Mahoney have played together for years. At the close of the college season last summer Crowley went with Reading in the Twilight where he improved a great deal under the tutelage of Eddie Gill, former big league player.

Cronin Has Big Chance

Now that Zach Taylor, former Braves catcher, has been obtained again by the Boston Club it will relieve the Newton youth of much of the burden he has been bearing since going to the training camp. He has been the best catcher in camp and from what he has shown ought to be able to stick with the club throughout the season. He has much natural ability and intends to make the most of his opportunity so that he will be able to spend half of the season at home. As an understudy to Taylor he should develop rapidly.

Race Is Closer In Racquet Series

The Newton Centre Club Squash Racquet team in the Class C division of the Mass. Squash Racquets' Association flight held its top position in the race which has two more matches to run out the schedule, by defeating the Harvard University team, 3 to 2, on Saturday. The leaders saw the Walkover team draw a notch closer to them however when the Brookline team turned back the B. A. A. outfit 4 to 1. The Harvard freshmen team also moved within striking distance of the first two contenders by scoring a slam over the Newton Club on the latter's courts.

Henrich Wins Heat

Local Bowlers Win

The A. B. C. Men's Class of the Newton Highlands Methodist church and the College Avenue Methodist church of Somerville met on the alleys last week Friday night with the local first team winning and the second team losing. T. J. Allingham was high man for the first team with a single string of 125 and a three-string total of 316. He was closely followed by J. Robertson with a single of 117 and a total of 314. The team took all four points from their opponents.

In the second team contest the lowest individual scores on both sides were eliminated by mutual consent with the result that the Highlands team won the first string and Somerville the remaining two and pinfall. A return match will be staged later.

Hunnell Sweeps Alleys

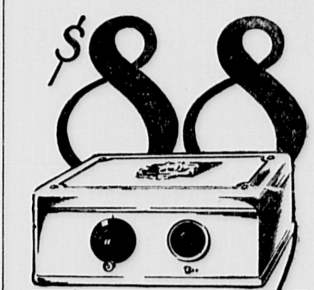

In the Newton League Boston pin bowling matches, last Friday night, the Hunnells Club team made a clean sweep of the Waban Neighborhood team, on the Hunnells alleys, while Mangus was splitting even with the Newton Club at Newtonville. DeLong was the leader of the Hunnells five, with 354, closely followed by Colby and Greene, with 349 and 345.

Last Second Basket Beats Newton

The Newton Y basketball team dropped an exciting game to the Watertown A. A. Donald Cunningham starred for the Y five with five field goals. He was followed by Arthur Kohler, captain

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Few among us have failed to find a thrill in watching fast-moving railroad trains. In our younger days we made it part of the regular amusement program of the week, when no other diversion offered itself. Sometimes we selected it as a delightful form of entertainment. As we grew older we didn't pay a great deal of attention to locomotives, but we understood why little folks got so much enjoyment out of observing them.

There are now communities where people of all ages make a practice of going down to the depot to see the trains go through. In such places not many are run on the railroad's daily schedule, and the arrival and departure of the locals provide important events. Moreover, the dashing through of the "limited" is another important occasion, although it be of daily occurrence.

Many of us who have been privileged to Summer at Cape Cod within reasonable motoring distance of the Canal are now, in our adult years, not above driving over to "see the New York boat go through." We love action and we demand diversion and nothing provides it more completely than big agencies of transportation.

Very well, then, now I believe I have justified what I am about to recommend, and that is a study of the great locomotives on the Boston & Albany. They are not only something new, but they represent the great development in railroading that has come in recent years. There is something majestic about these powerful engines whether we get a close-up while the train is stopped or whether they are scooting past at a remarkably fast speed.

Added interest is offered by the fact that freight trains have come to be run at a speed that equals that of the passenger express. They are now arranged to make fast flights from Boston to Chicago in an incredibly short time. Contrast them with the freight trains of years ago, which seemed to lumber along and permit themselves to be sidetracked for faster moving passenger trains.

Observing the new order of things is almost educational. At least, it is not a waste of the minutes or a longer period. We hurry into Boston to see shows of automobiles or boats or this or that when we can observe without cost these splendid examples of modern transportation facilities that represent the greatness of our country's advancement in this line.

Somebody who read in this column the plea for a new postoffice building in Newton, or at least new quarters for the substation at Newton Corner, has said that it would be well if we had more carriers. They maintain that the carriers now are given entirely too much to do, or, rather, that too much is expected of each carrier.

A man who lives within one square of Centre Street, and at a short distance from Nonantum Square, tells me that it is sometimes 9:30 o'clock in the morning before he receives the first mail of the morning. As a matter of fact, he could almost walk over to the postoffice in his bedroom slippers before breakfast and get his mail. But that, of course, would never do, so he is obliged to wait.

I also know of a householder who lives less than a quarter of a mile from the square and who finds it is 10:30 or 11 A. M., or maybe almost noon, before the letter carrier reaches his home. This man would like to have his mail before going to Boston, and he is not a very early bird at that, but he has given up all hope of getting it. Ten hours later, when he gets home at night, he has to satisfy him.

Now I can well understand that the stores and business men need to get their letters early. They are in business and the early receipt of mail is often highly essential to their prosperity. Naturally the stores have the first call. Remote residential districts are well taken care of, too, because a letter carrier chases this business work on his route and does not have to go from store to store in the downtown section.

The man-who-gets-left is the one whose home is near the business section and whose place of residence is tucked onto the route of a downtown carrier. He may expect to receive his mail any old time at the convenience of the authorities.

It is ridiculous to blame the letter carriers. They are hustling, active men and they have no object in holding back mail. Their work is to deliver it, and of course they want to get their work done as speedily as possible. No, sir, the trouble is that we haven't enough letter carriers, and until we get them we may not expect improved service.

Therefore, while we are thinking about and hoping for a new postoffice building, let us pull together for additional letter carriers and exert every pull we have.

It is said to be a fact that Newton, through the Legislature, is seeking to obtain authority to establish a system of pensioning city employees and caring for their dependents in event they should meet their death in the performance of their duty. Surely it is about time. The only regret is that such a system does not obtain at this writing.

We are now confronted with a situation which, in my opinion, reflects upon us as a municipality and which could have been avoided if there had been foresight on the part of those expected to guide our municipal footsteps. Of course we want to see justice done, but we don't want to be told that it can only be brought about by the efforts of private citizens totally apart and separate from organized authority.

However, it is not so much to deplore as it might have been had not steps been taken by the City Government to correct conditions. Let us be certain, though, that we do not let the year 1928 slip by without the establishment of a system of pensions for city employees and annuities for the dependents of any one of them who loses his life at his work.

Without comment I present a letter from "Estelle," who seems to have opinions of her own:

"As a young woman driver I think it is my duty to reply to the wise crack in your column Friday. You quote Mr. Goodwin, who is always saying something about judges or governors or somebody or other. His smart comment, 'On the whole, I think the girls are doing very well,' pleases you, you say. Very well, then, now let me tell you something.

"The boys aren't such a much as they can afford to laugh at the girls. I know you men don't like to hear that or read it, much less believe it. Nevertheless, it is true you did. Even if it is true—the statement which appeared in your column—that the new shade of hostility is brilliant in the night and saves the wearer from being struck down, who is doing the reckless driving? The boys, not the girls—get that?

"You don't hear the girls complimenting the boys because they wear clothes which are illuminating to automobile operators. Girl drivers can take care of their cars regardless of the rainfall worn by the populace. 'Anybody of the feminine gender will agree with me that only men need to have all kinds of assistance from traffic cops, pedestrians and a benign Providence. We women rely upon our own intuition and brains.

"By the way, who has the larger number of smash-ups, figured on the percentage of women operators? Why, the men, of course. Mr. Goodwin gives us credit for it, I will admit, but he cannot refrain from adding something which he thinks is very funny about 'the girls doing very well.'

"Now let me tell you 'the girls' are all right and don't you forget it, and if you should see Mr. Goodwin you can show him for me what I've written to you and ask him if I'm not correct."

Our good old friend Procrastination is as healthy as ever. At least, I have it on the word of both State and Federal officials in charge of the income tax departments of these two branches of the Government. Without hesitation they agree that most people put off until tomorrow and the day after, and the day after that, what they should have done sometime in January.

Although income tax blanks are mailed them early—earlier by the State than by the Federal officials—most people don't "get around to it" until the approach of the last minute of filing. Then they become excited, dig through an accumulation of papers on their desks and, after a vigorous hunt, finally locate or fail to locate the missing documents.

Then they begin to fret about the time which they will be wasting by standing in line. Eventually they present themselves before a clerk and the ordeal is begun. I need not say that it is longer in some cases than in others. Whatever its length, it cannot be escaped. But it proves, as I said before, that our old friend Procrastination is as hale and hearty as ever.

I don't believe that politics and severe weather make a good combination. Professional spell-binders are doing their utmost these days to get us all stirred up over possible happenings next June at Kansas City and Houston, but this is the time of year when we naturally think of Florida or California or Honolulu, but not of Texas or Kansas.

I may be wrong, but I need warm weather to get me excited over the party trouble of Republicans and Democrats. I do not enjoy standing on the corner of a street when the winter winds are blowing. But what better place there for discussing the affairs of State than a street corner? Well, maybe there is another good place for such weighty debates, and that is the front piazza on a Summer's evening. The back piazza is all right to talk gardening and automobiles, but you need a wider platform to express your views on national questions.

Now I am speaking for the men. I am sure I don't know whether women have favorite places for talking politics. Possibly they have, but I am not in their confidence and don't pretend to know.

But I do say that I much prefer to have my politics put off till then that everything is in bad and then, in my opinion, is the proper time for budding statesmen.

If at any time I have made an unkind remark about the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company; if I have criticised them unjustly or unfairly, then let me say that honors are given. Sunday night I decided to go to Waban to make a call. It was the first time I had ever ridden on this line. I had always approved the idea of this trans-city bus and climbed aboard the 8 o'clock bus from Newton with the heartiest good will.

I thought surely I would land in Waban within 20 minutes, at least, but I never did get there until 8:50. On Centre street, at the corner of Mill street, the bus ran out of gas—at least, that's what the operator said.

He telephoned to Auburndale for another bus, which did not appear for 25 minutes or more. (Time measured by the operator's watch.) Of course I'll admit that accidents are bound to happen, but why pick on me?

MRS. MARION W. INMAN

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 31 Perkins street, West Newton, for Mrs. Marion W. Inman, who died on Feb. 23 in her 86th year. She was born in West Sutton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Waters and married the late Henry A. Inman. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. A. P. Burdon of Allston.

trade at Service Stores

Service stores seek to gain the good will and co-operation of the people of Newton.

Service stores enable you to purchase quality food as you want it and when you want it.

Service stores are economical to trade at, if you include all your household needs and consider quality and quantity.

Service stores extend to reliable persons a reasonable amount of credit, even as you extend reasonable credit to your customers.

Service stores in Newton, named below, lose but a tiny fraction of one per-cent in yearly bills unpaid, because they give credit carefully.

Service stores contribute to the advancement of Newton and to the individual prosperity of its citizens.

Service stores return to this community the profits they make. They are essential to the prosperity of local business, professional and working men.

BOY SCOUTS

First Aid Training Course

At the Executive Board meeting on Monday last James R. Warren stated his committee had carried through plans inaugurated by the Commissioner, J. M. Woodbridge, Jr., for conducting a First Aid Course for Scout leaders of the Council. This will be conducted by Mr. McCurdy, of the New England Tel. and Tel. Co., who is a Red Cross examiner in First Aid and holds many honors in the field. He is in charge of the work for the telephone company in Metropolitan Boston. The course, limited to 24 members, and enrollments, made by quota, depending on Troop membership, will be held for six consecutive Wednesdays, beginning March 7, at the West Newton Public Library at 7:30 o'clock. Those Scout leaders completing the course satisfactorily will be given a Red Cross Certificate.

The Leadership and Training Committee, so Mr. Warren states, has other training plans under consideration and they will be announced soon.

Scouts Pass Tests

Deputy Commissioner E. W. Bartlam, Chairman of the Board of Scout Examinations, reports the following tests passed at the Board meeting on February 17th:

Sketch Map and 14-Mile hike report, Scouts Arthur and William Tibbey and Robert Nickerson of Troop 5, Newton Centre; John Bierer, Jr., Troop 10, Waban. Examiners were H. S. Rice and E. J. Weaver.

First-Class Signalling, the same Scouts passed First-Class signalling under Deputy Commissioner F. J. Edmonds.

Commissioner Woodbridge examined and passed the following Scouts in 1st Class First Aid: Edward Patterson of Troop 4, Highlands; Scouts Jack Harmon and Thomas Marriner of Troop 5, Centre. Second Class signalling was passed by Scouts John Gallagher of Troop 4, and Scouts Harry Ham and Hamilton Ferris of Troop 10. The same Scouts passed 2nd Class First Aid under Mr. Donald Stimpson.

New Court of Honor Manual
The revised Court of Honor Manual of Organization and Procedure has been issued to Scout Leaders of Norumbega Council and its rulings go into effect immediately.

One new ruling is that no court can apply for more than four Merit Badges in one month, except by permission of the Court of Honor Committee. Merit Badges are an extremely important part of the Scout program, and thorough and careful preparation in each Merit Badge is necessary to get the most there is in it. One educator said, on looking over the 70-odd Merit Badges, that a Scout who had passed them all would have almost the equivalent of a college education! Besides, the requirements in many of the Badges have stumped more than one Scout dad!

Summer Camping

Plans are now being considered for caring for Norumbega Council Scouts at an approved summer camp, where they shall be under adequate and trained supervision and direction and shall get the unusually fine program and activities which Council Summer Camps offer. Scouts who are planning to attend summer camp, or Scout parents who are considering sending their boys to a Scout camp, are asked to communicate with Council Headquarters, 259 Walnut street, Newtonville; Newton North 3440.

Week-End Camping

The Ohio at Dover is being used by Troops during the winter season. Over the last week-end, in the storm, Troops 1, 4, 5 and 11 had Scouts at The Ohio. Much has been said about the new week-end camp of the Council at Sudbury, but official notification and announcement, with full details and possibly photographs, will be made within the next few weeks.

Suffice to say that the Assistant National Camp Director of the Boy Scouts of America, a man with fifteen years of camp and woods experience, and who has covered most of the Boy Scout camps in the country, states that Norumbega Council has one of the finest week-end campsites in the United States at Sudbury.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"The Horse Round-up" by Dr. Kirk Bryan of Harvard, a thrilling picture of the dangerous work of the Western plains, has been specially scheduled for a boys' and girls' lecture at the Children's Museum of Boston on Sunday, March 4, at 3:30 p. m.

With the United States Geological Survey in the far West for a number of years, Dr. Bryan came into contact with life of the range riders, and of the cowboys, with cattle and wild horse round-ups. The biting whirr of the lasso, the rattle of spurs, level miles of prairie grass, and the mad cavorting of riders, all these elements will crowd interest into Dr. Bryan's talk on this subject, so foreign yet so interesting to eastern children.

A Bulgarian student at Harvard, George Z. Dimitroff, will be the speaker at the regular week-end program on Saturday, March 3, at 3 p. m. Through the Cosmopolitan Club of Boston the Children's Museum has arranged to present a continuation series of twelve foreign speakers in illustrated talks of interest to young people during March and April.

Although planned especially for children, many adults attend the week-end programs at the Museum in Jamaica Plain. Admission to all of the talks is free.

COMING EVENTS

Newton Mothers' Club

Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson opens her home at 15 Temple street, West Newton, for a most delightful meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club on Monday afternoon, March 5th, at 3 o'clock. The speaker is Miss Sophie Hart, of Wellesley College, one of whose lectures in Newton recently was so greatly enjoyed. She will have as her subject the "Influence of Russian Literature." Members will be glad to hear that this will be an opportunity to invite guests, it being a "non-payment guest meeting." Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt, Mrs. Clarence L. Newton, and Mrs. John A. Payne.

Christian Era Study Club

Miss Blanche M. Noyes, 16 William road, will be the hostess for the Christian Era Study Club on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There will be two papers; one on "America's Neutrality against France in the year 1793" will be given by Mrs. H. E. B. Case; the other on "Jay, and the Treaty with England in 1795" will be read by Mrs. Arthur Desoe.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A Musicales, under Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken's chairmanship, will be held Monday evening, March 5th, at 7:30 P. M. in the Club rooms of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club. Miss Helen Edelson Barr is one of the best lyric sopranos in Boston and has broadcast through WEEL for a number of important business houses. Miss Marjorie Posselt, violinist, is a young artist of wide experience and is especially known as "Mary" of "The Friendly Maids" who also broadcast through WEEL. Mrs. Mina del Castillo, pianist and lecturer, is well known throughout New England. She is chairman of music in the Community of the General Federation of Women's Club. This is an open meeting and tickets for this attractive program may be obtained from members of the Club, from Mrs. Aiken, the chairman, or at the door.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The annual social event of the season which is always so greatly enjoyed by Club members, and which is such a pleasing custom, takes place on Tuesday, March 6th, in the Auburndale Woman's Club Room, from 3 to 5 o'clock, when there will be a Tea in honor of new members and their sponsors. Officers of the Club will be present to meet these guests informally.

On March 7th the Juniors of the Club meet at the home of Miss Dorothy De Witt, Central Hill, at 7:30 P. M. and will have a speaker from the Children's Hospital, Boston. In the social time following, refreshments will be served.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Two, decidedly interesting affairs both informative and practical are scheduled for the Newton Highlands Woman's Club this next week. For the meeting Tuesday, Mrs. Robert E. Briggs, chairman of the Education Committee, has secured Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, second vice-president of the State Federation, to speak on the subject of "The Trend in Modern Fiction." Preceding Mrs. Schrader's talk, there is to be a brief musical program in charge of Mrs. Herbert O. Steeves, chairman of the Music Committee. At that time, one of the Club members, Mrs. Maurice A. Reidy, is to play a group of piano solos, including Debussy's "Claire de Lune" and the Schubert-Liszt arrangement of "Hark, Hark the Lark."

The following afternoon (Wednesday) at 2:30 o'clock the Workshop is to be opened for the talk Mrs. Ward L. Cornell, a former chairman of the Art Committee, is to give on "Art and Color in Table Decoration." Mrs. Cornell has given the talk in various towns about the state, and now, at the urgent request of her fellow-Club members, is delivering the discourse before her home Club. The ideas suggested will be illustrated by practical table setting before the audience, which is sure to be one of goodly size. Tickets can be secured from Mrs. Donald D. McKay or members of the Art Committee, and the proceeds will later be devoted to enlarging the Craft Room in the basement of the Workshop, that classes in the various crafts may have more spacious quarters in which to work.

Newton Woman's Club

Mr. Melville C. Freeman will address the Newton Woman's Club at its next meeting on Tuesday, March 6th. Mr. Freeman, who is head of the English Department of the High School of Practical Arts in Boston, is a most interesting speaker and has chosen for his subject for this afternoon "Puritan Womanhood." In his talk Mr. Freeman traces the Puritan influences toward present-day freedom, and presents a survey of that freedom.

A quartet composed of Mrs. William F. Fenn, Mrs. Clinton W. Kyle, Mrs. Carl C. Davis and Mrs. Fred W. Woodcock, with Mrs. Royal T. Lapham, as accompanist, will sing. Mrs. Mervin S. Giles and Mrs. Alfred N. Miner Jr. will serve as hostesses for the tea directly following the meeting.

The Short Story Contest offered by the Education Committee to Club members is drawing to a close. Announcement is made that early in April there will be a meeting open to members at which the stories will be read. Therefore all manuscripts must be in before the last week in March. The Committee has ruled that stories are to be not more than 5,000 words, and essays not more than 3,000 words.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Tuesday, March 6th, at 2:30 o'clock Miss Margaret Welmer begins her course of three demonstration lectures in cooking in the Club House, under the American Home Committee, of which Mrs. J. M. Densmore is the chairman. Mrs. J. W. Duthie, C. N. 2214-W, is in charge of the course. The cost is 75 cents for the course or any one lecture for 50 cents.

The following day a millinery class from 9 to 11 o'clock, conducted by Mrs. Godsoe, will be started. Members can join for ten lessons for $5 or for 5 lessons for $2.50. Mrs. H. W. Olier of the American Home Committee, telephone C. N. 3148-W, will be glad to receive applications.

The next morning, Thursday, March 8th at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will give her fifth Current Events lecture.

The attention of members is also called to the lecture under the auspices of the American Home Committee of the Newton Federation which will be held in the Club House, details will be found under the heading of that Federation.

The Club is looking forward to Presidents' Day on March 15th when the program will be under the auspices of the Music and Literature Committees. Mrs. R. C. Black, the reader, will give her interpretation of "Education by Satire," using "The Twelve Pound Look" and "The Will" by Barrie.

Social Science Club

At the business meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, the 7th, Miss Reed of the Stearns School Center and Miss Leathers of the Newton W. C. A. will speak. The hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer and Mrs. Alfred W. Fuller.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Charles Homer, president of the Quincy Woman's Club, will broadcast "Why the Quincy Woman's Club is Unique" from station WNAC next Wednesday, at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, pianist and composer is to tell of "The Birth of a Melody" at 10:45 followed by Mrs. Gulesian Beck's soprano interpretation of "The House by the Side of the Road." A group of Spanish songs will be given by Miss Annie M. Sumner accompanied by Mrs. Mary G. Reed at 10:50, and Mr. Alton E. Briggs will be on the air at 11:30.

Newton Community Club

Dramatics is always an attractive word in connection with Club programs, and when the next meeting of the Newton Community Club is announced as having this program under the management of Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett, interest is heightened, due to many pleasurable past experiences of her productions. In Underwood School Hall on Thursday afternoon, March 8th, at 2:30 o'clock, the business meeting will be held, after which the play "Fourteen" will be acted by Club members—an added incentive to members to view their fellow members' talent, and possibly amazing and amusing appearance. Miss Bessie M. Stratton will direct "Overtones," and between the two interesting affairs, Miss Florence Owen, whose beautiful voice has on other times given so much pleasure, will give a program of songs, with her mother, a Club member, Mrs. George Owen, playing her accompaniment.

Besides this regular meeting of the Club, there come several interesting announcements from chairmen as to activities that will be enjoyed by Club members.

The Committee on Conservation of Natural Resources, Miss Margaret S. Ball, chairman, has arranged for the benefit of members of the Newton Community Club and others, a lecture by Mr. B. F. Letson, of Carbone's, to be given in the Grace Church Parlor on Wednesday evening, March 14th, at 8 o'clock. Tickets may be purchased from members of this committee.

Attention is called to a lecture course that is not strictly Club news, but of interest to Club women. Beginning Thursday, March 15th, at 8 o'clock, in Underwood School Hall, Prof. Edward Howard Griggs will again this year be the speaker of the Read Fund Lectures.

Mrs. Harold Moore announces that there will be three Food Sales for the philanthropies of the Club. These sales will be held after the Club meetings on March 8th and 22nd, and on April 12th. Each member of the Club will be asked to contribute food for one of these sales. All busy Club women know the delight they have in so securing home-made goodies, and this pleasure can be heightened by the thought that in doing themselves a favor they are also adding to the Philanthropic Fund of their Club.

The American Home Committee, Mrs. LeRoy P. Guion, chairman, has asked "our" Miss Margaret Aubin to give a talk on the "Budgets for Home-makers" and one on "Proper Care of a Checking Account." These talks will be held in the committee room of the Underwood School on Tuesday mornings at 10 o'clock on March 13th and 20th. The very small fee of 25 cents for each talk is to go to the American Home Committee for the purchase of its book, which may be borrowed from Mrs. Everett L. Olds. Announcement of the Pre-Better Home Course of the Newton Federation, also planned by Mrs. Guion, as the latter chairman, will be found under this heading in detail for all interested.

Newton Federation

PRE-BETTER HOME LECTURES. The second of the Pre-better Home talks arranged by the American Home Committee of the Newton Federation for the members of the Newton Federation will be held in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, Friday afternoon, March 9th, at 2:30 o'clock. This session is in charge of Mrs. J. Mace Address, chairman of the Education Committee, which with the Public Health Committee, whose lecture took place Friday, the 2nd, have co-operated with Mrs. LeRoy P. Guion, Mrs. Address will introduce as speaker Mr. J. Daniel Bloomfield, manager of the Retail Board of Trade of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. His topics will be "Inside Stories of the Retail Trade," and "Better Baymanship," which sounds most attractive.

A third lecture on March 16th will be given in detail later. There is no admission charge for these lectures, but there will be a box for a silver offering which will be used to defray the expense of the committee. A bus leaves Newton for Newton Centre at 2 p. m., which passes the Club House.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Home Talent Day is the intriguing title for the program of the next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, March 9th. Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson is chairman in charge and she has provided a decidedly up-to-the-minute and intensely amusing three-act comedy in which Club members will also have opportunity to display their talent. Tea will be served after the program.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held in the hall of Underwood School on Thursday afternoon, February 23rd, with the president, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts presiding. Various interesting notices of coming events planned by energetic chairmen were given, and further information as to these will be found under Coming Events in this Club's advance notice. After the business meeting Mrs. Fitts introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, who first spoke of the restrictions put upon him by the Program Committee, namely, that he must not speak of "young people," or "what we were coming to," and like subjects, nor of "education." He humorously suggested that so handicapped there was not much left for a college president to discuss.

However, he took for his subject, "Leisure and Loyalties," which is the title of a chapter in one of his books recently published although his talk was not what was in that chapter, his subject being in the nature of a disguise.

Dr. MacCracken said that mechanical devices have greatly increased the man power of the nations with the result that there is much more leisure shown by the constantly crowded moving picture houses, day and evening, week days and Sundays. The great increase in the automobile business has made it the greatest business of the present time, and three-fourths of its use is for pleasure driving. The increase of leisure is likewise proven, he stated, by the time spent with the radio.

Stressing his point of "loyalties," he cited the "baying back of the old farm" and "looking up genealogies," declaring that books on genealogy are much in demand in our public libraries. As an evidence of both leisure gained, and interest in "loyalties," he said that women now have time for Clubs, literary, historical, informative, etc.

He then took up "trustships," and gave the history of some very old ones in Europe and England, leading up to various American ones. "Trustees," he said, "are not generally people who have much leisure, but men who are both busy and whose minds are crowded with many business interests." His object was to bring out the idea that trusteeship is a field open not only to men but to women who have leisure time and who can give the best that is in them in this way to public welfare. His "fidelity is the first requisite of a trustee" arrested attention, and brought forward this phase of a subject that women in general know too little about, giving food for thought.

REV. JOHN M. BARKER

Rev. John Marshal Barker, Ph.D., professor emeritus of Boston University, died suddenly on Sunday at his late home, 37 Kenwood avenue, Newton Centre. He was born 78 years ago at Fredericktown, Ohio, and graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1874. He received his B.D. degree from Boston University in 1877 and the degree of Ph.D. was conferred upon him by this institution in 1892. He was ordained a Methodist Episcopal minister in 1876 and held pastorates at Charlestown. Among the books written by Professor Barker are "Wealth and Its Uses," "Colleges in America," "History of Ohio Methodism," "Social Gospel" and "The New Era."

He is survived by his widow who was Miss Alice Bixler of Wooster, Ohio, a daughter, Miss Alice M. Barker of Newton Centre, and a son, Paul V. Barker of Newtonville.

His funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon, Rev. John C. Wingett of the Newton Centre Methodist Church officiating. Prayer was offered by Dean Kaudon of the Boston University School of Theology and addresses were given by President Marsh of Boston University and President Emeritus William E. Huntington of Boston University. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

MRS. ELLA FIFIELD POTE

Mrs. Ella Fifield Pote, widow of the late George P. Pote, died at her home, 79 Adella avenue, West Newton, last Sunday morning, February 26. Mrs. Pote was born in Boston July 30, 1850, the daughter of the late Sanborn Fifield, who was a well-known resident of Newton. Forty-one years of Mrs. Pote's life was spent in Newton, where she was a regular attendant of the Channing Church, and in earlier life was active in church interests and social activities and clubs of her community. A woman of modest and gentle characteristics, and of a noble and loyal devotion to those who were fortunate enough to own her lasting friendship. Mrs. Pote had been a summer resident of Hingham, Mass., for the last fifteen years, and the last seven winters had resided in West Newton. Funeral services were held at 2:30 on Tuesday afternoon, February 28, in the Forest Hills Chapel, and were conducted by the Rev. Chester A. Drummond, pastor of the Channing Church. Burial took place in the family lot in Forest Hills. Mrs. Pote is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Leach, and one son, Mr. Arthur Fifield Pote, and one granddaughter, Miss Barbara Leach, all of 79 Adella avenue, West Newton.

JAMES F. LOGAN

James F. Logan, 56, of 72 College road, Chestnut Hill, died on Thursday last at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. He was vice-president and treasurer of the Joseph P. Manning Company, one of Boston's largest tobacco concerns. He was born in Jersey City and came to Boston as a young man to work for the Western Union Telegraph Company. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Manning Logan, one son, Howard Logan, and a brother. His funeral service was held Monday morning at St. Ignatius Chapel, and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Dorchester.

ROY MacLEAN

Roy MacLean of 30 Thornton street, Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacLean, died Wednesday morning after a long illness. He was born in this city 21 years ago. Besides his parents he is survived by three brothers and three sisters. His funeral service was held this morning at the Church of Our Lady; burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

MISS MATHILDA SCHWORER

Miss Mathilda Schworer of 215 Brookline street, Oak Hill, a resident of this city for 55 years, died on Monday in her 78th year. She is survived by three brothers, Charles, John and Louis Schworer. Her funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at her late home, Rev. William Mick officiating. Burial was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The use of the word "veteran" as applied to young men who served in almost any capacity in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War is amusing. The latest "veteran" to get publicity is a physician connected with the Veterans' Bureau, a young man 29 years of age, who was a member of the Students' Army Training Corps. Without detracting in the least from those who served even a short time either with the army or the navy during the late war, it seems that the term "veteran" has been and is being woefully misapplied.

Frank B. Cummings of this city, director of the Division of Animal Industry for Massachusetts, is considering asking for an extension of the dog restraining order for another 30 days. Since the order was put into effect in December, not only has the epidemic of rabies continued in the territory erstwhile affected, but the disease has spread into 25 other cities and towns. According to Mr. Cummings the spread of the disease and the failure of the restraining order to have had better success is due to the attitude taken by Mayor Bauer of Lynn and to the lack of co-operation on the part of various city and town officials and police departments. Ninety-six new cases of rabies were reported during February.

When town and city officials are not co-operating, when police are failing to make little or any attempts to restrain dogs whose owners do not heed the restraining order, when such owners cannot, or at least, are not punished, why extend the "restraint" for another 30 days? Why penalize certain dogs whose owners have consideration for the community, when other dogs, owned by selfish persons, are allowed to run loose?

We have been asked to suggest that cars and busses of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway wait for a few seconds at the stop opposite the Catholic church on Washington street, Newton, when persons coming out of that church after services are hurrying in an attempt to get aboard these vehicles. If this is done not only will people desiring transportation be accommodated, but the revenues of the M & B will be increased.

Bids are being received on new quarters for the Newton postoffice. This office does triple the business of any other postoffice in this city. It has been in its present location 21 years. Undoubtedly the Taylor Estate will attempt to keep the office at its present site. It is understood that bids have been submitted for location in other sections of Newton Corner.

People residing in the vicinity of Jackson road, Newton, are starting a petition to have Laundry Brook, which parallels the road, covered. This brook is nearly all covered from Hull street, Newtonville, to Jackson road. Many new houses have been built in the vicinity of Jackson road and a large number of young children dwell in the neighborhood. In addition to the hazard which the brook creates, it has lost the attractiveness which it possessed before the district surrounding it had been covered with dwellings.

NEWTON CIRCLE, INC.

The Board of Directors, Newton Circle, Inc., met on Friday, February 24th, at the Community Welfare House. In the absence of the President, Mrs. C. Peter Clark, Vice-President, presided.

The resignation of Mrs. H. G. Pratt was respectfully received. Mrs. C. G. Brown and Miss Ethel Todd were elected to fill vacancies on the Board. Plans for the Annual Bridge Party are under way, and a definite announcement as to time and place will be soon forthcoming. Mrs. C. C. Brown and Miss Margaret Cobb will have charge of all arrangements for the party.

The annual Luncheon and Mass Meeting of the Florence Crittenton League will be held at Hotel Statler on March 13th. Tickets may be secured from Clarence R. Preston, General Secretary.

INQUEST ON GORGONE DISASTER

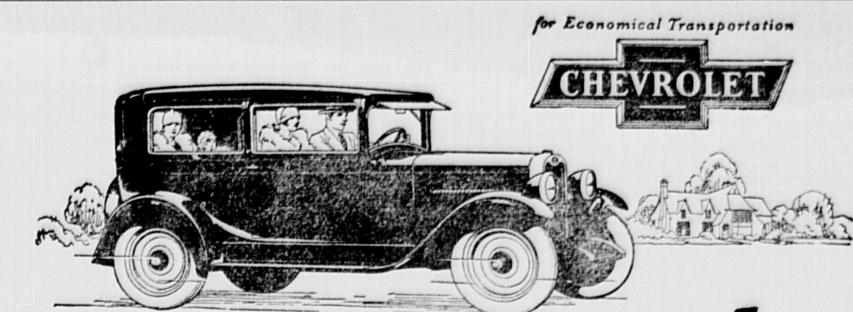

This morning in the Newton court house an inquest was held on the deaths of the six persons who were killed on January 29 when the explosion and fire occurred at the premises of Francesco Gorgone at Lexington street, West Newton. Among the witnesses were members of the Newton fire and police departments and experts on explosives and plumbing. The findings will be reported to District Attorney Bushnell.

LASELL

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead will lecture on Friday evening to the Lasell students. Her subject will be "The League of Nations and World Politics."

The vesper speaker on Sunday afternoon will be Rev. John Nicol Mark, pastor of the Congregational Church in Arlington.

Smother—more powerful—more comfortable and more distinctively styled... the new Chevrolet is sweeping to heights of success the like of which no new car ever enjoyed before! In every city and town, Chevrolet sales are surpassing even last year's record, which made Chevrolet the world's largest builder of automobiles.

If you have not yet driven the new Chevrolet you cannot imagine what thrilling performance can be provided in a low-priced automobile. Numerous new engineering features including alloy "invar strut" constant clearance pistons and mushroom type tappets! A wheelbase of 107 inches! Non-locking four-wheel brakes! A steering mechanism fitted with ball bearings even to the front axle knuckles! And marvelously beautiful new bodies by Fisher!

No matter what car you may be driving—no matter what automobile of this type you have owned in the past—come in today! We have a demonstrator waiting for you—and proof is in the driving.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Junior Patrol Leaders' Association held its second meeting on Friday, February 24th. Plans had been made for skating, coasting, skiing, and snowshoeing at the Brae Burn Country Club, but the weather man had his own ideas on the subject and removed all the snow in advance. So arrangements were made for tracking and trailing games.

Twenty-eight patrol leaders arrived with materials for lunch and plenty of pep. A fire was built in one of the sand pits on the golf-course and each girl became her own cook. After lunch, Julia Harvey, Troop 5, the Chairman of the Association, called the meeting to order, and the new girls were put into patrols. Because of the absence of the secretary, Margaret Watts, Troop 1, an oral report of the first meeting at Camp Mary Day was given.

"Hare and Hounds" played with trail signs, and "Capture the Flag" were two of the games which made the remainder of the afternoon speed by so fast.

A service, planned and conducted by the Senior Patrol Leaders' Association, and therefore called a "Scouts Own," is to be held in the High School Auditorium on Sunday, March 4th, at 3:00 p. m. It will be open to all Newton Girl Scouts and Council members. Special invitations will be sent to the Newton Y. W. C. A. and to the Girl Scouts of Brookline, Waltham, Lexington, Needham, Wellesley and Watertown.

A meeting of the Court of Awards will be held at Headquarters on Wednesday, February 29, at 10:00 a. m. The All Newton Girl Scout Movie will take place on Saturday, March 10th, at 10:00 a. m., at the Community Theatres, Newton. "Rookies," a news reel, a comedy, and a children's hospital film will be shown. Tickets may be procured from any Girl Scout in the city. The proceeds will go to the Children's Hospital and toward other Scout activities. Seven years ago the Newton Girl Scouts took over a bed in the Children's Hospital and have maintained it ever since. This year some of the girls have gone in to entertain the child who happened to be occupying the bed at that time. And on Valentine's Day the Newtonville Junior Troops sent valentines and candy hearts.

MRS. FANNIE C. TOMLINSON

Mrs. Fannie C. Tomlinson of 27 Marshall street, Newton Centre, wife of Henry A. Tomlinson, died Tuesday. She was born in Madison, Wis., 61 years ago and had resided here for 40 years. She is survived by her husband, a sister, Mrs. Caroline Preble of Brookline, and two brothers, John F. Capron of Newton Centre and George Capron of Cleveland, O. Her funeral service is being held this afternoon at her late home, Rev. E. M. Noyes officiating. Burial will be in Newton cemetery.

EDITORIAL

While we believe that Prof. Fredrick L. Anderson of Newton Centre would stand a better chance of election as a delegate to the coming Republican national convention, as a candidate for district delegate rather than as a delegate at large, we are glad to support his candidacy as we believe he would adequately represent both the Hoover and the dry sentiment in the state.

While Massachusetts is usually free from the taint of political bossism as practised in many of the states in the union, the manner in which the delegate-at-large ticket to the Republican national convention, has been selected, seems to point to the fact that the so-called leaders in politics here will act as bosses if given an opportunity.

To those who knew the work of Alderman Bliss has given the city during his term of office there is genuine regret that he has been obliged to resign his office. We suggest that Mr. M. H. Gulesian would make a splendid representative from the Chestnut Hill district as his successor.

The testimonial to the late Leonard Jackson should receive the heartiest kind of endorsement from the people of this city.

ANDREW ADIE DIES

Andrew Adie of Chestnut Hill died suddenly of angina pectoris at his home Wednesday morning. He was born in Scotland 61 years ago and came to Boston when a young man as a representative of a textile concern. Later he became owner of the Silesia Mills at North Chelmsford and the Saxony Mills at Nonantum. Other mills he acquired were the Shepherd Mills at Newton, the Strathmore at Concord Junction and plants at Woonsocket, Lowell and Saugus. About 1913 he organized the United States Worsted Company and the large United States worsted mill at Lawrence was erected. In addition to large amounts which he contributed to various philanthropies, during the war years he gave freely to aid the cause of the allied nations. He was a member of the Commercial Club, Algonquin Club and many other organizations and a director of the Brookline Trust Company and Home Savings Bank.

He is survived by his widow, one son, John W. Adie, and two daughters, Mrs. Rosamund Amy of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Andrea Hunter of Annapolis, Md. His funeral service was held at noon today in the Church of the Redeemer at Chestnut Hill.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Governor Fuller has now on his desk the bill "authorizing the City of Newton to take land for purposes of a group of municipal buildings and surrounding ground and to appropriate certain other lands therein for that purpose." It is expected His Excellency will sign the measure this week. The measure was enacted Monday by both branches and sent to the Governor for approval or veto. Inasmuch as it is not opposed and no contention has been raised that it is not in proper form, the Governor's signature is expected as a matter of course. As is well known, the bill gives the city the right to take preliminary steps toward the construction of a new City Hall on the triangular lot at Commonwealth avenue and Walnut streets.

Newton members of the Legislature received petitions this week bearing this message: "We, the undersigned, voters of the city of Newton, hereby declare it to be our purpose to support by our ballot only those Representatives and Senators whom we believe to be loyal to the 18th amendment and all related questions."

"We therefore ask you to co-operate loyally with us in all the work of the coming session of the Legislature."

It is assumed that the communication referred to is one way of reminding the legislators that they were expected to vote for the so-called "padlock" bill, which would permit the authorities to close for one year the premises of any person found guilty of maintaining a liquor nuisance after three convictions within three years.

Also that they are expected to vote against any referendum on the question of the proposed repeal of the 18th amendment to the Federal constitution.

When the "padlock" bill was ordered to a third reading in the House Wednesday by a roll call vote of 115 to 94, Representative Luitwieler voted "Yes" and Representatives Thompson, Hollis and Saltonstall "No." These Representatives voted the same on last year's bill.

Inasmuch as Newton started the campaign against "thumping" rides in automobiles, it will be interested to learn the recent announcement of the Massachusetts Safety Council. That body has declared: "Regardless of whether the Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles of the Legislature reports the bill now pending making it illegal for children to ride on the back of vehicles, or to accost motorists whom they don't know and ask for a ride, the Massachusetts Safety Council has organized an extensive campaign to be carried on throughout March to check these practices."

Public hearings were finished Tuesday on bills affecting the future of the Boston Elevated Street Railway. These measures have been before the Committee on Street Railways and Metropolitan Affairs and have been discussed at great length. Henry I. Harriman of this city has been consulted by the committee and has offered his views on the possible solution of the problems. It is expected that the committee will at once proceed to draft some kind of a bill. Just what that bill will be remains to be seen.

G. Wilbur Thompson, a well-known resident for many years, was appointed a member of the State Board of Examiners of Planners by Gov. Fuller last Wednesday.

There has been much excitement at the State House this week over the investigation of Atty-Gen. Reading's office. There might have been at least one Newton member on the special committee for the investigation had Newton not been in Middlesex county, of which Mr. Reading was District Attorney.

Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Wm. E. Austill was the speaker at the Fellowship Club last Monday, giving impersonations from the play, "The Mob," by John Galsworthy. "The Torch Club presented a moving picture show to the members of the boys' division and their friends on Friday evening. A committee comprised of Edward Fleming, Richard Lawrence, Donald Plouff, carried through the program. Three pictures were shown: "Conductor 1922," "The Night Club," and a Grantland Rice Sportlight called "How Do You Wish a Bath." The boys enjoyed the pictures and the Torch Club sold quite a few tickets for the performance thus securing a little money for their treasury. The boys were given a swim after the performance.

MRS. ALICE PELOUBET NORTON

Mrs. Alice Peloubet Norton, formerly a well-known resident of Auburndale, died at her late home in Northampton on February 23rd. She was born in Gloucester on February 25, 1869, the daughter of the late Rev. Francis N. Peloubet, D.D., and Mary Thaxter Peloubet. In 1882 she graduated from Smith College and the following year married Louis Mills Norton. Following her husband's death she decided to fit herself for work in home economics and in 1896 and 1897 she studied at the Boston Normal School of Household Arts and at Massachusetts Institute of Technology where her husband had been a professor of chemistry. She then began to teach home economics in the Brookline High School and in 1900 went to Chicago where she taught in Chicago University until 1913 when she was appointed dietitian of Cook County Institutions. In 1915 she became editor of the Journal of Home Economics and later went to Constantinople to organize a department of home economics in the Woman's College there. She wrote many articles and a number of books on domestic science and kindred subjects. She is survived by five children—Miss Margaret Norton of Northampton, John F. Norton of Chicago, Mrs. E. H. Dorence of Hartford, Mrs. G. W. Swain of Chicago and Lewis M. Norton of New York.

TRIFLES OF TRUTH

A woman's shoe is usually large for its size.

Few love to hear the sins they love to act.—Shakespeare.

Tears are the brine in which misery is sometimes cured.

Don't expect others to accept you at your own valuation.

Things do not happen; they have to be done.—George Harvey.

Get angry occasionally if you must—but keep your mouth shut.

Happy is the woman who finds the heart her husband loses.

If you undertake to watch a hypocrite give up all other tasks.

Everything comes to the man who waits—except his missing hair.

The average woman's maiden aim is to change her maiden name.

The man who is always serious or always merry is but half a man.

Learning is not knowledge, but rather the art of using it.—Steele.

"It affords me great pleasure" is the way an after-dinner talk used to begin.

Something to vote against brings out more voters than something to vote for.

A man thinks he's just as good as anybody when he goes to church in the rain.

Red tape has its usefulness: To blockade pestiferous measures; as filibustering has.

A young man may want to be manly; or he may want to talk all the time on trivialities.

There are two sides to every question, both of which can be of no importance at all.

No one wants to see too many incidents in this world; he might be called in court as a witness.

There are too many people who don't care whether you like them or not; that is, don't care enough.

Brodie's Jump Not the Only Chance He Took

"Give ear," said the Park Row philosopher, off again. "Are people any honest today than of yore? I say no! I could give you a dozen proofs, but one will do. Remember Steve Brodie—the Steve Brodie who took a chance and jumped off the Brooklyn bridge? Well, he got away with it and started a saloon in the Bowery. And he filled that old ginmill with umbrellas—scores and hundreds of perfectly good umbrellas. What for? You'd never guess. For working girls to use on rainy days.

"He put out a sign: 'Any honest girl is welcome to the use of one of these umbrellas. Just return when done with. For years he kept that up. Thousands of girls used the umbrellas, and they say Brodie never lost one.'"—New York Sun.

Help From Heaven

Mrs. McPherson was defending modern preaching as against the kind our grandfathers used to hear. "The truths are the same," she argued, "but I think the up-to-date parson is a far better than his prototype. Truth, made interesting, is more effective than truth made dull.

"In the old days, there was plenty of excuse for persons like Jones, whose wife said to him: 'John, I'm afraid you went to sleep during the sermon today.'

"Yes, I did, admitted John, adding: 'for a few moments, I was afraid I wouldn't.'

Team Work

To comply with the law, all studios have schools for the children who work in the various productions.

At Fox's recently, there were two archers who did not take kindly to lessons between scenes. Often they had to be rounded up and sometimes could not be found at all. The climax came one day when the teacher found this note on her desk:

"Jim can't come to skul, heez got the bleak. Im helping him."

Dramatic Note

One of the last radio messages picked up from the ill-fated liner Princessa Mafalda, which recently sank off the Brazilian coast, was a dramatic note from the heroic radio operator himself. "Am locked in my cabin," it said. "Don't know what is happening, except that captain has ordered me to call for help."

Would Be Easier

She—Aren't you happy now that the furniture people will let you pay for the furniture by installments?

He—I would be if they'd let me pay the installments by installments.—Dublin Opinion.

Looks Suspicious

Bank President—Why won't you leave a deposit with our bank?

Beecher Made Victim of Children's Prank

Henry Ward Beecher was a great lover of children. He was happiest when, seated in his favorite armchair in the evening, his grandchildren climbed and played over him or nestled in his lap. It was on such an occasion when one evening he remembered with a start that it was time for the evening service, relates Thrift Magazine. Without stopping to arrange his toilet he hurried to the Plymouth church in Brooklyn and appeared before the large audience. There was a tittering that grew to a positive roar of laughter. For, as the great divine stood before his audience with all his majestic dignity, the audience discerned that his flowing locks had been done up in curl papers. Momentarily, he was nonplussed, then placing his hand to his head, his fingers found the offending pig-tails. Some one nearby heard him say, much to himself, "That rascal Daisy," and then he joined in the general uproar.

Of Course This Didn't Happen in Real Life

Once upon a time. A man. Got wrecked upon a ship. The other passengers had all left. When the alarm was sounded. He probably had taken a bit too much. Well. Anyway he found himself. Left with plenty of food and water. But no companions. Of any sort. But a number of current magazines. Being intelligent. He realized these. Would in time give out. So he restricted himself. To only so much a day. However he was not rescued. As soon as he had expected. And he began to go over them again. Still no ship in sight. Time passed. He forced himself to review the tattered periodicals. Though he knew them from cover to cover. They palled. Lost even the effect of distraction. At last in despair. He seized all of them. Crying. "Heaven have mercy on me. There is nothing left. But to read the stories!"—Eugene Case, in Los Angeles Times.

Curious Storage

There is practiced in Kashmir, in India, a novel method of putting fodder up for winter use. The country lies in a valley among the Himalayas. The chief industry of the people consists of raising fine wool and in making this into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world.

A curious custom in some places is that of hanging quantities of hay up among the branches of trees. Why this is done is more than the stranger can guess, and he is much puzzled until some native informs him that in winter the snow lies five and six yards in depth, and that the supplies of hay, which as he now looks at their seem only as it intended for giraffes, are then easily reached by the flocks of sheep which abound there.

Beautiful Flame

It may not be generally known away from the seaside that a vessel's old sheathing, which has once been covered with yellow metal or copper, at the expiration of a long voyage makes a most beautiful flame of different colors when burned in an open fireplace or grate.

This is caused by the sheathing coming in contact with copper nails and other composition with which the sheathing is covered.

Years ago this wood was considered worthless and was usually given away to poor people for fuel.

But of late years it has been used quite extensively in New Bedford, Mass., and vicinity.

It is placed upon other wood or coal, when the flames from the burning of the old sheathing present a beautiful sight, producing different colors, which shoot forth from the copper nail holes.

Large Island Unexplored

The fifth, and possibly the third, largest island in the world, is almost unknown. It is Baffin Island in the Arctic circle, and its area is estimated at from 200,000 to 300,000 square miles. It is owned by Canada. The Norsemen probably knew it in the year 1000. In 1576 when Martin Frobisher was seeking the Northwest passage, 100 English colonists actually tried to make their homes on its bleak southeastern coast. Some day, perhaps, when the world becomes overcrowded and modern conveniences make a cold climate livable, Baffin Island may be the home of a nation.—Copper's Weekly.

Hamburg's Lucky Streak

Hamburg, one of Germany's largest cities, might be still only a small port if the American colonies had not rebelled against English rule and won the Revolutionary war. A large part of the trade of the continent of Europe that formerly went through London was diverted to Hamburg as the result of that conflict, and the city grew by leaps and bounds, relates Pathfinder Magazine. Now it and its suburbs have about 2,250,000 population. Bremen and Stettin also had a remarkable growth during the German expansion period, but Hamburg had the advantage over those ports by having deep water.

We Like What We Like

People respond neither to what is high brow or low brow in the drama, but simply to what is artistically perfect. —American Magazine.

By Edw. H. Powers

We cannot see the wisdom of spending $5000 to equip a portable school building at Oak Hill with proper plumbing and heating facilities. We believe Superintendent of Schools Wheeler is right when he advocates that if such an amount is expended it should be spent on plumbing in the existing schoolhouse at Oak Hill. This school, though it is not a modern building, would be much more comfortable for the children if it were provided with modern plumbing than would a portable building.

The ash trucks of the Street Department have all been equipped with canvas covers, but these windy March days whirl the ashes even from under these covers.

As one who formerly was a staunch admirer of Frank Goodwin because of his efficiency and courage as Registrar of Motor Vehicles we regret the attitude he has displayed the past year or two. Because of his seeming obsession for publicity many persons arrived at the conclusion that Mr. Goodwin had political aspirations, despite his denials. If Mr. Goodwin is less strong now than before he became so antagonistic to Governor Fuller. If he does not seek political preferment it is regrettable he did not display more tact. Had he continued to fulfill his regular duties as he did heretofore, without interfering so much in matters outside his province, we believe that ultimately he would have been in a position to receive high honors from the electorate of Massachusetts.

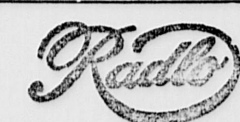

We like "Roxie" and his programs. But we have not waxed enthusiastically over the newfangled pronunciation "Roxie" has been giving to the word "program." He has been calling it "program." Evidently some of his listeners on the radio sent him criticisms of this bifurcated pronunciation as he made reference to it recently and justified himself by saying: "This is the way the dictionaries say the word should be pronounced." Webster's New International Dictionary, published by G. & C. Merriam, gives "gram" as the correct pronunciation. We wonder what dictionary "Roxie" uses? Anyhow, we don't like this "program" stuff. It sounds too much like "pogrom." And "pogroms" are supposed to be horrors of the past.

The condition of many of our streets after the ravages of automobile tire chains, even though this winter was an open one, indicate that more permanent surfaces will eventually have to be laid.

The annual budget is being prepared. Among other things for which we trust provision is being made are a new fire station at Newton Corner, the tennis courts recommended by Mayor Childs in various parts of the city, and the covering of the dangerous brook at Boyd Park Playground.

The Alpine Trio of Nonantum, composed of three young men of that district, Bernie Lyman, George Terrio and Arthur Boudreau, is making a hit wherever it appears. The boys present clever singing and dancing specialties and their friends expect them to make good professionally in the future.

To show how difficult it is to bring about the desired results through the restraining order on dogs because of the refusal of owners to co-operate we will cite an instance. One dog in Newton has been caught running loose six times and taken to the pound. The owner of this dog cannot be summoned into court because no penalties can be imposed for refusal to obey the order. In other words, this restraining order has "no teeth."

Possibly if rabies continues to harass this and other communities, possibly if enough persons get bitten by dogs, and if enough pet dogs of persons get bitten by pet dogs of other persons, real measures will be taken to afford protection to persons and polite dogs from canines of the pugnacious varieties which seem prone to go berserker.

One thing that can be done which will aid materially in checking the dog menace is the proper enforcement of the law which provides that every dog shall be licensed and shall wear a collar bearing the license number and the owner's name. This law has not been enforced by the Newton police department. It should be.

At the assembly, which convenes at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Herbert A. Jump, minister of the Union Church, Boston, will deliver the devotional address.

MANUEL ENOS

Manuel Enos of 749 Washington street, Newtonville, died on Tuesday. He was born in the Azores Islands 60 years ago and had resided here for nearly twenty years, conducting a wet wash laundry. His funeral was held yesterday morning at the Church of Our Lady. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and one son.

FIRE RECORD

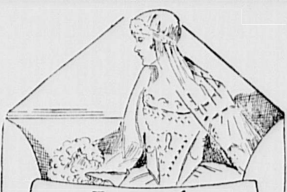

A still alarm was sent in at 7:55 Saturday night for a fire in the attic of the house at 12 Ricker terrace, Newton, owned by John Kelly and occupied by Timothy Donnelly. A defective flue is supposed to have been the cause.

Another still alarm on Saturday night was for a chimney fire in the Columbus Building at 402 Watertown street, Nonantum.

At 10:10 Sunday night an automobile owned by Mathew Shields of 90 West street, Nonantum, caught fire opposite 667 Washington street, Newtonville. Engine 4 responded on a still alarm and extinguished the blaze.

Box 81 at 6:32 Monday evening was for a grass fire on land near Ivanhoe street.

Wednesday evening at 6:12 Box 323 was for a lively blaze in the house at 167 Derby street, West Newton, owned by Mother Damian of Lowell and occupied by Ellwood Riley and Lawrence Visco. The fire, which was caused by an overheated stove pipe, caused about $800 damage to the building and contents.

Down The Road To Independence

The appearance of this Service Message in these columns is evidence that this publication subscribes wholeheartedly to the principles of the Boston Better Business Bureau, and co-operates with the Bureau in protecting you . . . even to the extent of refusing to accept the advertising of firms whose advertising and sales policies are proved by the Bureau to be contrary to the public interest.

He who is overly anxious to put you on the right road to immediate financial independence by "investing" in his company might be leading you on a short journey to the poor house.

Last year a credulous people placed a lot of confidence and about a Billion Dollars of their money in promises of quick riches. These people who invested heedlessly and succumbed to high pressure selling schemes will pass many a milestone along the "promised road to independence" trying to find a trace of their hoped for riches.

One road to safety is to secure facts before "investing." 1000 people a month secure information from the Better Business Bureau about new, unknown, or questionable offers made to them—THERE IS NO CHARGE TO THE PUBLIC FOR THIS SERVICE.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation

The outstanding address of the convention of the State Federation last Friday was that of Governor Fuller. His statements as to the effects of the vote having been given to women, and as to the gains therefrom, should be read by every Clubwoman, as it is a direct refutation of the insidious propaganda of politicians who are trying to discredit women.

He said in part:
"I have always had great confidence that, when the women were given the vote, they would be a powerful factor for good government, and I believe that is the case today. Sometimes you hear people say, 'Well, what difference has the women's vote made? What have they accomplished? What do they stand for? What policies have they formulated or made effective?'"

"Without going into a detailed discussion of what the advent of women in politics has accomplished, I would say this: it has raised the whole tone of public affairs."

"As to the point of what women have contributed to our public affairs. They have given us a high-grade constituency. Surely the vast majority of women are interested in honest government, in constructive policies, in the maintenance of law, in fair consideration for the struggling masses, and in a tax-rate that will pay for the progressive policy on the one hand without extravagance on the other. And so I say that what the women have contributed to politics is this: that in public office whoever aspires to render high-grade service and truly serve the State and Nation can do so more confident of support because of the fact that women are voting and represent half the electorate. I would like to say right here and now to any prospective candidate for any office of this State that he can rest assured that, if he has an honest, straight-forward, constructive program, he can go to the people of this state with confidence that they will back him up."

"There is one other bit of advice I would like to give, and that is this: That in political matters you have an inquiring mind. Don't take things for granted. Don't assume you know what is being said. Don't be a Republican or Democrat, as the case may be, simply because your husband is one. Don't be influenced to favor or oppose candidates because they are eloquent or lacking in eloquence. Look at the real, substantial thing. Consider your candidate for office as you would study the qualifications of an executor of your estate."

"I am sure I don't have to offer you an illustration of what women have accomplished in our political affairs. If you were ever familiar with the old political meetings, the old outings, the old political affairs, you will know that they were nothing to boast about. They were a cross between a riot and a rough-house. Now no political gathering is complete unless the women are represented, and when they are there, every one must of necessity be on his good behavior. I am mighty glad that the women are in the public business. I believe they have contributed much to taming up public affairs. I believe they can do much more."

"You know I feel that there are altogether too many self-seekers in politics, too many palm-wineing hypocrites, too many people looking for personal advantage. I wish we had more people in deadly earnest. I am sick to death of this palaver about loving your country when the love of country is demonstrated in no other way than by singing the National Anthem, and that usually badly."

"For the last two years I have been urging upon the Legislature the wisdom of passing legislation that will prevent members of the Legislature from accepting fees for appearing before departments in the State House. We have various departments in the State House that have to do with all sorts of activities—the abatement of axes, the granting of garage permits, the location of fire walls, and various matters of that sort."

"Do you think it is proper and wise that it should be lawful for me to engage a member of the Legislature to use his influence with General Foote or Fire Marshal Neal or Tax Commissioner Long to influence their judgment?"

"I am not contending that the majority of the Legislature do that. I do claim that none of them should be permitted to do it, not only because it gives them an unfair advantage, not only because they can make money by so doing, but because the public interest is liable to suffer since our heads of departments and public officials are human, and there is a saying that water will wear away a stone. It is easier to say yes than no when somebody is at your elbow urging yes."

"I think the principal service that I have contributed to the Commonwealth these last four years has been in saying no. It has cost a lot of friends. It has ruined my disposition if I ever had one. However the question for public officials to decide is whether holding public office is to them an opportunity for rendering service or for making money or for promoting their popularity at the expense of the citizenship of the State."

"We should have biennial sessions of the Legislature. I suppose you are tired of hearing of that. I am tired of talking about it."

"We have some great problems to face in this country. They have not all to do with politics or the home. Some of them have to do with our schools and our colleges. Personally I am old-fashioned. I was apprehensive when in the past few years I observed this college and that college and the other giving up compulsory chapel. I hope I am not narrow-minded or prejudiced or lacking in liberal views, but I do think it is imperative that our young people should be schooled in what the English call 'playing the game,' schooled in a religious training that will make them realize acutely the difference between right and wrong and that will keep alive in them 'that little spark of celestial fire—conscience.'"

"As Governor of this State I can say to you that the principal problems that I fall heir to have to do with dealing with educated rogues. These men are smart enough. They have had all the advantages of our colleges, but many of them are conscienceless. They fail to realize their obligation to the State and to the community."

The entire program of the meeting at Everett last Friday, the 24th, has been published, so that Club women are familiar with the names and subjects of all speakers. Because it would be impossible to give in detail even the most important statements of each speaker, because of lack of space, it becomes necessary to choose for presentation here the messages which seem most outstanding. And even before this is given, there will be stated the outcome of the controversy on endorsement or non-endorsement as against an educative policy only, on legislative measures, which has been occupying all Clubwomen for many months. A substitute motion for the one which has been up for discussion during this period was offered, and with a slight amendment was adopted. This read to the effect "that legislative measures be presented to the Club for consideration and study, the Federation reserving at all times the right to take action upon the principle of any bill proposed for consideration by the Legislative Department and the Executive Board."

At the morning session 1,496 were present, and at the afternoon session 1,469. Of these 662 were official delegates with voting and discussion privileges, 29 of these being State delegates.

An interesting feature of the hospitality of the convention, and one which later received a motion of appreciation, was the work of the Boy Scouts who were not only on duty in Everett, but even at the South Station and the subway in Boston, to give Club women directions.

Mayor Roche led off the greetings of the day with an amusing tribute to the women. "It is wonderful to see a gathering of such size so early in the morning. I had all I could do to get here and then I was late."

Miss Lucy Slocum, president of the hostess Friday Club of Everett, after expressing the honor of entertaining the State Federation, gave various facts concerning the city. Quite the most pleasing, because of human element, was reference to the "grand old man of Everett, Columbus Corey, now 94 years of age, working every day as an assessor, who was present at the State House on March 9, 1870, when the governor signed the bill making South Malden the town of Everett, named for Edward Everett. On the train home on that day, when the conductor called out 'South Malden,' Mr. Corey corrected him, saying 'No, this is Everett.'"

In her response, which was, as always, in tone of fine idealism, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter said: "It is a great pleasure to come to the home of our beloved historian, Mrs. Emory D. Leighton, a tribute also of human interest that was most kindly and courteous."

Mrs. Andrews traced the history of the functions of a governor's council, from Colonial days, stories of which days are always fascinating—and explained the law by which in the absence of the governor, and the lieutenant-governor, the secretary of State, then the attorney-general, the treasurer, and the auditor by succession become acting governor. She listed the duties of the council as approving expenditures, confirming appointments, pardoning and relieving, and visiting all State institutions, waterways, public lands and railroads.

Attorney-general Reading changed his subject from "Law Enforcement," to one in which he discussed women, going back 100 years to start, through the centuries, when she was a slave with no responsibility or right to her own property or earnings, down to 1900 when we now have two women governors, a senator, 70 legislators, and 23,000 women in the post offices of the country.

Mrs. Susan Fitzgerald did not favor biennial sessions of the Legislature, and thought the four women legislators were agreed on this. She stated that if the General Court were given the power to fix or change the method of electing all State officers except the governor and lieutenant-governor, this would be destruction of popular control, and that in the absence or disability of the governor or lieutenant-governor all power would pass into the hands of an officer elected in this haphazard fashion.

Speaker Hull told of the cost of government, the largest items being roads and the care of the insane, with State education, public welfare—Tewksbury, Shirley and Lancaster—and penal institutions—Charlestown Prison, Concord Reformatory, Rutland Prison Camp, etc.—following in order.

Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith described interestingly the conducting of business in meetings of the General Federation Executive Board on February 24th at Washington. She called attention to the honor attained by the Auburndale Woman's Club which had been listed by Mrs. Sherman in an honor list of Clubs doing excellent work. She warned of propaganda threatening to destroy our American ideals, urging Club women to read Mrs. Sherman's pamphlets "Bolshevik Activities in the U. S.," and "Shall the United States Recognize Soviet Russia." She gave advice as to clothing for Texas at the Biennial which in spite of the warmth of the south, warrants traveling in the winter. In this connection it may be stated here that Mrs. Brackett urged all to go to San Antonio, and said that if 125 women went, a special train would be provided, otherwise only a special car. The sooner, therefore, that Club women who are going, so inform Mrs. Brackett, the easier she can make arrangements.

Mrs. A. A. Packard gave a most inspiring account of the recent Conference on the Cause and Cure of War, to which 900 delegates from nine national women's organizations were sent. She paid tribute to the wonderful executive ability of Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman for the third time at this annual conference, who made a brilliant address, in which she said: "The United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan, constitute at present the war power of the world. If they, by treaties with one another will agree not to go to war, but to settle differences by peaceful methods, they, and they alone, might bring about the substitution of peace for war. The two horns of the international dilemma are these. On the one side, 'the next war,' followed by a procession of other wars, all caused by muddled thinking, slowly moving down upon us in a pitiless certainty of an avalanche, and on the other, a series of rock-ribbed treaties pledging the civilized nations to renounce war as between themselves. It is a race for a goal. The one that arrives first will possess it. Alas, while the avalanche is sliding silently downward, the nations are hesitant, distrustful, uncertain. They await the mandate from the people, and the people, are, as ever, unable to understand the tangled facts. If ever there is peace, it will be when women will it, order it, enforce it."

Mrs. Hugh Reid Griffin, guest from London, and founder of the first American women's Club in Europe, told of its great work, with a membership numbering fourteen hundred, with Lady Astor its brilliant vice-president.

President Thatcher of Amherst, in his address on "Education for Citizenship," gave the keynote in saying: "Education is not an end in itself. Its value lies chiefly in its usefulness or in its influence upon the life of its possessor." He went on to dilate upon the "five major types of possible benefits to be derived from an education: a sense of personal satisfaction or happiness; an increased capacity for aesthetic appreciation and enjoyment of life; an increased efficiency in dealing with varying situations or problems; a better understanding of the natural laws which operate in one's environment; and the ability to adjust oneself more harmoniously to the people among whom one lives."

All of which above review, however brief, and necessarily shortened, indicates the inspiration and information of a full day's program of vital interests, considered by the Clubs.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club met on Friday, February 24th, at 2:30 o'clock in the Unitarian Parish House. In the absence of the president, who attended the Federation meeting in Everett, Mrs. Frederick A. Cole, first vice-president, took charge. After the business meeting the program of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Louis A. Bacon, chairman of the Legislative Committee. Following a group of French songs, sung delightfully by Mrs. Arthur Campbell, who was dressed in a beautiful Marie Antoinette costume, Mrs. Bacon introduced Mrs. Lewis Jerome Johnson, speaker of the afternoon, whose subject was "A Pilgrimage to Geneva." Those who availed themselves of the opportunity to hear her, realized what a very great treat it was, and went away much wiser upon the subject of "The League of Nations." Mrs. Campbell pleased the audience again with her song "La Violette." Coffee and dainty cakes were served by the Hospitality Committee.

Some of the high lights of Mrs. Johnson's speech are quoted, and it is to be regretted that space will not permit giving the address in full. Mrs. Jerome's experience has given her knowledge and wisdom which made her every word of value, such including chairmanship of the Education Committee of the Massachusetts Branch of the League of Nations.

"After the Armistice the Statesmen of the allied countries met to write the terms of peace. Their ears were filled with the horrible sounds of battles still in their hearts, hates which had been governing their hearts for generations. But one statesman present at the peace conference had a new idea—one which appeared to the other statesmen too idealistic to be practiced. It was a plan to establish international cooperation instead of international conflict."

Mrs. Johnson then described the five departments established in the league:

"One, is the Secretariat, the office building in Geneva where officials carry on the routine work. Two, is the Council, which is a committee of fourteen statesmen ready to meet quickly in case of emergency. Three, is the Assembly. This meets on the first Monday of September every year, and representatives of fifty-five nations gather to talk over the affairs of common concern. Four, is the World Court established at the Hague in Holland, judges chosen from the famous internationally-minded jurists of the world. The fifth branch of the League is the International Labor Organization which plans for the good and safety of the laborers."

Mrs. Johnson told of the threatening war between nations which had been averted by appeal to the League of Nations. "For example, the trouble between Finland and Sweden, over the Aaland Islands, and the more recent trouble between Bulgaria and Greece. These differences were settled without recourse to armies, navies, guns and soldiers. They realize that war is not a just way of settling difficulties. They want peace."

"The League of Nations is also rendering a great service to the world through its work to establish health. Great doctors and surgeons are now teaching people how to live in health, and how to do away with the conditions which foster disease."

"The financial section of the League has found large opportunity for helping nations which were at the point of bankruptcy as the result of war. Hungary and Austria saved themselves from financial destruction by appealing to the League."

"There are certain industries in nations which are detrimental to the welfare of the world. Opium traffic is one of these. Public opinion, focused at Geneva, is realizing that opium is becoming a serious menace to health and sanity. Important men and women are ready to give their services to the League because through it they can serve the world. Nansen stands out as one familiar to us in world service, in returning hundreds of thousands of war prisoners to their homes."

Mrs. Johnson told of interesting personal contacts during her journey, and described her attendance at the impressive Assembly meeting which admitted Germany to the League of Nations, and the Council meeting which voted unanimously to give her a permanent seat in the Council. Without a dissenting vote, within eight years the old enemy was invited to sit at the council table with the other nations.

"Let none tell us," concluded Mrs. Johnson, "that there is glory in war—there is intense suffering in war, there is fighting in war, there are ghastly memories in war. The glory is in the service which stalwart men and devoted women render, and this same kind of patriotism and devotion to duty, if directed to service of state or city or nation, in time of peace, would result in a finer type of citizenship."

The West Newton Women's Educational Club Travel Class met at the home of Mrs. H. F. Hartwell, Davis Avenue, West Newton, with a good attendance, where Mrs. Gilbert H. Jones read a very concise and interesting paper on the "Manufactures of the United States." She showed that the United States was essentially a manufacturing country, for these reasons: the great abundance of raw material, the degree of availability of this raw material, the capability of producers, and the presence of coal and iron found in the same on neighboring localities. The United States manufactures many products, the most important of which are cotton, woolen, paper and steel.

This paper was followed by a most interesting paper on Washington, D. C., by Mrs. George Thomas. Washington, often called the most beautiful capital in the world, did not exist 300 years ago.

The early history of this place was given, and the first settlement there was called New Scotland. In 1790 an act was passed by Congress to establish a permanent seat for the capital, and Washington, with the help of Jefferson and Madison, chose the present location.

Many points of interest were described, and those among mention were the groupings of beautiful trees, parks, monuments, statues, bridges, and last, but not least the capital buildings and Congressional library.

Mrs. Arthur Batson assisted the hostess in the serving of dainty refreshments.

On June 5th the Travel Class will hold its outing at Norumbega Park and a good time is anticipated.

President, Marion Jackson, at seven o'clock. Each girl responded to the roll call by reading a verse from Longfellow. There were sixteen members, two leaders, and three guests present. A report of the cake and candy sale was made, and Agnes Eaton was elected treasurer of the Club.

The Juniors decided to keep a scrapbook, and Jeanne Wolley was appointed keeper. Alice Batson invited the Club to meet at her home on 59 Warwick road, West Newton, for its next meeting on March 13th. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., the honor guest of the evening, addressed the girls. "Co-operation of the Senior and Junior clubs is necessary for successful work," stated Mrs. Bennett. "The three essential qualities necessary for both Senior and Junior Club work are Dependability, Amiability, and Loyalty. A model Junior will have all three of these qualities." Mrs. Bennett, who is chairman of the Junior Women's Clubs of the State Federation, is planning a conference for all the Junior Clubs of the State which is to be at the Hotel Vendome on April 28th. She requested that four members of the Club be present. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, and the meeting adjourned at nine o'clock.

On Tuesday afternoon, February 21st, the Juniors were entertained at a bridge party, given them by Mrs. George H. Jackson at her home. There were four tables, and all had a most enjoyable time.

The officers of the Club met with a staff photographer from the Boston Sunday Advertiser on Saturday, February 18th, for a group picture to be published in the Club News pages on April 15th, Sunday. A report of the Club activities will also be published at that time.

Auburndale Review Club

At the meeting of the Club on Tuesday morning, the study of German Literature was continued, and will be continued for the remainder of the year. By the aid of charts, Miss Florence Bridgman outlined the three periods included, which started so far back as the 4th Century, and ending with the present day; namely the Old, the Middle, and the Modern, the last period starting with the year 1624.

Mrs. Geo. St. Amant took for her topic the "Storm and Stress Period" which commenced at the end of the 17th Century; Klotzstock, the pioneer of German religious literature whose Messias was a story of the Gospels changed to suit an author's fancy. Another product of this period was Wieland on whom Napoleon conferred a cross of honor; the author of Oberon, the translator of Shakespeare and the writer whose style brought grace and ease to the German language. And last of all came Lessing, a lover of the drama and according to Macaulay, Europe's greatest critic.

The last paper of the morning by Miss Elizabeth Rider and in her absence read by Mrs. J. F. Rider, was on Goethe, the man who said that to the Bible alone, he owed all of his ideas, the author of "Godfrey of the Iron Hand" "Herman and Dorothea," and "Faust."

During the business hour Mrs. Ernest Law reported the recent midwinter meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Everett where his Excellency, Gov. Fuller, Attorney Gen. Reading and Speaker of the House, the Hon. John C. Hull, were on the platform.

M. on the 24th day of March, 1928, at the premises all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit: A certain parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in the City of Newton, formerly called Newton Corner, and bounded as follows: Beginning at a point on Winthrop Avenue and thence running Southwesterly by the middle of said Avenue, sixty-three and 2/100 feet; thence Northwesterly by land now or late of Gale Heirs, eighty feet; thence Northwesterly by land now or late of Barstow's Heirs, seventy-two feet to said Winthrop Avenue, and thence Southwesterly by said Avenue, eighty-one and 2/100 feet to the point of beginning; and being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of said William J. Gilson, dated February 6, 1928, and recorded with said Deeds, as above.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax liens and other municipal assessments, if any.

To be sold to the highest bidder in cash, and to be delivered to the purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the remainder in ten days.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.

JOSEPH SARGENT HENRY HIXON MEYER Present holders of said mortgage. 60 Ames Building, Boston. February 19, 1928.

WARNED TO KEEP EYE ON ODD PETS

"Don't leave any snakes about to night" was the closing remark of Mr.
S. G. Finch, president of the Naturalists' club, Chelsea, England, at a recent meeting of the members.

That may sound a curious exhortation, yet on this occasion it was a necessary one. The members of this club are in the habit of taking their pets—which cover a wide range—to meetings held in the parlor of the Six Bells, Chelsea, and on a previous occasion some one had inadvertently left behind a grass snake. Later the landlady had discovered the reptile and was terrified.

Every member of the club has a particular interest. One breeds fish in an aquarium, another studies ante, yet another is interested in butterflies, while the president is an authority on slugs, his specimens of which get to know him so well that they feed out of his hand.

Mummy of Aborigine Found in Colorado

The mummy of a prehistoric Indian almost entire, has been unearthed in the Petrified Forest National monument, in Colorado, and placed in the museum there. The find was made by William Cox Buehler, custodian of the reservation, who states that the slightly undershot jaw places the Indian in the class of "oldest inhabitants." Evidently the aborigine was a prominent member of his tribe, judging from the carefully prepared grave, which was lined with sandstone slabs and was in a good state of preservation when found. The mummy had charcoal on and over it, even in its ribs and eyesockets. Its skull was in good shape, the teeth in especially fine condition. Other articles of archeological interest brought to light in uncer-veiling the skeleton were two whole bowls, a stone hammer, two grinding bowls, and some grinding stones.
These also were placed in the museum.

Piracy No Longer Condoned

If Sir Francis Drake were to return to England, from one of his expeditions today, he would be hanged, declares Charles Clayton Morrison in his book "The Outlawry of War." The editor of the Christian Century points out that piracy is today an international crime, punishable by the law of nations anywhere the pirate is caught.
"But at one time," he writes, "piracy was an institution, universally accepted and condoned, under which successful sea-roving pirates were treated as heroes and benefactors on their return home with their spoils. Thus Sir Francis Drake, returning to England from his expeditions, was knighted and sent to parliament for deeds of valor on the high seas. For the same deeds he would today be hanged."

Trapped by Dyed Gasoline

Motorists who are partial to anti-knock gasoline are familiar with the tints used both to give it a distinctive marking and to warn of the poisonous varieties that must not be handled carelessly; but it remained for authorities of the Panama Canal zone to discover a new use for dyed gasoline in the tracking of governmental joy riders. When they found that their stores of gasoline were being depleted by employees on unofficial missions, they added one gallon of green dye to every 1,500 gallons of gasoline.—Popular Science Monthly.

Fish Consume Mosquitoes

In a recent paper prepared for the Smithsonian Institution, Dr. David
Starr Jordan treats of the efficiency of the so-called mosquito fish as an exterminator of carriers of malaria and other less dangerous but equally irritating mosquitoes. In 1904 Doctor Jordan was instrumental in introducing this fish into the Hawaiian Islands, where it has since become very abundant and has practically rid the islands of mosquitoes.

Our Flexible Languages

In an Indianapolis high school, the English teachers are making a special study of vocabularies. Pupils are asked to form sentences in which certain words are used. One of the words was "nearly," and a boy submitted the following sentence: "Acutely girl walked down the street."

Expensive Love

First Person—Nora seems quite gone on the postman.
Second Person—Gone? Do you know what that girl does? She posts a letter to herself every night so as to make sure he'll call the next morning.—Weekly Scotsman.

Just Like a Man

A Marlinsburg husband read in the Monitor that a woman had lost a scarf. This reminded him that he had found one several days before. He then took it to the Monitor office and learned that it belonged to his wife.—

Escape From Danger Makes for Pleasure

In escape from dangers of all kinds we find one of the greatest thrills in life. The small child asks to be chased and squeals with delight as she escapes; small boys skate over thin ice, grown men hazard their fortunes by gambling and women risk their reputations by reading risqué stories—all that they may have the thrill of escaping from something.

The stories of universal appeal, from "Little Red Riding Hood" and "Jack the Giant Killer," up to the highest tragedies, are stories of escape or attempted escape. Even our spiritual struggles are dramatized stories of escape. "The Pilgrim's Progress" is the story of Christian's escape from the City of Destruction, though the interest is sustained by a number of minor escapes beginning with the Wicket Gate whereon was written "Flee from the wrath to come" and ending with his final escape from the river, which he found deeper or shallower according as his faith grew weaker or stronger.—Thomas Nixon Carver, Harvard Professor of Political Economy, in the Magazine of Business.

Films of Rare Wood Used for Furniture

The growing scarcity of the more beautiful and valuable woods has made necessary the substitution of other and cheaper kinds. Thus hardly any furniture nowadays is made of solid mahogany and inferior materials have very generally taken the place of the disappearing "cabinet woods." Indeed, high-grade timber of any kind is now so costly as to prohibit its common use as the solid body of furniture. Manufacturers are resorting more and more to the use of veneers. Articles of furniture, ranging from tables to phonograph and radio cases, have skeletons of cheap wood covered with a thin skin of high quality wood.

Now the skin is not usually more than one-twentieth of an inch thick.
A thousand board feet of lumber will produce 10,000 square feet of veneer.
Thus a great economy is obtained, and the furniture so made is as attractive as that of solid wood.

Famous Bachelors

Bachelors are the targets for many hard jolts in the world of tears. But let's give bachelors their due. Look at the batting average of the bachelor and see what he has accomplished.
Single blessedness has been no barrier to success. There are John G.
Whittier, Washington Irving, Phillips
Brooks, Walt Whitman, John Rus-sard, Thaddeus Stevens, James Whitcomb Riley, James Buchanan, the only bachelor President.

But why go farther? Let's leave the United States and see the names of some of Europe's illustrious bachelors. Here they are: Sir Isaac Newton, Michelangelo, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Pitt, Raphael, Buckle, Gibbon,
Macaulay, Locke, Handel, Galileo,
Kant and Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Thus on to bachelors!—Chicago

OBJECT TO GARAGE

The Franchises and Licenses Committee of the Aldermen held a meeting Wednesday night to allow hearings on petitions for garages. Petitions for 21 private garages were favorably acted upon and the committee will recommend to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting next Monday night that permits be granted for these. On the petition of Joseph Blaquere for a two-car garage at 64 Greenough street, West Newton, Mrs. Woodford Taylor of 68 Greenough street, and Miss Price, owners of abutting properties, appeared to object. They stated that the proposed garage will lessen the value of their houses because of its proximity to them and complained that since Mr. Blaquere erected the house at 64 Greenough street considerable water had drained onto their property. The committee will investigate the complaints.

Other petitions which received favorable consideration from the committee are: Electric Rug Washing Company, gasoline tank, 500 gallons capacity, for private use at 3 Bridge street, Nonantum; Albert T. Stuart, permit to remodel garage, relocate gasoline pumps and increase storage capacity of tanks at 1149 Walnut street, Newton Highlands; Domenico Bianchi, common victualler's license at 193 Adams street, Nonantum; Carl Page, 33 Owanntanna street, auctioneer's license; Edison Electric Company, location for one pole on Holly road, relocation of one pole on Pettee street.

POLICE NEWS

Felix Bianchi of Quirk court, Newton, was fined $50 in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Frost on the charge of making an illegal sale of liquor to Patrolman Pollock last week. Bianchi's house was subsequently raided by Sergeant Moran and a squad, and a large quantity of wine seized. On the charge of keeping and exposing liquor for sale, Judge Frost found Bianchi not guilty because in his opinion the police did not introduce sufficient evidence.

As a result of complaints made by Newton Corner business men about autoists disregarding the parking limits at that place, Officers Keating and Taffe did some tagging last week. Yesterday morning three men whose cars were parked longer than the time allowed were in the Newton court and fined $5 each. The three, agents employed at a Newton insurance agency, are Harry Lawrence of Roslindale, Aloysius Haley of Dorchester and Jacob Kramer of Dorchester. Henry Johnson of Common street, Watertown, was supposed to be in court to answer to a similar charge but he did not appear.

Edward R. Sircorn, who is now an organist in New York city, was in the Newton court Wednesday charged with non-support of his wife and two children, who have been residing in Newton. Mrs. Sircorn's counsel asked that the defendant be ordered to pay the wife $175 a month. Sircorn testified that his wife refused to move to New York to reside. His mother testified that she had invited Mrs. Sircorn to come to her home to live. Judge Bacon continued the case until September and ordered Sircorn to pay $150 each month to Probation Officer Engess, the money to be turned over to Mrs. Sircorn.

POLICEMAN INJURED

Wednesday morning at 7:45 a Chevrolet coach, driven by Ambrose Doherty of Melbourne avenue, Newtonville, a member of the Newton police department, and a Mack truck, owned by James Delaney of Waltham and driven by Constantine Lanni, collided on Washington street, at the Harvard street bridge, Newtonville. Doherty's car was wrecked and he was thrown through the windshield and rendered unconscious. He was taken to the Newton Hospital by a passing autoist and found to have escaped serious injuries.

ROTARY CLUB

The speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club was Grosvenor Calkins, a member of the board of directors of and legal counsel for the Watch and Ward Society of New England. He told of the history of the establishment since its organization forty-five years ago and of the work it had accomplished. Dr. Calkins, a Congregational minister in Cambridge, and a brother of the speaker, is president of the society.

As far as vice is concerned Boston, the speaker said, is one of the cleanest of the larger cities. A few years ago the society made an effort to censor the stage productions which were largely successful through the co-operation of former Mayor Curley. Book-sellers and magazine distributors are aiding the organization greatly by their co-operation in an attempt to suppress the sale of obscene literature and objectionable works. One of the other important phases of the work the society has accomplished is in wiping out slot machines and other gambling equipment against which a campaign was waged in recent years.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

School reopened Monday morning, February 27th, with both teachers and students feeling refreshed after a week's vacation. It is not without a certain amount of effort that we call back our minds from thoughts of holiday pleasures to lessons. However, by the close of the first day we were all in good working order.

Principal F. F. Carr as well as many of the teachers, are attending sessions of the National Education Association Conference which is being held in Boston this week.

On Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. a large number of students and friends attended the motion picture, The Red Mill, starring Marian Davies, which was presented in the assembly hall. It is hoped that the school may have more moving pictures of its own. Mr. Pohlman was in charge of this first production. Edward Campbell furnished music during the picture.

The Assembly this week quite lived up to the slogan it commenced with, that "a laugh is better than medicine as a cure for souls." First on the program was an exhibition of the new Ford touring car, quite perfect in all its equipment yet failing to attain former record of speed and durability. Lack of co-ordination, and possibly, gasoline, may account for this. Next was a piano solo by Virginia Kenway. A most effective demonstration of "How to Reduce," was directed by Charlotte Jones. Members of the Ninth Grade introduced a new school song, "We're out to Win." The Mandolin Club entertained with two selections. Last on the program came a farce in pantomime entitled, "And the Lamp Went Out," with the following cast: reader, Margaret Callahan; girl, Grace Mancini; lover, Sheldon Fisher; villain, Gordon Yariot; mother, Marian Nutler. The humor of the program carried us through the day with a grin. Miss Longue had charge of the mirth makers.

The Girls' Basketball team defeated the Levi Warren Girls yesterday 25-5. The Boys' Midget basketball team defeated the Levi Warren midget team yesterday 16-1.

The F. A. Day School has received many guests this week who have been interested in observing the work done here.

MASON SCHOOL

Mason Loses Hockey Title

On Washington's Birthday at Bulough's Pond, the Mason played the Hyde for the hockey championship.

Excellent ice, an ideal day, an immense holiday crowd and a hockey rink enclosed by loyal students cheering their respective teams to victory was the setting for this all important game.

The contest was very exciting from start to finish, but, in the last forty seconds, the spectators were almost breathless. An unexpected offense at the last moment gave the game to Hyde with a score of 1-0.

THE RICE KINDERGARTEN

The Rice Kindergarten closed on Tuesday at eleven o'clock to permit the teachers to attend a luncheon given by the Kindergarten section of the N. E. A. at Mechanics Hall.

The Real Test

That it is not generally believed that a fool and his money are soon parted is proved by the preference of nearly every man to choose wealth instead of wisdom if he must make a choice.

Aldermen Hold Public Hearings On Several Gas Station Petitions

Applicants Who Have Been Previously Refused Locations Make
New Attempts for Permits

Despite the fact that a large percentage of the gasoline filling stations in Newton are doing far from a thriving business, petitions for permits for new stations were much in evidence at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. The E. J. Monaghan estate again asked for a permit to move its filling station from Auburn street to 1545 Washington street, to erect a building there, relocate its tanks and pumps and get an extension of a non-conforming use to a residential district. James Deffely of Auburn street, who unsuccessfully opposed the erection of the present Monaghan business building in the residential section opposite his home, again appeared to protest against the extension of this non-conforming gasoline and business district.

Frank Cashman, who on previous occasions has appeared before the Aldermen to plead for a gasoline station permit at 2285 Washington street, Lower Falls, again took the floor to tell why he and his partner, Abraham Ginsberg, should get the permit. He stated that he has been in business in Newton for 12 years, that his firm has gone to considerable expense in developing the property at the Lower Falls, and that if the petition is not granted he and his partner will lose the money they have invested there. He argued that as the Hamilton School will soon be moved to its new building, the only real objection to his proposed station has been eliminated.

Alfred Murray of 2213 Washington street, Lower Falls, as spokesman for a delegation of Lower Falls residents, once more exhorted the aldermen to grant a permit to Cashman & Ginsberg. According to Mr. Murray, the site of the proposed station is the

Noted Educator To Talk at Newtonville

Dean Stolz of Hartford at Central Church on Tuesday Evening

Dr. Karl R. Stolz, Dean of the Hartford School of Religious Education of Hartford, Conn., will speak at the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville on Tuesday evening, March 13, at 7:45 o'clock on the subject, "Religion in Education." Dean Stolz is author of "The Psychology of Prayer" and "Evolution and Genesis" as well as numerous articles on various phases of religious education. For the past 15 years Dr. Stolz has been a professor of religious education.

Dean Stolz will deal in part with the subject of week-day religious education which has been adopted by many centers throughout the United States. The last survey of the week-day school movement reports more than 500 centers where religious instruction is being given during the week. The subject is one of vital importance and one which concerns the parents of Newton.

The music for the program will be given by the Newtonville Woman's Club Glee Club of 50 voices. The committee in charge of the meeting is especially glad to announce the Glee Club as part of the program of the evening. It is one of the outstanding woman's musical clubs in the city.

The meeting is held under the auspices of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education and the Newtonville Woman's Club. It will be presided over by Prof. Gorham W. Harris, president of the Council.

No admission will be charged for the meeting but a silver offering will be taken. The public is urged to attend and hear the message of Dean Stolz on one of the most significant subjects that is before the public today and to enjoy the musical program of the evening.

Lieut. Hegenberger To Speak at W. Newton

Men's Club of West Newton to Hear
Prominent Aviator

The next meeting of the Men's Club of West Newton will be held Wednesday afternoon in the Parish House of the Second Church at 6:30 P. M. President Sinclair Weeks will preside and, following supper, will introduce Lieutenant Albert F. Hegenberger, whose memorable flight from California to Hawaii last year is still fresh in the minds of the public, as the speaker of the evening.

Lieutenant Hegenberger is a native of Boston, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and has served in the Army Air Service since 1917.

At present he holds the position of Chief of the Instrument and Navigation Branch of the Army Air Service and during the past eight years has worked on and perfected most of the instruments which made possible the long distance flights of 1926-27.

Among other things Lieutenant Hegenberger will tell us something of his own memorable flight with Lieutenant Maitland from California to Hawaii, the longest over-the-ocean flight on record.

Aviation is of immediate interest to all and the club is very glad of the opportunity to bring one of the outstanding authorities in the field before its members and friends.

HOUSE APPOINTED BY MAYOR

Irving House of Rustic street, Nonantum, was appointed by Mayor Childs as Inspector in the Board of Health, to succeed the late Leonard Jackson. The appointment is temporary, subject to the examination of the Civil Service Commission, which will take place in the near future. There are several candidates for this job, who intend to take the examination. If Mr. House finishes among the first three he may receive the permanent appointment. He has been a life-long resident of Newton and is an employee of the Street Department. He is a member of Company C, 101st Infantry, National Guard.

LINCOLN ELECTED ALDERMAN

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night elected Albert M. Lincoln of 128 Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill, as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6, to succeed Henry M. Bliss, who had resigned. Mr. Lincoln is 36 years of age, married, and has two children. He is a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1914 and served in the United States Army during the World War, holding the rank of Captain. He is engaged in the wool business, being treasurer of Hobbs, Taft & Co., and of the Lincolnfield Mills. Mr. Lincoln's father was many years prominently identified with public affairs in Brookline, serving as selectman and park commissioner in that town.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATES TO MEET

The regular monthly dinner and meeting of the Newton Business Associates will be held next Thursday evening, March 14, at the Vernon Court Hotel. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, with Eddie King and Larry Frederick's orchestra furnishing music. Following the dinner, Alderman William B. Baker, chairman of the Rules and Claims Committee, will speak. At the close of his talk former Alderman John Madden will lead an open discussion on the apartment house situation in Newton.

Letters Awarded To High School Athletes

Basketball Made a Major Sport at Athletic Committee Meeting

A meeting of the Newton High School Athletic Committee was held yesterday afternoon at which it was voted to recognize basketball as a major sport. This winter, for the first time in over a decade, the orange and black was represented by a quintet in interscholastic competition. With the opening of the new gymnasium building a year ago intramural basketball was carried on successfully and this year Raymond Green was appointed coach of a team to play against other high schools. While the quintet dropped more games than it won the season can well be called successful as it brought to light that with more experience at the game the Newton five will be able to hold its own, as it does in other forms of sport, in the near future. The Newton coach and his assistants deserve a great deal of credit for their work the past season.

With the approach of spring and the resultant completion of winter sports schedules the committee approved awards of letters to the outstanding athletes on the hockey, basketball, and track teams, as follows:

Junior Varsity Hockey—D. Nichols, F. Schipper, R. Coomes, G. Crowell, N. Walker, N. Robb, W. Gallagher, E. Conney, W. Pratt, W. Billings, N. Farquhar, R. Zoller, C. Hills, E. Smith and H. Butler.

Varsity Track—Malcolm Reed, capt.; James McCruden, Edward Ebelhart, Romaine Cole, Fowler Cole, Nathan Pearson, Richard Reynolds, Robert Kinrade, Creighton Getchell, Milton Fine, Erling Bearstoe, and Manager Donald Wilson. Harold Jones was appointed manager for 1928.

Varsity Basketball—F. Becker, S. de Mille, D. Parker, W. Pearce, capt., B. Rockwood, M. Schwartz and N. Payne. J. Hitchcock was appointed manager for 1928.

Varsity Intermediate Basketball—E. Lawrence, J. Kirkpatrick, M. Kingsland, S. Rockwood, N. Harris, A. Rust, and B. Bliss.

Outdoor Track Schedule Approved
April 28—Brookton at Brookton.
May 5—Worcester Interscholastic at Worcester.
May 9—Andover 2nd at Andover.
May 12—Boston College Interscholastic at Boston College.
May 17—Dual meet with Medford at Medford.
May 19—Yale Interscholastic at New Haven.
May 25—Dual Meet with Milton Academy at Milton.
June 2—State Meet at Harvard Stadium.
June 9—Massachusetts State Relay Carnival at Fitchburg.

POLICE NEWS

George Carey of 1926 Boylston street, Newton Highlands, was arrested Wednesday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor after his car had collided with another car. He will be tried on March 14.

Mayor Childs Submits Budget Of Over Four Millions To Aldermen

Pares $320,000 From Department Heads' Recommendations—
Increase of $50,400 Over 1927 Expenditures

Mayor Childs submitted the budget figures for 1928 to the Board of Aldermen this week. The recommendations submitted by department heads totaled $4,331,429.67. The Mayor pared $320,466.52 from these figures, recommending $4,010,964.15. Last year the appropriations totaled $3,960,564.55 and the expenditures were $3,870,678.62.

The cost of the executive department drops from $33,504.36 of 1927 to $3,375. The high cost last year was occasioned by the reconstruction of the Wales street bridge and the purchase of land for the Williams School playground.

The Accounting Department asks for about $4500 less than last year, because of fewer pensions being met this year to city laborers. Comptroller of Accounts White, who received a $500 salary increase last year, seeks no further increase for himself or for his clerks, but the Mayor asks that the clerks in the department average about $100 increase in wages.

The Mayor asks for $603,277.63 for the Treasury Department, an increase of $41,892.83 over last year's expenditures. Most of this increase is to meet serial bond payments due this year. City Treasurer Newhall, whose salary was increased last year from $4800 to $5000, asks for an increase to $6000 this year. The Mayor refused to recommend it.

In the Assessing Department an increase of $900 over last year's expenses was estimated by Chairman Baily of the Assessors. Mr. Baily, who is one of the most competent officials of the city, with his two associate assessors performs very important duties. He rarely or never asks for increases in salaries for himself or for his assistants. But the Mayor, recognizing the ability of Mr. Baily, recommends that his salary be increased $500 to $4000. The Mayor also recommends that Assessors Murphy and Prescott have their salaries increased from $2700 each to $2800.

The expenses of the Law Department are estimated at $625 less than those of last year, a total of $250 being asked for. City Solicitor Bartlett asks for no increase in salary.

The City Clerk's Department asks for $39,756, an increase of about $7000 over last year. City Clerk Grant, whose salary was increased last year from $3900 to $4100, asks for an increase this year to $4300. The Mayor recommends it.

The Engineering Department estimates show a small increase of $1500 over 1927. City Engineer Morse seeks no increase but the Mayor asks that his salary be raised from $4300 to $4500.

The estimates for the Public Buildings Department call for $142,400, about $30,000 less than last year's expenditures, which were unusually heavy because of $49,207 expended for the high school tunnel. Commissioner Chadwick, whose salary was increased last year from $4200 to $4500, asked for a further increase to $5000. The Mayor recommends an increase to $4800.

The Mayor asks for $300,498 for the Police Department, an increase of about $11,000 over last year. Chief

Planning For A Home

Every man with ambitions should begin to plan about the kind of home he wants; about the location he wants to live in. He should make the matter definite by studying home costs and the terms under which he may borrow money.

We loan money to help build or buy a home at 6 per cent and arrange the repayment of the loan on a monthly basis of $10 per $1000 which includes the interest. We give you about 12 years to pay it off in, of course you can pay it sooner if you wish.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

BATTERYMEN ARE UNDER HANDICAP

Coach John L. Sullivan of the Newton High School baseball team was literally swamped with battery candidates in response to the call he issued for all pitchers and catchers to report to him in the old gymnasium building on Monday of this week. Over forty lads, all anxious to display their ability in an effort to win a place on the 1928 nine, answered the summons. The Newton mentor's problem was what to do with them all. He finally solved the difficulty by splitting the candidates up into four groups with each group reporting for a half hour session and being replaced by another squad at the end of the half hour. Thus he has had four groups working every day this week and is getting a line on their ability. But this method of practice is only a makeshift—when the pitchers' arms get stronger a half hour practice is pretty short and unless warm weather arrives the squad will be hampered from lack of work. A similar situation is going to prevail when the weather is balmy enough to permit outdoor practice. When the Clavin Field diamond is in shape to practice on and the weather permits Sullivan will issue the call for infielders and outfielders. Here again he will be up against a similar problem as there is but one diamond for the varsity, intermediate, and junior teams to practice. The freshman nine will probably use the Cabot park diamond as in former years.

Among the battery candidates there are many promising players. Frank Spain, who has held down an infield position on the varsity for the past two years, has been working out with the pitchers. Coach Sullivan is leaving no stone unturned in an effort to develop a good pitcher and as Spain at times has performed in the box with some promise it may come about that the Waban lad will be the pitching mainstay on this year's nine. If Sullivan can make a real good pitcher out of him he will give up his infield berth at shortstop where he is the outstanding infielder in school. Regardless of the outcome of Spain's trial as a pitcher the coach has Don Wilson, Bill Reilly, and Bob Bennett as veteran moundsmen upon whom he can call. All three have shown some ability in holding opposing batters at bay but last year it was a rare thing to see a Newton pitcher stay in the full nine innings. With the experience these lads gained last year perhaps it will be a different story this spring. Among the likely looking "rookies" Nathan Pearson, the track man, and Church are the most promising.

Behind the bat three candidates will stage a great fight for the regular berth. Phil Andres, brother of Harold Andres last year's catcher, Arthur Wilson, brother of Don Wilson the pitcher, and Langdon Powers, wing on the hockey team all look good. When one of the three is chosen it is quite possible that at least one, if not both, of the others will covet more or less in the outfield.

Coach Sullivan will have as his right hand man, L. P. Jones, a member of the faculty and a former Harvard varsity ball player, who spent one season after his graduation from college with the Philadelphia Athletics. R. M. Sargent will handle the intermediate varsity and Abner Bailey the freshmen. The junior varsity coach has not been named as yet.

SPORT NOTES

Hunnewell Bowlers Upset Leaders
The Hunnewell Club bowling team finished in the upset in Wednesday night's matches of the Newton league by trouncing the Middlesex Club, 3 to 1 and making the race much closer. Previously the Middlesex team had lost but two points. Ed Loring was the high man for Hunnewell with strings of 114, 132 and 126 for a total of 372. He was closely followed by Dexter, who rolled 111, 128 and 125 for a 364 total. Dexter rolled 322, Greene 314 and Stone 294. Maugus made a clean sweep of its match with Waban and Commercial turned the same trick against the Newton Club.

LeBaron and Wellman Winners
Arthur L. LeBaron, Newton Club, and A. O. Wellman, Newton Centre, seeded players in the draw, had little trouble in winning their first-round matches in the individual squash racquets championship being conducted under the direction of the Union Boat Club last Saturday. LeBaron vanquished his opponent, Erskine of the Union Boat Club, 3 to 1, while Wellman shut out W. A. Otis of the Union B. C. three love. W. E. Pattison of Newton Centre also won his first-round match from his teammate, W. E. Hicks.

Osborne Breaks Another Record
In the dual swimming meet between the Exeter Academy mermen and the Boston Boys' Club mermen at Exeter last Saturday, Lloyd Osborne, former Newton High swimming captain, broke the 200-yard record when he won the event in 2m. 10 3/5s. This lowered the former Exeter record by six seconds. Osborne also took second in the 100-yard swim to help further in the 4 to 18 drowning of the Hub team.

Newton Centre Clinches Title
The Newton Centre Squash Racquets team in Class C of the Mass. Association series all but clinched the title by shutting out the Lincoln's Inn outfit, 5 to 0, last Saturday at Newton Centre. The local club needs to win but two of its five individual contests in its final match tomorrow to be sure of the title. The Harvard freshmen made a strong bid to overtake the Garden City team by scoring a slam over the Union Boat Club but their spirit was met by the Newton Centre team. In the Newton Club-Harvard match the local outfit was the victor 3 to 2.

Whitmore Candidate for B. U. Nine

Coach Dr. George Gaw of the Boston University baseball team had a chance to look over his infield and outfield material Wednesday of this week when a large response was made to his call for candidates. With the graduation last June of Captain Ken McDonald a big vacancy was made at first base. The Terrier coach will have little cause to worry a great deal over the problem if Holmes Whitmore, former Newton high first baseman, performs in his usual style. The Newton lad, who is a freshman at the Hub school, was among the infielders to answer the call. He has been a mainstay of the hockey team all winter where he filled a wing position creditably and had a great deal to do with the team's success in many of its victories.

Seelye Enters Providence Run

Among the large field of long distance runners to enter the 44-mile grind from Providence to Boston which will be conducted tomorrow by the Edward Street of the two cities is William Seelye of Newtonville. The local lad has won prominent places in the Quincy, Jamaica Plain, Malden and Providence runs last year and in other years. Another local runner to send in his entry was Edward White of Newton.

Lucky Tabor Boys

Thirty Tabor Academy boys are about to set sail on trips of several thousands of miles, some to Central America where they will engage in athletic contests in Guatemala, others to Porto Rico, and still others to Cuba where athletic competition will be held with native teams. A fourth group is heading for Wisconsin to participate in a basketball tournament. The trips to southern waters are made possible through the efforts of two of the school's board of trustees who are executive officers in steamship lines—Victor Cutter of Newton, president of the United Fruit Lines, and a New York man, head of the AGWI Lines. Three local lads are among those to make the Guatemalan trip, leaving New York tomorrow on the United Fruit steamship La Playa by way of Cuba and Honduras. Arriving at Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, they will then make an overland trip of 400 miles to Guatemala City where the Tabor boys will play a picked soccer team of native schoolboys. While on the seas the lads will be assigned ship duties ranging from polishing brass to steering. Raymond Brooks of Newton Centre, George Chase of Waban, captain of the soccer team, and John White, also of Waban, are the three lucky youths from Newton. The second group of boys, who will sail next week for Honduras by way of Havana include Robert Andres of Newton Centre, Robert Hanna of Newtonville and Robert Reinhardt of Waban. In Honduras the boys will visit the banana acres and will play a series of baseball games with a team of natives.

Physical Department Notes

In the Two-State Y. M. C. A. Annual Wrestling Championship, held at the Lynn Y. M. C. A. last Saturday evening, the Newton Y. M. C. A. team, coached by Dr. Fred E. Simm, won second place from among eight teams entered. Boston won the championship, with eighteen points; Newton came second, with eleven points; North Adams fourth, with six points; Cambridge fifth, with five points, and Fall River and Worcester failed to place.

For Newton "Y," Henry Vachon won the championship in the 147-pound class and Joe Arsenault won second place. Francis Cassidy took second place in the 155-pound class, just barely losing the championship by being thrown by McCarthy of Cambridge in 11 minutes and 30 seconds, with a half minute to go. The other men from Newton, Joe Santillo, 118-pound class; Arthur McDonald, 126-pound class; Albert Evans, 160-pound class, and John Lane and Harry Myra, 175-pound class, failed to place.

The officials of the meet were: Frank Shirer, Charles Manoli, Thomas O'Hara, Dr. F. E. Simm, Samuel Smith and James Fabyan. Referees: R. L. Thomas, Physical Director of Lynn Y. M. C. A.; Director of the Meet: G. L. Listman, State Physical Director; Clerk of Bout: John J. Waters, Physical Director of Cambridge Y. M. C. A.; Clerk of Wrestling, and G. Paterson and L. Sparks of Cambridge, J. B. Godell and R. B. Simmons of Newton, Timers.

The boys basketball team of the Newton Y. M. C. A. defeated the "Cow-boys" of Waltham, at the Newton "Y" Saturday afternoon, 27 to 16, while in a preliminary game the Junior "B" of the "Y" defeated the Pioneers of the Dorchester "Y," 28 to 13. In the main game, with "Bussy" Earle and John Simonds, forwards for Newton; "Bill" Floring, centre, and "Jerry" Crummett and "Swamp" Marsh, guards, Floring was the star, catching eight baskets from the floor and one on a foul. In the preliminaries "Andy" Kasper and "Joe" Benson of Newton scored, with fifteen and ten points, respectively.

NEWTON FOURTH IN STATE MEET

The Newton high track team had to be content with fourth place in Class A of the eleventh annual indoor school-boy meet conducted by the Massachusetts High School Association last Saturday at the East Armory on East Newton street. The meet was won by Medford with 25 1/2 points, Lawrence second with 22 1/2 points, Lowell third with 17 1/2 points, and Newton fourth with 16 points. Other schools to score were Brookline 14 1/2, Brockton 10, Lynn Classical 5 1/2, and Lynn English 2. In Class B Fairhaven was the winner with Somerville, Concord and Spencer following and ten other schools trailing the field.

Prior to the meet Newton had high hopes of pressing Medford for first honors but when the orange and black athletes scored but four and one half points in the field events instead of eleven as anticipated all chance was lost. Croighton Gatchell tallied the first point for Newton when he tossed the shot 19 feet 10 1/2 inches for a fourth place. This was all Newton had counted on in the event. The first upset came in the broad jump when Bob Kinrade's best effort of 9 ft. 4 in. just managed to tie that of Frank White the Medford athlete for fourth place. Alfred Prince of Brookline won the event with 9 ft. 8 in. which the Newton athlete has done consistently all winter. Kinrade possibly was handicapped by the barring of spike shoes which he has been allowed to wear in all previous meets. The second upset occurred in the high jump when Edward Ebelhare, the favorite, who has not been beaten this winter, although he figured in a quintuple tie at the B. A. A. games failed to clear 5 ft. 10 1/2 in. which John Janis the Lawrence star had successfully leaped on his second attempt. Janis and the Newton athlete were the only two left in Class A when this height was reached.

The 300-yard run was the first track event on the program and when Captain Eddie Gaffey of Medford failed to place in the second heat and Oliver Borden, another Medford star, was disqualified in the third heat, Nathan Pearson of Newton, qualified for the finals. Medford had counted on two places in the event and Newton none. In the final heat Pearson was on the outside of the track with six runners between him and the pole, one of which was John Badaracco of Brookline who had fallen in the third trial heat and for which Borden was disqualified. In the dash for the first corner Pearson was not far behind the leaders and at the tape he nearly overtook Shea of Lynn Classical who took third. Doherty of Brockton won the event over Fawcett of Lowell in a thrilling finish. Newton kicked up an unexpected point here. In the dash Fowler Cole was expected to be among those qualifying for the finals. He won the second heat over Miller of Medford. In the finals White, Miller and Edgerly, all of Medford took the first three places with Cole fourth to pick up another point that was not counted on.

In the two lap relays Medford made the best time, lowering the former record of 2m. 56 4/5s. by two-fifths of a second. Newton made the second best time, scoring four and one-half points, in its race against Brockton and Lynn Classical. Fowler Cole ran number one with Dick Reynolds, Earl Reed following him. Each of the orange and black runners gained on his opponent until Reed romped home at least twenty yards over the Lynn Classical anchor man.

Romaine Cole lived up to expectations by taking second in the finals of the 45-yard hurdles which John Janis of Lawrence won, equalling the record of 5 4/5 seconds. Cole won the second heat over Gleason of Lowell.

Medford scored seven points in the 600-yard run in which no Newton runner was entered, when Harry Wright made the fastest time and Andrews, his teammate picked up a third place.

Jimmie McCrudden was expected to give Walter Langley of Lowell a close race for first place in the 1000-yard run but the Newton lad ran a hard luck race. Following his self-inflicted wound a few weeks ago and an attack of the flu only a week before the meet, McCrudden had lost a lot of valuable practice and was not in the condition he had been in early February when he equalled the Newton high track record in a dual meet. In Saturday's race he drew a first row position but over next to the wall and in the dash for the first bank had no opportunity to cross over to the inside of the track. Having to take the bank high broke his stride and he nearly stumbled. Two laps had been run before the field of twenty runners strung out much and it was not until then that the Newton runner had an opportunity to advance his position in the race. He was running strong, however, with Jewett, the Brookline runner setting a fast pace, ten yards ahead of Langley. Jewett finally broke and Langley took the lead with Cuneo of Medford second and McCrudden in third place. Jewett was out of the race from then on. Nelson of Lawrence, running an inspired race with an outside chance for his team to defeat Medford if he beat Cuneo, finished in fourth place, to end the meet.

SPORT NOTES

Greene Brothers Score 20 Points

The two Greene brothers, Crosby and Roger, scored 20 points between them in the Country Day School-Roxbury Latin dual track meet last Friday afternoon at the latter's board track to enable the Newton private school to win, 40 to 22. Crosby Greene was the high scorer of the meet with first places in the high jump and shot put and third places in both the 45-yard hurdles and the 600-yard run. The older brother leaped 5 ft. 11 in. in the high jump and tossed the shot 35 ft. 6 in. Roger Greene, the younger brother, won the 40-yard dash and took second in the 300.

Other Country Day point scorers were Robbins, first in the 300 and third in the dash; Cobb, first in the 600-yard run; Douglas, first in the 1000; Charles, second in the 1000, and Gleason, second in the shot put.

Rice Reaches Semi-Finals

Y Quintet Ends Season

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Senior basketball team played its last game of the season with the Newburyport Y. M. C. A. and won, 48 to 17. This game concluded the schedule of the suburban division of the Two-State League, which Chelsea "Y" won by winning ten games and losing none, with Newton "Y" second, with six wins and four losses. Melrose "Y" and Everett "Y" were close thirds, each with five wins and defeats. Gloucester followed, and Newburyport finished in last place.

With a schedule of fifteen games played this season Newton "Y" has won eight and lost seven. Teams defeated were Melrose "Y," Gloucester "Y," twice, B. A. C. team of Waltham, Everett "Y," Newburyport "Y," twice, and the Watertown A. A. Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball emblems will be awarded to Captain Arthur Kohler, Patrick Ryan, Joe Purcell, Charles Jodrey, Donald Cunningham, Harry Gray and Charles Hammond.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Those who have ample opportunity to observe the ways of motorists tell me that few of them who patronize the stores at Newton Corner take advantage of the public parking space between Centre place and Thornton street on Washington. They prefer it appears, to take their chances in Nonantum square and chances are not always so good.

As I remember, the setting apart of that area was thought to have been a sound idea. It seemed to have all the possibilities of a wise solution, in part at least, of the Nonantum Square congestion problem, but it has proved nothing of the kind. At night theatre patrons avail themselves of its use and because of that fact it justifies itself, but for purposes of getting the cars out of Nonantum square in the daytime it has not produced results.

I think, yes, I am almost sure that it is due to the propensity of the man nature in general and car drivers in particular. A great many prefer to receive a nice fresh tag from the traffic cop than walk from Centre place to the square. Now, I, for one, cannot see just why so many minds operate in that way. It may be that there is something of the spirit of adventure. For instance, taking the risk of being tagged and then finding that the traffic cop had overlooked you, may produce a thrill of satisfaction. It is a lot of fun to be able to chuckle and say, "I fooled the cops that time."

Yet, what happens if a car is tagged? My, doesn't the owner wax indignant. "I know I hadn't been there more than 10 minutes or 20 minutes at the outside, and I get charged with having parked for an hour. Something should be done to correct this injustice, etc., etc."

Personally, I don't know what can be done to induce people to use the parking space which the city has provided and which is free to all. Perhaps it might be a different story if a charge of 50 cents a day were demanded. Then car owners might think the privilege desirable and fill the place. I suggest a trial of this service charge for parking. The receipts could well be used by the Street Department to purchase white paint for marking street-crossing, traffic lanes, etc.

Just stop and think about the modern order of things regarding the construction of business blocks in Newton. As a striking illustration there is the Eliot block now in the process of demolition. That was erected some fifty years ago and must have been an imposing structure for Newton in those days. Newton itself was different and the building of a business block with two auditoriums as well as numerous stores meant a whole lot to the progress of the city. Don't let that fact slip away from you when somebody makes a slighting reference to the "ancient" Eliot block. I can easily imagine how great an impression it made in its day and what a real ornament it was.

The passage of years has brought many changes, among them a higher cost of building materials and a stricter code of building laws. I doubt if a builder could purchase at a reasonable cost such timber as I saw lifted from the Eliot block not long ago. They just don't build with that kind of material nowadays. And I am sure that no builder or investor can afford to put out the vast sum demanded for a building of first class construction higher than one or two stories.

There would be no return from any investment entailing the construction of a large block with two halls to take the place of the Eliot block. The builder would find himself very much behind, if not ruined financially. The cost, in the first place, would be prohibitive and the insistence of our building regulations in Newton for first class construction would mean a total sum beyond all reason.

The result is that we are now faced with the prospect of a village square of one-story buildings, with here and there two-story structures. The higher buildings are old and must come down eventually, while those here take their place will be the modern dwarf type. One thing seems to me certain that before many decades have rolled by the old New England city of Newton, as far as the business section is concerned will come to look like one of those mid-western burghs which may be up-to-date and efficient and all that sort of thing but which lack distinctive characteristics and attractiveness.

Have you ever noticed this—that when some talented member of a party is called upon to sing or play he asks, "What would you like to hear?" That, according to my observation, is the rule when at a family gathering or similar occasion some informal entertainment is proposed.

I got to thinking just why that should be and then it seemed plain that even in a private assembly the entertainer tries to produce that which will appeal to his audience. While I was thinking about it, or, at least before the idea had left my mind, I encountered a well known orchestra conductor.

"Ah, ah," said I to myself, "here's a man who may explain it."

He is not only a good friend of mine but keen, affable and decidedly up to the minute.

"When you take your musicians out to play at a reception or similar place," I ventured, "what do you do about your program? Do you ask the people what they want or do you make suggestions, or what do you do?"

He laughed. Then he said, "Man, you'd be surprised. An orchestra may have a music library as large as the State House, with all the old, new and freak compositions, and yet somebody will ask if we can play something of which nothing has been heard for years."

"It's really strange how the public taste in music runs. Some like their jazz and can't get enough of it."

Others prefer the classical while more want a mixture. Then somebody remembers a selection, or thinks he does, that was played in New York last winter or in the days of Noah, and we have to hunt that up."

"Then it's the old story of trying to please everybody?" I remarked.

"Trying is right," said he. "Try and do it."

To those of us who have lived in Newton more than a few years has come the joy of pleasant memories. We recall with delight and satisfaction events and people and are prouder of our city and spiritually richer for our experiences. These things make us glad that our home is here and when we pause to reflect we are grateful for that privilege.

When such a mood has caught us we turn back to a scene or a face that is no longer visible to the eye but which has a place in our hearts that time itself cannot efface. It is then we realize that memory is a blessing. I know there are many who will recall with me the late Charles A. Haskell whose death occurred less than a year ago—March 17th, 1927.

Here was a man of many friendships, based on his own conception of fellowship and his desire to help and encourage others. His indomitable good nature, his cheery manner of greeting, his sincerity of purpose and his sterling qualities of citizenship established him high in the regard of all who knew him.

Throughout his life he was able by word and deed to contribute much to the public welfare. At Eliot Church his constant attendance was an example to everybody. Not alone this, but his earnest labors as a church member, deacon and Sunday School teacher were of inestimable value in the growth of that body. In affairs of the Newton Y. M. C. A. he was a dominant factor in furthering the admirable purposes of the association. He made for himself a place of his own that will never quite be filled.

Possessed of strong individuality and a likable personality his enthusiasm for every cause in which he aided was a distinct asset. Not only did he work unceasingly to raise money for the Y. M. C. A. building fund but was instrumental in securing substantial gifts to the endowment fund. Further evidence of his eagerness to do good is proved by his record of service in the interest of the Stone Institute and the Pomeroy Home. He was president of the latter at the time of his death.

It is therefore something more than a happy memory to have known Charles A. Haskell. He did for his city and his friends more than many of us do—he made them appreciative of the blessings of life, not the least of which was the shoulder-touch of his friendship along the path of life.

"What's the matter with Massachusetts?" asked a New York friend of me one day this week. He was referring, of course, to the news events in which State officials' names have frequently appeared. I knew that this same New Yorker was slyly poking a bit of fun at me, for in the past I have more than once said to him, "What's the matter with New York?"

I can answer, although only on my own responsibility, that there isn't anything the matter with Massachusetts. It is normal and because of it there are bound to be flare-ups and mix-ups such as there are in all places and all parts of creation.

Sometimes circumstances are such as to cause alarm, but calm reflection should restore confidence as it has done in the past. If we read our histories and remember what we read, we can always find something which duplicates this or that event. If this were not true there would never have come to us out of the ages that truism—"History repeats itself."

No, we are not getting off the track. We are not on our way to the demolition bow-wow. Nothing terrible is being offered us and nothing dismal confronts us as to the future. We are merely going through a period of readjustment for which we shall be all the better when it is over.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

From the tip of Tierra del Fuego along the Western slope of the Andes for 2,700 miles, the country of Chile, South America stretches its snake-like length. Juan E. Bonadillo, a native of that country will talk to a children's audience on Saturday, March 10, at 3 p. m. at the Children's Museum of Boston, telling them of the many peoples and many wonders that lie within the borders of Chile. Unconquered Indian tribes, Spanish descendants of the conquerors, and many mixed tribes and classes people the country. Its Andes hold the richest mineral deposits in the world.

The March series of talks yet to come as announced by Miss Mildred E. Manter, are as follows:

March 18, "My Summer Trip to Greenland" by Prof. George H. Barton.

March 24, "Japan" by K. Yamaguchi.

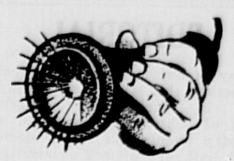

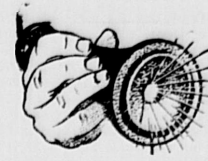

March 31, "Switzerland" by W. P. Friederich.

Japanese fairy tales will be the theme of the regular Saturday morning Story Hour held every week in the Museum lecture room at 10:30 a. m.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The rehearsal of next Tuesday will be held at the Universalist Church, on Washington Park, Newtonville, at the usual hour, 7:45. After that the rehearsals will all be held as usual at Central Church, Newtonville.

Excellent progress is being made in preparation for the April concert, under the very able director, Mr. Malcolm Lang.

GIRL SCOUTS

"ROOKIES" have you all seen it? Don't forget that it is to be given at the Community theatre Saturday, March 10, at 10 a. m. No one will want to miss the Girl Scout program which is to be put on that morning for the Newton Girl Scout bed at the Children's Hospital. This entertainment has been made possible by the hearty and co-operation of Mr. Holmes, the manager of the theatre.

The "Scouts Own" held in the High School Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, March 4th, proved to be a very delightful and most impressive service. It was given by the Senior Patrol Leaders' Association and Betsy Walworth of Troop 13 had charge of the service.

The first part of the service included a very beautiful piano solo by Ethel DeMille, scripture reading by Virginia Randall, a poem read by Phyllis Reinhardt and singing the following hymns, "Hail to the Scouts," "Be Prepared," "Our Motto," "Love Di-vine," "All Loves Excelling" and "Nerve." A choir made up of girls from Troop 10 led the hymns and sang the songs which came into the second part of the service.

The Trefoil Pageant, written by Mrs. Charles B. Moseley, Commissioner of the Metropolitan Division Girl Scouts, for the Girls' Conference in Arlington, and the Candle Light Service which depicts the Girl Scout Laws formed the second part of the service.

Ethel Richards portrayed the Trefoil in the pageant, Barbara Randlett, Life, Marion Hutchinson, Knowledge and Eleanor Collins, Light. Each girl placed her gift before the Trefoil and gave her one leaf of the symbol so at the close a perfect Trefoil was made. The Tree Song was sung by the choir as Life laid her branch of Pine before the Trefoil. "I would be True" accompanied the candles of the other two girls. "Follow the Gleam" was sung. This made a very lovely setting for the Candle Light Service after which all the Girl Scouts in the audience rose, repeated their promise, and sang the Scout Hymn. As the curtain was lowered, voices on the stage could be heard singing taps.

The following girls took part in the Candle Service: Judith Andrews, Elsa Brandt, Barbara Crowe, Barbara Fuller, Eleanor Hodges, Mary Stephen, Mary Alice Eaton, Catherine Carrick, Louise Chambers and Priscilla Speare. Jane McGregor was head usher.

Instruction in First Class measurements is being given at the Headquarters on Tuesday afternoons.

On Tuesday, March 6th, tests in First Class compass and measurements, and in the Observer merit badges were given.

The Newton Chorus for the State Review is meeting each Thursday at 2:30 in the Assembly Hall of the Technical High School. Mrs. Ginn who is training the group, hopes to have a larger attendance next week.

The Council meeting this month will be held on Wednesday, March 14th, at the Newton Headquarters.

A Captains' meeting, at which the program for the Spring Rally, and the summer camp season will be discussed, will take place on Wednesday evening, March 14th, at 7:30 at Headquarters.

Mrs. Frank A. Day, commissioner for Newton, will, March 17th for Spain. We wish her a "bon voyage."

The following group of officers and girls were in the Girl Scout booth at the National Education Association on Thursday, March 1st, 9:11 Capt. Redfield, Lieut. Pope, Ruth Cobbleigh; 11-1 Capt. Redfield, Lieut. Widger, Katherine Argersinger; 1-5 Capt. Ball and four girls from Troop 8; 5-4-30 Capt. Warren and two girls from Troop 14. The last group, and Captain Plimpton, were very fortunate, for they were given tickets to the evening meeting held in honor of Colonel Lindbergh and his mother.

A very interesting inter-Troop rally was staged by Troop 3, Newton Centre on Thursday, March 1st. They had invited the other two junior troops of that village, Troops 23 and 28, to come and compete with them.

After the opening, the girls discussed plans for knitting an afghan for the Children's Hospital. It was agreed that each girl should make one square.

A talk on "Wild Flowers" with slides was given by Miss Parker, of the Society for the Preservation of New England Wild Flowers.

The three Troops then competed in table setting, observation, and knot games. As Troop 3 won the meet, the visiting troop which had second place—Troop 23—was given the prize. The party was brought to a happy conclusion by the appearance and disappearance of Hoodsies.

Troop 16 of Nonantum is holding its meeting at Headquarters now on Monday evenings. Lieut. Anne Kenefick of Newton Upper Falls is acting captain, and there are two other lieutenants from that village—Anna Sullivan and Dorothy Wright. Meetings seem to vary. One week the girls have a party, another they do scout work, and a third meeting is given over to Community Service. There are twelve girl scouts in the troop.

EDITORIAL

Many of our readers may have the impression that the Read Fund lectures, the forty-fourth consecutive series of which are to begin next Thursday evening in the Underwood school hall, are offered primarily for the residents of Wards 1 and 7. Such is not the case. The lectures are open to all residents of the city for their instruction and enjoyment. By the terms of the will of Mr. Charles A. Read, who was a resident of Newton Corner, the lectures are given in an auditorium located in that district but it is the hope of the Trustees, who administer the fund for the city that the lectures will be attended by audiences truly representing all sections of the city.

While we have no criticism of the selection of Mr. Edward Howard Griggs as a Read Fund lecturer, we would like to remind the Read Fund Trustees that Mr. Read intended the income to be used for lectures on "Scientific subjects."

It is entirely possible for reasonable persons to give due credit to the splendid work done by Mr. Frank A. Goodwin as registrar of motor vehicles, and at the same time commend his removal from office.

Wide-awake residents of Oak Hill are taking steps to protect that coming part of the city from the two-family house. Oak Hill will be the most desirable part of the city within the next twenty-five years.

DOGS HAD RABIES

Two dogs owned by persons in that part of Waltham adjoining Auburn, were found to have had rabies from examinations made during the past week. One of these dogs had been restrained and had apparently been bitten by some dog owned by a person who did not bother co-operating in the supposed restraint of dogs. The dog owned by Mrs. Tracy of Riverside street, which escaped from its yard about a week ago, when tied, and ran wild into Waltham, was also found to have had rabies.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

If it were not for the proposed investigation of the office of Atty. Gen. Arthur K. Reading and the bills affecting the future of the Boston Elevated, the 1928 Legislature could be said to have made remarkable progress in disposing of this year's business. In fact prorogation would doubtless be in sight—but it isn't. The two matters referred to will take weeks to settle, according to those who watch things pretty closely on Beacon Hill. In consequence there is no one bold enough to hazard even a guess as to the date the General Court will prorogue. Naturally, the members would like to see final adjournment before the last of May. The reason for that is the holding of the National conventions of the Republican party at Kansas City and the Democratic party at Houston, Tex. Not a few of the members are delegates, or, if not, they are planning to attend either one convention or the other. To have the Legislature in session while the two conventions are on would be something of an embarrassment. Still, there may be just such a situation arise, for the Reading investigation is likely to cover a period of several weeks and it will take a long time to dispose of the Elevated problem. That tells the story thus far, so it isn't safe at this time to estimate the date of prorogation.

Two other important matters are still hanging fire, but by next week it will be known when final action may be expected. These are the initiative petition to legalize the playing of professional baseball on Sunday and the initiative petition to make Nov. 11, Armistice Day, a legal holiday. Newton is, of course, much interested in what is going to happen. Both petitions are before the Committee on Legal Affairs the members of which say they will probably be ready next Tuesday to report on the two petitions.

Governor Fuller has signed the bill authorizing the city of Newton to take land for purposes of a group of municipal buildings and surrounding ground and to appropriate certain other lands therein for that purpose.

Newton's petition, offered through Mayor Childs, "for traffic regulation at intersecting ways," which, in effect is designed to make silent traffic signals as authoritative as those of a live traffic cop, is still before the Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles. It is safe to say that the committee is going to report something along the line desired by our city's chief executive. Since the ruling of Frank A. Goodwin, former Registrar of Motor Vehicles, that a driver entitled to the right of way could maintain that right even if the silent signals were set against him, there has been much discussion of the matter. Newton was the first city to demand that the situation be clarified, but now other municipalities have followed in line and a settlement is called for all over the State.

The Committee on State Administration has before it a bill for the establishment of a traffic commission and the preparation of a code of uniform traffic signals for the entire Commonwealth. Inasmuch as the two subjects are closely related they are likely to be settled at the same time. It is understood that Committee on State Administration will ask to have its bill referred to the Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles and then this measure and the petition of Mayor Childs can be taken up together and a solution reached.

The Committee on Pensions is likely at any time to report on the bill of Mayor Childs for legislation to provide for retirement allowances based on annuity and pension contributions for employees of the city of Newton. The public hearing was held Feb. 7. The so-called "padlock" bill went through the Senate much more rapidly than through the House. This is the measure which provides that a place where there have been three convictions in three years for the illegal sale of liquor may be declared a nuisance and the premises closed for a period of one year. Senator Simonson of Marlboro, Newton's representative in the upper branch, voted for the bill on rollcall.

Again the Legislature has not seen fit to amend the direct primary law. That is, the Senate is against the idea. By a standing vote of 24 to 12 it refused to substitute for an adverse committee report of the Committee on Election Laws a bill providing for the nomination in party conventions of candidates for Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Auditor and Attorney General. The friends of the "short ballot" will probably not be discouraged but will keep at it until they have convinced a majority of the General Court that their reasoning is sound.

MISS COOK ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Cook, Jr., of 70 Valentine street, West Newton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Esther Cook, to Francis Stanley Hallett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Hallett of 12 Garden road, Newton. The engagement was made known on Wednesday at a small luncheon at Miss Cook's home, given in honor of Miss Eleanor Macomber of Newtonville, whose engagement to Arthur Ingraham, Jr., now at Harvard, was recently announced.

Miss Cook is a graduate of the May School and is now attending the Garland School. In June she will leave, with her mother, for a few months' travel abroad. Her fiancé was a member of last year's University World Cruise and is now in the advertising business in Boston. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

LASELL SEMINARY

The speaker at the Sunday afternoon vesper service will be Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Congregational Church at Newton Centre.

The seniors are preparing for their "Senior Play" to be given at Bragdon Hall on March 16 and 17. They will present "She Stoops to Conquer."

ALDERMANIC MEETING

an ample frontage of 80 feet on Washington street, is located in a manufacturing zone, offers no traffic hazards because it is located on the outside of the curve in plain view from all approaches, thus affording perfect visibility. Commenting on the objection "that the Bourne site will cause an obstacle to motorists," he stated: "There will be neither exits or entrances for canoeists on the river side of this station, but a retaining wall will be erected for their protection." He showed that the alleged dangerous grade at this point is less steep than grades near City Hall, West Newton which are never mentioned. He mentioned the fact that the land on the Bourne site has not been used since Chief Waban pitched his tepee there.

Alfred Murray, chief proponent for the Cashman & Ginsberg petition, was the leading opponent of the Bourne petition. He reiterated his allegations that the Bourne site is unsuitable for a station because of its proximity to a footbridge and the fact the only sidewalk on Washington street at this point is on that side. Howard Murphy of Pine Grove avenue, Lower Falls, "the nearest place to Heavens according to a sign on Grove street," also opposed the Bourne petition. Mr. Murphy asserted that the visibility at this point is poor and that traffic by there is heavy. Alderman Greenstein asked Mr. Gallagher if Mr. Bourne owns the property at 2268 Washington street, and the latter stated that he did not know.

Following the hearings on the two "peterson" petitions, a new petition was presented by Charles Chasson for a permit to keep and sell gasoline at 302 Watertown street, Nonantum. He stated that this station would be operated in conjunction with his battery station and that he had obtained over 200 signatures of Nonantum residents favoring the granting of the permit. This petition was opposed by John J. Quirk, who conducted a gasoline station at 320 Watertown street, and who opposed former petitions for a station at 302 Watertown street made by others. Mr. Quirk argued that there are more than enough stations along Watertown street now, that the proposed site has but 35 feet frontage, whereas he had to purchase additional more than 50 feet he owned before he could obtain a permit. He also commented that, as the permit will revert to the owner of the proposed station site, the station might later be sold to one of the big oil companies. Mr. Chasson replied that the question of consideration should not enter into consideration and he stated he has a 10-year lease on the property.

John H. O'Neill, appearing as attorney for John W. Scott, asked for a permit to sell gasoline in front of the garage at 1172 Beacon street, Waban. This is next to a gasoline station owned by Herbert Swanson and conducted by the Texaco Company. Mr. O'Neill argued that there is no valid objection to the granting of the permit. J. Thomas White of 35 Newbury street, appearing for Swanson, objected to the petition. He reminded the aldermen that when Swanson built the garage in 1924 he had applied for a gasoline permit and had been refused. He remarked that there are eight gasoline stations within a distance of a mile or two.

Other petitions received were from Fred P. Howland for alterations at the Fuller Garage, West Newton, and from Thomas Watters for a three-car garage at 478 Waltham street. The Franchises and Licenses Committee reported favorably on the petitions of Albert Stuart for a garage at 1149 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, and the alteration of a gasoline station at that address; the issuance of a common victualler's license to Domenico Bianchi at 193 Adams street, Nonantum; a permit to the Electric Rug Washing Company for a 500-gallon gasoline tank at 3 Bridge street, and pole locations to the Edison Company on Mount Vernon street and Holly road. The board granted these petitions.

The petition of Eugene Fanning to have the busses servicing Upper Falls returned to the old route on Chestnut, Elliot, Summer and High streets was given leave to withdraw. The board voted to accept the report of the Claims and Rules Committee giving leave to withdraw on the petition of the Wright-Webster Trust for a change of land on Washington street near Waban avenue, from residence to business zone.

Following a lengthy explanatory speech by Alderman Pitts, the board appropriated $1500 for portable stands to be used in the High School gymnasium and on the grounds. The appointment of Dr. Edward Mellus as a member of the Planning Board was confirmed. The construction of sewer in Brackett road was authorized under the Betterment Law.

DISCUSSES PROBLEMS

One of the newer civic bodies of the city, the Chestnut Hill Improvement Society, is taking definite steps toward betterment of conditions in their section. Last Friday evening more than one hundred ladies and gentlemen, members of this Society, met at the Commonwealth Country Club.

In the absence of the President W. S. Rudway, Secretary E. A. McLaughlin, Jr., presided over the meeting. He introduced G. Duthie-Strachan of the executive committee, who outlined the purposes of the Society. This was followed by an informal discussion of the problems of zoning, traffic, water pressure, lighting, street improvements, and the situation at the Lake street station of the Boston Elevated.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Jr., who was the principal guest of the evening, responded for the city and in a very forceful speech congratulated the Society on its aggressiveness and the experiment of permitting a give official consideration to such problems as may be laid before him officially. Another guest was Walter E. C. Worth, Alderman from Ward 6, who talked very interestingly of the work of the Newton Centre Improvement Society and pledged his support. The Rev. S. J. Lynde, D.D. of Boston College, thanked the guests of the evening on behalf of the Society. Various committees, covering every phase of possible betterment of existing conditions, were selected and future active work is indicated.

LAMBDA PHI CLUB AIDS SCOUTS

The Newtonville canvass for funds for the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts met with considerable success. The experiment of permitting the Newtonville young men's fraternity, Lambda Phi, and their friends, to have the opportunity of giving their services and working out the campaign, with the advice and under the direction of Mr. Charles R. Lynde, Chairman of the Finance Committee of Newtonville, proved a decided success and certainly showed their continued interest in Scouting.

On Tuesday evening, February 28th, a dinner was given at the Methodist Episcopal Church at Newtonville, at which all the workers were present. In addition, Mayor Childs, Messrs. George W. Taylor, John H. Eddy and Howell E. DuPuy, members of the Troop Committee of Troop I, and the Scoutmaster and Drum Corps of Troop I were also on hand.

Mayor Childs gave an inspiring short talk on the importance of the Scout movement and the value to the city of the contribution of service which Lambda Phi and its friends were making. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Eddy voiced the appreciation of Newtonville and of the Scouts to the young men. A telephone message of greeting and encouragement was received and read from Mr. Lynde, who was in New York and unable to be present. A telegram was received from Mr. Lyscom Bruce, Newton Scout Executive, extending his best wishes to the workers. Mr. Russell Clark and Mr. Robert W. Smith, on the committee representing Lambda Phi, outlined the plans of procedure, and after the Bugle and Drum Corps had demonstrated their skill and departed the men proceeded to their work of collecting the unreturned envelopes with subscriptions for the Norumbega Council funds.

The residents of Newtonville had been asked to light up their homes between the hours of 7:30 and 9 to show their interest in Scouting and furnish a "Boy Scout Beacon" to the workers. It was an inspiring sight to see so many homes in the village with every room illuminated.

Between the hours of 7:30 and 9 that evening Troop I, with its large Bugle and Drum Corps, was on parade.

Newtonville was the first village to obtain the necessary quota, and plainly indicated its approval of Scouting.

WABAN FORUM

Dunbar Holmes was elected president of the Young People's Forum of Waban at its meeting February 26. Mary Stephen was elected vice-president, Willetta Mosser, secretary and John Argersinger, treasurer.

Phyllis Reinhardt was made chairman of music, Elsie Stephen chairman of the supper committee and W. Bradford Gove chairman of activities.

The Reverend Joseph C. MacDonald held a Question Box at the meeting last Sunday evening.

At the Executive meeting held after the Forum Ralph Vaughn was approved for membership. He will be voted upon at the next meeting.

The next meeting of the Forum will be held Sunday under the leadership of Robert MacLellan. The subject is "With What Man or Woman Would I Like Best To Spend Fifteen Minutes in Conversation."

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Movies in the auditorium on Tuesday afternoon is fast becoming a habit at F. A. Day. If the last two pictures which have been shown are an example of what is to come we may need traffic policemen to handle the crowds. Thus far, however, the Student Patrol have the matter of traffic quite firmly in hand. This week we saw William Haines in "Slide Kelly, Slide," a baseball picture that thrilled us with its gay humor and tender pathos. Mr. Pohlmann promises us another attraction for next Tuesday.

The assembly this week was used for a continuation of the school prize speaking contest. Jane Whitaker was chairman of the program which opened with a piano selection "Rustle of Spring," played very well by Richard Howard. The following people took part in the speaking contest: Harry Bolter, George Zeolla, Barbara Hunting, Florence DeZotell, Fairfield Carr, Richard Nichols, Louise Brouillette, Frances Dohms, John Tebbitts. The judges chose the following three people as winners: Fairfield Carr, first; Florence DeZotell, second, and George Zeolla, third. These students will take part in a final contest later.

Principal Carr spoke to the school for a few minutes at the close of the assembly. He told us very briefly about the National Education Association Convention which was held in Boston last week. One of the most vital messages of the Conference was given by Governor Alvan T. Fuller.

"There are no short-cuts to success. Success is achieved by hard work alone," said Gov. Fuller in an excellent address given before the first general session of the Department of Superintendence.

The boys' basketball A team was defeated by the Levi Warren A team on Tuesday afternoon, 21-16, while the F. A. Day boys B team defeated the Warren B team 36-4.

LEVI F. WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

One of the most interesting assemblies this year took the form of an Art Lecture given by Mr. Daniels, Head of the Art Department of the Newton schools. About sixty different slides were shown to give the pupils an idea of the history of art—architecture, painting, sculpture, from the early Egyptian age up to the present time.

School Magazine
"The Transmitter" is the name of the magazine published by the Levi F. Warren Junior High School. This magazine is published four times a year—December, February, April, June. The editorial board for the year is as follows:

Miss Avis C. Walsh is the faculty adviser of the magazine.

Mr. Scarborough sent to Mrs. Lindbergh, who was in Boston last week, a complimentary copy of the last edition.

The moderator of the meeting, Mr. Charles Swain Thomas, presented the special committee's report. Mr. Collins, the architect of the church, and Mr. Merrill spoke upon the general plan and the children's chapel. General discussion followed and the vote, when taken, was obviously one of unqualified and hearty approval. The Executive Committee the same evening appointed Mr. John N. Eaton chairman of the building committee and Mr. John A. Paine chairman of the finance committee. A complete statement of the work is to be sent to all members of the Second Church and congregation.

MORTGAGE MONEY

In borrowing from an institution the borrower has much greater assurance of permanency of his loan than in borrowing from an individual or even from a trustee.

In borrowing from a local institution the added factor of friendly personal interest is present.

—Lot No. 6 in the Plymouth road development has been conveyed to John E. Peakes by James H. Wentworth. Mr. Peakes will build a house for his occupancy.

—The subject at the Young People's League meeting last Sunday evening was "How Should Young People Obey?" Mrs. E. A. Aron and William Dillaway were the leaders.

—A new house and lot at 367 Woodway street have been sold to T. W. Conway of Cambridge. There is about 12,000 feet of land, a seven-room brick house, and garage.

—Mr. A. Maynard Beers, Jr., of Newton High '26 and Dartmouth '24, sailed Saturday for Porto Castilla, Central America, where he has taken a position with the United Fruit Company.

—Rev. and Mrs. Phinps of Walnut street, who were injured by falling several days ago, are both recovering. Mr. Phinps fell on an icy sidewalk and Mrs. Phinps fell while attending to her household duties.

—On March 14th, at the afternoon session of the Woman's Association of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church at 2:30 o'clock, Mr. Peter V. Kolonia of Worcester will tell of his work among the Albanians.

—The Boston Seamen's Friend Society is always in need of books that may be placed in small boxes and put on ships for the use of sailors. Such books may be left in the Congregational church pastor's study.

—Special Lenten services are being held Wednesday at 7:45 p. m. in the Congregational church. The speakers at subsequent meetings are: March 14, Rev. Boynton Merrill, West Newton; March 21, Rev. Cornelius G. Clark, Auburndale; March 28, Rev. Joseph G. MacDonald, Waban; April 5 (Thursday), Holy Communion.

READ FUND LECTURES

For the fourth consecutive year Dr. Edward Howard Griggs will address Newton audiences under the auspices of the Trustees of Read Fund. The first lecture in this year's course will be held at 8:15 p. m. in the Underwood School Auditorium, Thursday evening, March 15. The subject of the opening lecture of the course will be "Socrates: Moral Leadership in the Old Greek World." Succeeding lectures will deal with St. Francis of Assisi, Savonarola, Emerson and Tolstoy.

There is perhaps no more popular public speaker in the country than Edward Howard Griggs. One of the most interesting things about Dr. Griggs is his wonderful command of English. It is like a combination of exquisite poetry and beautiful music.

No public teacher perhaps has done more by the spoken word to chart the compass of life for so many of his fellow-countrymen.

Dr. Griggs now has an established audience in Newton who eagerly awaits his return each year.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The Woman's Association of Central Church held its all day meeting on Wednesday, March 7.

Seventy members were engaged in before the luncheon, which was served at 12:30, Mrs. James D. Bennett, chairman.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Lucy Crain, a secretary of the American Mission Society, whose home is in Newtonville. She was received with much enthusiasm and the audience rose to greet her.

As a visitor in the schools conducted by the A. M. A. Miss Crain has an intimate knowledge of the work and a compelling faith in the cause. She traced her interest in the negro to her grandfather's influences. He was free from race prejudice and a man of broad humanitarian sympathy. He had entertained in his home Frederick Douglass and had impressed upon his family the greatness of that leader.

She had enjoyed an acquaintance with the grandson of Douglass.

Miss Crain spoke in highest terms of the work of Miss Beatrice West, of 297 Crafts street, who is connected with the Stratford school in Louisiana. She made a plea for a trained nurse to go to Porto Rico and assist Dr. Watson in his work.

Mrs. Walter Kelley reported progress in the preparations for the sale to be held April 13 at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Lynde. Attractive children's dresses were on exhibition and orders were received.

POLICE NEWS

A battle royal was staged early Sunday morning on California street, Nonantum, in which a number of men participated. As a result, three of them, Domenic Lombardi of Cook street, Harold De Wolf of Faxon street, and Albert Brown of Dalby street, each was fined $20 in the Newton court on Monday.

Sergeant Bannan and Patrolman Bibbo arrested Cornelius Dacey of 53 Morseland avenue, Newton Centre, Sunday night, for the Boston police, on the charge of driving without a license.

James McGuinness of 996 Chestnut street, Upper Falls, was in court Wednesday charged with threatening his wife. She alleged he threatened to kill her with a kitchen knife, and he was arrested by Inspector Conroy. As he objected to being placed on probation, he was given a two months' sentence to the House of Correction. He appealed. He testified that he was being nagged continually by his wife.

Louis Crook of 230 Walnut street, Newtonville, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction on Monday for committing assault and battery on his wife. He appealed.

The home of Louis Tichnor at Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, was burglarized the other evening, according to a complaint made to the police, and $2000 in silverware and jewelry and about $250 in cash taken. Like other jobs done in Newton in recent months, the Tichnor house was entered during the early evening hours while the family was away from home.

Victor Gingras of 9 Dalby street, Nonantum, and Jules Cottens of 220 California street were in the Newton court Wednesday charged with mutual assault and battery. They had an argument on St. Valentine's Day and repaired to Victory Field at Nonantum, where Victor won a quick decision over Jules by handing the latter a wallop which broke Cottens' jaw in several places. Sergeant Leehan had the combatants summoned into court.

Gingras was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction, Cottens to one month. Both appealed.

WILLARD C. WARREN

Willard Clinton Warren, prominent publisher, formerly of West Newton and more recently living at the Hotel Vendome, Back Bay, died suddenly from a heart attack yesterday in New York. He and his wife had planned to sail next week for an extended tour of Spain.

He was active head of Warren Publications, Inc., a group which includes the Banker and Tradesman of Boston; the Bankers Magazine of New York; House Furnishing Review, International Bankers Directory, Banking Law Journal, Business Law Journal, Fibre and Fabric; Granite, Marble and Bronze; New England Grocer and Butcher; the Commercial Record of New Haven; the Record and Guide of Providence, and others.

He was born in New Canaan, Ct., Jan. 9, 1866, son of James Daskam Warren and Mary Elizabeth (Smith) Warren, and received his early education in the public schools. In his youth he developed a trend toward the publishing business which was later to lead him to the position of head of one of the largest publishing groups in New England.

Starting with a small real estate reporting paper in New Haven in 1884, which later became known as the Commercial Record, he gave his full time for many years to this publication. Subsequently he became associated with the late George T. Lincoln of West Newton, in publishing the Banker and Tradesman and, later, of several other publications.

A few years ago he and his associates bought out the Lincoln interests, and other publications were added to these and the group now known as the Warren Publications was formed under Mr. Warren's guidance. He was president and director of Warren Publications, Inc., A. M. Hunt Company, Banker and Tradesman Press, Inc., Bankers Publishing Company, House Furnishing Review Company, Record Publishing Company, Wade Publishing Company and Register and Guide Company, and vice-president and director of the New England Retail Grocer Publishing Company.

For many years he was treasurer of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, and of late had served as its senior warden. He was a member of the Brae-Burn Country Club at West Newton, the Hardware Club at New York and other organizations. His offices were at 465 Main street, Cambridge, and 71 Murray street, New York.

He is survived by his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Lillie K. Faulkner of Stamford, Ct.; a son, Keith F. Warren of New Canaan, Ct.; a daughter, Miss Judith H. Cross of Wellesley Hills.

He will be buried in the town of his birth, New Canaan, Conn., where funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Many friends of the local Y. W. C. A. are puzzled at this time to receive a request for contributions from the Boston Association. Since January 1, 1927, there has been no connection between the two Associations, and all of the money which has been paid on pledges to Boston since that time has gone for the support of work in that city. For that reason Newton has been obliged to carry on an independent finance effort, and is this year conducting its second campaign for maintenance. There is no question but that the local work is steadily increasing and new girls are being reached daily through its classes and clubs. For this reason it thus becomes essential to raise $9,400 from the community this present year. We feel very sure that this can be done if the people of Newton fully realize that there is a real demand on the part of their own girls for an Association in this city, and if they will loyally support the local organization.

Only those gifts, however, which are definitely made to the Newton Y. W. C. A. can benefit this Association.

The next meeting of the Blue Triangle Club on March 12th will be a business meeting followed by a social hour. Reports of the play will be given and plans for future activities taken under further consideration.

The adult gymnasium class continues to meet each Tuesday evening at 7:30. While the enrollment is very good, we shall be glad to add new members at any time. The children's gymnasium continues to meet Thursday afternoons at 4 o'clock, and the youngsters thoroughly enjoy the exercises and dances which are learned there.

The Senior Girl Reserves are practicing for a play to be given very shortly. The interest and enthusiasm in the club is especially good.

WILLIAM DAWES JR. CHAPTER

The Newton Chapter, Junior Sons and Daughters of the Revolution, held their annual meeting on Saturday at the home of the Director, Mrs. Clarence Moore, on Hunnewell avenue.

Marshall Barnes, the President, presided throughout the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The annual reports were given in the following order: Recording Secretary, Eleanor Whitney, who read a carefully written record. Treasurer Robert Fernald, who showed by his figures that the chapter had been active in raising money for worthy objects and at the close of the fiscal year a splendid balance was in the treasury. The Historian, Phyllis Baker, read a very interesting account of the Chapter's social activities with a bit of the personal touch which proved very interesting.

The tellers, Hazel Moore, Marian Hinkle and Robert Fernald, distributed the ballots and the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Jeannette Houghton; vice-president, Duncan Cotting; secretary, Grosvenor Calkins; treasurer, Miriam Morrow, and historian, Janet Tuthill.

Twenty-three scrap books which the children have made this month were brought in. These are to be sent to the Boston Children's Hospital.

At the close of the business meeting the following program was given: Piano solo, Jean Morrow; reading, Royal Tuthill, accompanied on the piano by Janet Tuthill; piano solo, Jeannette Houghton.

Refreshments were served in the dining room and games were enjoyed for the next hour. This Chapter is sponsored by the Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., with Mrs. Moore, Director.

Y. M. C. A.

Through the courtesy of Richard Dwyer, of the Garden City Garage and Manager of the Newton Buick Company, four reels of motion pictures showing the proving ground of the General Motors Company were shown at the Fellowship Club on Monday, March 5th.

For the first time the Newton Y. M. C. A. tried a boys' plan of salesmanship to secure subscriptions to "Association Men," the official Y. M. C. A. magazine. Twelve boys agreed to work under the leadership of six coaches, who in turn received instructions from a sales-manager. The purpose of this campaign was not only to secure subscriptions but to give the boys experience in actual selling. The results have been worth while. Following is the organization which was gathered together by Mr. Walter S. Bruton:

R. M. Patterson, Sales Manager; Hugh Boyd, Coach for Joseph Benson and Edward Flemming; Arnold Barker, Coach for Jerry Crummett and Howard Pierce; Walter Hodgdon, Coach for Norman Stoney and John Simonds; Dwight Colburn, Coach for Kenneth Lane and Harold Kent; Bert Aston, Coach for Andrew Kasper and Donald Plouff; William Ferry, Coach for Herbert Gallagher and Leon Huston.

Mr. Edward W. Hearne of the State Committee, and Mr. A. C. East of the National Financial Bureau met with the Board of Directors on Tuesday evening.

The dormitory men met for breakfast last Sunday morning in the small dining hall at the Newton Y. M. C. A. A brief devotional period was conducted by the General Secretary, H. W. Bascom. It was decided to meet together at breakfast every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, with a special committee to arrange the program and menu for the breakfast. Lieut. Arthur Willink, Jerome Ross and W. G. Rice were chosen to make arrangements for next Sunday morning's breakfast.

It was decided to hold a gymnasium class for dormitory men on Monday and Friday evenings, with Mr. Bouchner, a graduate of Springfield College, as the leader.

COMING EVENTS

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

"Voltaire," the man, his life, his character, his works, his achievements, will be the topic for the program of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands on Monday afternoon, March 12th. Will Durant's "The Story of Philosophy," as exemplified by men of "parts," is the source from which have been taken the subjects this Club has been enjoying during the past few meetings. Mrs. Emory Clark has the topic in charge, and Mrs. Isaac Goddard is hostess for the afternoon, at 154 Lincoln street, the Club meeting at 2:30 o'clock.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Clarence S. Luitwiler will present for the entertainment, enjoyment, and information of her fellow members of the Monday Club the important "New Books," as the program for Monday afternoon, the 12th. The Club meets at 2:30 o'clock at the home of one of the members, Mrs. S. H. Woodrow, of 39 Forest street.

Waban Woman's Club

A most interesting musical program has been arranged by Mrs. Lewis A. Estes, Music chairman, for President's Day, March 12th. The recital will be given by Miss Gertrude Ehrhart, Soprano, and Nicholas Slonimsky, Pianist. The Club will have as guests of honor Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Mrs. Walter B. Leach, and Mrs. J. Porter Russell. A background of music is always a delightful one for the greeting of friends and guests, leaving opportunity for exchange of conversation, and the meeting of new acquaintances.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on Monday, March 12th, at the home of Mrs. Willard Church, of 356 Waltham street, with Mrs. John R. McLean assisting the hostess. Mrs. H. F. Hartwell will read a paper on the "Wars of the United States," and another paper will be read on "Waterfalls of the United States," by Mrs. A. L. Day.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole gives the third in her series of Current Event Lectures on Monday, March 12th, at 2:30 p. m. in the Church parlors. Three modern Essayists: Frances Lester Warner, Samuel Crothers, and Zephine Humphrey, will be the subject of discussion at the next Literature Class on Tuesday, March 13th. Mrs. J. W. Allen of 488 Watertown street, will be the hostess.

Business and Professional Division of the Auburndale Woman's Club

The business and professional women of the Auburndale Woman's Club live up to their name in the interest of their next program, on the evening of March 12th, at 8 o'clock, in the Auburndale Club House, when Mr. Edward J. Frost, treasurer of Filene's of Boston, will give a Business Talk.

Auburndale Review Club

"The Birth of New Poetic Drama," is the general topic for consideration of the members of the Auburndale Review Club at their meeting on Tuesday morning, the 13th. The Club meets at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. George F. Howland, 31 Vista avenue. The development of "German Literature" has been the subject upon which the Club has been gaining information, the first being a generalization as to periods. In the consideration of poetic drama, Mrs. Eugene U. Ufford will read a paper on "Schiller," Mrs. Nelson Freeman one on "Wagner," and Miss Margaret Haskell one on "Heine."

Newton Community Club

Miss Margaret Aubin will give a talk on "Budgets for Home-makers" in the Underwood School Hall committee room on Tuesday morning, the 13th, at 10 o'clock. Members of the Community Club know how informed is Miss Aubin on all matters pertaining to finance and she is sure to give them many valuable hints as to the planning and expending wisely and satisfactorily their incomes. She will give a second talk on the 20th, on another topic. A small fee—25 cents—is being asked by the American Home Committee, Mrs. LeRoy P. Gulon, chairman, with the object of purchasing a book on a topic pertaining to this subject, which will be available for any Club member interested to read it, on application to Mrs. Everett L. Olds.

The Conservation Committee of the Newton Community Club, Miss Margaret S. Ball, chairman, has planned a lecture to be given in Grace Church Parlors on Wednesday evening, March 14th, at 8 o'clock, by Mr. B. F. Letson, of Carbone's. Tickets for this may be obtained from members of her committee.

Newton Highland Woman's Club

The third of the course of morning talks being given in the Workshop for members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club under the direction of the American Home Committee, is scheduled for Tuesday morning the 13th, at 9:30, when Kenneth B. Backman of the Boston Better Business Bureau is to address the subscribers.

Through the chairman, Mrs. Richard A. Cody, comes the announcement of two extra lectures to satisfy the demand of subscribers who wished for further information along the lines given by Mrs. Carolyn Webber Bixby at the first lecture in the course, in late January. The dates reserved for these later lectures are Wednesday, March 21, and Friday, March 30. The topic for the first will be, "Sunday Night, Supper Suggestions," and subscribers will have the privilege of choosing the subject for the second demonstration-lecture.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Leon E. White, Radio director of the State Federation, is still accomplishing the weekly task of supplying interesting Club programs for Wednesday morning, over WNAC at 10:30 o'clock. Clubwomen who have been in charge of arrangements for one meeting or activity can appreciate what it means in patience, courage, persistence, and idea, for one director to arrange weekly programs. All have had the harrowing experience of disappointments on account of illness, sudden calls, and other obligations, so that a minute's thought as to what it means for Mrs. White to have her speakers and singers before the microphone at the exact minute will make all give her a bow of commendation.

On Wednesday, the 14th, Mrs. Elizabeth Macdonald, of the home economics staff of Boston University will broadcast "The Ethics of Family Life" from WNAC at 10:30 o'clock, on Mrs. Ralph H. Reed's American Home department program. Mrs. Bradley H. Catterson is to give at 10:40 a group of soprano solos, accompanied by Mr. Edward Powell, with flute obligato, and Mrs. Cora Ward Ryan at the piano. Mrs. L. R. Hovey will give a message at 10:50 on "Club Spirit in the 19th District."

LEGISLATION. Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, of the State Legislative Committee, has given such a clear summary of the three initiative petitions before the Legislature which may come up for vote in the fall, it is quoted here for the many Clubwomen who would like to be more fully conversant with the situation, and who may now be wandering in a maze of just what it is all about.

At the present session of General Court, three initiative petitions are being considered:

1—Armistice Day.
House 215. "Petition (initiative) for an act making Armistice Day, the eleventh day of November, a legal holiday in this Commonwealth hereafter."

A similar measure was passed in the House of Representatives last year, but was defeated in the Senate. The principal arguments of opponents are that we have too many legal holidays, and that May 30 is set apart for honoring and keeping in remembrance the soldiers of all wars.

Friends of the proposal, including the American Legion, maintain that no State has fewer legal holidays than Massachusetts, and only New Mexico and Wisconsin have as few. They each have nine, the same number as Massachusetts. That only three States, including ours, still fail to observe the eleventh of November as a legal holiday. That "while Memorial Day will always be held sacred to the memory of the dead, Armistice Day has a peculiar significance. It is indeed a day of memories, but it is also a day of peace, of celebration and of great joy. A holiday is essential in order to properly observe it and to inculcate in the minds of all the people the blessings of peace. Massachusetts should not be the last to recognize the sacredness and significance of that day and the necessity for its fitting observance."

2—Sunday Sports.
House 215. "Petition (initiative) for an act to permit certain sports and games on the Lord's Day."

This is an effort to legalize professional sports, with the exception of horse racing, automobile racing, boxing and hunting, between the hours of 2 and 6 on Sunday afternoon, with the stipulation that such games shall not be conducted within 1000 feet of a church. At present, amateur sports on Sunday are permitted, but no admission fee may be charged or collection taken.

(A great many people think Sunday baseball is not allowed and this false impression clouds the issue. They already have this. All that is "denied" them is the turning of this sport into a money-making scheme.) Supporters of this measure urge that persons employed during the week should not be deprived of the opportunity to enjoy on Sunday League games of baseball and other professional sports which cannot be conducted without revenue from admissions.

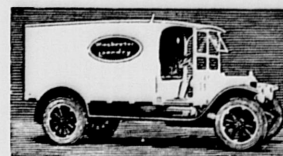

Against it is a strong opposition from churches, societies and individuals who believe that it is a step toward commercializing the day, tending to detract from its observance as a time of rest and worship, and bringing us nearer to what is called a Continental Sunday.

3—The Eighteenth Amendment.
House 214. "Petition (initiative) for an act to ascertain the will of the people of the Commonwealth with reference to the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

This petition, prepared by the Constitutional Liberty League, calls for a vote in this State on election day, November 6, 1928, on the following question:

"Shall the senators from this Commonwealth and the representatives in Congress from this district be requested to support a constitutional amendment to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States known as the 'prohibition' amendment?"

KIWANIS CLUB

The regular monthly business meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held Tuesday at the Woodland Golf Club. Seventy-five members were present and several applications for membership were received. It was voted to hold a Ladies' Night on April 24th, and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for this affair. Will White, W. Uriah Fogwill and William Skelton were appointed a committee to arrange the details for the observance of Charter Night.

FEBRUARY BUILDING REPORT

The report of the Buildings Department for February shows that 81 permits were granted—27 for single dwellings, 17 for double dwellings, 16 for garages and 21 for alterations on buildings. The total valuation of this construction is $550,823. The estimated value of building in Newton since the first of the year is $1,395,573, as compared with $170,705 for the similar period last year. This indicates that Newton is still increasing in popularity as a residential community. It seems that Newton's zoning restrictions are attracting persons from other places to this city.

UNION SERVICE IN IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH

On Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the third of a series of six Union Sunday evening Lenten Services held under the auspices of four of the Protestant churches of Newton will be held in the Immanuel Baptist Church. Rev. J. West Thompson, minister of the First Methodist Church, Newton, will be the preacher. The musical numbers of the service will be rendered by the choir of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

LODGES

Waban Lodge 156, I. O. O. F., had a Past Grands' Initiatory Degree on Feb. 29, twenty-three Past Grands taking part out of 34 living Past Grands. A. F. A. G. Libby, who was N. G. in 1893 was the oldest P. G. in time of service.

Letters were read from several Past Grands and members, one from W. H. Pearson, the oldest P. G. living who was Noble Grand in 1885.

Past Grand Chas. F. Dow, who was N. G. in 1904 gave a short talk on the Past Grands. J. W. Bailey was the 1st N. G. in 1871. Howard C. Henderson, who was the last N. G. in 1927.

Past Grand Chas. F. Dow served the shortest term in 1904 of any N. G. of Waban Lodge and without doubt the shortest term ever served being N. G. from the last week in June to the second week in July.

There was a record attendance and the degree was a great success.

At 6:30 p. m. sat down to a fine supper. District Deputy Edward Knight of Framingham was present.

Waban Lodge I. O. O. F. will hold a Whist Party on Wednesday, March 14, at 8 p. m.

Garden City Encampment will visit Liberty Encampment at Allston on Monday evening and take candidates for the Royal Purple Degree.

U. R.

The members of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Webber at 11 Washington street, Newton. Following the business meeting at 2:30, Mr. Park Pressy will give an illustrated talk on "Historic Homes of New England." The hostesses will be Mrs. Ralph Emery, Mrs. Edward P. Bosson, Mrs. Harry I. Hunt, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, Mrs. Mary K. Green and Miss Kate Fox.

CHEVROLET

Last year more CHEVROLETS were sold than any other car in the world. This year there is even a greater demand for CHEVROLETS. The 1927 CHEVROLET exceeded all the claims made for it. It proved its worth. The 1928 CHEVROLET is even bigger and better, smoother and more powerful. It gives a performance that is thrilling thousands of new owners every day. All the great resources of General Motors are being used to make CHEVROLET a remarkable car for an unbelievably low price. The CHEVROLET dealer for Newton is the STUART CHEVROLET COMPANY at 431 Washington street. This company has built up a fine reputation for square dealing. It assures prompt delivery of cars and reliable service to all its customers.

FRINK—ROBERTS

Miss Roberta Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sanford Roberts of 154 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill, was married to Mr. James Harold Frink of Seattle, Wash., on Thursday, March 1st, at the Church of the Redeemer. Rev. John S. Moses, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Miss Ethel Merriman of Providence, R. I. The best man was Mr. Philip Frink of Seattle, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. Only members of the two families were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frink will reside in Seattle.

The bride is a graduate of the Choate School and has studied under Miss Amy Sacker. Mr. Frink is a graduate of Culver Academy and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

CHRYSLER

D. A. R.

CHRYSLER has more than met the keen competition prevailing in the automobile industry today. With models to meet all price classes, CHRYSLER continues to forge ahead in the automotive business. The new CHRYSLER "52" is a truly remarkable value—a thoroughly modern, fine-quality automobile at a low price. The CHRYSLER "62" displays qualities that are not only unknown in cars of its class, but are actually uncommon in automobiles of any class. The CHRYSLER "72" is longer, roomier, faster, handsomer than the famous "70"; it possesses a smoothness, a quiet and a flash you have never before known in any car on wheels. The CHRYSLER Imperial "80" is the masterpiece of men who have created success after success. The CHRYSLER dealers for the Newtons are Fitzgerald & Wing, whose show room is at 294 Washington street, Newton Corner. They can meet your every CHRYSLER need.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R. held its last meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Foster, Newton Highlands, where the members gathered, many of them in costumes of the olden days, to enjoy a Colonial Afternoon. Following the business meeting the tribute to Washington and Lincoln, written by the Pres. Gen. Mrs. Brosseau, was read by Mrs. S. H. Woodrow.

A short play, entitled "The Diabolical Circle" was presented by members of the Chapter and was enthusiastically received. The characters were Cotton Mather, Mrs. W. J. Blacknell; his daughter Betty, Mrs. C. O. Bassett; her two suitors, Adoniram Wigglesworth, Mrs. R. A. Cody; Charles Manning, Mrs. C. W. Dillaway; and the Clock. Mrs. C. W. Tudbury had charge of the production. Previous to the play a short sketch of Cotton Mather's life was read by Mrs. J. K. Hemphill.

During the social hour the hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Emery, Mrs. Cody, Miss Foster and Mrs. Miller.

INJURED AS AUTOS COLLIDE

Automobiles operated by Hildegard Kate of 264 Bay State road, Boston, and George Giles of Belmont, collided at the corner of Walnut and Centre streets, Sunday night. Wilbur Burbridge of 65 Highland street, Hyde Park, who was riding in the Kate car, suffered a fractured shoulder and cuts on the head. He was taken to the Newton Hospital.

AWARDED DEGREES

At the annual mid-year award of Harvard University Clement D. Coady of West Newton, received an A.B. degree and Camillo P. Nerlino of Newton, and Norman J. Padelford of Newton Centre, received Ph.D. and D.M. degrees.

PACKARD

The NEWTON AUTO SALES, Inc., local dealers for PACKARD cars, cordially invite residents of Newton to visit the showrooms at 320 Washington street, Newton, and inspect the new PACKARD EIGHTS now on display. No cars in PACKARD history—and PACKARD has produced many great cars—has met with such regard by their owners and friends. In addition to a wide range of selections available in the standard models, a complete line of custom creations is offered. Residents of Newton who purchase PACKARDS from the NEWTON AUTO SALES, Inc., can rest assured of obtaining more than satisfactory treatment.

OAKLAND-PONTIAC

The Newton Branch of the OAKLAND-PONTIAC Company at 208 Washington street, Newton, under the management of J. L. Doyle, has on display a complete line of Oakland and Pontiac models. It is open evenings and demonstrations will be gladly given. The Oakland Motor Car Company sold 191,000 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes during 1927 which represented an increase of more than 40% over the total for the preceding year. The continued popularity of the Oakland All-American Six and the enthusiastic reception accorded the new Pontiac Six indicate that Oakland will better the national position of fifth in point of sales achieved last year. The total sales for January and February of this year exceed by a wide margin the combined 1926 and 1927 production during these respective months.

AUTO INSURANCE

Are you properly protected by insurance against the loss of your automobile by theft or fire? Are you properly protected against damage claims in case you have an accident? Insurance today is an important factor. It pays to get advice from and do business with an insurance office which is qualified to give you expert advice on insurance in all its branches. It pays to do business with an insurance office which gives immediate personal attention to all claims which may be brought against its clients or which they may wish to bring. The insurance office of G. CLEMENT COLBURN at 421 Centre street, Newton, is conducted by men whose entire business is insurance.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

That cold, damp weather we had on Saturday and Sunday, February 26 and 27, started more colds among people in this region than all the weather which preceded, this winter. Many of us are still trying to shake colds caught on the two days named.

Now that horses are few and far between the M. S. P. C. A. has time to devote its energies to lesser creatures than the faithful equines that formerly served man so well. The society with the long name has organized "Jack London Clubs" to wage war against trained animal acts in theatres and it has been prominent in the fight to outlaw the cropping of dogs' ears. There are other matters that might well receive attention. Is it not cruel to take lobsters from their natural element and place them in restaurant windows for days to suffer and gasp for water? Is it not cruel for amateur aquarists to keep gold fish in bowls that are much too small, in most cases? In the Boston Sunday Globe some weeks ago was an article written by an expert aquarist which stated that for each inch of gold fish one gallon of water should be provided. In other words, if a person keep three gold fish as pets and these fish average two inches in length, the bowl, or aquarium where they are kept should contain six gallons of water. Otherwise, according to the expert, the fish do not have enough oxygen to breathe, have to come to the surface to keep from drowning, and eventually die from lack of oxygen. If this expert is correct, most persons keeping gold-fish imprison their pets in quarters all too small and torture them with slow asphyxiation.

The Newton Branch of the M. C. W. G. will hold its first annual banquet March 14, 1928, in Bay State Hall, Newton, Mass.

Mrs. Katherine Powers, regent, will be chairman assisted by Mrs. Mae Croft and Mrs. A. Narien. State Officer Mrs. Lena Dooley will be toast master. The reception committee consists of State Officers Mrs. Lena Dooley, Mrs. Naren, Mrs. John Gallagher, Mrs. Rose Meehan. Tickets, Mrs. Mae Croft is in charge of tickets. Mrs. Rose Meehan in charge of favors and Mrs. Annie Keough in charge of decorations.

The invited guests will be Right Rev. Monsignor Ambrose Roche, Rev. Fr. Slattery, State Regent Alice M. Hall, Deputy Mrs. M. Drennan. A musical program has been arranged by the entertainment committee, Mrs. L. Dooley, Mrs. Moran, Miss May Miskella.

CADILLAC

THE ANDERSON CADILLAC LaSALLE COMPANY at 405 Washington street, Newton, is proving that Newton people appreciate the advantage of being able to purchase these two magnificent cars in their home city. It is superfluous to extol the excellence of the CADILLAC. This DeLuxe product of General Motors years ago established its supremacy among automobiles. The LaSALLE, companion car to CADILLAC made its first appearance in the automobile field just one year ago. Today it ranks as a veteran. It is everywhere accepted as one of the leading cars in the industry. Whether Newton residents desire to purchase a new CADILLAC or LaSALLE or want service on either of these makes of cars, the ANDERSON CADILLAC LaSALLE COMPANY can meet their every requirement.

STUDEBAKER

For those hundreds of thousands who have owned STUDEBAKER cars no record need have been made to prove the speed, the endurance, of this make of automobile but for the benefit of those who did not realize the wonderful capacity of Studebakers, a stock model of the "Dictator," a Studebaker which sells for $1195, average more than a mile a minute for 24 hours on the Atlantic City Speedway last October. The STUDEBAKER "Commander," which sells for $1585, equalled in horse power by only seven other American cars selling for two to five times more than the COMMANDER. The new 8-cylinder STUDEBAKER "President," which sells for $1945, is so remarkable in power, appearance, and economy in operation, that it must be seen and ridden in to be properly appreciated. The truly great Studebaker cars are sold in Newton by the Newton Garage and Automobile Company, Newton's oldest automotive concern, established in 1907. Its salesroom is at 409 Washington street, Newton. The service station is at 24 Brooks street, Newton.

WARNING TO PARENTS

Very soon all skating will become unsafe. We have discontinued the care of the ice in some places. This is due to the lateness of the season when the removal of two or three inches of poor ice is too costly considering the few more days of possible skating.

The Playground Department is posting warnings where ice is becoming unsafe or where supervision has been withdrawn. Parents are urged to see that their children keep off the ice whenever warnings are posted.

BUICK

This is BUICK'S biggest year. It will be much bigger, according to indications, than last year, and in New England last year nearly three times as many Buicks were sold and registered as the nearest competitive car in the same price class. Year by year Buick has gained in popularity, because the automobile public has learned that "When Better Automobiles Are Built Buick Will Build Them." The Newton Buick Company, Newton dealers for this famous product of General Motors, located at the corner of Thornton and Washington streets, Newton, has, during the first two months of this year, added many customers to its already large clientele. Buy your Buick in Newton and get the benefit of service right here at home.

"MASTER SKYLARK"

A great deal of interest is being shown in the coming presentation of "Master Skylark," to be given by the Lend a Hand Dramatic Club of Greater Boston next Thursday and Saturday afternoon, March 15 and 17, at Players Hall, West Newton, under the direction of Miss Edith May of Brookline.

The cast, which includes many prominent women from the Newtons and Brookline, is headed by Miss Ethel Hale Freeman as William Shakespeare; Miss Marjorie Desmond as "Master Skylark," and Mrs. Josephine Hall, who will portray Queen Elizabeth.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The second of the series of three Bridge parties at the Hunnewell Club will be held next Tuesday evening. The hostesses will be Mrs. C. H. Barney, Mrs. T. F. Murray, Mrs. S. E. Blanchard and Mrs. A. H. Goodsell.

GIVES LAND TO BOY SOUTS

Horace W. Orr of Newtonville has purchased 100 acres of land in South Sudbury, on Nobscot Mountain, which he will give to Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of Newton, for camping purposes. This land was formerly the property of Judge Prescott Keyes and Mrs. Carrie Bent. The property is partly covered with oak and maple and is well adapted for use as a camp site. Mr. Orr, who is chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of the Newton Rotary Club, had already given the use of a room in one of his office buildings at Newtonville for Boy Scout work.

HUPMOBILE

Yesterday that beautiful sport car, with those daring and distinctive lines, you saw passing, was the wonderful Hupmobile, the most sensational of all creations ever made in the automotive industry, and the main topic of conversation at New York, as well as at all other Automobile shows this year, where its grace, exquisite beauty and quiet dignity bewildered the vast throngs of visitors.

The New Hupmobile has truly proven itself to be the wonder car of the century. In addition to its remarkable performance are the amazing varieties of models offered at startlingly low prices. These cars are now on display at the showrooms of your territorial HUPMOBILE DEALERS, ROYAL MOTORS, INC., 796 Beacon street, Newton Centre, which extends to you a cordial invitation to visit every evening until 10 p. m. and see with your own eyes the WONDERFUL HUPMOBILE. The ROYAL MOTORS, INC., has the very best mechanics obtainable at your disposal for quick and efficient service at reasonable rates. The telephone number is Centre Newton 0143.

March 16th, through the Home Service Division of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, the last of a series of three lectures pertaining to the American Home.

The program will include practical demonstrations of electric cookery and electric refrigeration, and other "mechanics of the kitchen."

A feature of unusual interest will be a presentation of the newly released talking moving picture, "The Dawn of a New Day." This excellent film carries a definite message to every American Homemaker.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Friday, March 16th, is the date for the next Current Events lecture by Mrs. Claude F. Gilson, for the members of the Community Service Club of West Newton, who are so enjoying her course of instructive facts. Mrs. Gilson speaks at 10:40 a. m. in the Unitarian Parish House.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Kendall McLean of Hingham is in charge of the Quiz for the entertainment and information of members of the Shakespeare Club at their meeting on Saturday afternoon, the 17th, at 2:30 o'clock. Acts I and II of "Twelfth Night" is the play upon which she will quiz her fellow members. Miss Mary L. Sweeney of Columbus street will be hostess on that date.

RECENT EVENTS

Christian Era Study Club

Miss Blanche Noyes was the hostess of the Christian Era Study Club at their meeting on Monday afternoon, March 5th. Mrs. N. L. Grant reported a hearing which she and Mrs. Desoe had attended on the "Jury Bill for Women" and considerable discussion ensued.

Continuing the topic of the year "The Founding of a Government," Mrs. H. E. B. Case read a paper on the "Neutrality act against France in 1793" and Mrs. Desoe gave a very complete and comprehensive account of "Jay and the Treaty with England in 1795."

The study of the founding, development, and progress of our country is proving of intense interest, and is reviving memory of former information gained, and forgotten, and adding to a wonderful store of new knowledge that arouses thought.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club was entertained with "the finest Musical ever given," so "twas said at the meeting Monday evening, March 5th, and Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, chairman is to be congratulated upon the large audience which gathered to hear Mrs. Mina Del Castillo, pianist and composer; Miss Marjorie Fossell, violinist, known as "Marge" over the radio, and Miss Helen Edlinson Barr, lyric soprano and one of the best in Boston. Their selections were diversified and each enjoyed. Mrs. Del Castillo made short explanatory remarks and told many interesting facts before she gave her piano selections. Among them were MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose," "Brer Rabbit," a classical jazz called "It was called," and "Sunset" which one visualized as it was played. The "Concert Waltz" was a composition of Mrs. Del Castillo, was "the best of all" as some one said.

Miss Barr made most happy selections, and "The Cry of Rachel," by Mary Turner Salter, showed the quality of her voice, and her dramatic rendition was wonderful to see and hear. Those attending the Biennial in Atlantic City will remember this number was included in the Sunday morning service with the composer at the piano.

"Marge" prefaced some of her selections with witty remarks, which made one feel she was the same "Marge" of the "Friendly Maids." And how she can make that violin talk! Whether Schubert's "Serenade," "Spanish Dance," "Danny Boy," or Kreisler's "Old Refrain," it seemed to speak.

The artists did not adhere to the printed program, but made changes as they deemed best. They, as well as their selections, were greatly appreciated, if the applause which greeted them was a sign.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Puritan Womanhood" was the subject of a most interesting talk given by Mr. Melville C. Freeman of the History Department of the High School of Practical Arts for the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon. He showed how the present day freedom may, in many instances, be traced back to early Puritan influences and told many anecdotes of early Colonial history to illustrate his points.

Four members of the Glee Club: Mrs. Clinton W. Kyle, Mrs. Carl C. Davis, Mrs. W. F. Ferrin, and Mrs. Fred W. Woodcock sang some very pleasing selections, with Mrs. Ryal T. Lapham accompanying.

The tea table looked very spring-like with its basket of flowers and yellow candles. Mrs. Mervin S. Giles and Mrs. Alfred S. Miner, Jr., were hostesses, and Mrs. John Byers, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. Wallace Boyden and Mrs. John A. Fenno poured.

CLARA M. CUSHMAN

Miss Clara M. Cushman, a former well-known resident of Newton, died at the Palmer Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning. She was born in Walden, Vt., 76 years ago and became a school teacher. While teaching in Boston she became interested in missionary work and went to China in 1878 to teach at the Pekin Girls' School, conducted by the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. After twelve years she returned to the United States and organized the "Standard Bearers," a young women's society, to aid mission work. This organization grew rapidly. In 1909 she returned to China and established the Keen School for Girls at Pekin. About five years ago she returned from China and made her home at Gardner, Mass.

JAMES J. DICKENSON

James J. Dickenson of 337 Chestnut street, Waban, passed away on Saturday. He was born at Hart's Content, Newfoundland, July 26, 1874, and when a boy he went to England to receive his college education. Coming to this country, he entered the employ of the Dodge Manufacturing Company at Boston, where he became sales office manager. He was connected with a number of Masonic bodies, having been a member of Bethesda Lodge of Brighton, Boston Commandery, Aleppo Temple and Boston Council of Royal Arch and Scottish Rites. He is survived by his widow, one brother and two sisters. His funeral was held on Monday and the many beautiful floral tributes showed the high esteem in which he was held. Burial was in Mount Auburn.

HARRY DANA PRIEST

Harry Dana Priest, a former well-known resident of Abundant, died suddenly at Hot Springs, Virginia, on Monday. He was born in that village in 1873 and was prominent in the metal business, having been a member of the firm of Priest, Page & Co., and president of Bigelow & Dowse. His Boston residence was at the Ritz-Carlton and he had a summer home at Barnstable. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Bessie Brown of Newton.

JEREMIAH FORD

Jeremiah Ford of 126 Eliot avenue, West Newton, a resident of this city for nearly forty years, and for thirty years an employee of the Street Department, where he was foreman, died suddenly Friday morning at his late home. He was a native of Cork, Ireland, and was in his sixtieth year. He was an officer of Newton City Employees' Local, of which he was a founder, and also belonged to St. Bernard's Church, 35 C. O. P. Division 35, A. O. H., and Newton Lodge of Elks. He is survived by his widow and seven children. His funeral service was held Monday morning at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday as usual at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. James R. Brown, president of the Manhattan Single Tax Club of New York City, was the speaker. He chose for his subject "Taxation—What it is and how it should be applied." He said in part:

"Taxation is the most important thing in civilized life. How we raise public revenue has a greater influence for good or evil in human society than anything else we do individually or collectively. The power to tax is the supreme power of the whole people. It is the power to create, the power to destroy."

"We can encourage industry, help development and stimulate progress, or we can do as we now do—punish thrift, give a premium to idleness, strangle industry, destroy progress and lay waste the natural opportunities of labor and capital. Our present system of taxation is simply confusion worse confounded. Our tax lists are but collections of guesses from top to bottom and involve the crimes of grand and petit larceny."

"The only and the true measure of the value of social presence and service to a citizen, is the value of the land of which he has exclusive possession. Land value is the value that attaches to land, irrespective and independent of the improvements thereon and reflects, not personal effort and production, but social presence and social activities. A large city with modern social utilities, will have much land value. A small village with few and poor public utilities, will have little land value."

"Labor value is the value of something produced. Land value is the value of the opportunity to produce. We pay the land-owners for permission to use something they did not make, nor did they create the value attached thereto; and when they get land value for private use, they are gathering where society sows."

"A tax upon products increases the cost of living and all such taxes are paid by the ultimate consumer. A tax upon land values tends to make land cheaper, as it will encourage the best use of land now held for speculative purposes."

"When we fail to tax land values fully, we offer a premium to men to hold valuable land idle, thereby artificially boosting the value of land, and raising rent. Failure to tax land values fully has the same effect as taxing labor products. It increases the cost of living. To tax labor values or products is to drive away capital and to discourage industry, besides increasing the cost of living."

"The single tax is the only tax that does not violate the rights of private property. The only tax that takes public value for public use. The only tax that does not create on the one hand unjust burdens and on the other hand, privileges."

"Public value for public use, private property for private enjoyment is the true basis of honest taxation."

Conference on Welfare Problems Discusses the Service Exchange

Stearns School Center Host To Gathering In Y. M. C. A. On Wednesday

The Stearns School Center entertained the Conference on Welfare Problems at the Y. M. C. A. building on Wednesday noon, March 14. A large number of guests were present including social workers from city departments and from private welfare organizations, nearly fifty in all. Mr. Walter Y. McCarthy, Secretary of the Overseers of the Public Welfare of Boston, and Miss Mabel R. Wilson, Director of the Social Service Department of the Children's Hospital, were the out-of-town speakers; while Miss Ruth Chapin, General Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, was one of those representing Newton. Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Chairman of the Welfare Division of the Newton Central Council, presided.

The subject for discussion was One Way to Save Time in Welfare Work. According to Mr. McCarthy the Social Service Exchange which is one way to save time is also one way to save money for the city. The Exchange, or the Central Index, as it is sometimes called, is a card index system which tells social workers where they may get information which they need in order to understand the family, health and behavior problems with which they have to deal. Mr. McCarthy said that the work of his department of the city of Boston could not go on without the Central Index. He gave an illustration showing how Boston had been saved some thousands of dollars by consulting the Index when at a loss, how to prove that a certain family were not residents of Boston. Boston found by consulting the Index that the family had been known to a small sewing circle; and through one of its members the needed information was obtained which showed that at the period in question the family were at the seashore and not in Boston at all.

Miss Wilson made it clear that a medical social worker could not do without the Exchange. One case she cited showed that a child who was to go to a convalescent home, was taken care of in an entirely different way when it was found by consulting the Exchange that her family history was such as to make some permanent arrangement for her far better.

Miss Chapin told of a case where a mother was anxious to have her son paroled to her. The social worker interviewed the mother and received the impression that she should have her son with her. But she did not stop with this interview. She consulted the Exchange and found that there were several organizations which could give information about the mother. When these organizations were consulted it was very evident that the mother was not a fit person to look after herself, much less after her son; the result being that the Grand Jury put the boy in charge of someone else in whose hands he had a much better chance of becoming a good citizen.

Miss Esther M. Walker, Secretary of the Newton Exchange, gave figures showing which Newton organizations made use of the Exchange and to what extent. It was evident, however, that a great many organizations which should use it had not formed the habit.

In Newton by calling up the Exchange which is located in the same rooms as the Welfare Bureau, any social worker can find out what other organizations have information about a case. The Exchange is only a key which opens the door to a wide fund of information for those authorized to use it. The Conference left everyone with the feeling that the key should be used far oftener than it is in Newton, and with the desire on the part of various kinds of social organizations to co-operate with one another in this way. Already one new agency has decided to use the Exchange.

TWICE DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

Raymond B. Fuller and his family of 16 Aberdeen street, Newton Highlands, had a strenuous time yesterday morning. At 5 o'clock they were awakened by smoke which filled the house. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller with their 8 year old daughter and their baby, together with Catherine Hansley, the maid, fled to a neighboring house and the firemen were summoned. The fire was found centered in a pantry and apparently extinguished without much damage having been done. Mr. Fuller and his family returned to the house. In about another hour the house again filled with smoke and the firemen were again called. This time the blaze was of larger proportions and damage amounted to several thousands of dollars resulted.

POLICE NEWS

Carl Hokanson, 25, of Brockton, and a young woman companion, were arrested at 2 o'clock Monday morning in Nonantum square by Patrolmen Feeley and Marden, charged with drunkenness. Hokanson was also charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried on March 26.

John W. Wilson of 77 Hartford street, Newton Highlands, was in the Newton court Wednesday charged with driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. His case was continued until March 22.

BENEFIT SHOP

The Benefit Shop run by the Hospital Aid at 5 Washington terrace, Newtonville is greatly in need of strips of linoleum to protect the floors at the Shop. If any one has used old cloth or linoleum to spare please call C. N. 1898-W and ask to have the donation called for.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The second in the series of three bridge parties at the Hunnewell Club was held Tuesday evening with twenty-four tables in play. The ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. A. G. Armstrong and Mrs. E. O. Loring. Dr. Edw. Mellus and Mr. Marshall won the gentlemen's prizes.

CLEMENT R. STUART

Clement R. Stuart of 222 Pearl street, Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Stuart, died suddenly yesterday morning at his late home following a brief illness. Mr. Stuart, who was the assistant treasurer of the T. Stuart & Son Company, was 31 years of age. He had received his education at Fordham University and took a business course at the Bryant & Stratton School. He was a member of the Newton Lodge of Elks. His funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Church of Our Lady. Burial will be in Holyhood Cemetery. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Raymond T. and Joseph F. Stuart, and a sister, Helen M. Stuart.

Brookline Swimmers Swamp Local Mermen

Newton High To End Dual Season Tomorrow With Tech '31

For the second time this season the Newton High swimming team was on the short end of its meet with the Brookline High mermen. Yesterday afternoon in the Brookline tank the local outfit was swamped under a score of 56 to 6. Six third places were all the Orange and Black could get against the Brookline stars, Martin Ford and John Rae, who captured two first places each, and Walter McTigue, Blaine Eynon, and the crack relay team of Eynon, Broadbent, Rae and Horne. The Wealthy Towners have won all of their dual meets this season against several college freshman outfits as well as interscholastic duals. They are the favorites to win the Lieut. George R. Meehan interscholastic meet later this month.

The Newton High team this year has not been up to the standard of those of recent years, but Coach Clyde Hess has a number of men who are in their first year of competition. These swimmers should regain for Newton the place that swimmers like Lloyd Osborne, William Phelps and Philip Perry gained for Newton during the seven years the sport has been established. The theory that athletic prominence is apt to move in cycles is clearly seen in this instance. As the stars graduate there are not always swimmers capable of competing against schools which are having their best years. This seems to be the case in swimming at Newton.

Perhaps the brightest spot in yesterday's meet from Newton's viewpoint was the swimming of William Perry, a freshman. This youth has shown improvement all season and while he yet has a long road to travel before duplicating his older brother's records, he was the only Newton athlete to win two third places. He took a point in the 100-yard freestyle and another in the 50-yard event in addition to swimming third man on the losing relay. Other Newton point scores were Franklin Thompson, third in the 200; Richard Wales, third in the backstroke; David Scott, third in the breaststroke; and Robert McGrath and James Esson, tied for third in the dive. The summary:

100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Martin Ford, Brookline; Ralph Fay, Brookline, second; William Perry, Newton, third. Time, 1m. 4/8s.

50-Yard Freestyle Swim—Won by John Rae, Brookline; Ralph Fay, Brookline, second; William Perry, Newton, third. Time, 26 3/5s.

Diving—Won by Blaine Eynon, Brookline; Prendergast, Brookline, second; tie for third between Robert McGrath, Newton, and James Esson, Newton.

Relay Race—Won by Brookline (Blaine Eynon, Broadbent, John Rae, Horne); Newton (Perry, Thompson, Davidson, Lodge), second. Time, 2m. 21 1/8s.

Final Dual Meet Tomorrow Tomorrow afternoon in the Newton Y tank the Newton mermen will engage in their final dual meet of the season. They will oppose the M. I. T. freshman natators. The season will close with the Lieut. Meehan interscholastics next week Saturday.

Criminal Neglect is Cause of Explosion

Judge Brown Blames "Unknown Parties" for Tragedy

Judge Charles J. Brown of East Boston, who presided at the inquest held on the death of the six persons killed at the explosion and fire at the premises of Frank Gorgone in the West Newton some weeks ago has reported that the reason for the explosion was "unlawful and criminal acts and negligence of parties unknown." This finding was in accordance with the evidence as presented up to the time of the inquest.

The Newton police, the State police and the Federal authorities, have been and are working on this case, and indictments will be later asked for against certain persons in connection with the presence of the illegal still in the Gorgone building which is alleged to have been the cause of the disaster.

DOGS AGAIN FREE

After having been in durance vile for 90 days, the dogs of Newton are again romping along the streets and over the lawns and making long deferred visits to neighborhood garbage cans. The restraint order on dogs which had been in effect (supposedly at least) for 90 days, terminated on Wednesday. The majority of dog owners in Newton endeavored to keep their pets restrained during the past three months, but so many persons allowed their dogs to run loose that it would be unfair to further confine some dogs when others are having a "free foot." While the restraining order has been in effect rabies has spread into many towns and cities not previously reported and a large number of new cases developed in the area where the dogs were restrained. If this disease continues to increase or prevail more drastic measures will have to be taken to check it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Attention is called to the announcement on page 9 this issue of two lectures on Christian Science by John Ellis Sedman, C. S., of Cambridge, Mass., entitled, "Christian Science: The Way of Salvation Which Christ Jesus Revealed," which will be of interest to all who approach this subject with an open mind.

The lectures will be given in the new Christian Science church in Newtonville and being on two successive evenings, ample accommodations will be assured for all who attend.

LADIES BRIDGE PARTY

The informal bridge given Wednesday afternoon in the lounge of the Auburndale Club, under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee, was well attended. The hostess in charge for the afternoon was Mrs. J. Weinberg of Woodland road. Prizes were won by Mrs. Soule, Mrs. Hennessey, Mrs. Farrier and Mrs. Uford.

Businessmen Discuss Apartment Houses

Interesting Meeting Held Last Night At Newton Corner

The Newton Business Associates held their monthly dinner and meeting at the Vernon Court Hotel last night. President Harold Moore presided and Secretary Albert Walker read the minutes of the previous meeting. "Eddie" King contributed vocal solos and led the choral singing and "Larry" Fredericks orchestra furnished the music.

The guests of the evening were Alderman William B. Baker of West Newton, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee which is considering the matter of changes in the Building Code and Zoning Ordinance of this city, and ex-Alderman John Madden who was formerly chairman of this committee and who has given much study to these problems. Mr. Baker talked at considerable length to acquaint the gathering with the financial condition of Newton, the big problems which the phenomenal growth of the city during the past five years have brought, and the complications which might ensue if apartment buildings will become common in Newton.

Mr. Madden spoke very plainly on the matter of apartment houses. He presented the arguments against this type of building and gave the reasons which those who oppose them hold forth. Several of the members of the Business Associates took part in the discussion and the matter was thoroughly threshed out. According to Mr. Baker, the very rapid growth of Newton in late years has caused the expenses of the city to increase disproportionately in comparison with the revenues derived as a result of the new buildings. Mr. Baker is of the opinion that apartment houses will be liabilities rather than assets for Newton.

Mr. Madden argued that apartment buildings will not provide lower rents, but because of exploitation by real estate speculators, the rents in them will be excessive, even as are store rents in Newton today. The arguments offered by Mr. Baker and Mr. Madden, and the points raised by those who questioned these two speakers, will be printed in detail in next week's GRAPHIC.

COUNTRY DAY DEBATERS WIN

Yesterday afternoon the Country Day school and Browne and Nichols school debating teams argued the question "Will transatlantic aviation passenger service ever be practical?" Two teams from each school participated in debates at each school. The subject of the debates was assigned by Dr. Heber Howe, principal of the Belmont high school. In each case the home team took the affirmative side and the visiting team the negative. At the Cambridge school Country Day was represented by Lawrence Kilham, Henry Atherton, and Robert Johnston while in the Country Day auditorium the debates were assigned by Dr. Albert Pratt, Thomas Downes, and Sydney Harwood were the debaters. Both of the Country Day teams won the decision on a close vote.

PETITIONS FOR GASOLINE

Abrahamson & Bennett have petitioned the Board of Aldermen for permits to erect a 70 car garage, repair shop and show room at 9 Bennett street, in Auburndale, and to keep, store and sell 1000 gallons of gasoline in connection therewith.

W. A. Luce has petitioned for a permit to place a 1000 gallon gasoline tank and pump in the yard at 52 Newtonville avenue, Newton, for private use only. This location is in a residential district.

Lively Hearings on Zone Change Of Land in Oak Hill Section

Opponents and Proponents of Contemplated Changes Appear Before Aldermanic Committee

The aldermanic chamber at City Hall was well filled on Wednesday night, March 7th, with residents of the Oak Hill section who are interested in the petitions relative to changes of zoning in that section. The first hearing was on the proposal to place all the land in Ward 5 south of Boylston street and east of Winchester street, into a single residence zone. At present much of this territory is in the private residence zone, which means that two-family houses may be erected there. Arthur Lewis of Dedham street, had last June sent in a petition asking that the Oak Hill district of Ward 5 be restricted to single residences. Subsequently the Claims and Rules Committee extended this petition to include the larger area and as a result a large delegation of persons residing in sections which would be affected came to City Hall to voice their protests.

Among those who spoke in favor of the petition were Mr. Smith of Elgin street, Arthur L. Lewis of Dedham street, Dr. Stephen Rushmore of 95 Dudley road, Allan Brown of 134 Vine street, and William E. McKie who appeared for John T. Johnston of Chicago who intends to build a residence at Oak Hill. Mr. Lewis called attention to the fact that the petition presented by him did not include the territory along Boylston street and north of Meadow Brook. He and the other proponents of the petition spoke of the high grade development which has been in process at Oak Hill during the past few years, of the opportunities for making this district a fine residential section and of the hesitancy of a number of persons who desire to build expensive homes in Oak Hill, but who will not until assured that they will be protected against the possibility of exploitation by real estate speculators.

John White of 415 Parker street, speaking from the gallery, uttered some pithy remarks. He told the aldermen that the land in his neighborhood is swampy, the people living there poor, and that this land cannot be sold to rich persons who will erect mansions thereon, but to poor persons who will build two-family houses. He alleged that those who would restrict this land to single residences desire to crush the poor and to further emphasize that it is unfitted for expensive residences, he stated that on occasions it is so wet around his home that one has to swim to get to the street.

Michael J. Roche of 388 Parker street, stated that he owns 5 1/2 acres of land there which he can sell if it is not restricted to single residences but if such a restriction is imposed his plans for providing for the future by the sale of this property, will be spoiled. He asserted that most of the houses in his neighborhood are two-family dwellings and that Athelstone road in Newton Centre, all built up with two-family houses, is the prettiest street in the city. Mr. Roche commented that he did not desire to become personal, but from information he had received he thought the person responsible for the petition had included the land along Parker street because other parties had outbid him and purchased some land nearby which the petitioner desired to get.

John A. Janse of 443 Parker street, who has the contract for collecting the garbage of Newton, spoke emphatically against the petition. Mr. Janse is a young man of big physique and his voice is in keeping with his size so when he directed his attack at Mr. Lewis all in the aldermanic chamber heard what he said. Mr. Janse accused Mr. Lewis of desiring to acquire most of the land in his neighborhood, keeping more horses in his stable than his permit called for and of depriving some of the old settlers in Oak Hill from enjoying privileges of hunting which they formerly enjoyed on land which he now owns. Mr. Lewis arose to refute the contentions of Mr. Janse. He explained that he presented the petition last June, did not buy the additional land which Mr. Janse alleged impelled the petition until several months later, and had obtained from the Board of Health a permit to keep the number of horses which he stables in his barn.

After another one of the opponents to the revised petition had accused Mr. Lewis of instigating the move to place all the land south of Boylston street in a single residence zone, one of the aldermen called the attention of Mr. Lewis' critics to the fact that he was not responsible for this proposition.

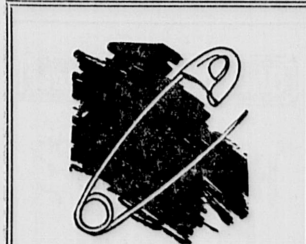

Miss Katherine Barry, who conducts a milk farm at 171 Greenwood street inquired if the placing of her property in a single residence zone would prevent her from disposing of it to some other person to continue it in the same business? Chairman Baker assured her that it would not, as the continuance of a non-conforming business in a residential zone is provided for by the zoning ordinance. T. J. Sullivan of 114 Dedham street, objected to his property being placed in a single residence zone. He commented that if all the area specified in the revised petition should be zoned as single residence, the aldermen would be attempting to bite off a big chunk of the city, approximately one-third of Newton. John Kincaid of Florence street protested against that neighborhood being placed in a single residence zone. He informed the aldermen that this street adjoins the Brookline boundary and that on the Brookline side two-family houses prevail.

John P. Hurley of 30 Hurley place, whose family owns considerable land in that area, objected to this property being restricted to one family dwellings. He stated that the neighborhood there is properly zoned at present and that to change it will be unfair to persons who have owned this property for years. When told that Meadow Brook may be the boundary between the private and proposed single residence zones, Mr. Hurley remarked, "This brook takes a twisting course and such a boundary might be difficult to establish." Fiorenzo Gasbarri of 340 Boylston street, objected to land in the Thompsonville section being included in the proposed change of zone. He asserted that things have been progressing favorably in that neighborhood and there is no reason for interference.

Arnold Hartmann of 241 Greenwood street, who has owned a considerable portion of Oak Hill, and who has spent considerable money in recent years developing a model village there, objected to the inclusion of the area north of Meadow Brook in the proposed single residence zone. He gave the opinion that the land there is not adapted for expensive residential development.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

BASEBALL SQUAD GETS FIRST CUT

Early in the week Coach John L. Sullivan of the Newton High baseball team was obliged to make his first cut in the squad of battery candidates because of the lack of room in which to give the whole number sufficient practice and his own personal attention. During the first week of practice he had over forty battery candidates and had to divide them into four divisions with a half-hour session each.

He has retained twelve pitchers and eight catchers and is able to give them more attention than with the larger group. He also has called out the infield candidates and is giving them a short daily session in the old gymnasium. The winners he has retained are Bill Reilly, Donald Wilson, Frank Spain, Robert Bennett, Nathan Pearson, Joe Gilligan, Earl Bearis, Gallagher, Coombs, Nichols and Barba. The latter is the only freshman in the group. He has shown exceptional promise for a first year man.

Reilly and Wilson were the regular staff last year and Sullivan knows to some extent their capabilities. Frank Spain, who toed the mound in a few games last season when there was no one else to go in, is showing his coach a lot of stuff. It is Sullivan's intention to use him in the box providing he develops into a first class hurler, but if he only shows fair ability in that line he will be sent back to his old berth at shortstop, where there is no candidate in sight who could compete with him. If he does make good on the mound the Newton coach will have a big hole in the infield to fill.

The catchers who have caught Sullivan's eye include Langdon Powers, Philip Andres, Arthur Wilson, Dick Annese, Accione, Strombom, Butler and Corsi. The three last named are freshmen, and with an eye to the future Sullivan will groom them for coming years. Powers, Andres and Wilson are the outstanding candidates in the group, and while it may eventually be a toss-up as to which gets the regular call it is almost certain that one or both of the remaining two will see service in the outer gardens if they can display hitting ability.

Captain Spencer deMille will have little serious competition at first base. There are several other candidates whom the Newton mentor will keep his eye on for another year as this will be deMille's final chance to represent the orange and black. At second Allie Fletcher will have close competition from Everett Scheinfain with other promising candidates trying to take away the berth. Should Spain go to the mound Fletcher may be moved over to the shortstop. Warren is leading the candidates for the hot corner. As soon as the weather warms up enough to dry up the sea of mud on the Clafin Field diamond Sullivan will call out the outfield candidates and will start battling practice. What he is going to do with the large number of candidates that are expected to report for the outdoor sessions is more than he himself knows. With but one diamond to work on it is going to be a difficult problem to handle such a large group. This is one of the many reasons why there should be adequate athletic facilities near the school.

SPORT NOTES

Waban Youths Only Vets

Two lads from Waban are the only veterans among forty or more candidates trying out for the Boston University tennis team at the indoor courts in the university gym. Captain Donald Martin of Waban is directing the practice and hopes to mold a team that will hit the large number of opponents this coming spring. Clyde Rycroft, another Waban youth, is the only other veteran from last year's team on the squad. The Pioneer's season begins April 23rd with matches against the M. I. T. racquet wielders. Other teams on the schedule include Brown, Holy Exeter, B. C. New Hampshire, Bowdoin, Dartmouth, Middlebury, Vermont, Norwich, and Worcester Polytech.

Wells Elected Captain

James Wells was elected captain of the Cushing Academy hockey team for next season at a dinner given the team at the home of Principal James W. Vose in Ashburnham Wednesday night. Wells has played centre on the team the past two seasons.

McCullough Out For B. U. Nine Carleton (Buster) McCullough, former Newton high, who was the fielder was among the candidates for the Boston University baseball team to report to Coach Gage the other afternoon. Holmes Whitmore, former Newton high first baseman and John Lawless, veteran outfielder, are the other local youths on the squad.

Rice Wins In Southeastern Tennis Lawrence B. Rice, playing in the Southeastern tennis tournament at Jacksonville, Florida, this week, advanced to the third round by defeating R. W. Craig of Jacksonville in two straight sets, 6-2, 6-3 on Tuesday. Rice met his match in the third round when he faced Wilmer Allison, national intercollegiate champion. Allison disposed of the Newton Centre player in two straight sets, 6-3, 6-5.

Newton Youths Get Letters The Williams College authorities recently awarded insignia to the hockey players. Among those awarded insignia were Captain Bill Blaney of Waban, Dwight Shepler, formerly of Newtonville, and Jimmy Hoyt of West Newton.

Local Lads At Worcester Academy Two Newton youths are seeking battery positions on the Worcester Academy baseball team this season. Victor Stout, who was a substitute infielder on the Newton high team two years ago and Robert Maguire, a tackle on the Worcester football team last fall are the two mentioned.

SCHOOL TENNIS LEAGUE FORMED

The proposed greater Boston Inter-scholastic Tennis League has become a reality according to an announcement this week by Wendell F. Smith, tennis coach and member of the faculty of Newton High, who is also secretary of the newly formed association. Eight schools have become members of the organization. They are in addition to Newton, Brookline, Cambridge Latin, Everett, Malden, Lynn Classical, Quincy and Somerville. The schedule, which has already been tentatively arranged, is not ready for publication as yet, as some of the other schools to whom invitation to join were sent have not yet replied and should they desire to enter the circuit it will be necessary to revise the schedule.

Eligibility rules similar to those of the Massachusetts High School Athletic Association have been adopted and a governing board, composed of a representative from each school will be chosen shortly. The aim of the league is to raise the sport to a higher level in scholastic competition and to create a greater incentive for young players of the courts. It is hoped that a tournament, similar to the preparatory school tournament will be staged on the Newton courts this spring. Plans for the event are under way.

SPORT NOTES

Hammond Wins Jump

Ted Hammond, old Newton high jumper, turned in a record breaking performance the other night at Providence when he tried to make six feet in the high jump. He was over the bar by almost two inches but as he was coming down struck the pole with his hand and dislodged it. However, his work was good enough to win by a wide margin, and his form was excellent. Competent observers said that if he goes to college he should be one of the men liable to push the world's record in the jump for his style is easy and can be made to improve.

Lingham In Form

The call for candidates for the baseball nine at Brown saw Phil Lingham lay aside the skates for a portion of each afternoon and settle down to his old task of fooling the batter. Last year as a freshman he had trouble with his arm and was not able to throw a hook or put much speed on the ball, but this season he has worked his arm back into shape and is ready to once more to take the hillcock and be one of the regulars on the Brown Varsity. Because he is a left handed twirler, he is going to be very valuable to Coach Dubuc and will probably be one of the starters against Columbia in the Easter vacation.

An All Newton Hockey Team Since the season ice skates seems to be drawing to a close, and the baseball nine are drawing more attention it might be well to notice how well Newton made out this year when it came to having men in the front rank of the hockey head lines. The centre ice problem could be very nicely settled for we would have three candidates, Captain Vaughn of Yale, Guy Holbrook of Harvard and Captain Blaney of Williams. For wings the Bowdoin team could offer the two brothers, Dick and Harry Thayer, but Dartmouth had one of the best wings in the business in Dick Rogers and Williams possessed a sturdy player in Jimmy Hoyt. For defense the Newton team could choose from Phil Lingham of Brown, one of the few really first rate players that Bruin had, Stuart Stone, the bulwark of the Bowdoin defense, and Dwight Shepler at Williams. Tubby Howland the Bowdoin goalie is the sole representative in the nets but is a good one. The forward line would also be strengthened by the appearance of Holmes Whitmore, one of the wings, and Captain Gyp Lawless as a centre ice player. The best team to our way of thinking would be made up of Lawless and Rogers covering the wing positions, with Vaughn to feed the puck in, and Holbrook for relief since Vaughn finds three periods hard going. Stone and Lingham on the defense with Howland in goal would make up the team. It would be a strong one, and could make the going hard for any other team made up in such a fashion.

Shaw Out For Baseball

Alan Shaw, the former Newton star ball player, has started to throw the ball around in the cage up at Bowdoin in order to get into shape for the spring training that is due to start shortly. Because of scholastic difficulty last year he never could get going but this spring with his batting eye in shape and a little attention to his fielding he should be able not only to make the Varsity but one of the leading players.

Mahoney May Turn Pro

Neil Mahoney, Newton high, North-eastern University, and Twilight League catcher, is considering several professional offers. The Upper Falls youth is a junior at the in-town university and has two more seasons to play with the Huskies before he can accept a league contract. Should he do so he will continue his studies in the School of Business Administration. Mahoney, who has caught every inning of every game for the Northeastern nine for the past two seasons, added to his reputation last summer as a member of the South Boston team of the Twilight League. He was the leading hitter of the entire circuit with a batting average of .368.

Newton Girls Swamped

The Newton high school girls' basketball team was swamped under a 50 to 13 score by the Watertown high girls' team last Friday afternoon on the Newton floor. The Misses Hastings and Thompson starred for the victors while Miss Clark played best for Newton.

NEWTON MERMEN TOP PAWTUCKET

Last Friday afternoon in the Newton Y. M. C. A. swimming pool the Newton high school mermen defeated the Pawtucket high school natators, 44 to 18. Earlier in the season the orange and black outfit defeated the Pawtucket team in the latter's new 75-foot pool, 39 to 23, and in the return meet showed much improvement.

The 100-yard swim was the most thrilling event of the afternoon with McClurg of Pawtucket nosing out Perry, the Newton freshman, by a scant margin; Robert McGrath and Jimmy Esson finished one, two in the dive with the odd point going to Pawtucket. The visitors missed their star man Hyscock, who won the event in the first meet.

Captain Harry Lodge of the Newton team finished in a dead heat with Leach of Pawtucket in the 40-yard event with Jimmy Esson picking up the third place point for the orange and black. The time of the event was 23 seconds. Pawtucket outscored Newton in the backstrokes with Dick Wales taking second for the only Newton points.

McClurg led the field in the 200-yard swim until the final lap when he tired and Davidson and Thompson, who have improved greatly under the tutelage of Coach Clyde Hess, passed him to take first and second respectively. Esson and Scott had little trouble defeating Pawtucket's best entrant in the breaststroke. Esson's time was 1 min. 28 2/5 seconds.

The relay race, the final race of the day, went to Newton, with Perry, Thompson and Lodge, all adding to the lead that Davidson, the first swimmer on the team had given them. Newton won by a length of the tank.

SPORT NOTES

Elect Reynolds Captain

Richard Reynolds of Andover, a junior in the Newton high school, has been elected to captain the 1929 indoor track team. The selection was by the unanimous choice of his fellow letter men at a meeting last Friday afternoon. Reynolds completed the past season in the 600-yard run and on the relay team. His best distance is the quarter-mile which he runs on the outdoor team. Last year in the dual meet with Milton Academy he set a new school record for the 440.

Next winter Donald Enoch, the Newton coach, will have to develop some new men to replace the stars which will be lost by graduation in June. Besides the new captain he will have but a handful of veterans remaining. Among these are Fowler, Cole, Nathan Pearson, John Mullen, and Andrew Pescosolido.

Rice And Hunter Capture Title

Lawrence B. Rice of Newton Centre and Francis B. Hunter of New York teamed up to win the Florida State doubles tennis Championship last week Saturday. They disposed of their opponents in rapid order throughout their march to the finals.

Heinrich With Harvard Squad

A squad of twenty-three Harvard track and field athletes left today for Ann Arbor, Michigan, where they will engage in a dual meet with the University of Michigan tomorrow. This will be the first track contest ever held between the two colleges which are to meet in football next fall. William Heinrich of Andover has been entered in the high hurdles by Coach Eddie Farrell.

Owen Scores Twice to Even Series

Last Friday night the University Club hockey team evened its series with the Moncton Athletics from New Brunswick, Canada, by defeating them 4 to 1 in a fast game at the Arena. Captain George Owen scored two of the Hub sextet's goals. The visitors' only score came midway of the final session after the Club team had scored all of its tallies. Other local youths to play for the University team were Ted Leonard, Horace Cole, Sam Ferguson, and Clark Hodder.

Local Lad In Amateur Bouts

Tony Salles came close to winning the 126-pound championship of New England in the amateur bouts the other night. He fought his way through to the final round only to lose to Harry Devine, the Hebrew-Italian veteran. Devine's half of the bracket was by far the easiest of the two and it was Salles's luck to draw some pretty stiff opponents.

Colby Hits 374

Clarence Colby of the Hunnewell Club bowling team was the individual star in the match with the Commercial Club bowlers Wednesday night in which the local club took three of the four points. Colby had 137 for a high single and his other two strings of 126 and 111 brought his total to 374. In the second string where Colby had his highest, the Hunnewell bowlers were but 18 pins of establishing a new high single record. Their total was 575. In another match at the Waban Neighborhood alleys the Newton Club team took three out of four from the Waban outfit.

Three Local Players Advance A. O. Wellman, A. L. LeBaron, W. M. Snow and A. O. Barker were the four successful contestants for the semi-final matches in the State Class

LeBaron put out Goddard of the Newton Centre team in his match while the Newton Centre pair eliminated two Union B. C. players. The semifinals, scheduled for tonight, should find some keen competition.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting of the Fellowship Club, March 19th, will be addressed by Mr. Frank A. Lombard, who for many years was a teacher of English and kindred subjects in the University of Japan. His subject will be, "Economic, Political, and Social Changes that are Taking Place in Japan." All who are interested are cordially invited to come to this meeting. There were a large number present on March 12th to hear Dr. Edward Melus's talk on "Mental Diseases." He spoke of a Massachusetts woman, Miss Dorothy L. Dix, who accomplished some fine work in bringing about many reforms in the care of those afflicted with mental diseases who were placed in State Institutions. A great many questions were asked and those present surely appreciated the talk.

The Welfare Division of the Newton Central Council met at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday, March 14th, for luncheon. The host of the occasion was a Committee from the Stearns School Centre who provided a very attractive luncheon. The Associations of Greater Boston have been promoting a physical program for the immigrants detained at the Immigration Station at East Boston. During February Mr. Richard B. Simmons, Physical Director of the Newton Association, has been going over twice a week to direct a recreation program for the men. Many of these men have never taken part in games or physical activities, and it is often very difficult to get them to see the value of it. Simple activities have been promoted, such as playing catch with an indoor baseball, throwing the medicine ball, and quoits.

Boys' Division

Last Saturday twenty-nine members of the Boys' Division with Mr. Thompson as leader, went on an educational trip to the Peabody Museum of Harvard University in Cambridge. The boys were so interested in the section, "North and South American Indians," that they didn't have time to see the zoological section or the Agassiz Museum of glass flowers. One of the professors told about the Indian mode of burial. The Eskimo section was full of attractions also. Reliefs from Babylon, Egypt and Palestine were seen. The next Boys' Division Monthly dinner will be at noon, St. Patrick's Day. This will be preceded by a Stamp Collectors' exchange hour. After the dinner representatives from each of the Red Men's Clubs of younger boys will hold a marble tournament. This will be under the official tournament rules as sponsored by the Baltimore Post of Maryland.

KIWANIS CLUB

Eighty-one members and guests of the Newton Kiwanis Club were present at the weekly meeting on Tuesday at Woodland. In tribute to the approaching St. Patrick's Day, favors of emerald green, which included crepe paper miters and neckties were distributed to those present. Just as the dinner started "Tom" Lyons, the popular West Newton mortician, furnished a feature not on the program.

"Tom," who weighs about 16 stone, did not choose to sit on one of the ordinary chairs placed at the dining tables. He went out into the lounge with a larger, more comfortable chair, at the Woodland Club and returned shortly after he seated himself in it, this chair emulated the "Deacon's One Hoss Shay," went completely to pieces and deposited "Tom" noisily and heavily on the floor. W. Uriah Fogwill, Mr. Lyons' bosom friend, who was seated at the same table, shed tears of mirth.

James P. Gallagher, president of the club, was in an unusually happy vein and kept the gathering amused with his witty quips. Irish songs were rendered by Hugh Boyd and Edward Powers. Rev. Thomas McManmon gave a talk on Saint Patrick, giving a synopsis of the life of Ireland's patron saint and telling of his marvelous success in converting the entire Irish nation from paganism to Christianity. He related how Irish missionaries, inspired by the teachings and example of the great leader, travelled to Great Britain and Europe and brought back the countries there to the Christian fold after they had been plunged into barbarism following the invasions of the savage Goths and Huns. Father McManmon attributed much of St. Patrick's success to the fact that he adopted the customs of the Irish and used many of their old practices in leading them from Druidism to Christianity.

Rev. Ernest MacGregor of Norwalk, Connecticut, Governor of the New England Kiwanis District, followed Fr. McManmon as a speaker and made a number of witty references to the national characteristics of the Irish and Scotch. He commented that Kiwanis, like St. Patrick, takes advantage by using the ordinary customs of its members to further the ideals for which this organization is striving.

Among the guests present was Rev. Percival Wood of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Ladies' Aid of the Newton Methodist Church was held Wednesday in the club parlors. Luncheon with Mrs. Frank Barber, Mrs. Royal Warren, Mrs. Albert Allen and Mrs. William Silvey, was served at 1 o'clock. Following the luncheon the business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Elliston H. Bell.

Annual reports were read and approved and the following officers elected for the coming year.

President, Mrs. Elliston Bell; 1st vice president, Mrs. Charles Peterson; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Frank Wing; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Fredk. Fuller; secretary, Mrs. Alfred Allen; treasurer, Mr. Edward T. Wetherbee.

There was a social hour and the meeting adjourned at 4:30 o'clock.

Waban Improvement Society Hears C.A. Day

"Seventy per cent of the streets in Waban are unimproved and the majority of these are in rotten condition," said Clarence A. Day at the annual meeting of the Waban Improvement Association Thursday evening, March 8, in the auditorium of the Albert E. Angier School.

The following are the main requirements for acceptance as cited by Mr. Day, who was reporting to the Association as chairman of the committee on acceptance of streets:

1. All petitions must be presented to the Board of Aldermen.
2. A plan and profile of the street must be filed in the office of the city engineer.
3. The road must be constructed not less than forty feet wide.
4. It must conform to the model cross-section prepared by the city engineer.

5. All stumps, roots, brush, etc., must be removed and trees protected.
6. No perishable material may be used in construction. Good gravel must be used except on edge of sidewalks where loam must be put and covered with thick, well-laid sod.
7. Catch basins must be put on both sides not more than 300 ft. apart and also near corners.

8. The corners must be approved by the city engineer and edged with granite curbing.
9. No city materials or teams can be used to work on unimproved streets, but the work must be done under the supervision and according to the specifications of the city engineer.

There are three plans for preparing the streets for acceptance. The first of these is to use the Betterment Law, by which, if 75% of the property owners agree, the work may be financed by the city which assesses the owners. By this plan, however, because of the large amount of work ahead, no work can be started within three years.

The second plan, and, according to Mr. Day, the best, is to use the General Law by which the property owners may group together, hire a private engineer and have the work done by some private contractor approved by the city engineer. By this plan after the levelling, rolling and oiling had been accomplished and paid for the city would say whether or not the street would be accepted.

The work by this plan would cost about $1.20 per foot, of which the city would pay half and the property owners half. Curbs would also be put in of which 1/2 the cost would be borne by the city.

The third method is to have the street gravelled, rolled and oiled by a private contractor. The city, however, would probably not accept a street thus treated and the upkeep would be borne by the property owners.

John T. Crogan was elected president for the next year with Albert K. Parker as 1st vice president, Louise W. Arnold, 2d vice president, Louis A. Estes, secretary, and E. Payson Upham as member of the Executive Committee.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM OF WABAN

"With What Man or Woman Would I Like Best To Spend Fifteen Minutes in conversation?" was the question discussed at the meeting Sunday of the Young People's Forum of Waban under the leadership of Robert McLellan. Lindbergh, of course, came first in the esteem of most of the group, although it was pointed out by the leader that the President of the United States should be the recipient of this honor.

Nevertheless, the unofficial ambassador won the argument. He was closely followed by Coolidge, Premier Mussolini, Henry Ford, Herbert Hoover, "Al" Smith, Ex-registrar Goodwin, Chief Justice Taft and President Butler of Columbia University. Thomas Edison, Mr. Firestone and Henry Rockefeller were also mentioned by McLellan.

A desire was expressed by one speaker to ask the Prince of Wales why he does not stay on his home. Another member wished to see "any real good king." Still another member wanted to spend his fifteen minutes with Commander Richard E. Byrd because, he asserted, "over half of Lindbergh's success was due to the help of Byrd in his knowledge of atmospheric conditions."

Charles Dow, the great criminal lawyer, was mentioned in the same breath with the Dr. Grenfell of Labrador exploits. Helen Keller and Gandhi ran hand in hand in the discussion and Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany took place between Dr. Cadman and Gandhi of India fame.

"Majorie," the famous spiritual medium, most interested one young lady, while Bob Emery seemed "just about right" to another. Besides all these were suggested movie actors, famous athletes, prominent lecturers and well-known cartoonists.

At the next meeting the speaker will be Miss Cole on "Japan." This is not only an "open meeting" for all meetings of the Forum are open, but everybody is urged to come, since the executive staff feels that the meeting will be unusually interesting.

Mr. Clarence C. St. Lawrence has been appointed advisor of the scenery for the Forum entertainment, the moonlight frolic, to be held at the Waban Neighborhood Club April 14. Miss Muriel Andrews is head of the Science staff.

CAMP FRANK A. DAY

The Camp Committee are meeting next Monday evening, March 19th, to perfect plans for the Camp. Seventy-two boys have now enrolled and the leaders for the camp season with only two exceptions have been engaged.

The pianist of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College gymnastic team is to have charge of the music at camp this summer. The old camp piano is about worn out and a new one is greatly needed. Camp Director Hess is planning to make music at camp a feature this summer.

Churches Unite in Saving Our Sundays

The S. O. S. Campaign Committee, organized by leaders from all walks of life for the express purpose of "SAVING OUR SUNDAY" or, at least, a part of it, for worship, rest and recreation of a non-commercialized character has started a systematic campaign to acquaint the public with the exact motive behind the Sunday Sports Bill. For convenience the State has been divided into districts and each church in each district is to be covered on a given Sunday by a four-minute speaker (either a prominent layman or the pastor), armed with a brief giving the salient facts regarding the present situation.

The plan is to simply present the issue, in order to start the people thinking right on this proposition. No attempt will be made at this time to officially place the churches on record.

Last Sunday, March 11th, seventy-seven churches in the Newton district, comprising Newton, Brookline, Dedham, Dover, Needham, Norwood, Wellesley, Weston and Westwood took up this matter in one or more of their Sunday services. Thirty-four churches in Newton participated.

The following arguments are offered by the S. O. S. Campaign Committee: "The Initiative Petition relative to certain sports and games on the Lord's Day which will appear on the ballot Nov. 6, will legalize Professional Sports on Sunday, unless defeated by a majority NO VOTE. This is a mercenary proposition.

Under the present law anyone can participate in Sunday sports and enjoy them as a spectator, but no one can benefit financially. The Initiative Petition simply eliminates all financial restrictions. Sunday would become a bonanza for the wealthy sport promoters to the detriment of Amateur Sports, the latter always suffer from over-emphasis of the Professional.

It is said that this Initiative Petition is in the interest of the poor working man—he must have recreation at any cost, when, as a matter of fact, the working man can get all the recreation he needs or wants, through Amateur Sports without spending his hard-earned money for a bleacher seat at some professional Sunday sporting carnival.

Some would picture this measure as a blessing to the sport-loving public, alleging Sunday is needed for a day of recreation, yet Amateur Sports, on Sunday, are legal under Massachusetts law. The issue is not Amateur Sports and Recreation for the public but Professional Sports and financial gain for the sport promoters.

The claim that this attempt to liberalize the present law in order to permit the charging of admissions is sought in the interest of the young people who have no time for sport and pleasure except on Sunday is utterly without foundation. The Amateur Sporting Law now on the statute books provides for sports and games on Sunday afternoon. Daylight savings offers opportunity for long twilight games and Saturday afternoon is universally observed as a half-holiday. If there are any workers who do not have time for recreation under present conditions they are extremely few in number and a legislative remedy should be immediately provided for such irregular and illegal conditions.

It is unfair to other forms of business to permit sports and pastimes the privilege of doing business on Sunday and amassing fortunes when other trade is required to be closed in order to secure a day of rest for the people. Why should those who seek to commercialize Sunday operate for the purpose of money-making, when those who deal in shoes, clothes, hardware, and other necessities are deprived of this privilege?

Nothing short of a Continental Sunday, a gala holiday, open to all sorts of money-making schemes, will satisfy those who would shelve the Sabbath, if we once open Sunday to the money-changers. Certainly no church man or woman will favor further dollarization of our Lord's Day. It is impossible to have a half Holy Day and a half holiday and preserve the sanctity of this day of Rest and Worship.

The chief enemy of good government is inertia. Many voters with their chronic inertia will fail to think this matter through unless the truth is everlastingly pounded home. Sunday Sports would be worth thousands and thousands of dollars to the sport promoters, who can afford to spend tremendous sums in the coming campaign and will not hesitate to do so. They would not dare to take such an issue before the citizenry of Massachusetts without an ample war chest with which to confuse the public."

UNION SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH

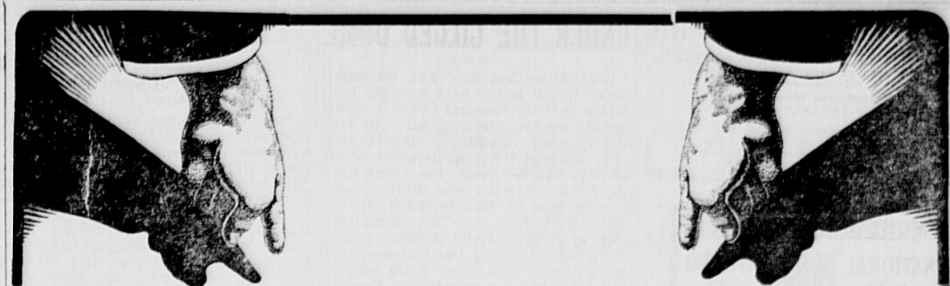

On Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the fourth of a series of Union Sunday Evening Services held under the auspices of four of the Protestant churches of Newton will be held in the First Methodist Church. Rev. Ray A. Eusden, Minister of the Eliot Church of Newton will be the preacher. The musical numbers of the service will be rendered by the choir of the First Methodist Church.

CO. C HAS INSPECTION

Company C, 101st Infantry, National Guard, had its annual state and Federal inspection at the armory on Monday night. The inspection was conducted by Col. John Osborn, formerly of the 101st Engineers and Major Frank McCabe of the United States Army. Among the many guests present was Lt. Col. Harry D. Comerals, formerly captain of C Company. The Newton deMolay band furnished music for the guard mount which followed the inspection.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting and annual roll call of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held next Monday evening at the home of Ella P. Mercer, 919 Watertown street.

Four Points to Consider in Buying Food

See that the containers of Groceries are full size—notice the net weights printed on the packages and tins.

Compare the quality of the contents. Is the can of tomatoes, peas or corn you buy solid packed, or is it largely liquid?

Notice the strength of the article you buy. If it is a low grade spice you will have to use double the quantity. If it is inferior tea or coffee it is more expensive than better grades which cost a little more but go much further.

Is the food you buy a pure product of good flavor and healthful, or is it of inferior quality, artificially colored, and preserved, and of little food value?

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton was held as usual Monday noon at the Woodland Golf Club. Jack C. Glover, Eastern Sales Manager of the American Gypsum Company proved a very interesting speaker. His subject was "20th Century Merchandising." He used a chart giving statistics of business conditions in the past five years over the entire country. "Service," he said, "is the best kind of advertising." His audience, being members of a service club, could appreciate this viewpoint.

DAMON HALL HONORS

The Faculty have announced the following students as the winners of Cum Laude honors in the mid-year examinations: Barbara Horton '29, Helen Washburn '28, Alma Whitman '28, Harriet Savage '28.

The successful outcome of mid-years was celebrated by a formal dinner, a fashion show of fifty years ago with the entire student body and Faculty in costume, a play, and a most delightful dance. The guests were well known people of Greater Boston.

About half of the student body made the winter sports trip to the White Mountains at Intervale, New Hampshire. The week-end was one round of rollicking fun and sport with Miss Margaret Dailey, head of the Secretariat Department, as chaperone.

The leader of the Salon of Conversation last week was Leighton Rolins, Dean of the Repertory Theater Workshop, of Boston, who gave the students a most delightful treat in the form of reminiscences of literary and dramatic celebrities among his large circle of friends, closing with some readings of his own charming verse.

D. R.

Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., held its regular meeting on Monday, March 12th, 1928, at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Weber, 11 Washington street, Newton, the regent, Mrs. Daniel Goodridge, presiding. The meeting opened with the salute to the Flag. After the business, Miss Fox had charge of the entertainment. A group of three songs was sung by Miss Keller, accompanied on the piano by Miss Newman. Mr. Park Pressy gave an illustrated talk on "Historic Homes of New England." The meeting closed with the singing of America. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Ralph Emery, Miss Kate Fox, Mrs. Edward P. Bosson, Mrs. Harry I. Hunt, Mrs. Edgar M. Howe, Mrs. Mary K. Green.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The Woman's Association of Central church met Wednesday, March 14. A group arrived in the morning and made aprons for the sale to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Lynde, April 13. A box luncheon was served with coffee. The regular missionary meeting was held in the afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. George A. Auryans, president and Dr. Ellis led in the study of the subject, "A World Adventure."

"How can we win back the enthusiasm for missions?" he asked. The old interpretation of the fall and redemption have been a powerful incentive for missionary zeal in years past but we can not return to that period. The attitude taken by the local church is the one that prevails in the missionary enterprise. Shall we be a propagating organization, introducing Christian civilization and aggressive in our attitude? Or should preaching, orthodox of thought, be our aim? This leads to denominational emphasis which causes confusion and is a waste of effort. Christianity as a way of life Dr. Ellis held to be the highest motive of endeavor—an adventure you can justify, can fight for.

An interesting discussion followed on efforts being made to prevent the overlapping of churches and on the spirit of co-operation among the different denominations. Tea was served. Mrs. Ellison Day hostess.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. D. Earl Brackett of West Newton, Mrs. Arthur J. Boucher of Boston and Mrs. Robert Grant of Brookline are actively sponsoring the Auction Bridge to be given at the Commonwealth Country Club on Monday afternoon, March 19. Among those assisting are Mmes. Arthur W. Burke, Charles F. Connors of Brookline, Clarence C. Colby, Eleanor LaBonte of Newton, L. Felch Coy of Hyde Park, O. Glenn Hopper of Allston, Elizabeth Widmer of West Roxbury and Walter V. Lawton of Boston.

This is the last Matinee Bridge of the season and brings to a close this series of club functions which began last November. Four fatherless children of France have been aided during this year, who could not except for this aid have had nourishing food or decent clothing. Very grateful and appreciative letters have been received from these children and their mothers.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Blue Triangle Club on Monday evening will be an address by Mrs. Aiden Clark on the subject of "India." All those who have heard Mrs. Clark speak are looking forward with anticipation to this evening. Since it is a guest night each member of the club is urged to bring at least one guest to the meeting. Reservations for supper should be made by calling the office Newton North 3447, by Monday noon. The Tuesday evening gymnasium class for adults meets at 7:30 each week and the girls report much interest and profit in the work. The children's gymnasium meets Thursdays at four o'clock for children eight to eleven.

A new class for junior girls from thirteen to eighteen is being started on Wednesday at four o'clock. A number of girls of this age have expressed a wish for this class and it is hoped that a large number will attend the first meeting.

On Friday evening at 7:30 the Senior High School group will hold its regular meeting. The play which is shortly to be given by these girls will be rehearsed and other matters of business discussed.

NEWTONVILLE ESTATE SOLD

A fine property located at No. 621 Walnut street, overlooking Bulloagh's Pond has been sold to Minnie Young Nagle of New York. The premises consist of a nine-room, English house with two baths, a two-car garage, and about 14,000 square feet of land. The grantor was Rose Hillson. The valuation is $21,000.

In Waban, a well-located, new home fast being completed at No. 367 Woodward street, has been sold to T. W. Conway of Cambridge. There are approximately 13,000 square feet of land and a seven-room and tile-bath brick house and heated garage. The purchaser will occupy for his home. The seller is Regan and Daley of Needham. The property is valued at $14,000.

All the above sales were made through the Alford Bros. office.

REAL ESTATE

Burns office has sold in the Waban district a lot of land on Locke road, next to the corner of Beacon street, containing 8,500 sq. ft. and valued at $1,500. L. W. Tracy was the purchaser and will erect a high grade brick old English type home on the premises.

Bait, Switch, Then Sell

The appearance of this Service Message in these columns is evidence that this publication subscribes wholeheartedly to the principles of the Boston Better Business Bureau, and co-operates with the Bureau in protecting you . . . even to the extent of refusing to accept the advertising of firms whose advertising and sales policies are proved by the Bureau to be contrary to the public interest.

When a merchant advertises something that he doesn't want or intend to sell, he is using "BAIT" advertising. This practice is found all too frequently in low priced furniture advertising.

When you find the merchandise is unlike that advertised, or the salesman depreciates and "knecks" it, or you can't buy it, this may be preliminary to "SWITCHING" you to merchandise he does want to sell—at higher and usually exorbitant prices.

Such advertising has served the purpose of the unscrupulous merchant in luring you to the store. The next step is to lure you from the advertised merchandise to something on which the dealer will make a profit. This process is called "SWITCHING". Merchants who use these tactics, and fortunately there are only a few, are "gyp" artists interested only in selling cheap furniture at exorbitant prices.

Most advertising deserves your confidence. Only the few unscrupulous advertisers use "BAIT" advertising. Publications co-operating with the Boston Better Business Bureau realize the menace of "BAIT" and do not tolerate it in their advertising columns. You can help by reporting to the Bureau any experiences you may have.

We are in accord with the opinion of Director Frank B. Cummings that owners of valuable dogs should hesitate to allow their pets to run entirely free now that the restraining order has been lifted. While these animals are, in almost all cases, not responsible for the spread of rabies there is still the danger of infection from the many homeless dogs that were exposed to infection during the past three months that were not restrained or captured.

Congressman Robert Luce of this district deserves the thanks of his constituents for his splendid fight to amend the United States constitution so that the filibusters which have disgraced our national Congress in the past, could not occur in the future. Incidentally, the seven Congressmen from this state who voted against this measure ought to be censured by their constituents.

If the Massachusetts Legislature ignores the general experience of other states and cities in the matter of public ownership of public utilities, and votes to take over the Boston Elevated under state ownership, we can easily see some demagogues in the near future riding into office on a 5-cent fare platform and higher wages for railway employees.

Senator Simenau of this district and Representative Luitwieler of this city correctly represent their constituents on the so-called "padlock" bill. We fail to understand just why three representatives from Newton opposed this much needed legislation requested by the state police.

The new Lower Falls schoolhouse ought to be named "Crehore" after one of its oldest families.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Committee hearings are becoming fewer which is the best possible indication that the General Court is clearing its docket for the year. In fact, one or more committees have practically finished the consideration of all matters before them. The Committee on Public Service was first to announce that it had reported on all bills referred to it. This committee took a decided stand against salary increases, including the increases for the Governor and other State officers proposed by Representative George P. Anderson of Boston and Frank A. Goodwin, deposed Registrar of Motor Vehicles. It is plainly a session of few if any pay raises for those employed in State departments whether high elective officers or minor appointive employees.

Speaking of salaries, the House spent a lot of time last week discussing bills which provided that the widows of two members of the House receive the amount of salary that would have been paid these two members had they served this year. Both died prior to the reconvening of the Legislature last January. All of Newton's four Representatives voted against the bills on rollcall and also against reconsideration of rejection when that motion was offered the day following. The bills were killed.

It appears as if something was to be done in the matter of roadside stands in which subject Newton residents have no little interest as they must view, even if they do not patronize these stands while motoring through the towns of Weston, Concord, Lexington and Lincoln, as well as more distant places. A bill has been advanced in the House to provide that the State Commissioner of Agriculture shall inspect these stands and if satisfied they are selling genuine products of farms in the immediate vicinity shall give them the right to use a sign indicating State approval. The idea is to eliminate the huckster who brings his stuff from a distance and pretends it has been harvested on the spot. Farmers who conduct first class roadside stands have for several years requested such protection. The State Department of Agriculture has favored it and now comes a bill which is expected to remedy the evil.

No action in the immediate future is expected from the Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles on the bill petitioned for by Mayor Childs which would make legal the silent traffic signal at the intersection of highways. The committee is still considering what relation this bears to a bill before the Committee on State Administration for a State System of traffic regulations.

Newton is still waiting for the Committee on Pensions to report on its special bill for a system of contributory pensions and annuities for city employees and their dependents. It is understood that some of the committee members are in favor of a general bill which would, observers feel, upset the whole business and precipitate a State-wide agitation of the general subject of pensions for city employees. It will mean as appearances indicate, a lot of work for Newton's Representatives as well as for its legislative counsel, City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett. Furthermore, there is danger that if a general bill is proposed it may be rejected whereas a special bill for Newton might have an excellent chance.

The future of the Boston Elevated is still a matter of speculation. The two committees, Street Railways and Metropolitan Affairs, to which all Elevated bills had been jointly referred, is divided on the merits of the bill to extend public control. About half the number would favor such a measure while the other half are firm for public ownership. It is admitted that the question of turning the road back to its owners has been entirely eliminated. Gov. Fuller, who has shown himself in favor of the extension of public control, holds the key to the situation as he must be consulted if it is desired to present a bill that will meet his approval.

What promised to be a wordy controversy over the form of the proposed memorial to United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge has been averted through the offer of his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Williams. In a letter to Representative Wadsworth of Boston, Mrs. Williams says she is willing to give the State a bronze bas-relief of the late Senator to be placed somewhere in the State House, but preferably in the Hall of Flags. It is expected that the Commonwealth, through the State Art Commission, will accept the offer.

All action of the Legislature during the next few weeks will be overshadowed by the proceedings incidental to the investigation of Attorney General Reading's office. There are many friends of Mr. Reading in this city who have wisely suspended judgment until more details have been set forth concerning the charges.

It seems that as far as the Committee on Election Laws is concerned there will be few if any changes this year in the election laws. The Senate this week accepted adverse reports of the committee on several bills, including that to provide legislation for official tabulation of blank ballots cast at the State election and establishing new hours for the opening and closing of polls at primaries and elections.

The very sensible bill of District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell that sleeping quarters be provided for jurors in capital cases so that they could suspend deliberations instead of staying up all night locked in a room, has been turned down by the Judiciary Committee and the report accepted by the House. Another bill of Mr. Bushnell that the penalty for assault on a police officer be increased has been similarly rejected.

Famous Grapevine

California's oldest grapevine was planted by Father Junipero Serra at San Gabriel mission in 1771 and is still flourishing. It is 8 feet in circumference and winds over a trellis that covers an acre. Its annual yield is a ton of grapes.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Basketball games continue to hold first place among the extra-curricular activities. Several games have been played during the past week. On Friday the Girls' teams met with defeat at the Watertown Junior High in Watertown. The Girls' first team lost, 18-14 to the Watertown first team. The second team lost 21-14 and the midgets surrendered 20-3 to Watertown. On Monday the Girls won from the Alumnae. The 7th Grade Girls' team won from the 8th grade girls 8-4.

The Boys played the High School Freshmen last Friday and won 29-8. The movie attraction this last Tuesday was "Tillie the Toiler," starring Marion Davies. The large attendance fully appreciated the ludicrous situations in which friend Tillie found herself. "The Fair Co-ed" will be offered to the school next Tuesday afternoon.

In Assembly this week Reverend Kempton gave an illustrated travel talk on Europe, the Near East and North Africa. His beautifully colored slides were greatly enjoyed by the entire student body.

LEVI F. WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

Lecture On China

On March 5, Mr. Newell delivered a lecture on China, illustrated with slides, at the Warren School Auditorium. He claimed that because half the population of the world is in the Orient, more should be known about that region. He spoke mostly about Shanghai, "the world's greatest example of international injustice." Out of two million inhabitants, 95% are Chinese, but yet the Chinese have no voice in their city government. The Chinese pay 60% of the taxes and receive only 40% of the benefit. The foreigners pay 40% of the taxes and receive 60% of the benefit.

The lecture then turned to the "Switzerland of China," Chinese superstitions and beliefs, rural life and conditions, and crops. He told how "potato rice" is used in case of a rice famine. Mr. Newell showed many pictures of Chinese schools and school children and also spoke on Chinese river life, customs and architecture.

Health Campaign

During the present week the Foods Classes of the Warren Junior H. S. will run a Health Campaign. The halls of the school are to be decorated with many health posters, from which we hope the students will gain many messages for attaining and keeping good health. The assembly talks are to be health topics given by girls in the Foods Classes. Three health films will be given by the N. E. Food and Dairy Council.

Pictures Awarded for Thrift

Room 102 of the Warren Junior H. S. has had 1000 pictures of thrift made bank deposits for eighteen consecutive weeks. Upon notification by Room 102's chairman, the Educational Thrift Service awarded this room two pictures—one of George Washington and one of Mr. Vernon—for its good record. The pictures are being framed by Mr. Acker of the Practical Arts Department and will soon adorn Room 102's walls.

Warren vs Day

Since Warren Junior H. S. has been competing in athletics, its keenest rival has been the Day Junior High. Warren's teams have been very unfortunate this year, but on March 5 Warren defeated Day's unbeaten team 21-15. Warren's passing and playing is improving. Baseball is soon to come.

The regular reporters for the weekly column of the Warren Junior High School appearing in the Newton Graphic are Ruth Chase, chairman; Priscilla Wales, Adams Carter, Dorothy Nichols, Helen Rae, Jean Taber, and Francis Houghton.

Girls' Embroidery Club

That the Girls' Embroidery Club is quite popular is proved by the fact that so many have chosen it. They have as their instructor Miss Rice.

Here are a few of the things that they are making or embroidering: Woolen flowers, pin cushions, pocket-books, aprons, table runners, luncheon and buffet sets, pillow slips and many other interesting things.

Their object is to learn all the different stitches in embroidery.

STEARNS SCHOOL

On the afternoon of Wednesday, March 7, the Sixth Grade entertained a company of nearly one hundred members of the Mothers' Club of the Stearns District and their friends. At 2:30 P. M. the following program was presented in the Assembly Hall: Song, "A Prayer," by the Sixth Grade Chorus; Recitation, "The Thinker," by Mr. Sears' class; Mimetics Drill, by Miss McLaughlin's class; Dances, "Kerry Mills" and "Shepherd's Dance," by pupils from the McLaughlin and Winters' rooms trained by Mrs. Hovgard of the Playground Department; Dance, "Jumping Jack Jubilee," by boys from Sixth Grade; Address by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Jr.; Songs by Miss Austin accompanied by Mrs. Glover; Dance, "Three Dances," by the girls from Sixth Grade; Songs, Mountain Ballads, by Mrs. Walter H. Sears; Minuet Dance by group under direction of Mrs. Hovgard, and Song, "Speed Our Republic," by Sixth Grade Chorus. Following this program a social half-hour was enjoyed, at which refreshments were served to the visiting mothers by a committee from the club. This affair is the last in the series in which all of the grades have thus entertained the mothers during the winter.

A social meeting of the teachers of the Stearns and Eliot buildings was held on March 7, at which time Principal Kenneth Winslow related some of his experiences during his recent trip to North Carolina. Much interest has been shown by the pupils in the two schools in comparing this Southern State with Massachusetts and New England.

The regular weekly meeting of the Troop No. 3, Boy Scouts, was held on Tuesday evening, March 13. In the absence of Scoutmaster MacLeod the meeting was in charge of Assistant

MRS. MARTH A. WALLACE

Mrs. Martha B. Wallace, widow of George Wallace, died on March 10th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William G. Soule, 56 Farlow road, Newton. She was born in Troy, N. Y., in 1842, the daughter of Ben. Snow, who was a co-worker with Garrison and Phillips and all others who sacrificed so much for the cause of slavery, and Mary (Boutelle) Snow. When she was young her parents moved to Fitchburg, Mass., where she lived until her marriage. She attended Mr. Sanborn's school in Concord, Mass. After her marriage in 1866 she lived in Boston until 1873. For 55 years she has been a resident of Newton. She was a member of the Newtonville Church and the Newtonville Woman's Club. She was beloved by every one who knew her and was an inspiration for high ideals. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harold D. Corey and Mrs. William G. Soule, residents of Newton, and one son, Robert Wallace, who lives in Midvale, Utah.

MRS. ELIZABETH B. ESTABROOK

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Estabrook of 25 Highland avenue, Newtonville, a resident of this city for 55 years, died Saturday. She was born in Somerville, 78 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Clark. In 1872 she married Theodore A. Estabrook and for 40 years they made their home at West Newton, where she was a member of the First Unitarian Church. Mr. Estabrook died in 1923. She is survived by two sons, Clarence W. Estabrook of Wolfeboro, New Hampshire, George C. Estabrook of Newtonville, and a daughter, Louise Estabrook of Newtonville. Her funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon at the chapel of Newton Cemetery.

MRS. ABBIE F. FISKE

Mrs. Abbie F. Fiske, for many years a resident of West Newton, Mass., passed away at the New England Sanitarium, Melrose, Mass., March 15. Mrs. Fiske was born at Newton, Mass., July 21, 1849, and was the widow of Winslow J. Fiske.

She was for many years an active member of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church and for the past nineteen years has been connected with the above named institution, making many dear friends.

Three children survive her: Walter Fiske of Boston, Herford A. Fiske of Little Creek, Mich., and Susie G. Fiske of the New England Sanitarium, Melrose, Mass. Because of Mrs. Fiske's sterling Christian character, it can be truly said, "She hath done what she could."

Funeral services will be held at the New England Sanitarium, Melrose, Saturday afternoon, March 17, at 2:30. Interment at the Newton Cemetery.

MISS MARGARET WYMAN

Miss Margaret Wyman, who for the past two years has made her home with her niece, Mrs. Samuel Duncan of 54 Gammon road, Waban, died on March 8. She was born 83 years ago at Oak Bay, New Brunswick. Her paternal ancestors were among the early settlers of Woburn. She is survived by two sisters, Miss Pamela Wyman of Portland, Maine, and Mrs. George F. Shaw, and a nephew, Walter S. Wyman of Augusta, Maine. Her funeral service was held on Saturday, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan officiating. The remains were cremated at Mount Auburn.

houses, that if it is developed with two-family houses it will find a market shortly. According to Mr. Hartmann, if the land along Parker street north of the brook will be developed in two-family houses, it will hasten the bringing of public improvements to the less thickly settled area at Oak Hill.

At the suggestion of Alderman Powers a showing of hands was taken on those present to ascertain who favored and who opposed the original petition as presented by Mr. Lewis asking for the restriction of the Oak Hill section to one-family houses, and the revised petition which included all the area south of Boylston street. There was no opposition to Mr. Lewis' proposition from those present, but all who arose to express their sentiment on the revised petition did so to register objections.

The Claims and Rules Committee on Sunday afternoon visited Oak Hill and the adjoining sections to look at the ground over and later this month will confer with the Planning Board of Newton before determining just what area to include in the new single residence zone.

Wilson of the staff of the Boston Transcript, who addressed the gathering upon "Some of the Attractions of the Monastic Life." Mr. Wilson spoke first of the Trappist Monastery at La Trappe, near Oka, in the Province of Quebec, Canada, which he had visited several times, and followed with a description of the monastic life in general and of the history of monasticism, which he said dated back to the days before the Christian era. The value of community life, which he grouped under the designations of the contemplative and the active, was touched upon, and he made special reference to the work of women as seen in teaching the young, ministering to the sick in hospitals and performing many acts of mercy in far-off isolated communities. The work of the Roman Catholic orders and as well as those in the Anglican communion were graphically described by Mr. Wilson. Miss Harriett Goodacre gave a beautifully executed piano solo, and Miss Lucy Allen took charge of the devotional period. Mrs. Robert H. Loomis presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Arthur Lane. A food sale in charge of Miss Mary Woodcock was held before the meeting, which proved to be a great financial success.

—Miss Nancy Safford of 40 Sewall street is spending a few weeks in Virginia.

—Miss Ruth Gray of Dover, New Hampshire, is the guest of Mrs. Ethel Leach of 79 Adella avenue.

—Miss Mary Woodcock was in charge of the food sale held in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church on Wednesday of this week, March 14.

—Mr. Kenneth Lane of 25 Somerset road led the Senior Young People's Society at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church on last Sunday evening.

—On next Sunday morning, March 18, Rev. Boynton Merrill of the Second Church will preach at Phillips Andover Academy, Andover, Mass.

—Rev. Paul S. Phalen exchanged pulpits last Sunday morning with Rev. Chester Arthur Drummond, the minister of Channing Church, Newton.

—Mr. Howard Mann of 45 Sewall street left last week for a trip across the continent, where he will join his father, Mr. Albert Mann, in California.

—Mr. Charles Swain Thomas of Highland avenue was elected editor of the New England Association of Teachers of English at their 28th annual meeting.

—Rev. Boynton Merrill, pastor of the Second Church, preached at the noonday service at Trinity Church, Copley square, Boston, on Friday of this week.

—Mrs. C. A. Eschelbach of 864 Watertown street entertained the Service Club of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church at her home on last Tuesday evening, March 13.

—Mr. Robert H. Garrett of Concord, New Hampshire, has bought the Clarence N. Cook house on Perkins street, and with his family, will make this residence his home.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dockstader of 303 Highland avenue are to entertain at bridge a group of Melrose friends on Saturday evening, March 17. The party will be in the form of a St. Patrick's celebration.

—On Wednesday evening, March 21, the Harvard University Vocal and Instrumental Clubs will give a concert in Players Hall. The program will include old-time glees and folk songs, numbers by the banjo and mandolin clubs, a ventriloquist, prestidigitator and the famous Gold Coast Orchestra under Charlie Henderson.

—Reverend Professor Harold E. B. Speight, D.D., of Dartmouth College will preach at the Second Church on next Sunday morning, March 18, in the absence of Rev. Boynton Merrill. Dr. Speight was, until recently, the eminently successful minister of King's Chapel, Boston, which position he resigned to accept a chair in philosophy at Dartmouth College. He is one of the most far-sighted and influential of the younger clergymen.

—The members of Troop No. 7 are to entertain their parents on Friday evening, March 23, from 7:30 until 9 o'clock in the Parish House of the Second Church. President Halladay of Norumbega Council will speak and Vice-President Marcy will demonstrate by the Scouts and refreshments. All parents are cordially invited to attend and asked to communicate with Scoutmaster Gaddis, 24 Elliot avenue, West Newton.

—The executive committee of the Second Church has appointed the following to serve the church in the construction of a minister's study and a chapel for children which the church recently voted to undertake. The building committee: John N. Eaton, chairman, assisted by Mr. Elbert G. Allen, Mrs. Katherine P. Cowin, Mrs. Henry B. Day, Mr. Dana Libbey, Mr. C. Clark Macomber, and Mr. Percy R. Ziegler. Finance committee: Mr. John P. Paine, chairman; Mr. Charles E. Benson, Mr. Harold B. Cranshaw, Mr. William J. Davidson, Mr. George H. Fernald, Jr., Mr. Robert H. Gross, Mr. James W. Hammond, Mr. Clarence L. Newton, Mr. Carl E. Pickhardt and Mr. Thomas Weston.

The 5 Great Hazards

"It has been in this house fifty years. You can't find another piece like it. This, ladies and gentlemen, is genuine! What am I offered for it? These old treasures are going for a song. Give me a bid."

—As the auctioneer rattles on, the neighbors think of the old days of entertainment and open hospitality in that house. They wonder how long the proud and lonely mistress has been fighting off the inevitable.

WHILE presenting our Annual Statement showing Assets of $2,388,647,636—2 Billion, 388 Million Dollars—representing savings and investments of 25 million people in the United States and Canada, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company desires to make clear what a life insurance company can do, what it should do and what, so far, it has been unable to do toward meeting what have been called the five great hazards of life: which may come early, before one's dependents have been provided for.

Death

Accident

always sudden and often causing lessened earning power.

Sickness

which may cause want as well as suffering.

Dependent Old Age

which must seek charity if self-support is no longer possible.

Unemployment

which may bring distress to others in addition to the one unemployed.

Annuitants for old age, protection in case of death, accident or sickness—almost every financial requirement can now be met by insurance. Only one

PROPOSED BOULEVARD

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic: In a few issues recently you kindly printed a communication about House

Bill No. 438 and I desire to ask you to print the following substitute bill, so that the matter will be kept up to date in the public mind:

SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE BILL NO. 438

An Act providing for the laying out by the Metropolitan District Commission of a Parkway or Boulevard from a point at or near the junction of Newton and Hammond streets, in the Town of Brookline, to or near Beacon street, in the City of Newton.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by authority of the State, as follows:

Section 1. The Metropolitan District Commission, hereafter called the commission, is hereby authorized and directed to lay out, in accordance with the provisions of chapter ninety-two of the General Laws relating to the laying out of parkways and boulevards, a parkway from a point at or near the junction of Newton and Hammond streets, in the Town of Brookline, over land of Ernest B. Dane and over land now owned by the Commonwealth, to a point in Brookline within one thousand feet of the town line between the Town of Brookline and the City of Newton, thence over public or private lands, or public or private streets to Beacon street or to Langley road, where it crosses the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad in the City of Newton.

Any public or private way included within the layout of the proposed parkway or boulevard shall be open to all classes of traffic.

Should the portion of the parkway or boulevard lying north of Boylston street be laid out in part or in whole west of the westerly boundary of the Hammond Pond Woods Reservation, now owned by the Commonwealth, the commission may take and add to said reservation the private land lying between said reservation and the location of the boulevard, to the end that the parkway may become a border road along the edge of said reservation. The width of the strip thus to be taken shall not, however, exceed one thousand feet. The commission, in connection with the acquiring of new land for the parkway authorized by this act, may sell and convey or exchange any of the lands heretofore purchased for that purpose lying south of Boylston street, and in the opinion of the commission not required for the parkway as laid out.

Section 2. For the purpose of laying out said parkway or boulevard, and acquiring the land therefor, the commission may expend such sum not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars as may hereinafter be provided.

Section 3. One half of the expenditures made under the authority of section two of this act shall be paid by the cities and towns of the metropolitan parks district as a part of the cost of maintenance of boulevards under section fifty-six of chapter ninety-two of the General Laws and the remaining one half shall be paid from the Highway Fund.

Section 4. The commission shall assess betterments under chapter eighty of the General Laws on account of the public improvements authorized by section one of this act. One half of the amounts of betterments so as-problem is still unsolved—unemployment insurance—and that only because legislation permitting it has so far been refused. The day must come when every family can and will plan to meet every one of the five great hazards so that none of its members will ever face the need of charity.

The United States and Canada pay higher wages than other countries. Nearly all their workers earn enough to provide for both present and future needs. If they will but plan ahead they may have in their years of retirement, not merely bare existence, but real comfort.

Thousands of those interested in life insurance have asked how the family income should be expended. Send for our Home Budget Booklet which tells how much should be spent for necessities—food, housing, clothing, fuel—and how much should be laid aside for protection. It will be mailed free.

First Aid Course for Leaders

The First Aid Course for Boy Scout leaders, under "Jack" McCurdy of the New England Tel. and Tel. Co., is a very popular course. There are nearly thirty men enrolled, which is the limit of the course. Meetings are now held on Monday evenings at the Newton Centre Public Library at 7:30 o'clock, lasting for two and one half hours.

The following men are enrolled: Commissioner Woodbridge, Messrs. Bartram, Liscomb, C. Clark Macomber, Donald Stimpson and P. J. Edmonds, of the Board of Scout Examinations; Troop 1, Scout Master Sloane, Troop Committeemen Charles Lynde and Howell Dunsy; Troop 2, E. C. Hillard, Scout Master; Troop 3, Assistant Scout Master Swartz; Troop 4, Committeemen Dr. Clinton Pope and A. L. MacIntosh and Assistant Scout Master Charles Miller; Troop 5, Assistant Scout Masters Ralph Emery and Herbert Achorn; Troop 7, Senior Patrol Leader Walter Brandt; Troop 10, Scout Master John M. Bierer and a Troop Committeeman; Troop 14, Committeeman Harry Young; Troop 15, Ray C. Smith of the Troop Committee; Troop 18, William C. Pickersgill, Chairman of the Troop Committee; Troop 19, Scout Master Charles H. Center.

At the last meeting, many kinds of bandages were tried. The idea of the course is to teach real first aid, and not to be a lay-man's course in medicine. It means that every Troop in the Council will have one or more men trained properly in First Aid, which will mean Scouts in Newton better trained in rendering first aid.

Troop 20 Invested

Norumbega Council of the Boy Scouts has another new Troop! It is located at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, but is a community Troop, its membership being open to any boy in Newton Centre eligible to join the Boy Scouts. This makes the second new Troop in the Council since last fall, bringing the total up to fourteen.

The Troop Committee, composed of Mr. C. Randolph Bennett, Chairman, Dr. Hutchins, Messrs. L. Lee Street, E. H. Bill, A. L. Risley and Harlow, have been given the Scout Oath.

Examining Board

The last meeting of the Board of Scout Examinations, under Deputy Commissioner Bartram, Chairman, was held at the Claffin School, Newtonville, on Friday, March 9th. There were about 30 Scouts present for examinations. Owing to the pressure of work, the Board has been split into two divisions. The District I division of the Board will meet at the Claffin School on March 23, April 13 and 27, May 11 and 25. This division of the Board is for Troops 1, 2, 3, 7, 11, 15.

The Examining Board for District II, which comprises Troops 4, 5, 10, 14, 18, 19 and 20, will meet at the Mason School, Newton Centre on Friday March 16th. Other dates during the balance of the year are April 6 and 20, May 18, June 1. The place of Board meetings after March 16th will be announced later. At the Board meeting on March 9, the following Scouts passed their tests:

Second Class—First Aid, Troop 10, Waban, John Nichols, David McLellan, Robert Walker, James Chandler, Thomas Perkins, Walker Gladwin, Donald Robbins, Wallace Stuart, Albert Gould, Raymond Clarke, Signaling—Thomas Perkins, Donald Robbins, Wallace Stewart, Albert Gould, John Nichols, Raymond Clark, David McLellan. Examiner in Second Class First Aid was Mr. Donald Stimpson, who drove up from the Cape in the blizzard to attend the Board meeting. Deputy Bartram, signalling.

First Class—Map and 14-mile hike, Troop 10, Waban, Crawford Ferguson; Troop 4, Edward Patterson; Troop 7, West Newton, Charles Frary, Jr., Frederick Haynes, Charles Jack, Examiners were H. S. Rice and E. J. Weaver. First Aid—Chester Tudbury, Troop 4; Troop 5, Arthur Williams, James Marriner; Troop 10, Arthur Marquet, Charles Brown, Vincent Estabrook, Ailing Woodruff, John Bierer, Jr., Troop 1, Edwin Lombard; Troop 19, M. C. Settle, Jr., Examiner, C. F. Liscomb, Signalling—Fred Haynes, Charles Frary, Jr., Edward Patterson, Charles Jack, Examiner, Deputy Bartram.

New Aids to Scout Masters

National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts has issued several books recently which are aimed to help Scout Leaders greatly. There is the "How Book of Scouting" which is full of invaluable material on how to operate a Troop, to give training and instruction, and so on. Another is the "Winter Camp Manual" which gives a mass of most helpful information on week-end camping programs, menus, and the like.

Court of Honor

Commissioner Woodbridge has sent final announcements to the field of the Court of Honor to be held at the Mason School, Newton Centre, on Tuesday, March 20th, at 7:30 o'clock. Troops 5, 18, 19 and 20, Newton Centre, are hosts of the affair. The Newton Centre Citizens' Boy Scout Committee, Chairman Major A. B. Hitchcock, is co-operating. Many badges will be presented to Newton Scouts that evening. The program includes a well-known man as speaker of the evening.

Courses for Scouts

Through their Scout Masters, courses in Leatherworking, Firemanship and First Aid to Animals are being offered to the Scouts of Norumbega Council. Fire Chief Randlett has offered the hearty co-operation of the Fire Department in training the Scouts for the Firemanship merit Badge, with possibly something else in store for a selected group from the course.

Dr. E. A. Boutelle, the famous Veterinarian, has offered to give a series of lectures on First Aid to Animals.

Scout Leaders' Conference at Lynn

All Scout leaders of this section are being invited to attend a Scout Leaders' Conference at Lynn, Massachusetts, on Saturday, March 24th, from 2 to 9 p. m. Hosts are the Lynn Council of Boy Scouts.

All leaders of Norumbega Council are cordially invited to attend.

Troop Items

Troop 3 is being given Scout Drill by Julius Ramm and the Scouts of that new Norumbega Troop are doing very well. Recently Troop 3 was asked to send eight Scouts to the Council office to do a good turn there for the Council. Scout Master John E. McLeod asked for volunteers and the whole Troop stepped forward!

Troop 19, Scout Master Charles H. Center, took a Patrol on Plymouth on Saturday last, to see the steamer Robert Lee on the rocks.

Troop 5, Newton Centre, is trying an "open house" scheme, of having a meeting place during the week, on one night other than Scout meeting, when Scouts can get special instruction in various subjects.

Troop 4, Highlands, is practicing on ice rescue work, following the plan laid out in the Winter Camp manual.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Girl Scout movie at the Community Theatre on Saturday morning, March 10, proved a great success. In spite of bad going, the house was filled to capacity. Fifty dollars was made on candy, and it is expected that the total net receipts will be about $400.

After the Pathe News, an Aesop Fable, entitled "Hook, Line and Sink," and "The Champeen," a Gang comedy, the Newton Bugle and Drum Corps played several selections. This corps is composed of 38 girls and is led by its drum major, Armada Le-mont.

"Rookies," the feature picture, followed. Judging by the ecstatic shrieks of the youngsters, it would seem that the program was well chosen.

Ruth Ufford, a former Auburndale Scout, played the organ during the performance. The candy, which was in charge of Lieut. Ball and Capt. Moore, was sold by the members of the Bugle and Drum Corps. Mrs. Redfield managed the tickets again this year, and Capt. Warren headed two groups, the ushers and the "clean-up" girls. Priscilla Hudson, Virginia Randall, Doris Peel and Betty Dobyres comprised the former group, and Mary Stephen, Elsie Stephen and Elizabeth Adams remained after the performance to clean up. Dorothy Whitaker and Phyllis Reinhardt collected tickets at the door.

Troop 25, West Newton, not only made more candy for the movie than any other troop, but it also sold the largest number of tickets. The record ticket sales were as follows: Troop 25, 266; Troop 2, Newton, 166; Troop 28, Newtonville, 126.

Mr. Holmes, manager of the Community Theatre, showed the Girl Scout organization every courtesy, and much of the success of the undertaking was due to his kind co-operation.

The members of the Waban Training Course began first-class work last week. They studied map making on that day. This week, weight, height, number and distance were taken up. The next two meetings will be given over to camping, and merit badges, and the final get-together will be in the nature of an outdoor meeting. The course was started in the fall and it was originally planned that it be completed by the first of the year. Enthusiastic members, however, have begged that it be continued, and as a result it will not end until Easter.

Mrs. Duncan Wright of Waban was invested as a second-class Scout at the March 1st meeting of the Training Course. Mrs. Wright came into the course in the fall, passed her tenderfoot test, was made captain of Troop 24, and now, having acquired her second-class badge, is working enthusiastically for her first-class.

Beginning March 21st, the St. Agnes Catholic School swimming pool in Newton will be reserved every other Wednesday afternoon for Newton Girl Scouts. Any Scout who wishes to take advantage of this opportunity may apply to her captain for further information. The admission fee will be 50 cents. A special Red Cross Life Saving class will be conducted on those days.

At the regular monthly supper meeting of the Officers' Association on March 21st, Mr. Malcolm McGregor, a well-known member of the Appalachian Mountain Club, will speak on "Hiking and the Out-of-Doors."

Ruth Wittig, Jean Cowin, Carol Hartridge and Norma Potter were invested as tenderfoots in Troop 25 last week. This week the last of the 20 candidates who entered during the year was invested.

Eight girls from Troop 14, accompanied by Captain Warren, Captain Wright and Lieut. Whitaker, spent the night of March 2nd in the Calf Barn at Cedar Hill. They all agreed that it was the best overnight hike yet. Mr. Jordan spoke to them in the evening, and attempted to teach them how to tell time by the stars. The girls spent the following day tracking and signalling.

Signs of spring are leading to many inquiries about camp. The folders are already out for all the State camps and any girls wishing to attend any one of them should ask her captain to write for an application blank before March 25th. Camp Mary Day folders came out this week and judging by the number already asked for the Newton camp will be as popular as ever this year. Requests for applications for this camp should be at Newton headquarters by April 3rd.

Chinaman First to Put Out Dictionary

The first extended dictionary of the English language was published in 1755, representing the monumental labor of Samuel Johnson, who died December 12, 1784.

Doctor Johnson's dictionary, which occupied many years of his life, was the most remarkable work of his kind ever produced by a single person. Noah Webster's American dictionary was first published in 1828, and Worcester's English dictionary appeared in 1860.

The first dictionary compiler was Pa-Out-She, a scholarly gentleman of Cathay, who flourished about 1000 B. C. He perfected a standard dictionary of the Chinese language, the same containing about 40,000 characters.

One Julius Pollux compiled a Greek dictionary about A. D. 177, and previous to this date (about 100 B. C.) one Varro made up a Latin one. A polyglot dictionary in eight languages was compiled about 1500 by Calepini, a Venetian friar. Vauglas edited the first French dictionary, issued by the French academy in 1694. A Spanish one was issued in 1726, an Italian in 1729 and a Russian one in 1789.

—Miss Alice Chilson of Cottage street returned home Sunday from Newton Hospital. She has been ill for some weeks with scarlet fever.

—Miss Miriam Temperley of Thurston road entertained the members of her bridal party on Tuesday evening. She intends to be married in June.

—Petee street is being torn up in order to connect Prospect Block with the water main for the new sprinkler system which is being installed in the building.

—Mr. Joseph Meredith preached at the Lenten service of the Catholic Church on Wednesday evening. On March 25 a retreat will be held by Fr. McGrath, O. S. A.

—Wednesday evening a church supper was served in the Baptist Church by the ladies auxiliary. The Glee Club of the Perkins Institute for the blind furnished the evening's concert.

—"The Harvester," a motion picture play adapted from Gene Stratton Porter's book, was presented by the Upper Falls Improvement Society at their annual meeting on Monday evening.

—Mrs. Elizabeth A. Sheridan of 1084 Chestnut street, a life long resident of this village, died on Wednesday. She was the widow of James H. Sheridan and the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Slattery. Mrs. Sheridan was 72 years of age.

—Miss Alice L. Evans of Thurston road entertained a few friends and relatives last Saturday evening to celebrate her 21st birthday. Superstition was found during the whole evening. Miss Evans was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

—Funeral services for Miss Annette Keyes, who died Thursday, March 1, were held at her home on High street Sunday afternoon, March 4. Miss Keyes has been a resident of the village for many years. She is survived by a nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Jewett, who made their home with her.

—"The Bazaar of Wedding Anniversaries" will be held Tuesday afternoon in Parish Hall from 3 to 5 by the Lockhart class of the Methodist Sunday School. Tea will then be served followed by an entertainment at 8 o'clock. The members of the class will present a sketch and a miscellaneous program will be given by Miss Dorothy Carroll of Boston University.

—Monday evening the members of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Society held their annual meeting in Auditorium Hall. The following officers were elected: President, Robert F. Sawyer; vice-president, William H. Warren; secretary-treasurer, Robert B. McLaughlin; auditor, Lewis P. Everett. After the business meeting, the motion picture, "The Harvester," was presented to the members and guests.

—Tuesday evening the members of the Methodist Sunday school board were entertained at their annual banquet in Parish Hall. Rev. J. West Thompson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Newton, was the speaker of the evening. Annual reports were read and the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. The whole evening was a riot of laughter, music and merriment. Around 50 were present.

—Twenty-five girls of the Methodist church met last week Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Shaw of Chestnut street. Wagon, Mrs. Clara Hardy of Wellesley addressed the group, telling them of the possibilities of a Queen Esther Club in connection with the home missionary work. The girls voted to form a club and elected the following officers: Ethel Roberts, president; Elizabeth Meara, vice-president; Edith Ackroyd, recording secretary; Alice Shaw, corresponding secretary; and Grace Allardye, treasurer. It was also voted to have the meetings every fourth Tuesday of the month. Refreshments were served.

—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary C. Brown, 15 Shaw street, West Newton.

—The Women's Guild of the Church of the Messiah will hold a Lenten meeting with a missionary speaker on Monday afternoon.

—Mrs. Arthur Chamberlain of Central street, who has been ill for some time, is recuperating at Southern Pines, South Carolina.

By Edw. H. Powers

We are not in favor of changing names of schools when new buildings replace the old structures if the existing name was given in honor of some local person prominent in the community in days gone by. We have been informed that the Hamilton School was given that name to honor the man prominent in the early history of this nation. He was not a local man. But, if the name of this school will be changed, why give it a euphonious, a poetical name, even though many persons have obligingly signed a petition? If the name of the Hamilton School is changed, why not call it the Leland School as a fitting tribute to an old Lower Falls family which did much to advance education in Newton?

Robert W. Bell of Framingham has purchased the business of the C. H. Campbell Co., Inc., one of Newton's oldest hardware firms. Mr. Bell was until recently a partner in the firm of the Van-Bell Hardware Company of Framingham and has been engaged in the hardware business for 13 years. The C. H. Campbell Co. will continue under the same name and the store is open for business although extensive alterations are being made. Mr. Bell will shortly become a resident of this city.

Mr. Parker, our new Registrar of Motor Vehicles, shows good judgment in ordering no more "cod-fish" to be placed on the number plates of automobiles. These plates are none too large to be entirely used for the display of numerals, instead of being devoted in part for "art" purposes.

While we do not endorse over a Christian becoming a Hindu, we are glad that "Nancy Ann" has finally perverted. A large amount of timber, made into paper pulp, has been wasted in the hardware business for 13 years. The C. H. Campbell Co. will continue under the same name and the store is open for business although extensive alterations are being made. Mr. Bell will shortly become a resident of this city.

Chinese Show Little

Regard for Shrines

Public religion appears to be in a more healthy condition in Japan than in China. Japanese temples are far better kept up than are Chinese temples. One sees many splendid places of Shinto worship. Apparently Shintoism is closely connected with worship of the emperor. A magnificent Shinto shrine has recently been constructed on a hilltop overlooking Seoul, the capital of what used to be called Korea, but is now known as Chosen.

The Japanese on entering a temple enclosure are respectful and seem to be in a worshipful mood. Their shoes are left outside and they walk either in their stocking feet or in soft sandals provided by the temple authorities.

In China, on the other hand, the temples are usually in bad repair. Frequently they are occupied by soldiers. In a Buddhist temple I saw one of the celebrated shrines raffled off as a canteen where the soldiers bought their cigarettes and sweetmeats. The sacred image itself was partly concealed by merchandise.

No one thinks of taking off his shoes in a Chinese temple. One sees few Chinese worshipping. Apparently the principle religion is ancestor worship, and that takes place behind the scenes in the home, where the family altar represents the place for the highest type of aspiration. There is a sanctity about home life in China that one does not find elsewhere.—Senator Hiram Bingham, in World's Work.

Great French Writer

Had Odd Superstition

Emile Zola, the French writer, had a mania for counting. Pierre Van Passen relates, in the New York Evening World, he was extremely restless and his nerves completely dominated him, so he could not have a minute without some mental occupation. Even when he was strolling about the streets his nerves forced him to count his steps and to count everything he saw, the trees he passed, the dogs he encountered on a walk, the number of carriages that passed him, the windows in the house opposite his own, the street lamps, the number of men and the number of women.

Curiously enough, Zola, who is generally taken as one of the most enlightened spirits of his time, noted down all these figures, divided them, multiplied them and added them to discover if by chance they would reveal some number that he considered lucky.

Zola was as happy as a child if he discovered a figure that he thought would bring him luck, and after a morning's stroll over the Paris boulevards set to work with gusto. The other way around, if his calculations did not produce a lucky number, he grew morose and mournful and could not write a line the rest of the day.

Daddy on Fire

Little M'Fred ran into the house the other day and screamed: "Oh, mother, I just saw daddy on fire!" "On fire?" the startled mother cried, and Mildred vigorously nodded her head.

After a maternal cross-examination it turned out that Mildred had passed the barber shop and saw a barber applying matches to her father's hair. She had run all the way home to tell mother and save daddy's life.

When father came home a few minutes later he was surprised at the affectionate greeting of his little daughter, who was delighted to see that he had escaped from the fire fiend alive.—Philadelphia Record.

Causes of Eclipses

An eclipse of the sun occurs when the moon, as it moves around the earth, happens to get exactly between us and the sun. An eclipse of the moon occurs when the earth gets between the sun and the moon, the shadow of the earth falling on the moon and cutting off the sunlight from it. Therefore it is physically impossible for eclipses of the sun and moon to occur at the same time.—Exchange.

Life in Middle Ages

Miserable for Most

The average expectation of life—today 58—was probably between 25 and 30 in the Middle Ages. We have no idea today what a vast luxury then was a bit of food, fire and drink, shelter and a bed, even such poor things as they were. The pathetic masses of humans were so indescribably miserable that we have almost no perspective on them today. Picture them, living in low thatched huts without ventilation, the earth for a floor. When this floor got too filthy a new layer of rushes was laid down on the top of the old filth, until the layers of twenty years festered there, alive with vermin, foul with refuse. Those who could afford it wore leather clothes; the lower masses wrapped themselves with straw. For food they ate peas, black bread, fern roots and the bark of trees. Only one-half of them ever tasted fresh meat, and the other half ate meat only once a week. A hole in the roof drained off some of the smoke. The house servants—miserable creatures, earning 30 shillings a year and shoes—went about nearly naked, such garments as they had being utterly filthy, and slept on the vile rush floor at night. Men were old at forty and women even earlier.—J. George Frederick, in the New Age Illustrated.

Sacrifice Ever Part of World's Progress

Progress is the result of experiment and sacrifice, and all submarine and air disasters are courageous efforts to overcome the obstacles which hinder scientific development, explains an editorial in Liberty.

"If a disaster is big enough it anesthetizes the mind," continues the editorial. "We understand one death better than six, or six hundred. So, when a dirigible falls, a transatlantic liner is lost, or a submarine is wrecked, there comes the protest that all this must be stopped.

"We venture another point of view. When these pioneers are killed, much as we regret their death, we are proud that such men have lived. Without their courage progress would stop, for

Better Lighting for Better Business

YESTERDAY it was a store struggling along almost in the hands of the receiver. Over night its sales picked up and today it is a leader in its field.

Better Business goes hand in hand with Better Lighting. The store with dim, old-fashioned lighting equipment furnishes little competition to the store where the lights are clear and true. Shoppers will desert a dimly-lighted store for one with well-lighted aisles and counters.

MEMBER

THE EDISON ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING COMPANY OF BOSTON is co-operating with the merchant in bringing about better store lighting. Their Lighting Engineers... after a study of the store's present lighting system... furnish, free of charge, a set of working plans showing an economical and satisfactory system of lighting... From these plans your contractor can do the wiring.

WARREN—TUCKER

Miss Jane Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph F. Tucker of Chestnut Hill, was married to Mr. Hamilton Warren of Mt. Vernon Place, Boston, at the Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill on Tuesday, March 15, at 2:30 in the afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Moses assisted by Rev. Fr. Powell.

Miss Virginia Sargent of Cambridge was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Joan Higginson of Boston, Helga Gray of Chestnut Hill, Minna Lindsay of Southboro, Betty Monilton of Boston, Frances Goodwin of Hamilton, Louise Gray and Phyllis Ellsworth of Boston and Delores de Pierrefeu of Milton. The best man was William Whitman, 3rd, of Needham. The ushers were Messrs. Hamilton Osgood of Cambridge, Edward George and Howard Sturges, all of Milton, Chandler Robbins of Boston, Stuart Montgomery of Ponkapoag, John Dryer of Boston, Randolph Tucker, Jr., of Chestnut Hill, a brother of the bride, Sidney Shurtleff of Boston and Nathaniel Whittey of Milton. The flower girl was Miss Gwendolyn Livermore of Boston.

The bride wore a gown of cream satin, robe de style, with a long train. Her tulle veil was trimmed with orange blossoms. The maid of honor wore pale blue taffeta, robe de style, with lace and a tulle hat of the same color. The bridesmaids all wore pale beige taffeta, robe de style, with lace and tulle hats of the same color.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 420 Hammond street, from 3 until 4:30. The home was decorated with flowers and smiles.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren will reside at Whitefield Hall, Cambridge.

OLD IRONSIDES SOCIETY

Old Ironsides Society of The American Revolution of Newton. On March 10th, The Old Ironsides Society gave a tableaux before The Lucy Jackson Chapter of The Daughters of The American Revolution of Newton, at the Congregational Church in West Newton. The tableaux depicted the story of Newton and many of the characters were represented by the descendants of those characters. The following C. A. R. members took the parts of the leading characters: Albert Walker, Richard Schofield, Robert Dowling, Bradford Green, James Dewing, Barbara Webster, Virginia Hanscom.

Other members of the society completed the pictures. During the tableaux Barbara Rodman read the story of Newton. Mrs. William O. Hunt, dressed in a lovely old gown, told a story. The afternoon was under the direction of Mrs. Frances C. Rodman, Senior President and Mrs. Ledlie Moore who had charge of the stage. Refreshments were served by The Lucy Jackson Chapter.

Newton Ladies Hear of College in Japan

On the afternoon of Wednesday, the 14th, Mrs. H. H. Powers and Mrs. W. G. Lennox gave a reception at 82 Church street, to Miss Isabelle McCausland, recently returned from Japan. Miss McCausland is Professor of Social Science in Kobe College, the only chartered university for women in half an empire. In addressing the ladies, she spoke with compelling enthusiasm of the development of the college, its alumnae—the New Women of the New Japan—and of the needs of the institution.

Kobe College was established in 1875 by the Japan Mission of the American Board, as a home school for girls. Its budget for that year was $350, contributed from America. With steadily increasing co-operation from Japan, this school of American planning has grown to be a university, honored throughout the empire and now faced with the problems of its own growth and its enlarged sphere of service.

ISABELLE McCausland

The alumnae have already raised $75,000 and purchased a beautiful 18-acre campus overlooking the inland Sea. In addition to the gift of land, the graduates have pledged themselves to raise $150,000 of the $300,000 endowment being secured in Japan.

Kobe College is an undenominational Christian university. Its charter, by government requirement makes careful provision for the future. The American end of the institution is no longer a Mission Board, but an undenominational corporation chartered in the State of Illinois, with which the American Board is glad to continue its co-operation.

The present desire of the Kobe College Corporation is to secure such an increase in the number of its friends that it may be able to put up the new buildings upon the new campus. Of this undertaking, the Presidents of Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, and Wellesley, with others, unite in saying, "We believe that problems of great importance will increasingly develop upon the Pacific. We believe that we should cultivate every alliance of the socially-minded in America and the Orient; and in particular we believe that co-operation in education is the surest method of developing mutual good understanding. We are, therefore, especially interested in this project."

All who were invited to the reception have received an attractive booklet in explanation of the College and its work as a significant piece of international co-operation; and it is the purpose of the College to keep all who may express any interest, supplied with information as to educational movements within the Empire of Japan.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

On Wednesday, April 11, the Highland Glee Club of Newton will present its 46th concert in the auditorium of the high school on Walnut street, in Newtonville.

Mr. Earle Spicer, baritone from London, is to be the soloist this year. He visited the Glee Club last week and sang a few songs for the members. Every one was delighted, for he is indeed an interesting singer, with an unusual, resonant and powerful voice, and with it all a warmth and flexibility. He sings with surety and intonation and uncommonly distinct enunciation. So this concert he has appeared with the New York Symphony Orchestra, the Bach cantata Society in New York and also on the concert stage.

It isn't often that the Glee Club has the opportunity to hear its soloists beforehand, but with this advance presentation by Mr. Spicer every member of the Glee Club is enthusiastic over his public appearance at the concert on April 11.

The Highland Glee Club, rated by the Federation as one of the finest in New England, has been called upon lately for programs in various towns. Early in February the club sang at Abundant under the auspices of the Lasell Seminary. Later in the month the club appeared at Lexington in a Sunday afternoon concert, and on the 29th of the month a concert was given at the Payson Park Church in Belmont. Last week, the members sang at Pittsburgh.

WILSON—CHALMERS

Miss Virginia Chalmers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Chalmers of Clyde street, Newtonville, was married to Robert Francis Wilson, Jr. of Brooklyn, New York, on Tuesday, March thirteenth. The wedding took place at the home of her parents.

Mrs. William Denison Rowe, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, and Mr. Charles Moreau of Bloomfield, New Jersey, was the best man.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will reside at 1 Hinckley place, Brooklyn, New York.

The bride is a graduate of Radcliffe '24, and the groom is a graduate of Dartmouth '21 and Harvard Law School 1924.

COLLEGE NEWS
By H. P. CARVER

The days of fraternity initiation are now among us, or have just gone over the hill, and the newly initiated are proudly shining their pin on some piece of cotton or planning the soonest moment to make a trip home or to some other vicinity in order to trade jewelry. It's a great period in a freshman's life, and it is a happy one in the minds of the upperclassmen. The freshmen hear wild and lurid tales of the things that will happen to them prior to initiation, and they brace themselves for a long and continued shock. The upperclassmen on the other hand gaze, or try to at least, into the characters of the men that they are about to make one of their group, and then lay out a plan of campaign for the fraternity when they chance to meet them, or carry for the benefit of the house such necessary articles as gum, life savers, or cigarettes. After running through a week of more or less snubbing the entering neophytes the house buckles down to its method of approach and the freshman wonders where he is at. The padding sessions and the general riding conventions that take place leave little of the dignity that the entering man has tried desperately to accumulate in the few months that he has been in college. Then come various stunt nights where the pledgees must make the most of his histrionic or musical talent for the benefit of the brothers assembled. The grand climax comes the day before the initiation when the frosh is left with nothing to do, and can speak to no one. The whole time that he has been going through the process of preparing for initiation, has changed the man considerably, if the work has been properly and effectively done, and the benefits that he will derive from the rough treatment that he received are manifold. But when the pin is placed on his chest and the words are spoken all the grievances are forgotten, and the newly elected member is made a member with a solemnity and magnificence that carries a different thought to his troubled mind. It is, this being made a member of a fraternity, one of the best ways of creating a new character out of old wood.

At Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh there is one of the honor students that graduated from Newton four years ago and is finishing his course this year at the Technical School. Dwight Lewis was elected last year to the engineering honorary that the school has for a junior honor man, one of the highest recognitions of scholarship that the institution affords. He is working in the printing department which is the main division of the school, and reputed to be the finest in the country. His work has been of such excellence that when he is through, and has his degree he should be slated for a fine position in some large printing establishment for his technical education has been excellent. He is also treasurer of his fraternity, one of the strongest on the campus, Delta Mu, and has been elected manager of tennis. The schedule that he managed to make up for the year is the best that Carnegie has had for years, and since the team itself is better than ordinary, the victories should outnumber the defeats.

Lewis's sister, Ruth, is a freshman at Beaver College, just outside of Philadelphia, where she has been studying all year. At the semester marking period she had excellent marks, and has been doing well in other activities as well. She has joined the Christian Endeavor at a nearby church and is a leader in its programme for the year, as well as playing on the field hockey team that was champion for the district.

Katherine Tower at Boston University has been adding more fame to her already rather filled laurel wreath besides being elected vice president of her class, she has been recently chosen statistician, and finally class prophet so when graduation rolls around this Newton girl should find herself rather busy.

Dorothy Flint took part recently in the dramatics that were given at Wellesley College. She has been interested in the field of acting ever since leaving Newton, and is a member of the dramatic society at the college.

Friends of David Thompson, a student at Bowdoin, and a member of Delta Upsilon, will be sorry to learn that he has been seriously ill for some time, and is at present in New York where he is undergoing treatment. David graduated from Newton last year and was very popular among his own crowd, being famed for his sunny disposition, and kindly manners.

Ferguson Hayden left Newton last year and is studying this year at Williston Academy, along with Pelham Brown, another former Newtonian. Hayden has taken part in all sports at the Academy as a substitute, and since he will have to be there a few years more he should be an excellent athlete before he receives his final degree. Brown was the star of the football team this year, playing his old position of guard and centre and doing extremely well.

Since Spring always brings the air of social graces with it, it might be well to ruminate over the charms that dancing on the slippery floor may, or may not, have for the average girl and boy, that attempts to graduate from college. Of course one must be accomplished for the game distinctly is a competitive one where appearances and manners count for the winner, and shrewdness and poor taste are the reasons for loss. One of the first rules is not to step on anyone else's toes, they are private property, and this is one of the few rules that holds over into later life. Another rule is that talking should be confined to weather. The reason for this is that you won't have time to do more than this if the lady is popular, and if she isn't it is the safest subject, anything else might hurt her feelings.

Well, after making sure you know how to dance, if you don't you can try Arthur Murray's course, only its hard on the rug, and on your room mate's disposition, the next thing is to supply the second part of the circling orbit. It must be of the opposite sex and popular. This last is not only your judgment but in the eyes of the crowd for other wise the trouble begins early and stays till the end. It has broken up many otherwise altruistic friendships. The proper way to bring about the reception of a partner in the twisting line is to write, or telegraph it is late, and tell them about it. This should bring forth some sort of a reply, and if it doesn't I should say four more efforts would be enough to tell you how you stand. One out of five should be free, even if the other four do have pyorrhea and use Ipana. Well, the supposition is that you have managed to find someone to fill out that circle we were talking about. Then the trouble begins. Trouble being short for financial difficulties. A place to put person up, meals, rides, sight seeing at the movies, where the isherettes are the sites, and the dance with refreshments piled on top of that. It certainly makes a bill-fold right up.

The dance begins and the orchestra is great, the night is perfect, the girl is the best ever, and everyone is very happy. That is after the opening dance one is supposed to be. The period when one is unhappy comes after the guest has danced three or four dances with the same person without coming near the dance floor. That's when trouble begins, and this time trouble does not mean financial difficulties. After long arguments priority wins the race, and the dance once more looks rosy but with this sort of a start it is liable to be red appearing before the evening is over. When the affair has terminated, the visitor has gone for the district from whence it came, and you are back with your books, you ponder over the matter. Then you draw out the check book. Balance some to profit and some to loss and start counting up the days till the next dance.

Holmes Whitmore has been elected Vice President of his class at Boston University thereby setting an old standard for he has always held some office in every class that he has ever been in. He is capable and most winning in his personality, and should make a fine officer. He has come into prominence because of his hockey, but also on account of his interest in class affairs and plans to which he has lent his experience in such matters.

Waban Woman's Club

Miss Dorothy Waldo, principal of Dana Hall School for Girls, will give the talk at the last of the series of "Mothers' Round Table" meetings which the Waban Woman's Club has been sponsoring, on Monday, March 19th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Union Church Vestry. Her subject is "Problems of Adolescence."

The last Art Museum lecture will be given on March 21st, the subject to be "Collection of American Pieces in New Wing." Mrs. Maurice Feather is the hostess of the day, and by communicating with her, transportation and tea may be arranged. These lectures are greatly enjoyed for the information gained, and as outings for sociability.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Raymond Capobianco is chairman for the program of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club for their meeting of Monday evening, March 19th, and she will present as the speaker Mrs. Anna C. Palmer, M.D., who will give a Public Health Talk. Mrs. Palmer has been a member of the Public Health Committee of the State Federation for a number of years, and is known to Clubwomen who will be glad to welcome her. The meeting takes place as usual in Emerson School Hall, at 7:30 o'clock.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The second and third Cooking Demonstrations by Mrs. Margaret Welmer Haywood—better known in the club world as Margaret Welmer—which are being provided for members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club by the American Home Committee, of which Mrs. J. M. Densmore is the chairman, will be held at the Club House at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoons of Monday, March 19th and Tuesday, March 20th. Mrs. J. W. Duthie is in charge of this course, and information may be obtained from her by calling C. N. 2214-W.

This course and the one in Millinery, under the instruction of Mrs. Godsoe, which is going on Wednesday mornings, are under the direction of the same committee, with Mrs. H. E. Oiler taking the applications for the Millinery Class.

On Tuesday, March 20th, the Class in Furniture Painting, with Mrs. Caldwell instructing, will be resumed. Club members will be able to prepare those attractive porch furnishings, and summer cottage sets, at a moment when enthusiasm revives, with the coming of spring.

A word might be said here in regard to the moving picture situation, this being a topic that has taken much of the attention of Clubwomen in effort of improvement. The Newton Centre Woman's Club appreciates the patronage of the public for its movies at the Club House on Tuesday evenings and Saturday afternoons and evenings. It is making a special effort now to give high grade films and hopes that if the people of the neighborhood wish it to continue this activity, they will show it by coming to these movies. On Saturday, March 17th, Tom Mix will be seen in "The Boy and the Dog" both afternoon and evening, and on Tuesday evening, March 20th, Dorothy Gish in "Madame Pompadour" will be given.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Many items of business not on the regular program are to be considered by the members of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, Tuesday afternoon, before the address by the speaker of the day, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Macdonald, professor of Home Economics at Boston University. Mrs. Macdonald, who is a former editor of Modern Priscilla and was the originator of the Priscilla Proving Plant in Newton Centre, has chosen as the subjects of her address, "Six Goddesses and Five Philosophies," a topic likely to pique the curiosity of the most phlegmatic temperament.

Mrs. Richard A. Cody, chairman of the American Home Committee, and Mrs. William E. Leonard, chairman of the Public Health Committee, are in the ranks of the program of the day, which is to be preceded by several selections sung by the Club Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Florence Hale Ginn. The numbers will include "Bendemeer's Stream," "Brown Bird Singing" and "Tally Ho."

During the opening business session, a collection is to be taken for the Franciscan Nuns' Fund, and every member is reminded to bring her pocket-book, not only for that worthy cause, but to help swell the yearly receipts of the Philanthropic Committee, which is having its fourth and last food sale, in connection with the meeting.

Another item of interest, will be the short address which Miss Doris Frenchwood, of the Massachusetts Safety Council, is to make on "Safety." Tickets for the annual luncheon on April 24th, will be on sale, in charge of Mrs. Richard A. Cody and the special committee appointed for that purpose.

The following day, Wednesday, March 21st, Mrs. Carolyn Welmer Bigham, who gave such satisfaction with her demonstration-lecture in January, is to give, by request, another talk, taking this time as her topic, "Sunday Night Supper Suggestions." The lecture is to be in the Workshop at 9:30 o'clock, and members are reminded that tickets can be secured of Mrs. Richard A. Cody, or of members of the American Home Committee.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Music and Drama Committees of the Newtonville Woman's Club will present a program entitled "Tunes, Tableaux, and Terpsichore" at the next regular meeting on March 20th, in the auditorium of the Newtonville Methodist Church.

Musical numbers, instrumental and vocal, are to be accompanied by tableaux under the arrangement of Mrs. Harold W. Shedd, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, and Mrs. Harold C. Bond. Miss Chelise Rogers Cook will contribute an interpretative dance. Mrs. Guy Del Gaizo and Miss Katharine Dickson, of the Hazel Boone School of Dancing, Boston, will dance in popular steps the numbers given in a classical group. About twenty of the Club members will participate in the program.

The entertainment is under the direction of Mrs. Cecil W. Clark and Mrs. Clinton Tylee, working with their committee members.

Mrs. E. L. Gilmore, 9 Gay street, will entertain the Garden Club, her home Wednesday, March 21st. The subject "Rock Gardens" will be discussed.

The American Home Committee urge Club members to attend their next meeting held in the Congregational Church Parlor, on March 27th. They have secured Mrs. Emma Fall Schofield, Assistant Attorney General for Massachusetts for their speaker and feel a large number will be glad to hear her.

Plans are well under way for the Arts and Crafts Exhibit to be held at the Bonmar-Atwood Studio on April 10th. People are urged to exhibit all kinds of craftsman work both amateur and professional. Mrs. Royal B. Farnum (Tel. N. N. 2774-R), will be glad to hear from anyone who has articles to contribute.

The authors of the Club are also reminded that the only manuscripts left to get the manuscripts for the short story contest into shape, so they must corral their muse and make her work at her best for them.

West Newton Community Service Club

Members of the Community Service Club of West Newton, are looking forward with curiosity and interest to their plans for the day of March 21st. Ideas, amusement, entertainment and sociability should make it one of the most noteworthy of this season.

Beginning at 10:30 a. m., in the Unitarian Parish House there will be Clinics on Correct Hairdressing, and on Color and Line in Clothes. Women who of course are already having delightful visions of a new spring wardrobe will be benefited by the ideas and suggestions, not to mention corrections, of experts who can guide them in the stylish way they should go. As for the hairdressing probably there is no problem that so besets the modern woman who wishes to appear à la mode, and yet who refuses to sacrifice the dignity of her tresses, or who has so sacrificed, to discover it to her dismay. Having acquired new confidence and ideas, the Club members will enjoy at 12:30 o'clock the box luncheon which they are asked to bring, and to which will be added coffee and ice cream by the Hospitality Committee. Having been refreshed and fortified, and enjoyed social respite, the members will have their business meeting at 2 o'clock, and view a Style Show as exemplified by Club members—a show that is always most amusing on account of the personal touch—in proof of what has previously been said at the Clinics. The Show is put on through the courtesy of Filene's of Boston.

In benefit of the Philanthropic Fund, the Club will on this date hold its Food Sale, an opportune choosing of time, since the array of knowledge and attire will doubtless call out an unusually large attendance.

State Federation

RADIO. Miss Marjorie B. Greene, Dean of the Boston School of Occupational Therapy will broadcast from station WNAC next Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. Anna C. Palmer, chairman of Public Health, is to introduce Miss Greene, whose topic is "Occupational Therapy as a Profession."

Blanche Winslow Porter, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Tucker Hirtz from the Watertown Woman's Club will furnish musical entertainment at 10:45.

Mrs. Mina H. A. Evans, chairman of Child Welfare, is to broadcast at 10:50 on "Walking, Play, Reading."

Social Science Club

Mrs. J. Porter Russell and Mrs. Nathan Heard will be the hostesses on Wednesday, March 21st, when Mrs. Curtis Nye Smith will read a paper on Elizabeth Fry.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

In the Venetian Room of the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, on Wednesday afternoon, March 21st, at 2:15 o'clock, Mr. Robert Kelso, executive secretary of Boston Council of Social Agencies, will speak on the work of these agencies. The program is in charge of Mrs. J. E. Spike, chairman of the Child Welfare Committee of the Boston Woman's Civics Club. Mrs. Mary B. Blakemore, of Newton, is to lead the Current Events period. Mrs. Mina Del Castillo will present special music for the meeting, and friends of the Club will be welcome at this interesting meeting. Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton, of Newton Highlands, president, will preside.

Newton Community Club

Miss Margaret Aubin, the treasurer of the Newton Community Club, gives her second financial talk, under the auspices of the American Home Committee, Mrs. LeRoy Guion, chairman, at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, March 20th.

Newton Community Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held on Thursday afternoon, March 8th, in the Underwood School Hall, with the president, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, presiding. After the usual routine business and notices, Mrs. Fitts gave the program over to the entertaining committee of the afternoon.

"Fourteen," a play written by Alice Geisenberg, and coached by Mrs. William F. M. Fawcett, was played by the following cast: Mrs. Horace Pringle, a woman of fashion, Gwendolyn Currier Fletcher; Elaine, her daughter, Marian H. Laurence; Durham, the butler, Margaret McKee Gerrity.

The scene of the play is laid in the dining-room of Mrs. Pringle's house. As the curtain rises the butler is putting the finishing touches to the dining table on which the covers are laid for fourteen guests. Owing to a blizzard and other circumstances, the guests one after another telephone their regrets at the last moment, the numbers of the guests changing from six to sixteen. All sorts of complications ensue until the play is brought to

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Newton people who read Frank Parker Stockbridge's article on "Small Town Papers" in the Saturday Evening Post must have noticed Mr. Stockbridge's complimentary reference to the Newton Graphic. Inasmuch as the Saturday Evening Post is widely read everywhere in this country it should be a source of satisfaction to residents of our city to find Newton has a paper which has earned such notable recognition. Under these circumstances I believe an excerpt from the article by Mr. Stockbridge should have a place in this column and I submit it here with.

Quoting Bert Mills of Oklahoma, an editor himself and proprietor of one of the best and most successful enterprises in the "small town" newspaper field, the article says:

"I think there's a decided tendency toward stronger editorial expression, as well as toward constructive community service, among country weeklies generally. That last is another matter which the National Editorial Association is encouraging. At its last convention the association gave a prize to the Clinton County Republican-News, published at St. Johns, Mich., for the greatest community service, in recognition of its campaigns to raise money for a county hospital, for fireproof vaults for the courthouse and for tuberculosis tests of cattle in the county.

"Awards like these, and the others which the association gives annually, are doing a great deal to stimulate country editors to produce better papers. The Brookings Register, in South Dakota, for example, holds the current award for the best front page. That puts the Eastern publishers on their mettle; but it was an Eastern paper, the Graphic of Newton, Mass., which won first prize in the association's advertising contest."

It will be remembered that recently in this column I sought to point out how interesting the everyday person would find a casual study of railroad locomotives. Far more illuminating and informing than my casual observations is a letter about the modern locomotive written to me by Mr. Arthur Curran of 16 Ballard street, Newton Centre.

Mr. Curran's letter, which I gladly pass along to the readers of this column, has so much valuable data, simply and comprehensively presented, that everybody is certain to enjoy reading it. He says:

"Having read with a great deal of interest your reference to locomotives in general, and Boston & Albany engines in particular, I desire to express my appreciation of your kind words and timely praise.

"The steam locomotive is, without doubt, the most interesting machine in existence. There are many reasons for this; among them, the vast amount of work and 'punishment' which it is able to stand. The modern locomotive performs its important duties without any labor on the part of its crew; since firing is done by stokers, bell is rung by compressed air, valve gear is manipulated by power reverse mechanism, and grates are shaken by labor-saving attachments.

"Spectacular bursts of speed by autos and airplanes occasionally capture the public attention; but these feats are of relatively little importance compared with the 'year in and year out' achievements of locomotives which are built for strictly commercial and economic purposes.

"It would be possible to build locomotives capable of speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour, but there is no popular demand for such velocities, nor would they be feasible on such a crooked and hilly road as the B. & A. When it is realized that Pullman cars weigh 75 to 80 tons each, it must be apparent that a 10 or 12 car train is no joke!

"When it comes to a consideration of freight service, the figures are very striking. Freight cars have a capacity of 50 tons or more (100,000 to about 140,000 lbs.) and are frequently made up into trains of 100 or more cars.

"The speed of these 'drag' freights is not high, but they represent the most economical mode of 'mass transportation'. And it is this 'mass transportation' which has made the United States the greatest country on earth. Shallow theorists do not know this, and that is why they often expose their ignorance by advocating fanciful methods of doing the nation's work. "Slippers can help to increase the efficiency of railroads by loading freight cars to the limit of their capacity. This, of course, is not always possible, because certain commodities are high and bulky. But where possible, cars should be well loaded in order to take full advantage of their capacity.

"How the locomotive of today—different in appearance only slightly from its predecessor of five or ten years ago—is far more efficient, is one of those romances of science and invention which should cheer the hearts of all who know the value of progress in the field of transportation."

Many people have asked me, "Do you know Captain George A. Parker, the new Registrar of Motor Vehicles?"

I can answer that I do and in that connection say that to say that I am confident he will make an excellent State official. I have known him for a number of years, beginning with the time he organized the State Police Patrol, and have always admired his method of administration as an executive officer.

Captain Parker is a hard-working man and will perform the duties of his office regardless of the demands on his time and strength. He was always alert as captain of the Police Patrol and in times of stress had no hesitation in spending all night at his office in the State House, catching a little sleep if the opportunity came, but content to go without rest if necessary.

His work as head of the prohibition forces in New England was also conspicuous for courage and earnestness. Some of the very largest seizures ever item came before them, "I wonder if I'd take this job for the money that goes with it?"

Something has been said anent the School Board's disinclination to have their meetings reported. What's happened? I can remember the time when reporters were provided with a special table and comfortable chairs from which they observed all the goings-on. Long accounts were prepared, not only for the weeklies, but for the Boston dailies when the news warranted.

There didn't seem to be any objections in those days. Everybody took it for granted that the School Board meetings were fully as important and of equal interest as those of the Board of Aldermen. As I recall, the School Board members would have felt slighted if no attention had been paid their official doings.

I cannot understand why there should be any "covering-up" if such there is. It's all a matter of public record and must at some time be available to the citizens. Attempts to discourage reporting for the press is apt to be misunderstood. Some people are easily made suspicious. In the matter of the School Board no one for a moment thinks but what the board is an earnest and conscientious body striving to do its best for the city. But to "hold out" news leads to wrong conclusions on the part of those who fail to comprehend.

If the School Board members are sensitive about having their names in print they should remember that fame has its penalty and that newspapers are not hostile to them but eager for news. I trust, if there are differences on this point between news-makers and news-writers it may be adjusted and the public informed of that which it is properly entitled to learn.

Local Curate Goes To Woburn--Here 24 Years

Rev. James F. Haney, for 24 years curate at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Centre, was appointed last week pastor of St. Joseph's Church, East Woburn. He assumed his new duties on Wednesday of this week. At all the masses in the Sacred Heart Church last Sunday, Father Haney gave farewell addresses to the people among whom he has labored since shortly after his ordination. During the many years that Fr. Haney was stationed at Newton Centre, he served as assistant to three pastors, Rev. Dennis Wholey, Rev. Daniel Rindan and the present pastor, Rev. Timothy Curtin. Fr. Haney was born in Roxbury 51 years ago and graduated from St. Charles College, Ellipton City, Maryland, in 1899. Entering St. John's Seminary, he was ordained in 1904 and a month later came to Newton Centre. Among the organizations of the parish which he has directed are the Holy Name Society and the two sodalities of the married and single ladies. He assisted in forming a Boys' Scout Troop composed of boys in his parish and was a member of the executive committee of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of Newton. Father Haney has been unremitting in his efforts to aid whoever in the parish needed assistance and his transfer from Newton Centre has caused much regret in that section and in Newton Highlands.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"My Summer Trip to Greenland," by Prof. George H. Barton, illustrated with colored lantern slides will be given at the Children's Museum of Boston, Sunday, March 18, at 3:30 p. m. A special display of valuable Eskimo articles loaned by Mrs. Samuel M. Barker will be shown Sunday in connection with Prof. Barton's recital of his north-land experiences.

Saturday's program at the Museum in Jamaica Plain, as announced by Miss Mildred Mander, director, will include a Story Hour for younger children at 10:30 in the morning and a travel lecture at 3:30 p. m. on "Switzerland," by W. P. Friederich, a native of that country who has been secured to talk through the Cosmopolitan Club of Boston.

The Children's Museum is open without admission charge on week days from 9 to 5, and on Sundays from 1:30 to 5 p. m. Special programs are arranged for every week-end.

NONANTUM GIRL'S HIP BROKEN

As a result of a bad automobile accident at the Children's Museum Sunday night when a car driven by Tony Casella of 320 River street, that city, collided with another car and crashing through a rail fence on River street, near Newton, plunged down a steep bank, Helen Pitts, 17, of 43 Rustic street, Newton, received fractures of the hip and pelvis and may be permanently crippled. She was removed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, William Davis, 20, of Crescent street, Waltham, received a cut in his head which required several stitches. According to a report received by the Waltham police Casella was driving his car about 30 miles an hour when it collided with a car driven by Telephone Bildeau of Mt. Pleasant street, Waltham. An application for a complaint for dangerous driving has been made against Casella.

ALDERMEN TOUR OAK HILL

Members of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton aldermen under the lead of Chairman Baker made a tour of Oak Hill and that part of Newton Highlands south of Boylston street on Sunday afternoon. The matter of zoning this section is under consideration by the Board of Aldermen. A petition was received from Arthur Lewis of Dedham street asking that all of Oak Hill be placed in the single residence zone. This petition was changed so as to include all the territory south of Boylston street and east of Winchester street. A number of protests were made against this latter plan by persons residing along Parker, Walnut and Florence streets and in Thompsonville.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for John G. Lanning to Rachael F. Hunt the beautiful semi-bungalow type home of nine rooms and two baths, located at 889 Watertown street, in the West Newton district. With the house there are 8,000 square feet of land and a two-car garage and the total value of the property is $16,000.

Burns and Sons have also sold for A. L. Dinnor to Fred W. Briggs the single frame seven-room Dutch colonial residence located at 60 Concolor avenue in Newton. With the house there is a garage and 11,000 square feet of land, and the total value of the property is $16,500.

Burns and Sons have also sold for Louis F. Bachrach to Samuel Marshall ten lots of land situated on the corner of Clark and Boylston streets, in the Newton Highlands district. The lots contain a total area of approximately 100,000 feet and have a total value of $25,000. These lots have been purchased for development with both single and two-family houses.

The Burns agency report also the sale for John H. Moran to George Pratt Maxim of the two-family home located at 63-65 Brington road, Brookline. The house, which is of stucco exterior and duplex plan, has twelve rooms and two baths, and together with a two-car garage and 6,500 square feet of land is valued at $22,000.

Burns and Sons have also sold for Edmund F. Whitton his single seven room colonial home located at 135 Cabot street, Newtonville. With the house there is a garage and 6,500 square feet of land, and the total value of the property is $18,000. John T. Lancaster purchases for a home and will occupy the premises.

All the above sales have been negotiated through the Burns agency.

NEWTON TRADE CONSUMMATED

Alvord Bros. report that there has been unusual activity in exchanging Newton properties this winter. One of this type of transaction has just been placed on record, which involves the following properties:

No. 186 Langley road, Newton Centre, Colonial single dwelling containing eight rooms and bath. Eight thousand feet of land goes with this parcel; all assessed for $9,000.

No. 36 Rockledge road, Newton Highlands, a brick and frame single house of nine rooms and three baths, single garage, and approximately 12,000 square feet of land. The total assessment is $13,500. Leverett W. Hughes was the grantor of these properties.

Lot No. 6 in the attractive Plymouth road development in Newton Highlands, has just been conveyed to John E. Peakes for James H. Wentworth. Mr. Peakes will start very shortly to build a house for his parents. The land is valued at about $3,000.

Mr. Hughes takes title to 41,000 square feet of land on Croftdale road, Newton Centre, from Albert G. Potter, who in turn accepts the deeds to four large lots of over 10,000 feet each. Mr. Hughes intends to improve the property with a high type of modern brick house. Due to the recent subdivision these particular lots are not yet assessed. Although no information as to price has been disclosed by the brokers, it is understood that the total amount of money involved in this transfer is in excess of $57,000.

CLIFTON H. DWINNELL

Clifton H. Dwinnell, for many years a resident of West Newton, but more recently living at 79 Beacon street, Boston, died at the Phillips House, Boston, Tuesday, following an operation. He was born at Worcester 54 years ago, and spent his boyhood days in Fitchburg. Graduating from the Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1894, he entered the employ of the International Trust Company the next year and in 1898 became associated with the Shoe and Leather National Bank which was merged with the National Bank of Redemption several years later. In 1904 this bank was merged with the First National Bank and a year later Mr. Dwinnell was made a vice-president of this big financial institution. In 1926 when Daniel G. Wing relinquished the presidency of the First National Bank, Mr. Dwinnell was elected to succeed him. He was a member of the University of Union and St. Botolph Clubs of Boston, a trustee of Wellesley and Tufts Colleges and the Boston Public Library and a member of the corporation of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. He is survived by his widow, Clifton S. Dwinnell, Jr., and three daughters, Elizabeth and Nancy Dwinnell and Mrs. Sabrina Crosby.

His funeral service will be held this afternoon at 3 in the Second Church, West Newton, Rev. J. Edgar Park officiating.

MRS. JULIA SWEENEY

Mrs. Julia Sweeney of 35 Middle street, widow of William Sweeney, died at her late home on Wednesday. She was a native of West Meath, Ireland, and had resided in Newton for over 50 years. She is survived by three sons—John Sweeney of Dorchester, Patrick E. Sweeney of the Newton Taxi Service and James J. Sweeney of 35 Middle street, Newton. Her funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at the Church of Our Lady and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Part of the success of this play was due to the kindness of Mrs. R. S. Stebner of Waltham, who very generously coached the cast.

The story of the play centres upon the dismay of the elders of the modern slang, dress, and general disregard for all of the modes and manners that once were considered the quintessence of refinement by their daughters, nieces, and granddaughters, and their desperate taking of affairs into their own hands to effect a cure. Led by Aunt Connie (Mrs. Alvah Jordan) a metamorphosis, indeed, takes place, the quaint and refined Sewing Circle becoming the peppy of Slang Slingers. Mrs. Jordan, snipping furiously as her wrath increases with discussion of the ways of the D. D.'s, finally flings her shears upon the floor, while proclaiming that those letters are most suspicious and profane-sounding, although one of the boys says they mean the Dumb Doras. Mrs. Teulon as "grandma" in her beautiful flowered brocade and pailley shawl, expressed excellent horror at the idea of "doing something," that to her equals indeed desperate. The second scene sees the girls—each one acting her part with skill—reduced to tears and anguish at the loss of their dear refined elders, and plump, very very plump, Peggy Joy, played delightfully by Mrs. Charles Cunningham, has cause to bewail the slangy degradation of her grandmother, whom one would never have dreamed could become so proficient. They now cannot bear a word of slang, and woe to the girl who forgetfully uses it! Cured, they now seek a cure, and a happy return to golden days, and they set forth to accept—belatedly—the invitation to join the Sewing Circle. The last scene in which the elders appear in short skirts, amazingly narrow as well, is one that will long be remembered by the audience, this being one that cannot be described, but can only be considered as evidence that every member of the group made the most of her talent as actor and in her part. All's well that ends well, and the cure being mutual, we learn that the D. D.'s are Diligent Daughters.

Mrs. Florence Owen, contralto, accompanied by Mrs. George Owen, gave a group of songs which were much appreciated by a large audience. "Per ba gloria d'advarol" madrigal from "Griselda," by Bononcini; "L'abbelle," by Hidor; "Ich liebe dich," by Beethoven; "Summer is a coming" (traditional) arranged by Martin Shaw; "A Caravan from China Air" by Warren Storey Soule; and "What's in the air today?" by Eden. The audience was most delighted with Miss Owen, who responded to the applause in a most gracious and dignified manner.

The next number on the program was "Overture," a one-act play by Miss Alice Gelstenberg. This little play was most artistically presented. The characters were: Harriet, a cultured woman, Mrs. Dorothy Moyer; Hetty, her primitive self, Mrs. Helen A. Green; Margaret, a cultured woman, Mrs. Lenice Bacon; and Maggie, her primitive self, Mrs. Lucile Cutler. The scene is Harriet's fashionable living room. Mrs. Bessie M. Stratton was the coach. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. D. A. White, chairman, Mrs. L. O. Cummings, Mrs. D. M. Goodridge, Mrs. E. W. Marchur, Mrs. Wesley J. McCarthy, and Mrs. Jessie A. Rogers.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club met on Friday, March 9th, at 2:30 o'clock in the Unitarian Parish House. Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, president, presided, and during the business meeting brought before the members for their attention and expression of opinion many matters of Club interest, this with a view of guiding the Executive Board in decisions upon these matters. The wisdom of such a course is proven by the arousing of thought, and the sharing of responsibility, and serves to make members take keener interest in the Club's future and welfare, since they have a part in decisions, and also makes them realize how great is the burden of judgment and responsibility which is placed upon officers, and often not adequately appreciated because not known.

Attention was called to the Food Sale which will be held at the next meeting, under the capable management of Mrs. John R. McLean, it being stressed that this activity is the only one by which funds are raised for many important Club activities, and members were urged to contribute generously in articles of food and in purchasing, for the success of the affair.

After the business meeting a clever three-act comedy called "New Look What You've Done," in charge of Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson, was put on by members of the Club. Mrs. Hugo Sharpe, a Club member very kindly furnished music before and between the acts. Her selections were lively and appropriate to the occasion.

The play was as follows: The Sewing Circle—Mrs. Bonner, Mrs. Victoria Ratzburg; Mrs. Joy, "grandma," Mrs. Arthur Teulon; Miss Van Pelt, "Aunt Connie," Mrs. Alvah Jordan; Miss Semple, "Aunt Sue," Mrs. Ernest Robinson; Mrs. Dobson, Mrs. George H. Jackson; and Mrs. MacIntyre, Mrs. Wilson C. Dort.

The D. D.'s—Mabel Bonner, Mrs. Mabel Warren, Peggy Joy, Mrs. Charles Cunningham; Connie Van Pelt, Mrs. Ernest Reid; Sharlie Semple, Mrs. Joseph Otis; and Betty Dobson, Mrs. Albert Elwell.

The Travel Class of this Club met on Monday, March 12th, at the home of Mrs. Willard Church, 356 Waltham street, West Newton, with Mrs. John R. McLean, assisting the hostess. An interesting paper on "American Wars," by Mrs. H. F. Hartwell, was read, mentioning and giving outstanding facts of the French and Indian Wars, the Revolution, War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, Spanish War, and World War. Mrs. Hartwell gave a very interesting account of a motor trip through the Shenandoah Valley this past summer, and her description of the beautiful scenery, the wonderful roads and many points of interest made all who heard her eager to follow her in the journey.

"Waterfalls of the United States" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. A. L. Day. The first great waterfall described was that of the Yosemite, and among other falls familiar to readers and travellers were the Nevada Falls, Vernal Falls, both in Yosemite Park; Yellowstone Falls, Idaho Falls, Shoshone Falls, and Niagara. Niagara was especially featured in detail and one felt as though one had really visited this beautiful spot after hearing it described. This paper was read by Mrs. Harry Wells in the absence of Mrs. Day, who is now in "Pinehurst," N. C.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. George F. Howland of Vista avenue, opened her home on Tuesday morning to the members of the Auburndale Review Club and their guests. The study of German Literature was continued with papers on "Schiller," "Wagner," and "Heine." The first one, on "Schiller," was by Mrs. Eugene Ufford, who was chairman of the day. She told interesting events in the life of this writer, who, at the age of fourteen, wrote poetry, and who was, without doubt, the most popular and the most beloved man of his day. Mrs. Nelson Freeman had the topic of "Wagner and His Works," and her knowledge of music and composers made this a very happy choice. The last paper was on "Heine," and was by Miss Margaret Haskell, who based her interpretation of the man and his works, on the recent book by Lois Brown "The Man Heine," describing him as a rather caustic writer who spared neither friend nor foe in his essays. Two piano duets, "The Evening Star" and "The Grand March" from Tannhauser were played by Mrs. Nelson Freeman and Miss Ruth Ufford.

ARRESTED FOR STORE THEFTS

Policemen Connolly and MacCauley of the Roxbury Crossing station, accompanied by Patrolmen Feeley and Foley of the Newton police, went to a rooming house at 18 Pearl street, Newton, early last Friday morning and arrested Robert McPherson, alias Wallace, 22, who roomed at that address, Pasquale Jardino, 21, of Revere, and Ted Koufos, 19, employed as counter man in a Newton lunchroom. These three arrests followed that of James McKeown of the South End in Boston, the preceding day. Later McPherson was released but Koufos and Jardino, together with McKeown were held for the Grand Jury of Suffolk County in $20,000 bonds each. The three are suspected of being the bandits who have been entering chain grocery stores in Greater Boston during the past month and robbing the store managers at pistol point. A revolver was found in one of the rooms occupied by the trio.

HURT IN AUTO SMASH

An automobile driven by Joseph McMullin of 60 Cook street, Newton Highlands, collided on Friday afternoon with a car driven by Mrs. Beatrice Hirsch of 280 Ward street, Newton Centre. The accident occurred on Commonwealth avenue, near Lake street, and according to the police report was caused by the McMullin car skidding on the slippery street surface. Mrs. Hirsch received severe cuts on the head and was rendered unconscious. She was taken to the Newton Hospital.

JURORS DRAWN

A number of jurors were drawn at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Or to be more exact the names of a number of Newton men, who will serve as jurors at the April sessions of the Superior Court at Cambridge, were drawn. The fortunate individuals are—Donald Cornish, 52 Judkins street; Frank Cunningham, 79 West Pine street; Ray Durnal, 2158 Commonwealth avenue; Alexander Melsaac, 149 Jackson road; Robert F. Sawyer, 23 Indiana terrace; Thomas W. Furden, 1059 Beacon street; James Mills, 50 Dalby street; Joseph F. Ryan, 4 Auburndale avenue; John G. Mulligan, 223 Adams street; John Costigan, 19 Clinton street; Leighton Sherman, 567 Watertown street; Joseph B. Jamieson, 34 Eldridge street; Walter Blackler, 241 Austin street.

BUSES TO WEST NEWTON

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway has petitioned the Board of Aldermen for the right to run buses on the West Newton-Waltham line in place of the electric cars which have furnished transportation on this route for nearly 40 years. Soon the buses will be running over this route and then the Framingham line will be the only route on which the old familiar "trolleys" will run.

ELKS ELECT OFFICERS

Newton Lodge of Elks held its annual election of officers on Thursday, March 8. Over 500 members of the lodge visited the home during the afternoon and evening to cast ballots. Frank L. Wilcox of Newtonville had no opposition for election as Exalted Ruler, being advanced to that position from the office of Leading Knight. William M. Noone of West Newton, who served as Loyal Knight during the past year was elected Leading Knight, unopposed. Augustus Heck was elected Loyal Knight and J. Edward Callahan, who has served for some years as Secretary of the lodge, was elected Lecturing Knight. Thomas F. Coppinger of Newtonville was elected Secretary, Vincent Turley, Treasurer, Matthew Hurley, Tyler, and Stephen Hughes, trustee.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The semi-annual concert of the Newton Choral Society will be held on Tuesday evening, April 10, at the Central Church, Newtonville. The dress rehearsal will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 8, at that church. The members are requested to attend all rehearsals from now on.

Over One Thousand Unemployed in City

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has during the past few weeks made a survey of business conditions and the unemployment situation in Newton. This was prompted by a desire to not only determine the actual extent of unemployment in the city but also to ascertain, if possible, the extent to which this will probably be relieved through the resumption of building activities and outside construction work that normally occurs each spring. Practically all of the manufacturers of the city have been interviewed, with many of the larger contractors, representatives of labor organizations, city officials, and those directing much of the charitable work of the city.

That considerably more than a thousand Newton people are now out of work and that present conditions are much more serious than any which have existed since the depression during the winter of 1921-22 are facts which may easily be verified. Local welfare workers estimate that more than half of Newton's unemployed are heads of families and aid is being extended through the City Charity Department, the Newton Welfare Bureau, and other charitable agencies to an extent which is far in excess of anything required during the past five years.

It is estimated by the City Charity Department that the relief now being given because of unemployment is 75 per cent more than normal at this time of the year. Relief and aid being dispensed by other charitable agencies, church organizations, and others has reached proportions that denote serious conditions in several sections of the city, while the Newton Welfare Bureau is carrying an unusually heavy burden, extending relief to a larger number than ever before and taking care of a much larger number of entire families than is usual even during the winter months.

The executives of the Welfare Bureau report that many of those now receiving assistance are out of work for the first time. Aid is being extended to carpenters, painters, plasterers and others in the building trades, a condition that has never previously existed in the bureau. Many families who habitually require part aid are now being given full aid, and many combinations of unemployment and illness have obliged a number to seek aid who could have borne the burden of either misfortune by itself. Could the average contributors to the work of the Welfare Bureau know that vast amount of good that is being done by that organization in the present emergency it is probable that many contributions would be doubled next year.

School authorities report that present conditions are quite obviously reflected in the health and physical condition of the children in the schools. Milkmen report many instances in which families with small children are forced to cut off their milk supply, the Welfare Bureau is trying to find a way to extend relief to all deserving cases brought to their attention. Anyone in Newton who is in a position to offer employment to painters, carpenters, laborers, and others is urged to get in touch with the Welfare Bureau. In doing this they will not only assist some worthy individual but will also help to lighten the unusually heavy burden being carried by the charitable agencies at this time.

It is estimated that three hundred or more men are out of work in the building trades, practically all of whom are expected to be back at work in about a month. An equal number, perhaps even more, who are normally employed on outside construction work including 250 awaiting the resumption of activities by one of the largest local contracting firms and sixty men laid off in various city departments hope to be back at work before May 1. Reasonably certain indications are that the city employees will be restored to the wage-earning class by the end of the present month.

At the headquarters of the Newton Building Trades Council it is stated that carpenters and others engaged in building activities are being returned to work at the rate of ten or twelve each day, and that practically all craftsmen who are now out of work will be working again early in April. This does not include, however, a substantial number of helpers, laborers, and other unskilled help which have made it their custom since the textile plants began slowing down to seek outside work during the summer months, returning to the mills for the usually busy winter season.

One group of unemployed exceedingly difficult to estimate comprises those employed in normal times by the many so-called small contractors, masons, and excavating contractors, painters, plasterers, grandfathers and sidewalk contractors and others who normally employ from two or three to a dozen or fifteen men each. Another situation almost impossible to check up is the number of Newton people ordinarily employed in factories in Waltham, Watertown, and other places who are now out of work. Welfare agencies estimate both of these groups to be large, as indicated by the calls for aid that are being received daily from these classes of wage earners not covered in the survey of the Chamber.

The really serious unemployment problem, however, and one that promises to continue over an extended period is among the industrial workers of the city. While it is difficult to estimate with any great degree of accuracy the number of Newton residents who have lost their jobs in industrial plants outside of Newton, it has not proven difficult to determine the approximate number who are now out of work because of the curtailed activities in industries located within the city.

The most serious situation unquestionably exists in the Nonantum section. While the business of the Earnshaw Knitting Mills is expanding consistently and that company now employs 500 hands, approximately 100 more than a year ago, and several other plants are holding their own under present conditions, the recent closing of the Saxony Worsted Mills, which is reported to have thrown more than a hundred people out of work, and the closing of the Aetna Mills in Watertown, which employed a large number of Newton people—following the removal to the South of the manufacturing activities of the Silver Lake cordage plant a year or more ago—has resulted in a greater number of Nonantum residents being out of work than for several years.

Whether the Saxony Mills will reopen, or when, will be determined by future business conditions which—as is generally known—are none too promising in the textile field. The plant of the Silver Lake Company is for sale and the Aetna Mills are not expected to reopen. While those plants carrying the usual complement of help anticipate they will be able to continue on the present basis, in fact hope for the customary seasonal increase in business, practically all make it plain that they can be of no material assistance in relieving the unemployment situation for several months to come. Many Nonantum people are also employed ordinarily in the Security Mills at Newtonville, where the usual force of 250 hands has been reduced to 100. In an effort to keep this number busy, many stock orders are being put through and the time when the company will be able to resume operations on a normal basis is regarded as very uncertain.

Industrial conditions are brightening perceptibly, however, at Newton Upper Falls. The New England Spun Silk Company has no intention of materially reducing its working force of 500 people if it can possibly be avoided, although working largely at this time on stock orders. The Gamewell Fire Alarm Company anticipates a better business year in 1928 than in 1927, and the Stowe & Woodward factory, manufacturing rubber products, reports that business is a little better than normal, with a substantial addition to the plant to be put into operation during the coming year. The new plant of the New England Concrete Pipe Company, on Needham street, is expected to begin operations in May, and will at the start require about 25 unskilled men.

The most encouraging situation, from a local viewpoint, is found at the Saco-Lowell Shops, the city's largest industry. The work formerly done by a small machine shop of the company at Springfield is being transferred to this city, as is the foundry work of a large plant recently closed at Lowell. Jobbing contracts for outside interests are also materially helping to improve conditions in the foundry plant of the company. Where the company formerly employed from 800 to 900 men, about 450 have recently been employed, largely on a restricted time schedule. Conditions are expected to improve materially for those now employed and it is hoped that a substantial number of former employees may be taken back in the near future.

Conditions at Newton Lower Falls are a welcome contrast to other sections. Two or three comparatively small plants are working with reduced forces of help, but other plants report good business and have absorbed all available labor in that village. One manufacturer reports that he cannot get enough help living near his plant and the welfare agencies report that they have practically no calls for aid from the Lower Falls section. Conditions among the few West Newton industries are also improving. The largest of these, the Martin Manufacturing Company, curtain manufacturers, reports an influx of orders in February that should restore the situation to normal in a short time. The several building finish mills in the city report normal conditions for this time of the year, with working forces somewhat reduced but indications promising a resumption of activities in the spring.

To summarize the situation briefly, Newton may be said to have two unemployment problems at the present time, one of these, in the building trades and among those employed in other outside work, is regarded as more or less temporary although serious while it continues. This is expected to practically adjust itself within the next few weeks. The other problem, among the industrial workers, constitutes a situation which promises to continue for an indefinite period—for several months at least—and should cause grave concern.

Apartments Not Needed Because Of Rapid Growth Of City, Says Baker

Thorough Discussion of Situation Held at March Meeting of Newton Business Associates

The matter of changing the Building Code of Newton so as to permit the profitable erection of apartment houses in this city was thoroughly discussed at the meeting of the Newton Business Associates held at Vernon Court on Thursday, March 15. The guests and speakers of the evening were Alderman William B. Baker, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, and John Madden, former alderman from Ward 1. Mr. Baker's predecessor as chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee.

The matter of amending the Building Code so that it will be feasible to erect apartment buildings has been a much talked of topic in this city for the past few years and it has been the impression among many that the aldermen intended to take this step. The Newton Business Associates, composed of merchants and professional men of Newton Corner, supposed that they would hear something of a progressive, encouraging nature on this topic from Mr. Baker. They were disappointed. The West Newton alderman not only threw a wet blanket on the move to let down the bars on apartment houses. He dashed buckets of cold water on it. And, the remarks of Mr. Madden could hardly be construed as offering much solace to those who believed that Newton should have more apartment buildings.

Mr. Baker began his address by telling of the tremendous increase in the number of buildings, in the valuation of Newton, during the past five or six years. He read figures to show how rapidly this city has been growing. In 1907 the valuation of new buildings in Newton totalled $1,000,000. In 1915 the new buildings in this city were valued about $3,000,000. Then came the war and few new buildings were erected during the next several years. In 1920 the building growth in Newton hit its stride again with a $3,000,000 total, but it was in 1922 that the real boom landed with both feet in this city. The total valuation of new construction in that year was $6,927,000. In 1923, the total value of new construction was $6,800,000; in 1924, $8,600,000; in 1925, $12,297,000; in 1926, $8,000,000 and in 1927, $10,140,000. During the past five years $46,000,000 worth of new construction work has been done in Newton—as much as in the preceding 25 years. In the last six years 2538 single dwellings have been built and 842 two-family houses, furnishing accommodations for 4222 families. Allowing an average of four to a family this means that dwellings for 17,000 persons have been erected during the past six years in this city.

Mr. Baker explained that although Newton is the 13th city in population in Massachusetts, it was 5th in the amount of new building in 1924, fourth in 1925, third in 1926 and second last year. This fact according to Mr. Baker, "Refutes the contention made by some that something should be done to bring people to Newton." He explained that although the great increase in Newton's valuation has added large amounts to the revenues of the city, its expenses have also been very rapidly growing. In 1918 the cost of running Newton was $1,604,000, in 1927 it was $3,835,000. During the period between these two years the population of the city has increased 28%, the tax rate 50%, the debt of the city 102%, the cost of running the city 172%. Since 1920 eight new schools costing $3,045,000 have been built and several more must be erected within the next several years. Mr. Baker explained that under the present zoning law apartment houses may be built in any business or general residence zone, must be of fire-proof construction if over 4000 square feet in area, over 3 stories high, or hit its stride again with a $3,000,000

Struck By Two Autos-- Woman Fatally Hurt

Rain and Darkness Contribute To Cause Accident on Washington St.

About 7:30 last night as Miss Katherine Monahan, 70, of 507 Centre street, Newton, was crossing Washington street from the Church street bridge towards Jewett street, she was struck by an auto operated by Edward J. Hicks of 42 Williams street, Newton. Hicks, who was proceeding towards Newton Corner stopped his car and started back to the woman's aid. Before he could reach her Patrick Donahue of 79 Oak avenue, West Newton, who had been driving in the direction of Newtonville, stopped his car and ran to help the victim. Before he reached her she started to struggle to her feet and as Donahue was about to support her, another automobile driven by Paul James of 309 Newton street, Waltham, hit both the woman and Donahue. Donahue received an injury to his head and cuts on the face and body.

Miss Monahan was carried into the office of Dr. O'Leary nearby but he was not in and the police ambulance was telephoned for. It responded quickly but the victim was dead before it arrived.

Both Hicks and James claimed they did not see either the woman or Donahue until the cars hit them.

NEWTON'S HEALTH REPORT

There were 51 deaths in Newton last month—23 males and 28 females—a rate of 10.81 for each 1000 of population as compared with 47 deaths for the same month last year. Four persons died from apoplexy, ten from heart disease, seven from cancer. Communicable diseases reported during February included 5 cases of diphtheria, 15 of scarlet fever, 39 of measles, 47 of whooping cough, 34 of chicken pox, six of lobar pneumonia and four of tuberculosis. Three cases of typhoid were reported. The sanitary division of the Health Department investigated 17 complaints, abated 9 nuisances and made 28 inspections. The milk and food division inspected 48 markets and stores and tested 15 samples of milk.

Sites For Two Schools In Newtonville Chosen

To Relieve Congestion in Claffin and Horace Mann Districts

A communication from Mayor Childs to the Board of Aldermen read at the meeting Monday night revealed the proposed site of the new school which will be built to relieve the congestion in the Claffin district at Newtonville and the site of another proposed school which will be erected within a few years to care for the rapidly growing section of Newtonville around Crafts and California streets. The first site is bounded by Cabot street, Bridges and Parkway avenues, and Laundry Brook. It adjoins Cabot Park playground and is just west of that part of this playground which the School Committee suggested taking for this school.

The site for the school at the north side of Newtonville is in the vicinity of Nevada street and Linwood avenue.

ELECT WEST NEWTON MAN PRESIDENT

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the University Club, Natt W. Emerson of West Newton was elected president to succeed Joseph W. Powell, who has been president of the club since its organization in 1924. Mr. Emerson is well known in collegiate circles. He is a graduate of Dartmouth in the class of 1900 and is vice-president of the advertising firm of George Barton Co., Inc., of New York, Boston and Chicago. Because of his interest in civic affairs he has held many offices, among them chairman of the Boy Scouts committee of the West Newton Men's Club, chairman of the membership committee and director and vice-president of the Woodland Golf Club, a former member of the committee on committees of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a member of the board of governors of the West Newton Neighborhood Club, and chairman of the department of education and vocation at the University Club. This office he has held since its beginning and has brought to it a wisdom and understanding of its needs which have been invaluable. Victor M. Cutter of Newton was elected to the vice-presidency of the club to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Clifton H. Dwinell. Mr. Henry I. Harriman is another local man who is a vice-president of the organization.

APPOINTED ASSISTANT ASSESSORS

In a number of the precincts this year members of the police force will list the polls. There are three fewer assistant assessors than last year.

Former Auburndale Pastor Assumes Duties at Evansville

Yesterday at Evansville, Indiana, in an impressive yet simple ceremony, the Rev. Earl E. Harper, former pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale, was inaugurated as 16th president of Evansville College. Mr. Harper succeeded Dr. Alfred Hughes, now president of Hamline University at St. Paul, Minn. Rev. Mr. Harper, who is a former vice-president of the Kiwanis Club of Newton, is one of the two youngest college presidents in the United States.

The day's program opened with an educational conference at the college, at which Bishop William Anderson of Boston was the principal speaker. Noon luncheon was given by the college for some 80 delegates who were in attendance, choir members, seniors and the faculty, and was followed by a march to the coliseum, where the inaugural ceremony took place, there being about 200 in the academic procession.

The charge was there given Rev. Mr. Harper, and the keys of the college presented by Rev. Alfred F. Graiz, president of the college board of trustees. This was followed by an inaugural address by the new president. The program closed with a banquet attended by some 300 guests. The day's guests of honor were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Harper, parents of the president, of Marceline, Mo.

FORMER AUBURNDALE MAN ACCEPTS IMPORTANT POSITION

Mr. Louis Felix Ranlett, formerly of Auburndale, has accepted the responsible position of buyer of books for the libraries of Greater Boston. Mr. Ranlett will be remembered as one of our prominent young men, serving in the World War, and active in any movement for the betterment of his home town. He acted as treasurer when our Library was first started and did much to promote its growth.

A few years ago he married Miss Helen Miller, also of Auburndale, and they made their home in Fair Haven, where they both contributed much to the social and civic organizations of that town, he serving as librarian for the Millicent Library for a little more than two years.

Mr. Ranlett has written a number of short stories and last September his book "Let's Go," depicting his experiences in the World War was published by the Houghton, Mifflin Co. and has met with great success. He expects to assume his new duties the first of May.

EX-ALDERMAN HINCKLEY INJURED

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night, President Weeks informed the members that ex-Alderman Benjamin Hinckley of 17 Park street, Newton, had been seriously injured a couple of weeks ago in an automobile accident at Taunton and was in the Taunton Hospital with a fractured collar-bone and other injuries.

Aldermen Appropriate $25,000 More For Land Damages At Triangle Site

Standard Oil Company Receives Total of $40,000 for Property On Commonwealth Ave.

Little of interest came before the Board of Aldermen at its meeting Monday night and but few citizens were present to "listen in." Hearings on many matters formerly held at meetings of the full Board are now held before committees thus diverting attendance away from regular meetings to the committee meetings.

The Edison Company and the Telephone Company asked for locations for 2 poles on Gralyn road and four on Mandalay road. No persons appeared to oppose the petitions for drains and sewers in these streets—Westland avenue, Hosmer circle, Glassbury oval, Harding street and Sheffield road. Daniel Irwin as attorney for Clara Dumas made another one of his appearances for this client to object to a sewer in Upland road from Whitney road, westerly. Miss Dumas has consistently opposed sewer construction in Whitney and Upland roads, but this time Mr. Irwin was informed that his client will not be affected by the improvement petitioned for and will not be subjected to an assessment because of it.

Chairman Hawkins of the Franchises and Licenses Committee reported favorably on the petitions of Frank Vincenzo, 10 Wiltshire road, and William J. Doherty, Jr., 15 Broadway, for second-class taxi licenses, and Fred Briggs for four bowling alleys in the basement of the Old Fellows building at 1156 Walnut street, Newton Highlands. He also reported favorably on the petition of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway for a permit to run busses on the Newton, West Newton and Waltham route over Washington, Elm and River streets.

Alderman Baker, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee asked that this matter be referred back to his committee and to the City Solicitor that the permit might be given proper consideration and have the scrutiny and approval of the City Solicitor. His request was granted. Alderman Grebenstein of the Traffic Committee explained that when the busses will replace the electric cars on the West Newton-Waltham line, it is proposed to have them use Centre street, Newton Corner, in front of the Stevens Building as a terminal. It will be impracticable to have more busses stop at the present terminal in front of the Whitman Building. Much traffic congestion has resulted from the busses stopping at this point and the proposed arrangement will not only relieve the situation but will afford a terminal at about the same spot where the electric cars have had a terminal for nearly 40 years. The busses will be headed in the proper direction to continue on their return trips without being forced to make a difficult turn as is necessary from the terminal in front of the Whitman Building. To arrive at the terminal near the Stevens Building, the busses will turn down Bacon street from Washington street, and proceed via Pearl street to Centre. Alderman Powers suggested that it would be better to use Peabody street rather than Bacon, because the latter street is very narrow and will be filled with parked automobiles when the new business block at the corner of Washington and Bacon street will have been built.

Alderman Grebenstein, for the Traffic Committee, recommended that parking on Union street, Newton Centre, be limited to 30 minutes, and that automobiles be prohibited from turning around on this street. It has been proposed to make Union street a one-way street, but objections from business interests caused the change. Alderman Ball commented that when he had asked a year ago for a similar restriction at Newton Highlands, on Lincoln street, the request had been refused. Alderman Temperley inquired if a traffic officer will be present on Union street during the rush hour in the late afternoon to see that the new rule is obeyed. Mr. Grebenstein replied, "Chief Burke will have a policeman there in the rush hour to regulate traffic and the limited parking will prevent those who have used the street for all-day parking parties from monopolizing the parking space there. If the proposed restrictions do not work out satisfactorily, the street may be made a one-way thoroughfare. The Traffic Committee recommended 'leave to withdraw' on the petition to limit parking on Homer street near the churches. Both recommendations of the committee were adopted by the Board.

When the names of those appointed as assistant assessors were brought before the Board for confirmation, Alderman Powers stated that his attention had been called to the fact that one of the appointees is an employee of the city. He asked, "Is it legal to have a regular employee of the city

SEELEY THIRD IN 44-MILE RUN

Thirty-seven ambitious long-distance runners took the starting line in front of the Shepard Store in Providence last Saturday morning and waited for Robert Shepard, manager of the store, to fire the gun that would start them on their way in the second annual 44-mile joint between the Shepard Stores of Providence and Boston. Among the entries was William Seeley, a 21-year-old youth from Newtonville, whose achievements in the past few years in ten and fifteen-mile road races have brought him many honors. Clarence DeMar of Melrose, whose fame as a marathon runner needs no further chronicling in these columns, was also among the flock and was looked upon as the favorite to win. And win he did—and not only did he win but he set new world figures for like distances. He was 27 minutes and 37 seconds ahead of the second man, Leon Yeuell of Wakefield, and nearly an hour ahead of the third runner to finish, who was no less a person than Seeley, a former Newton High School runner. Seeley's time was 6 hours, 40 minutes and 12 seconds.

At the start of the race Kastrak of Melrose, a comparative unknown in the long-distance racing game, was leading as the Massachusetts line was crossed nearly five miles from the starting point. Gordon Legg of Everett was second, about a mile behind the leader, and Seeley and Thomas E. Walsh of the Boston News Bureau followed a half mile further behind, running side by side. A hundred yards in the rear came DeMar, Harold Roche of Melrose and George L. Dodge of Wakefield.

Legg took the lead coming into Attleboro and Kastrak was never a factor from then on. The other five men retained their relative positions. At North Attleboro, about 12 miles from the start, Legg still had a half-mile lead over Seeley with DeMar and Dodge 100 yards behind him. At Plainville, two miles further along, DeMar and Dodge, running side by side, caught Seeley and passed him. Seeley hung on for a while as the trio passed Legg. At the halfway mark, Wrentham, the Newtonville lad, dropped back and DeMar and Dodge were holding their place. At the Weber Duck Inn the veteran marathoner's pace was too much for his Wakefield pupil and DeMar had things all his own way from that time on. Step by step Dodge dropped behind.

Meanwhile Leon Yeuell was coming along strongly and at Norwood finally overhauled Seeley and then Dodge to take second place. The Newtonville lad also moved ahead of the second field man in the closing miles of the race to third position. Dodge finished fourth.

WOODWARD SCHOOL WINS PRIMARY TRACK MEET

Last Saturday morning a sporting event that made history was conducted on the Country Day School track and in the gym by the Newton private school with the senior boys acting as officials and having direct supervision of the meet. It was a private primary school meet with the athletes engaged in the competition being divided into those under nine years of age and those over. The Woodward School of Boston, with 20 entries, scored 28 1/2 points to annex the victory, with the Park School of Brookline second with 23 points. Dudley Road School of Newton Centre, with Jack Burdett scoring six points, was third. The Underwood and Mason public schools of Newton, which were allowed entry because they are sending several lads to Country Day School next year, combined to score 1 1/2 points. Other schools that did not figure in the division were Longwood Day School of Brookline and the Chestnut Hill School of Chestnut Hill. The winning school was awarded a cup given by Country Day School authorities and ribbons were given to the first three place winners in each event.

The future Paddocks, Hahns and Osbornes gave the spectators many a thrilling moment on the track and in the field. In the upper class Roger Draper of Park School and Jack Burdett of Dudley Road School were the high scorers with six points each. Draper won the high jump and was third in the dash, while Burdett was second in the dash and the broad jump. Outstanding athletes were Lester Potter of Park School and Sylvester Cunningham, also a Park School athlete, who won the dash and the broad jump, respectively.

In the younger class David Devens of Woodward was the high scorer with first in the broad jump and second in the dash for eight points. In the broad jump he was tied with Frank Gerrity of Underwood at 5 feet 2 1/2 inches but won the jump-off with a leap two inches better.

Exhibition relay races were run by two teams picked from the Country Day Varsity squad and also by two teams from the junior class. Exciting tug-of-war were put on by the teams from the primary schools but these did not figure in the point scoring. The summary:

Events for Boys Over Nine Years

30-Yard Dash (final heat)—Won by Lester Potter, Park; second, Jack Burdett, Dudley Road; third, Roger Draper, Park. 5 1/5 seconds.

Running High Jump—Won by Roger Draper, Park; second, tie between Graham Phillips, Woodward, and Mervin Knight, Mason, 3 feet, 4 inches.

Broad Jump—Won by Sylvester Cunningham, Park; second, Jack Burdett, Dudley Road; third, Richard Dowling, Park. 6 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

Relay Race—Park vs. Woodward (one lap)—Won by Park (Roger Draper, Sylvester Cunningham, Richard Dowling, Lester Potter); Woodward (Leonard Brywn, Robert Homens, William Haley, Graham Phillips).

At a meeting of the Newton High School Athletic Committee on Tuesday afternoon of this week the schedule of games drawn up by faculty manager Dr. Oscar Martin was approved. The schedule, as printed above, consists of eighteen games, six of which are away from home and only one open date which Dr. Martin is attempting to fill. At present negotiations are being held with Pawtucket High School of Rhode Island for May 26th, the open date.

The sectional stands which were erected last fall to accommodate spectators at the football games may possibly force the baseball team to play all of its games away from home. At the present time no one knows just who is going to take them down, when they are going to do it, nor what is going to be done with them. The school authorities say that it was agreed at the time the stands were erected by the city building department that the latter was to take them down but as yet that department has shown no inclination to do so and while there is yet over two weeks from the opening game of the season the stands are in the way of Coach Sullivan's squad of ballplayers who hope to get out of doors early next week if the weather is mild enough. The stands on the east side of the football field are about twenty yards back of third base and in short left field so that the entire area is utterly useless for a diamond while stands are there. The constant shifting of these stands is one of the many strong arguments used for the completion of the proposed development of the entire Clafin area to provide not only an ample number of athletic fields for use in different sports but would undoubtedly stimulate public cooperation in the building of a suitable stadium or stand in memory to the late Alfred W. Dickinson, Newton High coach, whose personality endeared him forever in the hearts of those with whom he came in contact. But whether or not the stands are taken down and the games to follow will open its season against Malden on April 11th. The game is slated for Newton but for the reasons already mentioned, it and the games to follow may be transferred to the opponents' fields. The game with Malden and the five to follow it give Newton one of the hardest early season schedules.

TECH FRESHMEN DEFEAT NEWTON

The Newton High School swimming team lost its final dual meet of the season last Saturday when they met the M. I. T. freshmen natators in the Newton Y tank and came out on the short end of a 35 to 21 score. Stutz of Tech was the individual star of the meet with two firsts, in the 40-yard and 100-yard freestyle events. David Scott in the breaststroke and Wales in the backstroke were Newton's only first-place winners.

Jimmy Essen and Billy Perry were the only Orange and Black mermen to score in two events. Essen took second in the dive and third in the breaststroke, while Perry took thirds in the 100-yard and 40-yard freestyle events. Other point scorers for Newton were Captain Harry Lodge with second in the 40-yard dash, Edgar Davidson with second in the backstroke, Franklin Thompson and George Hutchinson, second and third in the 200-yard swim, and McGrath third in the dive.

SPORT NOTES

Against Stiff Competition

Captain John Bryant of the Dartmouth swimming team is entered in the Eastern and National Intercollegiate championship swimming events in Philadelphia tomorrow and the next week Saturday. These two meets will uncover probable Olympic talent. In Bryant's favorite events, the 50-yard and 100-yard events, the West Newton youth will have stiff opposition. In the half-century dash he will go against the 1927 titleholder, Jim House of Yale. Bryant has piled up a long string of victories this season and will give House the battle of his life.

Osborne Awarded Letter

Lloyd Osborne was among the Exeter Academy swimming team members that were recently awarded their letters in recognition of their feats during the past season. Osborne holds the tank records for the 100 and 200 yard swims.

Baldwin Elected Captain

Bernard Baldwin has been elected captain of Browne & Nichols' hockey team for next winter. He is a defenseman and one of the leading athletes at the Cambridge private school, having one letter in baseball, football and track, in addition to those in the ice sport. He has two more years at the school and is but fifteen years old.

Whitmore One of Four Candidates

Holmes Whitmore, former Newton High first baseman and hockey star, who gained a reputation for himself this past winter as a wing one the Boston University Varsity hockey team although only a freshman, is now engaged in a merry battle for the position as first baseman on the Varsity nine. He is one of four freshmen trying for the berth. The others are Jack Elliot of Medford, Jack Caldwell of Dummer Academy and Arthur Murphy of Worcester Academy. The place at the initial corner is about the only berth as the area is very open and for other infield and outfield positions.

Bryant Timed in New Figures

The Dartmouth swimming team defeated the Syracuse University men last Saturday night at Hanover, 3 to 25. The Green natators took first in all of the events by inches. Captain Bryant, a West Newton youth, won his usual two first places in the 50-yard and 100-yard events. In the former he was pushed to a new tank record by Mergott of Syracuse, whom he defeated by a narrow margin. His time was 24 1/5 seconds.

Other Sports on p. 3

remainder of the April games. All of these are to be played on Clafin field with the exception of the Cambridge Latin affair which is to be played at Russell's Field, Cambridge.

As usual Newton will meet the other members of the Suburban league in home and home games. Cambridge Latin and Everett on Thursday, April 19th, and Saturday, April 21st, are the two league contests in the first six games. The new teams to appear this year on the schedule are Malden, Waltham, and either Pawtucket or the team that accepts the May 26th date. Newton has met Malden in years past while the arrangement of the game with the Watch City nine marks resumption after three years' break in relations both in baseball and football. The two schools will meet on the gridiron next fall. Taken all in all the schedule will offer the local nine some stiff opposition in its quest for the league and possibly wider championship honors.

Meanwhile Coach Sullivan is working his battery-men and infielders in the old gymnasium with hopes of getting out of doors early next week. The windy weather and the sun of this week has dried out the field fairly well so that by Monday or Tuesday if the weather is good, it should be in fair condition for use. It is still a question in the Newton mentor's mind whether or not Frank Spain will develop into a pitcher strong enough to go the full distance. At any rate the Waban youth is pretty certain to be at the shortstop position in case he doesn't come through as a pitcher. Donald Wilson, Bill Reilly and Bob Bennett are the three outstanding twirlers in the group with several others showing considerable promise. Arthur Wilson, Langdon Powers and Bill Anness are shaping up as the best catchers. Phil Andres, who was expected to give this trio a good run for the berth, is temporarily sprained ankle. While the Newton coach has some idea of the ability of the battery-men he will be able to judge them more easily when they get out of doors and pitch against the batters.

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton was held as usual at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday. President Dr. Cecil Clark presided and introduced the speaker, Mr. George Wood, a past-president of the Rotary Club of Boston, who took for his subject, "The Philosophy of Rotary." He told of the opportunities any man had for success and of how many, who were successful, only looked upon their achievements as from the egotistical side. By joining the Rotary movement this "bubble" was immediately pricked and each regained their boyhood outlook on life. In Rotary all barriers are down and the sole object of the members is to be of benefit to their community, family, and their fellow men both in business and social life. Mr. Wood also told of the worldwide influence Rotary possesses in every country and his audience listened attentively to the new views he gave them on Rotary philosophy.

The club welcomed George J. Martin and Benjamin Rae, both of whom recently returned from the south where they have been spending several weeks.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

A meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Church Activities was held on Tuesday, March 20, at the Grace Church Parish house. Luncheon was served after which a very interesting talk was given by Mrs. Frank H. Stewart of Newton Centre, on the work of the Children's Hospital, Boston. She spoke of the great work being done for sick children up to 12 years of age, regardless of race, color or sex, which should be familiar to everyone interested in children in order that no child needing medical or surgical care might be overlooked or neglected. It is the only general hospital for children in the United States and ministers to many thousand children each year through the large out-patient department for children whose parents have limited means as well as in its public and private wards.

This hospital receives no aid from the State or city and is entirely dependent upon its patients and the generosity of those interested in making the little children of today the well and strong citizens of tomorrow.

LENTEN INSTITUTE AT ELIOT CHURCH

The sixth session of the Lenten Institute of the Eliot Church of Newton will be held on Thursday afternoon and evening. Miss Ruth Isabel Seabury, Associate Secretary of the American Board, will be in charge of the children's story hour at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Following the supper which will be served from 5:00 to 7:00 o'clock, Miss Ruth Seabury will speak to the young people on the theme, "Outside Our World." At the assembly period which meets at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Clarence W. Dunham, D. D., of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, Dorchester, will deliver the devotional address.

MRS. EMMA RICE

Mrs. Emma Rice, formerly of 116 Waverley avenue, Newton, died at the home of a niece in Buffalo, N. Y., on March 18th. She was born in Chicopee the daughter of Sylvanus and Caroline Wesson Adams. Her parents moved to Vernon street, Newton, when she was a young woman and made their home here for many years. Upon her marriage to Edward H. Rice she moved with her husband to Pittsfield but returned after his death to Newton to live with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Leonard. She was a real home maker, a devoted friend and neighbor. She is survived by four nieces.

Her funeral service was held at Buffalo, New York. Interment was in the family lot in Springfield.

MRS. LAURA P. ELLIOTT

Mrs. Laura Pierce Elliott of 30 Saxon road, Newton Highlands, widow of Adolphus Elliott, died at her late home Sunday. She was born in Philadelphia 84 years ago and had resided at Newton Highlands for 21 years. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth P. Robinson of Newton Highlands, and two sons, Albert W. Elliott of Newton Centre and Fred J. Elliott of Newton Highlands. Her funeral service was held at her late residence Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. Rev. Charles O. Farrar officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

FUNERAL OF CLIFTON H. DWINNELL

Funeral services for Clifton H. Dwinnell were held last Friday afternoon at the Second Church, West Newton. A special train, leaving the South Station at 2:15 brought the friends of the deceased, including 125 officers and employees of the First National Bank of Boston. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Edgar Park of Wheaton College, formerly pastor of the Second Church. The music for the service was furnished by William Lester Bates, organist of the church; Baldesare Ferlaco, violinist, and Lawrence Rose, cellist. Miss Florence Owen sang.

FUNERAL OF W. F. WILLIAMS

Funeral services for William F. Williams of 156 Warren street, Newton Centre, who died suddenly in the South Station last Thursday evening of heart failure, were held at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, on Sunday afternoon. The services, which were simple, were conducted by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan. Among the friends who came to attend the services were members of the office forces of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in New York and Boston. Mr. Williams, who was a native of Smyrna, Del., entered the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as a youth and for the past eight years had been its New England passenger representative. His remains were taken to New York for burial.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

BOY KILLED BY TRUCK

Thomas Delaney, Jr., 10, son of Thomas Delaney of 16 1/2 Cutter street, Waltham, was killed instantly Monday evening at 5:30 when a large truck driven by Charles Dozois of 108 Taylor street, Waltham, ran over him. According to Dozois, the lad, who was playing with other boys, ran out in front of the truck.

NEWTON CENTRE CAR HIT

As Ward Schoenfeld of 15 Clark street, Newton Centre, was driving his car on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, opposite St. Paul street, Saturday morning, it was in collision with a car driven by Lillian Leven of 99 Elm Hill avenue, Roxbury, who was taking a lesson in driving from a teacher employed by an automobile school. Henry Schoenfeld of 15 Clark street received a severe shaking up.

WEST NEWTON WOMAN INJURED

EARLY MORNING FIRE

William J. Gerrity and his family of 12 Lincoln road, Newton, awakened earlier than usual Saturday morning when a fire starting in a closet in their home routed them from their beds at 4:55 o'clock. Box 241 was pulled and the blaze was controlled before much damage resulted to the building, which is owned by Carmine Gentile.

GIRL HIT BY AUTO

An automobile driven by Walter Murphy of 234 Cherry street, West Newton, while proceeding on River street, West Newton, Friday, hit Betty Grandinetti, 12, of 7 Cottage place. The child was taken to the Newton Hospital, where she was found to be suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and cuts on the body. Witnesses stated that the girl was playing with other children and ran onto the street in front of the automobile.

Friday morning a car driven by Catherine Johnson of 269 Woodland road, Auburndale, and a truck owned by the Newton Awning Company and driven by James Daniels of 149 Glen street, Watertown, collided at Margin and Putnam streets, West Newton.

BLAZE IN CELLAR

An alarm from Box 282 at 5:05 Sunday afternoon was for a fire in the cellar of the house occupied by Marion Hay at 257 California street, Nonantum. The damage was slight.

POLICE NEWS

Percy Bragdon of Salem street, Lynnfield, arrested by Inspector Goode Lynnfield, at 2 a. m., Saturday was in Newton Court Saturday charged with the larceny of articles from a garage in West Newton where he had been formerly employed. His case was continued until Monday.

Donald MacKay, Jr., of 605 Walnut street, Newtonville, arrested on February 5 charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, had this complaint against him quashed in court Saturday when the court found that the complaint had been drawn up on an old form which differs from the form now used.

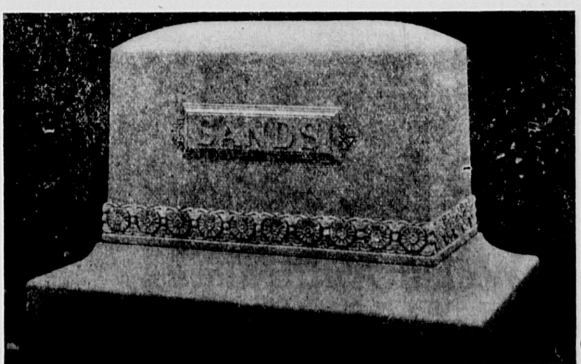

James A. FitzGerald of 148 Neholden street, Needham, was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor. He appealed and was ordered to furnish $400 bonds. He was arrested on February 27 by Patrolmen Condrin and Elliot.

Inspector Goode, after searching Brooklyn, N. Y., for several days, returned on Friday with Frank A. Mason, formerly an electrical contractor of this city but who recently has been residing in Brooklyn. Mason, against whom an indictment has been issued by the Grand Jury for desertion of his wife and five small children, was taken to Cambridge to be tried before the Superior Court.

Patrolman Hartford at 1:15 Sunday morning found a Chandler sedan abandoned on Commonwealth avenue near Rowe street. The car, the property of Lucretia McBush of 214 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill, was stolen in Boston on Saturday.

William Jones of 266 Adams street, Newton, was fined $10 in the Newton court Monday for speeding, and $5 for driving at night without proper lights.

LeBarron Wins Championship

Three of the four semi-finalists in the Class C individual squash racquets championship tournament conducted at the Union Boat Club the past few weeks were members of the two local clubs, the Newton Club of Newtonville and the Newton Centre Tennis Club. W. M. Snow and A. O. Wellman of the south side club met in the first semi-final match last Saturday with the former the victor in three straight but closely fought games. The other semi-final match between Arthur LeBarron of the Newton Club and A. O. Barker of the Union Boat Club was put over until Monday because of an injury to Barker's wrist. The Newtonville player eliminated Barker on Monday, 18-15, 15-9, 15-11 and then after a brief rest performed an "iron man" stunt by playing the final match with Snow. His victorious surge reached two games before being halted by his southside opponent who finally took the third game, 15-4. That was however, although he managed to tie the fourth game at 13-11. LeBarron won out 18-16 to end the contest and win the title.

Managers Appointed

Managers for three athletic teams for next season at Newton high were recently appointed. Brauford Baldwin will succeed Edward Appleton as hockey manager; Harold Jones will take over Donald Wilson's duties as indoor track manager and John Hitchcock has been reappointed basketball manager.

Andres Elected Class Treasurer

Harold Andres, whose football and hockey proclivities have brought him considerable prominence at Dartmouth where he is a freshman was recently elected as treasurer of his class. The Newtonville youth was a star of both the varsity eleven and sextet and should also make a place for himself on the first year class nine either behind the bat or in the outfield.

University Club Twice Trims Truro

Last week Friday and Saturday nights the University Club hockey team evened and then won its three-game series with the Truro, Nova Scotia, Bearcats. The Canadian sextet won the first game between the two teams some weeks ago in Canada, 4 to 1. Friday night the Hub outfit shut them out 3 to 0 to not only even the games but even the score in total goals. Saturday night the University Club team displayed all their skill and hockey wizardry to turn the visitors back 7 to 2. Friday night the local players on the Club team failed to figure in the scoring although Owen, Hodder and Ferguson had several shots at the net which were either wide or turned aside by the Canadians' goalie. Saturday, however, it was a different story. Of the seven Boston goals either Clark Hodder or George Owen figured in them all.

The first was by Hodder, single handed, the next by Owen in a similar manner, the third by Hodder, also unassisted, and the fourth by Owen on a rebound. All four came in the opening period. In the second, Truro started off by tallying once, but Hodder passed to Hardy, the right defence player, who found the net to hold the four-goal advantage. Nine minutes later Owen took a pass from Everett for another goal and then Hodder added the seventh all by himself. Following the face-off Truro counted their second goal to end the scoring. Hodder scored another in the first period which was not allowed for some unknown reason. Leardard was in the U. C. net for most of the time and had a few hard saves. Horace Cole, another local youth, got into the game for part of the time as the regulars rested.

Rising Gets Second in Javelin Throw

Philip Rising, a junior at Dartmouth College, placed second in the javelin throw in the recent interclass track meet at the Hanover College. Coach Harry Hillman hung a gigantic target on the wall and credit was given for accuracy only and not distance in the event.

Two Local Cushing Youths Get Letters

James Wells and Charles Diman, both local lads at Cushing Academy, have been awarded their letters as members of the school hockey team which recently completed a successful season.

Heinrich Third in Michigan Meet

William Heinrich, one of the Harvard track athletes to make the trip to Ann Arbor, Mich., last week-end, added a point to the Crimson's score in the 75-yard high hurdles by taking third. His efforts prevented the home team from scoring a clean sweep in the event and inasmuch as Harvard eventually won the meet by only two points it also had great bearing on the victory.

Freshmen Get Numerals

The Athletic Council also approved the award of class basketball numerals to fifteen freshmen as follows: Norman Adams, Charles Bassett, Maurice Corsi, Maurice Crane, Vincent DiAngelo, William Goodbar, Albert

Haberstroth, Harold Strombom, Richard Bailey, Jack Lawrence, Ben Whelden, Gordon Sidebotham, Marlin Poindexter, Thomas Morrison, and Thomas Malrow.

Dartmouth Awards Hockey Letters

The Dartmouth athletic council recently awarded letters to the varsity hockey team members which included Dick Rogers, the West Newton youth, whose scintillating play defeated Harvard in one of the biggest upsets of the past season. Rogers is a junior and is considered one of the outstanding candidates for next year's captaincy election which will be held next week.

Gilligan May Play Halfback

Next fall Newton football fans will probably see two former Newton high stars striving to outdo the other for a starting position as a halfback on the Harvard varsity eleven. Tommy Gilligan, star freshman quarterback last fall, who is among those attending the spring practice sessions, will most likely be used as a halfback by the varsity coaches. Guy Holbrook, whose trick knee is apt to cause him trouble at any time, has the advantage of a year's experience with the Crimson varsity squad and at times last fall showed much promise. He and Gilligan will give each other keen competition.

Hunnell Club Upsets Maugus

Wednesday night in a Newton league bowling match the Hunnwell Club team provided another upset by taking three points from the second place Maugus team at the latter's alleys. Greene was high man for the Hunnwell five with a total pinfall of 374. His 131 in the first string failed to bring victory when three of his teammates hit less than one hundred. In the second and final strings when he hit 129 and 123 it enabled the Hunnwell team to win although in each string two of his teammates were below their average. Colby hit 122 in the final string to make sure of the point for total pinfall. Richardson of Maugus hit 132 on his first attempt for the high single of the match. In other league matches Waban was the victim of E. A. A. for three points which put the Unicorns in second place ahead of Maugus. Middlesex increased its hold on first place by taking all four points from the Newton Club. The leaders failed by one pin to break the league single pin record of 595 in their first string. Their total of 1715 was amassed with Cobb and Stevenson each hitting 357 and Pratt, with a high single of 145, but ten pins behind them. Woodworth hit 331 and Crockett 323.

EDITORIAL

Mayor Childs' cuts in the departmental budget for the present year are largely in places where it will be necessary to make additional appropriations in the future. Saving in the item for resurfacing streets is poor economy in our opinion for if ever the admonition, "a stitch in time saves nine" was applicable it certainly applies to the resurfacing of streets. Other items in the Street Department which have been reduced by His Honor are in the same category and will most certainly call for further appropriations later in the year. Too many who have seen the city budget grow from a million to four millions of dollars, the present budget and the largest in the history of the city, will feel some apprehension as to the ability of the tax payers to meet its requirements.

We utterly fail to understand the attitude of the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature in rejecting the bill to levy a two-cent tax on gasoline. It is self-evident that the persons who use our highways most should pay more for the privilege than those who use them only occasionally and why sensible men should continue a system which compels every car owner to pay the same tax for unequal privileges is beyond our limited comprehension.

The late Clifton H. Dwinell was for many years a valued resident of West Newton and his death is sincerely mourned by his large circle of friends in this city.

LODGES

On Monday evening, March 19, The Golden Rule Association, consisting of Encampments, I. O. O. F., from Waltham, Allston, Natick, Hudson, Framingham, Milford and Garden City of Newton met with Garden City. The entertainment was furnished by each visiting encampment. Orchestral music, readings, piano solos and duets, banjo solos and duets, flute solo, a one man minstrel show. Refreshments served after the entertainment.

Monday evening, March 26th, the P. N. G.'s of Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold a whist party in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton.

Tuesday, March 27, the Odd Fellows Building Association will hold a whist party in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton.

A CORRECTION

In last week's Graphic was an item stating that an automobile accident on Commonwealth avenue near Ward street between cars driven by Joseph McMullen of 60 Cook street, Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Beatrice Hirsch of 280 Ward street, was caused by McMullen's car skidding on the slippery street. The police report does not give this as the cause of the accident and Mr. McMullen states that his car did not skid. According to the report a third car was involved in the accident.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The bill to provide that municipalities be authorized to permit the charging of admission fees to public parks and recreation fields has been re-committed to the Committee on Legislation. In this measure Newton has a peculiar interest because of the fact that receipts thus obtained should be applied to finance the building of a Dickinson Memorial Stadium on Clafin Field. The bill reads:

"In any city or town which accepts the provisions of this act, the city council or board of selectmen may make regulations for the charging of admission fees to competitive games, athletic events, or recreational entertainments held on any playground, public park, or recreational field, owned, maintained, or controlled by said municipalities, provided such use of the playground does not interfere with the general public use of such ground, park, or field.

"This act shall become effective upon its acceptance by the city council of any city or by the voters of a town at any town meeting."

Newton's four Representatives, Messrs. Hollis, Luitwieler, Saltonstall and Thompson voted in favor of a two-cent gasoline tax when the bill was passed to be engrossed by the House last Wednesday.

Newton was the first community, as far as it is known, to start the protest against school children "thumping" for rides in automobiles. This year a bill was put before the Legislature to make illegal the "thumping" for rides and the hopping on motor vehicles for purposes of riding. The Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles has turned down the proposition but has suggested to the Massachusetts Safety Council that it seek to accomplish the purpose desired by educational means. The Council has followed the suggestion by preparing lesson leaflets for public school teachers to use in teaching their pupils. Thousands of the leaflets are being circulated throughout the State.

The troublesome Elevated question is still unsettled. It has got as far as a public ownership bill reported by a 15 to 4 vote of the Street Railways and Metropolitan Affairs Committees. Such a measure is not approved by Gov. Fuller who has clearly intimated his intention of keeping the Legislature in session until it passes a bill of which he approves. Inasmuch as he has expressed himself in favor of a short term of public control it looks as if the Legislature would have to come to his way of thinking. Representative Hollis, a member of the Metropolitan Affairs Committee, voted against the public ownership bill in committee.

It is hoped that the Ways and Means Committee of the House will take favorable action on the bill offered by Representative Saltonstall and placed before the committee this week which authorizes the taking of land and the laying out of a route for a parkway from Newton and Hammond streets, Brookline, to Beacon street and Glen avenue, Newton Centre. There is a provision for an appropriation of $25,000 which appears to be an amount not too large to frighten the committee. That is, a larger sum might not meet with favor but considering the figures and the circumstances this bill should have a chance of a favorable report. Representative Saltonstall made out an excellent case before the committee, aided by Alderman Baker. Brookline officials expressed themselves in accord with the plan and there was no opposition.

Governor Fuller's active interest in getting through a bill to give voters a chance to state their preference for President at the primaries, April 24, has resulted in a bill reported by the Committee on Election Laws. At the hearing on the measure, Prof. Frederick L. Anderson of the Newton Theological Institution, candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican National convention, spoke in favor of it. The roll call by which the House of Representatives rejected the bill of the Commonwealth Service Association to reclassify and increase salaries of State employees revealed Messrs. Hollis, Luitwieler and Saltonstall against the measure. Representative Thompson was not recorded.

The Supreme Court has given an opinion that the referendum to the voters of Massachusetts on the repeal of the 18th amendment to the Federal constitution is not unconstitutional. This fact and the signing of the "padlock" bill, so called by Gov. Fuller, shows that the opponents of prohibition have made no headway whatever in this State this year. At least their efforts in the Legislature have not been productive of any results. It was not surprising that Gov. Fuller lost no time in signing the "padlock" bill. He has always been known as an ardent prohibitionist and has never wavered from a decided stand during his entire public life.

The development this week that has aroused friends of prohibition is the proposed attempt to secure a referendum on the "padlock" bill. This plan, if carried out, would mean that at the next State election the voters would be called upon to vote on the question of whether they desire such a law on the statute books.

The attempt to block the operation of the act calls for a lot of work on the part of those who would defeat it. They must first prepare a preliminary question the form of which is satisfactory to the Attorney General's Department. That is a matter of legal procedure. If the form is approved then 15,000 signatures of registered voters throughout the State must be obtained in order to have the question placed on the ballot. Getting names is no easy task—that is bona fide signatures of registered voters. Several times attempts have been made to prevent laws going on the statute books that were objectionable to a certain group, but only in a few instances have the attempts succeeded.

Should there be such a question regarding the "padlock" bill on the ballot next fall the prohibition forces may be expected to rally in sufficient numbers to save the day. At present, close observers express the belief that the "padlock" law is here to remain for good.

ALDERMAN BAKER TALKS ON APARTMENT HOUSES

housing 6 or more families. Practically no apartment buildings have been erected in the city since the present Building Code was enacted and only 19 such buildings are in Newton, including such buildings as those owned by the R. C. Taylor estate at Newton Corner—which are partly used for stores and offices. These 19 buildings contain 246 apartments. Building Commissioner Chadwick has recommended changes in the Building Code which modify somewhat the present strict requirements, and he also recommended a change in the Zoning Ordinance so that instead of it being permissible to build apartment houses in any part of General Residence zones, a special permit from the Board of Aldermen will be necessary before one can be erected.

Mr. Baker told his audience that the Claims and Rules Committee last year reached the conclusion that "general residence zones should be abolished and only private and single residence zones retained." Two-family houses may be erected in private residence zones, but the setback is 25 feet from the street line instead of 15 feet as in the general residence zones, and only 30% of the lot area may be built upon instead of 50% allowed in general residence zones. If this change should be made, apartment buildings could only be erected in business zones. He commented that nobody would want to modify the Building Code to the extent that buildings of an unsafe character will be allowed. According to Mr. Baker, there is a wide discrepancy in the estimates given by builders and real estate men as to the comparative costs of fireproof and second class construction. Some say 5%, others say 50%. He assumed that if the Building Code will be revised and the General Residence zones abolished, apartment houses may be erected on the rims of the business districts, and eventually additions may be made to these zones.

He questioned the wisdom of allowing large apartment buildings in the city when Newton is growing so fast that it is troubled with indigestion in its municipal finances. He remarked that anyone who has served in a government realizes that most of the people heard from are those who want something, and who are not inclined to gather evidence and think things through before they act.

Those in Newton, according to Mr. Baker, who desire apartments are—realtors who want to invest money profitably, bankers who want to loan money on such construction, and business men who want to sell more goods. Most of the arguments for apartments, if put in the scales, don't weigh much, in the opinion of Mr. Baker. He has not much sympathy for those business men who desire apartments to get more trade when over 4000 new families have come into the city during the past several years. He suggested that Newton's mortgagee get the patronage of all these newcomers by giving a good measure of service and emulating the methods of some of the big retail systems. While admitting that the argument in favor of apartments to provide for old residents who find it impracticable to longer maintain large houses is worthy of consideration, Mr. Baker did not see those over the contention that apartments are needed to furnish homes for the young newly-weds of Newton.

He remarked that modern apartment buildings tend to make many Americans "Cliff Dwellers" and that the younger generation who clamor for apartments replacing the old motto "Home Sweet Home" with the new one—"Let's Go," want no household cares—just a key to the apartment door and an automobile. It is not cost, but the desire to live easy that prompts the young married folks to dwell in apartments. They can live just as economically in a two-family house.

"People who live in Newton," said Mr. Baker, "are entitled to determine what sort of a city Newton shall be. Newton is a city of homes—albeit 247 of the 12,000 families in the city dwell in one and two-family houses. This is some evidence that such is the kind of city most people in Newton want." He continued, "While it is gratifying to live in a growing city, there is a danger that Newton is growing too fast. There has been too much building here in the last five years. This city will be a pleasant place in which to live if we never get over 100,000 population. If we make any change that will tend to stimulate apartment building, we should be careful of having made provisions that these apartments will be built in very limited areas. I would be sorry to see great rows of apartments built out to the sidewalks." Apartment buildings in Newton, if erected, in Mr. Baker's opinion, should have setbacks to allow for ample grass plots and shrubbery and plenty of parking space should be provided.

Ralph M. Patterson asked Mr. Baker, "Regardless as to how the apartment house question may be settled, is it a fact we must change our zoning law? Supposing we eliminate the general residence zones and do not build apartment houses, will that be a detriment to the city?" Mr. Baker replied that before any changes are made in the Building Code, the areas in which apartments may be erected should be limited. Otherwise they would spring up in high grade districts. Mr. Patterson then remarked that inasmuch as there is a considerable agitation for apartments in Newton this matter should be acted upon by the aldermen in order to settle the question definitely, one way or the other. Mr. Baker answered, "Personally, I do not think there is any pressing need for apartments. This city is growing faster than any city in Massachusetts. This very rapid growth is bringing financial obligations we are finding difficult to meet. We have worked hard to keep the tax rate low. If we move fast this problem will be aggravated. I am not opposed to a limited number of apartment buildings, but I see no need for haste. We should be sure we take the right step. I think this matter will come before the Board of Aldermen soon and that the Board will arrive at a sensible solution."

CLEMENT GALLICHAN

Clement Gallichan, a resident of Newton for 50 years, died yesterday. He was born in the Isle of Jersey 74 years ago, one of a family of 14 children. His sister, Miss Elise Gallichan, with whom he resided, is the last of this family. Mr. Gallichan was a gardener by occupation and worked for many years on the Burr estate at Newton. His funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 in Grace Church. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery. Besides his sister, he is survived by five nieces.

LEVERETT N. FREEMAN

Information from Santa Barbara, California, was received on Wednesday of the death of Leverett N. Freeman of 541 Ward street. He was born in Concord, New Hampshire, in 1873, and after graduating from school entered the banking business. In 1905 he became New Hampshire representative for Baker, Young & Co., and in 1916 was made a partner in that firm. Due to poor health he spent the winters of 1926 and 1927 in Santa Barbara and last year retired from business. He came back to Newton Centre last autumn and later returned to Santa Barbara, where he was residing with his brother. He is survived by his widow and two sons—Richard and Sibley.

—On the evening of Palm Sunday, April first, at seven thirty, the Choir of Saint John's Episcopal Church, (Lowell avenue and Old street), will sing one of the most musical of all Lenten Cantatas "From Olivet to Calvary" by Manner. This Cantata has enjoyed almost unprecedented popularity ever since it was first presented. The story told chiefly by tenor and bass, with frequent beautiful effective numbers for the full chorus, depicts most dramatically as well as reverently, the departure of the Master unto the Mount of Olives—the stirring events of His trial before Pilate—the "howls" of the mob demanding His crucifixion—the procession to Calvary and the death on the Cross—with a wonderful final chorus of hope to the world. The public is very cordially invited to enjoy this service.

MORTGAGE MONEY

In borrowing from an institution the borrower has much greater assurance of permanency of his loan than in borrowing from an individual or even from a trustee.

In borrowing from a local institution the added factor of friendly personal interest is present.

This Bank has funds to loan on mortgage of Newton real estate or on pledge of securities.

Court Of Honor At Newton Centre

The Court of Honor for awarding badges was held by the Mason School, Newton Centre, Mass., on Tuesday evening, March 20th, 1928, troops 5, 18 and 19 of Newton Centre acting as hosts.

At 7:45 Senior Scoutmaster Gileas gave the command and Troop 18 marched in under Scoutmaster Ohler. Troop 5 came next under Assistant Scoutmaster Emery, and Troop 19 followed under Scoutmaster Senter. The color ceremony was observed and then the Drum and Bugle Corps, under the direction of Acting Deputy Commissioner Edmonds, director, gave a brief concert.

At about 8 o'clock, eight "side-boys" lined up, four on each side of the door, and Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, Commandant of the first Naval District, walked in, escorted by Major A. B. Hitchcock, Chairman of the Newton Centre Boy Scout Citizens Committee. The Drum and Bugle Corps sounded four ruffles, the Scouts and audience rose courteously, and all Scouts and officers saluted as the Admiral crossed the floor to the Court Forum.

Commissioner Woodbridge, immediately declared the Court of Honor in Session, and Admiral Andrews awarded the bronze palm to Scout Charles Spilman, and spoke briefly to the Scouts and audience.

Awards were made by the following officers:

Second Class awards by Deputy Commissioner Bartram, and Donald J. Stimpson, of the Board of Scout Examinations.

First Class awards by Commissioner Woodbridge, and the Scout Executive, Merit Badges by the Scout Executive, and Maynard Hutchinson, Vice President of the Council.

A sea-going tang was given to the Court as the command was given to four Sea Scouts to "lay aft the Quarterdeck." Commander Pray, Cruising Officer of the Council, told about his cruise around the City of Newton, which is an island, and the desirability of boating and sailing. He then awarded the four badges, and the command was given "Go forward" and the Sea Scouts saluted, did about face and returned to their positions with a rolling gait peculiar to sailors.

The following is a complete list of the awards made:

The speaker at the Fellowship Club Monday evening, March 26th, will be Dr. Warren K. Lewis, Professor of Industrial Chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr. Lewis will talk on, "The Gasoline of the Future." A large number were out last Monday evening to hear Rev. Frank A. Lombard speak on, "Japan." It was a most enlightening talk and those present learned something about Japan and the Japanese people that only can be known by long association with them.

On Wednesday evening, March 28th, there will be a Parents' Night at the Newton Young Men's Christian Association building. The program will consist of a swimming exhibition by the Junior Leaders, induction exercises by members of the Torch Club, a short talk on Camp Frank A. Day illustrated with pictures, by Frank J. Perry, Jr., and an address, "On the Average," by Rev. Maurice L. Bullock. Refreshments will be served by the Social Committee of the Women's Auxiliary in charge of the Chairman, Mrs. Emmart LaCrosse.

This week two students of the Junior Class at Springfield College are observing the boys' work at the Newton Y. M. C. A. In addition to seeing boys' work as carried on in the Y. M. C. A. building, these young men are planning to visit the schools, the Boy Scout Court of Honor, and get first hand knowledge of some of the institution work being carried on by the churches. The young men are Ralph L. Yocom and Kenneth Vandervelp.

NORUMBEGA CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION

The monthly executive meeting of the Union was held Tuesday, Feb. 29, 1928, at the home of the counselor, Rev. Fred D. Hardy, 30 Bacon street, Waltham. Business meeting called to order by President Forbes and plans for the next meeting was discussed. After the motion was made to adjourn a dainty collation was served by the Harby sisters, Margaret and True.

The regular monthly meeting of the Union was held Thursday, March 15, 1928, at the Belmont Methodist Church on Common street, Belmont. The main speaker was George Flewelling formerly of Waverley, a past president of the Union and also the county. Supper was served at six thirty by the entertaining society.

April 10 marks a big day in Christian Endeavor. Our Middlesex Convention will be held at Woburn. President Forbes, "Genial Ed. Simpson" and Franklin Woodward led conferences at the Sagamore Union Convention February 22, 1928.

President Forbes was appointed head of the Resolutions Committee for the 19th of April convention by Nat. Trull, President of Middlesex County C. E. Union and Ex-President Colby was appointed Chairman of the Greetings Committee.

Ed and Mrs. Simpson were presented a beautiful pair of candle sticks from the Juniors of Sagamore Union for their faithful work. These are our newlyweds.

Norumbega Union was the first local Union of our county Union to go over the top in the 50-50 campaign. Good work societies, keep it up.

Waverley Baptist held a very enjoyable coasting party Monday, February 20, 1928. A party of 30 live wires left for the golf club and a good time was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served at Pillsbury's. Waltham First Baptist is planning a play. There is plenty of live material here.

Payson Park society is doing good work under its new officers and we welcome them back into our midst. Waverley Baptist is the possessor of the Champion Bowlers. Cheer up some one is going to take a fall out of them yet.

Plymouth Congregational—our baby society, is fast growing up and is now as good as any we have. The Norumbega Junior C. E. Rally Birthday celebration will be held at the Waltham Baptist Church on Sunday, March 25th, from 3 to 5 p. m. The program includes special music by the Newton North Juniors. Refreshments will be served.

HARMONICA BAND BROADCAST

On Monday evening, March 12th, at 6 o'clock the Newton Playgrounds Harmonica Band made its successful debut over the air through the courtesy of station WNAC.

This band was organized during the vacation months of last summer by Mr. John Pardee through the efforts of the Superintendent of Playgrounds, Mr. Ernest Hermann, who, realizing its great possibilities, has done everything within his power to encourage the band and its leader. The Kiwanis Club also showed its interest by contributing 300 harmonicas.

Mr. Pardee took the boys in hand and with great patience drilled them in the art of harmonica playing until at the present time they are progressing rapidly and showing great enthusiasm in the work.

Folks listening in Monday evening will agree that they have great prospects.

It may interest the boys and girls to learn that plans are now being made by the Playgrounds officials for an inter-city harmonica contest.

See about learning to play now and be a member of the winning band. The only requirements are a key C Marine band harmonica and a will to learn.

At the meeting of the Blue Triangle Club held last Monday night, Mrs. Alden H. Clark spoke in a most entertaining way of life and work in India.

At the meeting of the club next Monday night, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield will give the first of several talks on the appreciation of music. All the members of the club know Mrs. Mansfield, and are looking forward eagerly to her presence with them at this time and to the interesting talk which they know she will give.

The members of the Blue Triangle Club voted to hold a bridge party in April in the rooms at 251 Washington street also for the benefit of the maintenance fund of the Association. The girls are very anxious to show their loyalty and their appreciation of the Association by making an additional contribution to the work.

The gymnasium groups and the clubs for younger girls are all meeting according to their usual schedules. Further information about any of these affairs can be obtained by calling Newton North 3447.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

In the week ending March 17 the hospital had 127 patients 43 of whom paid as much as the cost of their care or more, 51 paid less than cost of care and 33 including babies were free patients. The out patient department treated 134 patients, the eye clinic 6 and there were 8 accident cases. Of the eight babies born during the week three were girls and five boys. The social service department made six calls at homes and transferred three patients in its car.

For the first time in its history the hospital has a woman as a member of its executive committee; Mrs. Alston Burr of Chestnut Hill being now one of the committee. Mr. Wickliff J. Spaulding is the chairman, and the other members are Messrs. A. H. Elder, the secretary; Herbert M. Cole, E. J. Frost, J. H. Sellman, C. Kelsey, Charles B. Gordon, S. M. Bolster, C. P. Hutchins, Dr. George L. West and Dr. Henry Watters.

The hospital has been the recipient lately of gifts of flowers and several books. To those who are kind enough to send books from time to time it may be of interest to know that for no books is there a greater demand on the part of patients than for good detective stories.

The clock in Dennison which has been out of order for some time has through the generosity of one of the physicians been put in good condition.

Work on the new hospital building is progressing rapidly. A very great part of the iron work is in place and work has been started on building the brick walls.

Of last week's accidents a woman's lacerated face, a child's fractured skull and a man's broken leg were all due to automobiles. A child's broken leg was due to a fall while playing. The other four accident cases were ones of cut fingers one of them, a child's being cut by ginger ale bottle and another, a man's was received while lifting a trunk.

M. C. O. F. TO LAUNCH MEMBER-SHIP DRIVE

DAMON HALL AT WAYSIDE INN

A somewhat unusual and very interesting event was the dramatization of Longfellow's "Tales of a Wayside Inn" at Mr. Ford's famous old tavern at Sudbury, by a group of Damon Hall students.

The members of the cast, in appropriate costumes gath'ed in the parlors of the Wayside Inn, while "around the fireside at their ease" each told "his" tale at the invitation of mine host Howe.

Upon the conclusion of which the old ball room was thereon open, to the couples of years ago, for the enjoyment of old-time dances to the strains from the violin of "Ole Bull" in the person of Mr. J. F. Cusick of Winchester. The students were then entertained most delightfully by the hostesses of the Inn.

The ceremony of wearing the school rings was the first time by the members of the graduating class, was made the occasion of a formal dinner, followed by an illustrated lecture upon Heraldry in compliment to the fact that the rings are a reproduction of the school seal.

The students have been in attendance at the Jordan Marsh International Exposition in Trade. Thorough study was made of the principal exhibits, especially the paintings, rugs and furniture.

The entire student body and Faculty were present at the first of the course of lectures given by Edward Howard Griggs, subject, "Socrates, Moral Leadership in the Old Greek World."

Mr. Henry D. Love, Treasurer of the Walter Baker Company, was the speaker to the school and their friends at the plant in Milton on Thursday afternoon.

Dean Abbott announced the appointment of the following students to the editorial board of the Year Book: Harriet Savage '28 Helen Washburn '28; Barbara Horton '29; and Mary Elliot '29.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

7:30 P. M. Evensong with Sermon by Rev. Harry H. Hall, of Allston.

KIWANIS CLUB

In the absence of the speaker scheduled to address the Kiwanis Club at its weekly meeting Tuesday, Will White of Norumbega Park gave a talk on outdoor amusement parks. He told of the development of this form of recreation, its transition from crude to highly organized places of healthful, respectable amusement, the tremendous amounts of money involved in them and the intensive work which those who manage these parks must perform in the summer seasons in addition to being on the job the year round preparing for the season to come and overseeing affairs at the parks.

In the absence of Hugh Boyd, the regular impresario of the Newton Kiwanis Club, Bill Skelton acted as song leader. Unlike last week, he did not emcee Walter Damrosch and preface each song with an explanatory talk. A feature of the meeting was the rendition of a Donegal folk song of the 18th century by President "Jim" Gallagher. This song has 51 verses but "Jim" sang only 13 of them. The bowling team of Newton Kiwanis continued its winning career by taking three strings from Waltham Kiwanis at the Newton Corner alleys Wednesday night. Charlie Barrows was high scorer for Newton with 275 and "Doc" Paul had the best single string—111.

NOT GUILTY OF ARSON

John Lorina of 43 Pine street, Waltham, was found not guilty in the Superior Court at Cambridge last Friday on the charge of setting fire to the house at 1249 Centre street, Newton Centre, where he then resided.

Lorina's household goods were insured for $4000. Appearance indicated that the fire was of incendiary origin and Lorina was indicted for arson and for intent to defraud insurance companies.

Chief Randlett and Lieut. Perkins of Engine 3 testified that in their opinions the blaze was a "flash" caused probably by scattering some highly inflammable about the place. Assistant District Attorney Bishop argued that Lorina was pressed for bills, and though much of his furniture had been burned, he had saved two insurance policies.

John Flynn of Waltham, attorney for Lorina, produced witnesses to show that Lorina was not in debt, that he had funds deposited in a bank and that he was absent from his home on the night of the fire because he had gone to see his mother, who was dangerous by ill.

BUILDINGS COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

The report of Buildings Commissioner Cecil Chadwick, issued in printed form this week is quite comprehensive. It tells in detail of the new construction during the past year, the cost of alterations and repairs on city-owned buildings and it offers interesting recommendations, which will be given due notice in next week's GRAPHIC.

POLITICAL NOTES

Dr. Frederick L. Anderson has signed his acceptance of nomination for delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention. He qualified in eleven counties and had thousands of signatures to spare. The Roosevelt Club has endorsed his candidacy and also Butler and Gillett.

ALDERMEN MEET

appointed an assistant assessor?" City Solicitor Bartlett gave the ruling that it is legal.

On the motion made by Alderman Earle, a petition presented by Roderick McLean and others, asking that the name of Centre Place be changed to Centre avenue, was granted. A new business block has been built on this street and another block will soon be erected according to rumor, so property owners there desire a more dignified title for the street.

A communication was received from Mayor Childs recommending that $25,000 additional damages be paid to the Standard Oil Company for its property on Commonwealth avenue at not emulate Walter Damrosch and preface each song with an explanatory talk. A feature of the meeting was the rendition of a Donegal folk song of the 18th century by President "Jim" Gallagher. This song has 51 verses but "Jim" sang only 13 of them. The bowling team of Newton Kiwanis continued its winning career by taking three strings from Waltham Kiwanis at the Newton Corner alleys Wednesday night. Charlie Barrows was high scorer for Newton with 275 and "Doc" Paul had the best single string—111.

Alderman Powers stated that while he believes the Finance Committee has done the best it can for the city's interests in this matter, he recalled the Ross, chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee in 1925 and Herbert Parker who appeared as attorney for the Standard Oil when the hearing was held on the petition of that company for a permit to establish a gas station at the Standard Oil building, where he then resided. According to Mr. Powers, Mr. Ross had asked Attorney Parker if the Standard Oil would claim additional value for this property should the city take it at some future time for municipal purposes? Mr. Parker had answered that while he was not authorized to speak for his client on this point, he felt assured that the company would not seek damages other than for the money paid for the property. According to Mr. Powers, the Standard Oil had gone back on the assurance made by its attorney.

Alderman Collins replied that the Standard Oil would have demanded a much larger figure than $40,000 for this station, which has a present business value of $300,000, in the estimate of its owners, except for the fact that Mr. Parker's statement had been accepted.

Collins asserted that the Standard Oil is living up strictly to the agreement which Mr. Parker unauthoritatively made, and is acting very honorably with the city.

Alderman Temperley criticised the terms of the settlement included in the agreement drawn up between the city and the Standard Oil, whereby that company is allowed to lease the station for five years with the privilege of renewing the lease for like periods at a yearly rental equal to the taxes on this property on a valuation of $40,000. This lease may be terminated by the city any time this land will be taken to build a new city hall, or other public building, upon sixty days notice.

Alderman Collins replied that this rental agreement was made in return for the additional taxes which the city which the Standard Oil had conceded and he thought the City Solicitor has performed an excellent bit of work for Newton in persuading the Standard Oil to accept the damages agreed upon.

The commission was granted to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to lay mains in Beacon, Boylston and Concord streets. Alderman Earle explained that only limited sections of these streets will be opened at one time and traffic will not be impeded.

To further study the pension system proposed for city employees, the sum of $178.99 was appropriated.

Alderman Ball, alluding to the criticism in a local paper regarding alleged delay in improving conditions at Crystal Lake, asserted that an excellent committee has already been appointed by Mayor Childs to take up this problem and that the aldermen will give it consideration as soon as the budget has been acted upon.

PETITIONS BEFORE ALDERMEN

Among the petitions recently received and referred to various committees of the Board of Aldermen for consideration are: Sarah Skier, common victualer license at 371 Water town street, Nonantum; Ladd & Thomas, increased capacity at gas station, 383 Boylston street, Newton Centre; Joseph Rooney, general automobile shop in Central Garage, Newtonville; New England Creamery Company, additions to plant at 129 Farwell street, Newtonville; Beacon Oil Company, brick building for gasoline filling station, 1742 Commonwealth avenue, near Fuller street.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A rainy night. A speeding automobile. A wet wind-shield. A pedestrian crossing a street. Death.

The automobile accident on Washington street, opposite Jewett street, last night, when a woman crossing that street was killed, is the second fatality of that kind to happen at this place and one of many accidents which have occurred. It only emphasizes the fact that Washington street is not properly lighted. This street between Newton Corner and West Newton carries much more local traffic than any street in the city and by far the heaviest pedestrian traffic. There should be an early start made in providing more and better lights along Washington street.

It is about time that "police traps" be regularly set on Washington street, particularly between Newton Corner and Newtonville. This much travelled street has been for years a veritable speedway and a number of persons have been killed on it, not to mention a large number of less fatal accidents. A pedestrian crossing this poorly lighted street after dark does so at the peril of his or her life. Inconsiderate, reckless motorists drive their cars at high speeds along this street and little has been done to curb these menaces. It avails little to have a motor-cycle cop ride occasionally up and down this street during the warm months of the year. Patrols should be set on Washington street—not occasionally, but regularly, and those motorists who drive on it in a manner to jeopardize the lives of others should be apprehended and brought into court. At this time it might be appropriate to again call attention to the fact that a large percentage of cars on Washington street are being allowed to travel on the streets at night with but one headlight and with tail light not showing.

AUTOS COLLIDE

A Chevrolet coach driven by Paul Casserly of Arlington ran into the rear of a Ford suburban wagon on Centre street opposite Centre place Saturday noon as the wagon driven by James Hughes of 1 Beacon street, Newton, was about to make a turn onto Centre place. The Chevrolet was badly damaged and Hughes complained of injuries to his back and chest as a result of the impact with which his automobile was struck.

REPULSES ROBBER

Wilfred Petipas of Palmer street, Waltham, reported to the police Monday night that after he had departed from a house on Sargent street, Newton, where he had been visiting and had entered his car, he was ordered to "hold up your hands" by some person who had climbed into the back of the automobile. Petipas stated that instead of complying with the command he attacked the would be robber and put him to flight.

HENRY B. JACOBS

Henry B. Jacobs, for the past year and a half a resident of 194 Mill street, Newtonville, died yesterday in his 83rd year. He was born in Medford and formerly conducted an undertaking business in Medford. He collected for service in the Civil War at the age of 16. He was a member of the Masons and the Odd Fellows. He is survived by his widow, one son, Sidney B. Jacobs, postmaster at Birmingham, Alabama, and two daughters—Mrs. L. A. Webster of Newtonville and Mrs. J. J. Dunn of Albany, New York. His funeral service will be held at the upper chapel, Mount Auburn Cemetery, tomorrow afternoon at 3.

STUDY TRAFFIC AT NONANTUM SQUARE

Yesterday morning the traffic committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, including George Greenstein, chairman, Aldermen Worth, Powers and Chairman Hawkins of the Franchises Committee, together with Chief of Police Burke, Manager Hanson and Supt. Wilson of the Middlesex & Boston, visited Nonantum square at Newton and studied conditions to plan for the terminal of the buses which will soon replace the electric cars to Waltham. It was decided to have the Framingham cars stop about 50 feet south of the point where they now stop to permit a location for the new traffic tower and to make access easier to the proposed bus terminal.

JOINT MEETING OF M. C. O. F.

Next Tuesday evening the various courts of Foresters in Newton will hold a joint meeting with Middlesex Court at Elks Hall, Newton in connection with the membership drive. Judge Joseph A. Sheehan of Boston, counsel for the M. C. O. F. will address the meeting. Among the courts which will participate are St. Bernard's of West Newton, Prospect of Waltham, Fr. Lee of Newton Centre, Charles River and Fr. Stack of Watertown.

NEW STREETS MUST BE BETTER BUILT

The Board of Aldermen Monday night accepted the recommendations of the Claims and Rules Committee calling for stricter specifications on new streets before the city will accept them. The streets will have to have adequate drains, loam on the sidewalk edges and the surface instead of being just gravel, as heretofore, must have a modern bituminous surface calculated to withstand the ravages of modern automotive traffic.

CHESTNUT HILL HOME LOOTED

The police learned this week that the home of Mrs. Ella Williams, 70 Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill, had been entered through a rear window, ransacked and robbed. Mrs. Williams is at her winter home so the extent of the looting has not been determined.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC, FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1928

Two Large Audiences Attend Christian Science Lectures In Christian Science Church

New Edifice in Newtonville Is Completely Filled On Monday and Tuesday Evenings To Hear John Ellis Sedman, C.S.

The beautiful new Christian Science Church, corner of Walnut and Otis streets, Newtonville, was completely filled on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week in response to the notice of the above lecture. The lecturer was introduced Monday evening by Mr. Francis W. Davis, First Reader of the church and Tuesday evening by Mrs. Eva Stickney Johnson, the Second Reader. Mr. Davis in his introduction said:

"Friends, the story is told of a sailing vessel becalmed for days in the ocean without any fresh water. The men were almost dying of thirst when a power vessel sighted them and answered their signal of distress. When near enough to be heard, they hailed the men on the sailing vessel and asked what was needed, and were told, 'Fresh water!' The answer came back, 'Lower your buckets where you are!' It seems that they had drifted off the mouth of the Amazon River, and all about them was the fresh water that they needed, which was to be had by simply filling their buckets.

There are thousands all over the world, and indeed, many right here in this community, who, having failed to find healing from sickness or other form of trouble through man-made systems, are thirsty for the way out. It is to such as these that Christian Science Lectures come with the glad news that God is an ever present help in all situations, and that the Christ Truth properly understood and applied, brings healing to the sick and freedom to the sinner right where he is.

I have had many proofs of the healing power of Christian Science in my own experience, and right here in this community there are hundreds of others who can and do testify to this rebirth of the same healing power that Jesus brought to the earth nearly two thousand years ago.

We all have cause to be grateful for the great wisdom of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in providing The Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The members of this Board go all over the world bringing the facts about this healing message to the thirsty.

Our Lecturer this evening is a member of this Board of Lectureship. His subject is Christian Science: The Way of Salvation Which Christ Jesus Revealed. It is with great pleasure that I introduce to you, Mr. John Ellis Sedman, C. S., of Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Sedman spoke as follows:

In the tenth chapter of Luke, it is recorded that Jesus at one time sent forth seventy disciples, with instructions to enter by twos into certain cities and villages. Wherever they were hospitably received, these disciples were to heal the sick, and to say to the people, 'The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.' When these seventy men returned, they reported with joy that they had been successful in their healing work. Thereupon Jesus rejoiced. The gospel records that the great Master said to his students: 'Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.'

If, at any time prior to the advent of Christ Jesus, one person had said to another, 'Is there anyone who can tell me how I can enter into the kingdom of heaven, how I can come into the enjoyment of all that is good and beautiful? the correct answer must always have been, in effect, 'There is not a person upon earth who can perform that great service for you. But when Christ Jesus began his ministry, the situation changed. Then if one man had said to another, 'Tell me what I must do to be saved, any man, who knew enough, could have answered truly. Follow the teaching and practice of Christ Jesus, who is now preaching and healing in Palestine, and you will enter into the spiritual enjoyment of all good.

Christ Jesus understood God. He knew what the race needed to deliver it from bondage, and to usher it into the enjoyment of eternal peace and happiness. St. Paul truly declares, 'Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.' Jesus came to show the way of salvation for all men. He succeeded, completely, gloriously. Sooner or later every man will awaken to the realization of that great fact, and will look out his salvation in the way Jesus of Nazareth taught.

On one occasion Jesus said, in explanation of the purpose of his great work for humanity: 'I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.' Again he declared, 'And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.' What more important question can occupy the thought of any man or woman of today than this, 'How can I gain, and do all in my power to help others to gain, that understanding of God which is eternal life? We all know with what happy anticipation people journey to a new section of country in order to make their first acquaintance with some beautiful scenery which they have not seen before, or to become still better acquainted with the grandeur and beauty which they have previously enjoyed. We all know what joy has come into our lives through association with grand and noble men and women. Sometimes a single hour spent with one of God's noble men or noble women, stands out as something for which to be increasingly grateful throughout the years. With what earnestness then, with what eagerness, should we embrace every opportunity to become better acquainted with our heavenly Father, the Giver of all good.

Why has not the race given more willing and joyful heed to the Scriptural admonition, 'Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace'? There are many reasons for this apparent apathy. Prominent among them stands this, that false doctrines have presented God in such an unlovely and unlovable light that they have quite naturally caused people, who accepted these doctrines, to turn away from contemplation of the nature and character of the Supreme Being. A young woman was asked how she thought of God before she became interested in Christian Science. She replied, 'Oh, I did not think much about God. I preferred to think of Jesus; because I thought he was so much kinder than God.'

False doctrines have indeed made that appear to be the case. But Jesus knew and taught something entirely different. He said of the healing power he exerted, 'If I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.' Jesus knew that every instance of healing, every comforting word or deed, which reached humanity through him, but exemplified God's beneficent love for His creatures expressed through Christ Jesus, the Way-shower who came to do God's will. So plain did Jesus make this fact to his students that his disciple, John, declared: 'Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.'

The student of Christian Science, studying daily the Bible and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, soon learns to trace the good that comes into his experience to God, with the same unerring certainty with which we all trace sunlight to the sun. He comes to know with equal certainty that evil of any kind cannot emanate from God. 'The blessing of the Lord,' says the Bible, 'it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it.'

Now it is not enough merely to believe in God. God must be understood. It is not enough for us to believe in the law of mathematics. Such a belief will not enable us to solve a single mathematical problem. We must gain an understanding of mathematical law, if we would have practical results in that field of endeavor; and we measure our understanding of mathematical law by our ability to solve problems which fall under that law. Jesus taught his followers to understand God. We must gain that same spiritual understanding.

GOD, THE ONE INFINITE CAUSE

One of the most important things to understand concerning God is that He exists always at the standpoint of causation, and that He alone exists at that standpoint. Man and the universe exist always at the standpoint of effect or creation; they never exist at the standpoint of causation. God is the one and only cause and creator, who produces, sustains, and governs the one and only real effect of creation, spiritual man and the spiritual universe.

From this great fact, it follows that man can possess no undervived power, wisdom, or ability. The effect can do only what the cause impels and empowers it to do. Jesus recognized this fact, and acted upon it at every turn of the way. He said, 'The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do; for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.' The nature of God, the cause, must determine the nature of the effect, or creation, which God produces. Like produces like. The first chapter of Genesis says that 'God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him.' That is the only way God could create man—a man in quality and kind like Himself. A perfect God can create only a perfect man, and a perfect universe.

Now mankind theoretically admits that God is perfect, but is very slow to grasp what that fact really implies. In the first chapter of Genesis, with its wonderful account of creation, the statement is made five times that God, beholding His creation, 'saw that it was good.' And the last verse of that chapter declares that 'God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good.' Jesus taught and proved the perfection of the everlasting God. He taught that God is good, and all that He produces is good. What a joyful note John strikes in the beginning of his first epistle, where he imparts to others Jesus' teaching on this point, that their joy may be full. 'This then,' writes John, 'is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.' As John goes on with his epistle, he rejoices likewise in the unalterable perfection of the man whom God creates and sustains.

Christian Science completely disagrees with the Adamic theory of creation and all its corollaries. Christian Science repudiates the doctrine that the man whom God creates and sustains ever fell, or ever could fall.

Please remember that when we take issue with theological dogmas, long believed, we are not taking issue with anything Jesus taught, or with any part of the inspired teaching of the Bible. We agree with all that Jesus taught. We stand squarely on the inspired teaching of the Bible. The first tenet of Christian Science, written by its Discoverer and Founder, Mary Baker Eddy, reads (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 497): 'As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life.'

According to the Adamic theory of creation, God existed without man until some six thousand years ago. This view presents man as a mere afterthought of the creator, an experimental addition to God's earlier creation. And this experimental creature is represented as soon falling into error, and causing his creator trouble. Christian Science makes clear the fallacy of this theory. It shows exactly why man as created by God is upright and spiritual and absolutely essential to God. The Bible clearly indicates that God is the divine, infinite Mind; and Christian Science explains and amplifies this grand fact. Mind is that which knows. Since God, the divine Mind, is perfect, then the divine Mind must be unlimited or infinite; for any limitation in divine Mind would indicate a lack of intelligence, or imperfection. The infinitude of divine Mind renders impossible the existence of other minds; and thus God, the one and only cause and creator, is seen to be the one and only Mind—the original all-knowing One. Since the divine Mind is perfect and complete, this Mind must know every good thought, or spiritual idea, which can be conceived by unlimited intelligence. Now God is 'the same yesterday, and today, and forever.' It follows then that God always has known, and always will know every good and beautiful idea. Consequently everything that enters into God's perfect creation, every one of his perfect ideas, always has existed and always will exist. There is no escape from this logic; and it completely disposes of the commonly accepted but entirely illogical and impossible definition of creation as the bringing into existence of something which previously did not exist. God is the infinite creator, in the sense that He is the one and only cause which produces, sustains, and governs the one and only effect, spiritual man and the spiritual universe; but the entire effect is coexistent with its cause and, like the cause, is eternal. God could no more dispense for a moment with one of His perfect, spiritual ideas than He could cease to be. And man is God's highest idea, Christ Jesus drove home this point of the imperishable, indispensable nature of the real being of man, when he declared to his disciples, 'There shall not an hair of your head perish.'

The Bible clearly teaches that God's creation completely satisfies Him; and every idea therein is blessed and is a blessing. When something of this truth dawned upon Abraham, it found expression in this prophecy, 'I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing.' As a single sunbeam manifests all the qualities of light, so the individual, spiritual man, the child of God, manifests the attributes of God, and reveals the quality of God's perfect being. Hence Jesus' declaration, 'He that hath seen me hath seen the Father.' But as it takes the innumerable rays of sunlight to express the full majesty and glory of the sun, so it takes all men to manifest the full glory of God's eternal being.

Recognition of the fact that God is forever governing His perfect creation, and that all contained therein is essential and is in its proper place, brings to the individual a sense of peace with regard to himself and all his fellow-men. It reveals the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man as eternal and unalterable facts. It dispels all indifference and all enmity. The loving mother cannot be indifferent to the welfare of her child, because she recognizes that its welfare is inseparable from her own. Similarly, one individual cannot be indifferent to the welfare of any other, when it has become clear to him that where material sense says there exists only an imperfect mortal, spiritual sense reveals man, made in the image and likeness of God,—man who is necessary and dear to God, and who exists to express God's perfect being.

Jesus taught his disciples that all men should call God, Father, as he did, and look upon themselves, in their true spiritual being, as sons of God. John, expounding Jesus' true theology, makes this remarkable declaration concerning the true being of man: 'Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.' Here we have a plain, clear declaration, in the inspired Word of the Bible, that the man whom God creates never sins or falls, but remains forever upright, pure, perfect, spiritual.

By this we do not mean that the human conceptions of man, or in other words mortals, are perfect. We all know that a false concept of something is not that something. Mortals are no more like the real spiritual man than false human concepts of God are like the perfect, eternal Supreme Being. False concepts can be changed and improved; and they need to be. Mortals vary according to the degree of enlightenment they possess concerning the real nature of God and man. Plato uttered a great truth when he said, 'What thou seest, that thou beest.' What mankind needs above all else is spiritual enlightenment. The highest type of humanity is the one who knows best what God and man are.

GOD, THE INFINITE PERSON

Frequently, the question is asked, 'Is God personal? Now no helpful or intelligent answer can be given to this question, without carefully considering what is meant by the word 'personal.' Does the question mean, 'Is God anthropomorphic? That is, is God like a human being, subject to anger, jealousy, changeable moods, does He have a physique like a mortal; is He finite and limited? If such be the meaning of the question, then the answer is, No!

But, on the other hand, if the question means, 'Is God the ever present, ever conscious Supreme Being, who loves and understands all, and who may be loved and understood by all? then surely the answer is, Yes. For as we have already seen, God is the self-existent, self-sustaining, eternal, all-wise, infinite One, who knows all that is knowable, and who produces and sustains, loves and governs, all that has actual existence. Christian Science makes plain the fact that not only is God personal, in the higher meaning of that term, but that indeed God is the infinite Person. On page 116 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy writes: 'As the words person and personal are commonly and ignorantly employed, they often lead, when applied to Deity, to confused and erroneous conceptions of divinity and its distinction from humanity. If the term personality, as applied to God, means infinite personality, then God is infinite Person—in the sense of infinite personality, but not in the lower sense. An infinite Mind in a finite form is an absolute impossibility.'

The individual who would understand God aright must never lose sight of the fact that God is the ever conscious, ever active Supreme Being. Not only does God know, and love, and understand; but true thinking and true affection are made possible to men solely because God, the one infinite cause, is the all-knowing, all-loving divine Mind, which is reflected by man and the universe. All true thoughts emanate from God, and remain forever under His government and care. In her book, 'Unity of God,' page 48, Mrs. Eddy makes this statement: 'To me God is All. He is best understood as Supreme Being, as infinite and conscious Life, as the affectionate Father and Mother of all He creates; but this divine Parent no more enters into His creation than the human father enters into his child. His creation is not the ego, but the reflection of the ego. The ego is God Himself, the infinite Soul.'

The fact that God is the Supreme Being makes possible and necessary the existence of His real identities with their individualities. The materialistic view that we exist as conscious thinking beings, but that we have been evolved by and from nonintelligent matter, is a theory which Christian Science shows to be entirely illogical and therefore impossible. Like produces like. Only God, the ever conscious Supreme Being, can produce His conscious creatures. Thus the individualities of men exist because God is the infinite Person, and as such creates countless spiritual individualities to express His nature. All these spiritual individualities exist in God, and are governed by Him. God knows, understands, and loves them every one.

Mrs. Eddy's perception of the fact that God is divine Principle has done much to clarify thought concerning the nature of God and concerning the nature and source of true law. Prior to the discovery of Christian Science, the more enlightened portion of the race became accustomed to think of the word 'principle' as relating to that which is obedient to law or sustains law, and which is unchangeable, stable, reliable. But the word 'principle' was not understood to be inseparably connected with divine consciousness or intelligence. Mrs. Eddy was the first to define and use this grand word in its highest and most exalted sense. She perceived the fact that there is in reality but one Principle, and that Principle must be divine, infinite, and conscious. She saw that God, divine Love, is the one and only Principle, as surely as He is the one and only Mind. She saw also that, just as the beauty of the sky and the flowers points to the beauty that resides in the divine Mind and must be expressed, so the reliability and stability found in the law of mathematics point to the unchangeableness of the one eternal cause, God. On page 226 of 'The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany,' Mrs. Eddy says, 'What are termed in common speech the principle of harmonious vibration, the principle of conservation of number in geometry, the principle of the inclined plane in mechanics, etc., are but an effect of one universal cause,—an emanation of the one divine intelligent Principle that holds the earth in its orbit by evolved spiritual power, that commands the waves and the winds, that marks the sparrow's fall, and that governs all from the infinitesimal to the infinite,—namely, God.'

The terms Principle and Love when used together, as they so frequently are in the writings of Mrs. Eddy, to describe the nature of the Mind which is God, convey as clearly as words can the infinite and unalterable tenderness of the Supreme Being. To an age, ready to a certain degree for that revelation, Jesus made known the divine fatherhood of God. To an age which valued more highly than any previous age the grandeur of true womanhood, Mrs. Eddy revealed the divine motherhood of God. On page 332 of her book, Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy writes, 'Father-Mother is the name for Deity, which indicates His tender relationship to His spiritual creation.'

PRAYER

'Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you,' says the Bible. Prayer plays an essential part in this process of drawing nigh to God. In a broad sense, everyone prays more or less. The words of a well-known hymn express a vital truth:

'Prayer is the heart's sincere desire, Uttered or unexpressed; The motion of a hidden fire That trembles in the breast.'

'Prayer is the simplest form of speech. That infant lips can try;

Prayer the sublimest strains that reach The Majesty on high.'

A selfish, a petty, a wrong desire is a false prayer. A noble, an unselfish, a grand desire is a true prayer. Everyone should devote thought to the subject of prayer, and learn how to pray. Prayer will naturally become more intelligent, and consequently more fruitful, as the individual increases his understanding of God.

Often the question is asked, 'Do Christian Scientists use petition when they pray, as other Christians do, or do they confine themselves to affirmations of truth, and denials of error? Christian Scientists have confidence in the efficacy of clear, firm affirmations of truth and vigorous denials of the false arguments of error, when such affirmations and denials rest upon spiritual understanding. But Christian Scientists follow Christ Jesus in all things, and the great Master proclaimed in unmistakable terms the importance which he attached to the right kind of petitions. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus not only said, 'Seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you,' but he also said, 'Ask, and it shall be given you.'

Since God is perfect, it is impossible for Him to change or to be changed. God is always sustaining and governing His creation aright; and since He knows all that can be known, He needs no information or advice. Prayer, then, can in no way change God. But human minds and lives need to be transformed by the divine power. An earnest, sincere turning to God in prayer, asking for His guidance and blessing, plays an important part in this transforming process.

When Solomon became king over Israel he realized that the human mind could find within itself nothing that could prove adequate for the solution of the difficult problems which would devolve upon him as ruler over a great nation. He therefore turned to God, the divine Mind, for help. It is recorded in the Bible that when God said, 'Ask what I shall give thee,' the young king replied, 'Give . . . thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people.' Solomon's appeal was answered by an inflow of wisdom which not only blessed him and his people, but continues to bless us today through the pages of the Bible. Centuries later, James, a faithful follower of the Nazarene, gave to all mankind the inspired counsel, 'If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.'

THE DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How did Christian Science come to be discovered, and why was Mrs. Eddy the one who discovered and founded Christian Science? Mrs. Eddy discovered and founded Christian Science because that was the work which God gave her to do. God equipped her for the great work she did. He protected, sustained, and empowered her when she did it. In no other way could such a work be done. It was God's beneficent law that prepared Moses for the work he did. It was God who commanded Moses to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt. Because that was the work which God fitted him to do and gave him to do, he alone could do it. There are no accidents in the divine order; and there is no chance about the way in which divine truth becomes known to humanity.

When Jesus was visiting many cities and villages, teaching and preaching, and, as the Scriptures record, healing every sickness and every disease among the people, his heart went out to the multitudes about him because of their great need for spiritual enlightenment. They were like sheep without a shepherd. Then Jesus said to his twelve disciples: 'The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.' Jesus knew that no man could help in the gathering of that harvest unless God equipped him, and sent him to labor there. When the great Master was bringing the work which he did upon earth to its completion, he said to his heavenly Father, 'I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.'

There were many things which played an important part in Mrs. Eddy's preparation for her discovery of Christian Science. Most important of all was the spirit which animated her. From early childhood she was imbued with a love for God and a love for mankind. She was brought up in a home where the Bible was constantly read and studied. She was instructed from its pages from the time she could remember. She was taught, by her mother, to believe in divine healing; and she had some striking proofs of the power of prayer to heal while she was still a child. As life expanded and deepened, she tasted the tragedy of human life to the full. It was proved to her how helpless are mere human efforts to meet the deeper needs of the race. She was forced ever nearer and nearer to God for comfort, and for surcease of sorrow. She saw the great need of humanity for deliverance, and she longed with a love that was deep, broad, and all-embracing, to see the whole race set free.

In the year 1856 Mrs. Eddy met with a serious accident. All human efforts in her behalf proved futile, and hope for her recovery was abandoned. When death seemed just at hand, her thought turned completely and unreservedly to God for help. She asked her friends to withdraw and to leave her alone with her heavenly Father and His great gift to humanity, the Bible. Then she opened her Bible at the ninth chapter of Matthew. She read there the account, familiar to all Bible students, of the man whom Jesus healed of the palsy. As Mrs. Eddy read, her consciousness was illumined. She grasped the great fact that since God never changes, and since He is 'no respecter of persons,' the same divine power which delivered the man sick of the palsy was present and operative to deliver her. She perceived this and other great truths so clearly that she was healed.

From the point of vision thus gained, and with the Bible as her only textbook, Mrs. Eddy pressed on until she discovered the Science of Christianity, or in other words, Christian Science. It was revealed to Mrs. Eddy that Jesus did his mighty works not as a supernatural worker who could set aside God's law, but as a scientific worker who understood, obeyed, and utilized God's law, and thereby accomplished naturally the glorious results which made humanity marvel. Mrs. Eddy recognized that all the world needed for its complete deliverance was a correct and full understanding of that truth which Jesus revealed and practiced.

After her discovery, Mrs. Eddy's next great task was to found Christian Science. If the truth which Jesus knew had been revealed to her, she could prove that fact by doing the works which Jesus said could be done by those who understood his teaching. This she did. She healed the sick with marked success and she taught others to heal. Finally she was ready to give her discovery to the world. In order to present her teaching properly, it was necessary for her to express her meaning with scientific accuracy. Moreover, she had to cover the ground with an adequacy sufficient to make plain every point which the student must grasp in order to gain, step by step, a perfect understanding of that Science which Jesus taught and lived and which is destined to redeem the whole human race. This achievement Mrs. Eddy accomplished. Consequently, when she published 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' in 1875, she was able to proclaim with certainty in that wonderful book (p. 174): 'Truth is revealed. It needs only to be practised.'

A few years after the publication of Science and Health, it became evident to Mrs. Eddy that, in order to present the Science of Christianity to the world, she must organize a church of her own. This she did, aided by a little band of followers, in 1879. A few years later at Mrs. Eddy's request, this church was reorganized, and given its present name, The First Church of Christ, Scientist. Under Mrs. Eddy's wise leadership, this church steadily grew and prospered.

Mrs. Eddy gave to this church the Church Manual, which contains the by-laws under which this church and its many branches are governed. She gave to her church its periodicals, The Christian Science Journal, The Christian Science Sentinel, The Herald of Christian Science; and a great daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor. She gave to her church the Christian Science Quarterly, which contains the Lesson-Sermons read in all Christian Science churches. She gave to her church The Christian Science Publishing Society where all these great instrumentalities for good are published.

Christian Scientists realize more fully, with every forward step they take, the tremendous debt of gratitude which they owe for the manifold blessings of God which have reached them through the work of Mary Baker Eddy. They realize that they can pay this debt only through faithful obedience to her teaching, and through service to mankind. Mrs. Eddy was always known to Christian Scientists as their Leader, and so she will always be known. This is natural and inevitable. Christ Jesus is our only Way-shower, Master, Saviour. He is just as much the Way-shower of every true Christian of today, as he was the Way-shower of the first Christians.

COMING EVENTSMonday Club

Mrs. J. E. Peckham of 4 Rockledge road is hostess for the Monday Club on Monday afternoon, March 26, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ruth Mick and Mrs. G. Larcom Avery are in charge of the program, the subject for which is "New Inventions." The opportunity for the entertaining and informing of this topic is broad and should make a most worthwhile afternoon.

Christian Era Study Club

"England During the Revolution" Hosmer, and "Admiral Nelson," the subject of one by Miss Marion Shepard, for the program of the Christian Era Study Club at its meeting Monday afternoon, March 26. Mrs. Samuel H. Selloy opens her home at 221 Grove street for the meeting.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Lyman P. Briggs of 84 Walker street, Newtonville, entertains the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, the 26th, at 2:30 o'clock. Continuing their study of "Great Thinkers," Mrs. Edward G. Swift will give a paper on "Darwin."

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on Monday, March 26, at the home of Mrs. Harry Durkee, 19 Parsons street, West Newton, with Mrs. Louie A. Bacon assisting the hostess. There will be a paper on "Medicine, Dental Surgery and Hygiene," by Mrs. John McCarthy, and one on "Literature" by Mrs. B. Howard Lester.

Waban Woman's Club

On the same afternoon, the 26th, following their business meeting at 2:30 o'clock, the Waban Woman's Club is to hear a lecture by Earl Barnes of Philadelphia, who will be remembered for his forceful series on foreign affairs at Newton High School last year. He will take for his topic "Russia the S. S. R.—A New Philosophy of Life." After the program the members will enjoy sociability and tea.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The garden lovers of the Newton Centre Woman's Club are urged to be present in the Club House reception room on Monday, March 26th, at 10 o'clock in the morning for a meeting. On Tuesday afternoon, March 27th, at 2:30 p. m. comes the third and last of Mrs. Margaret Weimer Heywood's Cooking Demonstrations. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

On Thursday, March 29th, the Community Service Committee, of which Mrs. Francis H. Williams is the chairman, presents a program with Rabbi Harry Levi of Temple Israel on the subject: "The Art of Living Together." At the close of the lecture local Girl Scouts will give their candle-lighting service. Tea will be served. In the interest of "clubwomen" the films at the Club House include "Two Flaming Youths," on next Saturday afternoon and evening, with Chester Conklin and W. C. Fields and on Tuesday evening.

Newton Federation

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation will meet on Tuesday afternoon in the Library of the Technical High School, Newtonville, at 2:30 o'clock.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

An interesting event of the late Club season for the members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club is to be the trip to Fenway Court next Tuesday, March 27th, arranged by Mrs. Donald D. McKay and members of the Art Committee. As the last trip to the Italian Palace in the Fenway was on April 7th, 1924, just prior to the death of Mrs. Gardner, it is expected a large number of the newer members of the Club will take advantage of this opportunity to see the priceless treasures under competent guidance. Those desiring transportation should notify members of the Art Committee at once and automobiles will be in waiting at the Bulletin Board in the Square for the start at 9:30 o'clock.

Members who have come into the Club during the current year are to be guests of the Board of Directors at a tea in the Workshop, Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, with Mrs. Elizabeth S. Newton, Mrs. George G. Watkins, Mrs. Harlan J. Maynard and Mrs. Frank D. Warren the committee in charge of arrangements.

The concluding demonstration-lecture in the two "extras" arranged by Mrs. Richard A. Cody and members of the American Home Committee is to be given in the Workshop, Friday morning at 9:30 by Mrs. Carolyn Weber Bixby. Single tickets can be secured at the door.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The meeting under the auspices of the American Home Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held in the church parlors of Central Congregational Church on Tuesday, March 27th, instead of at the home of Mrs. Fred W. Woodcock as announced in the calendar. Mrs. Emma Fall Schofield has been secured to speak on legislation pertaining to women, and the Committee hopes for a large attendance.

Auburndale Review Club

"Modern Novelists and Poets" is the up-to-the-minute study for the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, March 27th, following the business meeting at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Richard O. Walter, 10 Fern street, is hostess for this meeting. Mrs. Franklin E. Leland, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew and Mrs. Edward J. Frost will present the information on the novelists and poets.

State Federation

Radio listeners may hear the Hon. John C. Hull, Speaker of the House of Representatives, broadcast "Business of the State" next Wednesday morning at WNAC at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. John H. Kimball, chairman of the Department of Legislation, will introduce the speaker.

Besides achieving this "scop" in a political leader, Mrs. White especially appeals to Newton Clubwomen in this program in presenting our own Marie Florence Sladen, contralto. Miss Sladen, accompanied by Mrs. Winsor Sampson of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Club, will furnish the musical interval at 10:40 and Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., third vice-president, will be on the air at 10:50 to tell the part "Junior Membership" plays in Club life.

Auburndale Woman's Club

March 29th will be the date for the next regular meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club. It will be held at 2:30 p. m. at the Auburndale Clubhouse, with Edward I. Farrington speaking on "What's New in the Garden." Mr. Farrington is secretary of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society and is most enthusiastic when speaking on this subject. Tea will be served after the entertainment. This being the last meeting before the annual meeting, every Club member is urged to make an effort to be present.

Social Science Club

"Darwin" will be the subject of Mrs. Edward M. Moore's paper on Wednesday, March 28th, for the Social Science Club, when the hostesses will be Mrs. William H. Mitchell and Mrs. Charles D. Meserve. The Club meets at 10 a. m. in Hunnewell Club parlors.

Shakespeare Club

On Saturday afternoon, March 31st, the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands meets at the home of Mrs. C. H. Keeler, 36 Oak terrace, at 2:30 o'clock. Act 2 of "Twelfth Night" will be the subject of quiz by Mrs. F. S. Keith.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

An interesting outing was much enjoyed by those members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club who attended the lecture on Color and Design in Textiles at the Museum of Fine Arts on Tuesday last. The afternoon's program was arranged by the Art Committee, of which Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon is chairman.

Mrs. Mary Parkman Sayward, the lecturer, showed photographs of numerous textiles, explaining how balance in design is found, and the continuance of it is carried on.

Then the lecturer showed many examples of rare textiles throughout the museum.

After this, a trip to the Salada Tea Company was made, to see art in business exemplified.

A trip in the elevator brought the sightseers to the tenth, or top, story, which is the Club Room of the Salada employees. It was most attractive with its beautiful paintings and tapestries. A plaque of Japanese jade and a vase of Chinese lilies of Cloisone were much admired.

The Oriental rugs and red Morocco chairs and divans gave a warmth of color to the room.

On the floor below, the cafeteria, completely equipped with all modern apparatus, is for the sole use of the Salada employees. In addition, tea is served to visitors each afternoon. On the eighth floor tea blending is carried on.

The original tea chests from Ceylon and India are opened by white-gloved workers, and the contents poured into huge hoppers. From this point the tea leaves flow by gravity down through the various floors and processes to the shipping department.

The offices on the first floor, with their Oriental rugs, marble columns, very old, also marvelously carved, and rarities from the Far East, give the air of art and industry working harmoniously.

Opposite the main entrance from Stuart street, giant Foo dogs of Cloisone guard the shrine of an ancient Buddha.

An exquisite Chinese embroidery, more than a thousand years old, hangs back of the Buddha.

A guide greets the visitors and escorts them through the building.

Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club

The sixth regular meeting of the Junior West Newton Women's Educational Club was held on March 13th at the home of Alice G. Batson, in West Newton. The meeting was opened by the president, Marion Jackson, at 7 o'clock. There were three leaders, eighteen members and two visitors present. Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, president of the Senior Club, was the guest of the evening, and she offered her home at 162 Mt. Vernon street for the annual meeting in April. Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, a past president of the Senior Club, has offered to instruct the Club in Parliamentary Law.

After the business meeting, Constance Dorr's committee was in charge. Madame Arthur Campbell, a member of the Senior Club, was the speaker. She told stories in French and about the World War, as she experienced it. The members were a very enthusiastic audience, and carried on conversation with Mme. Campbell in French during the social half hour at which the hostess served attractive refreshments. The meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock. "It was one of the best meetings of the year," stated Mrs. B. Howard Lester, the Club adviser.

America's best-known humorist of the day in the Boston Globe every day

This cowboy comedian, who is entertained at the White House and who is welcomed wherever heads of government assemble, wires a special dispatch to the Boston Globe every day in the year—a paragraph of wit hot off the news. Every week he writes a long, joshing letter on some topic of the hour for the

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

It has long been the custom of those who have had some good idea they sought to put before the youth of the Commonwealth to urge a law requiring it to be made a part of the public school curriculum. The heads of the schools have resisted, with more or less success, with the result that many apparently meritorious suggestions have been sidetracked.

On the face of it there seems to have been something the pupils missed, but when one stops to consider the "flagging" of numerous propositions has after all worked to the advantage of the youngsters. If all reformers had had their way the daily sessions of our schools would be devoted to educational campaigns and not to actual learning.

It is often remarked, "This is something they should teach in the public schools," but promoters of the scheme never seem to realize that the work on regular subjects is intensive and little time is permitted for "extras."

I am well aware there is no subject more fraught with the dangers of controversial argument than the courses prescribed in our public schools. One learned man has one thing which he holds more essential than anything else and he is not to be convinced that there is anything quite so important. Another prominent educator, usually speaking from the side lines, will insist that the principal reason the schools are not more successful is their failure to teach that which he believes to be the most vital of all texts.

The school authorities do well to dodge as much as they do. That they should be persuaded to allow something to creep into the curriculum which seemingly has no place there is not to be wondered at. Pressure from all sides is responsible. I am heart and soul in accord with those teachers who would confine their instructions to general themes and not occasional dips into the superficial and subnormal.

It happens that I have the good fortune to be well acquainted with a number of men who, because of their prominence in public affairs, are frequently called upon to address various organizations at annual banquets, monthly meetings, luncheons, etc. I have observed the readiness these men display in accepting invitations to speak and to really go to considerable inconvenience in their efforts to be obliging.

Now the thing that puzzles me is how they manage to stand the grind, for that's what it must be even if all the audiences are enthusiastic. No speaker wishes to present himself before a gathering unless he is certain that he will make a favorable impression. In order to accomplish that he must keep his wits about him, which is not always an easy thing to do after one has worked all day. But they do it, somehow, and spend many evenings before the public when, I am sure, they would much prefer to be at home.

I know that a secretary or whoever the official assigned to get a speaker for this or that occasion, has to scurry around and find an "attraction" that will appeal to his fellow club members. He will probably tell me that he, too, is entitled to sympathy. Well, maybe he is, but the man who is jumping from this place to that in order to talk for the benefit of others has a greater share of my commiseration.

There are men who are almost deluged with speaking engagements. Not a few of them accept two and sometimes three invitations for one night and drive around to all the places in order not to disappoint. This must "take it out of them," as the saying goes. Possibly someone will argue that these men enjoy it. I think they must get a certain amount of satisfaction out of it or they wouldn't do it. Still, it is asking considerable, and if a man declines on the ground that he is too busy, we should be considerate and let him off without criticism. That, by the way, is the point I would stress. Let us at least be appreciative and do not demand too much of our good-natured and willing public men.

A group of men were discussing the employment of office boys. The principal point made was that the wages are so much higher than in the "old days." And this period is not so far distant either, although to the youngster it may seem in the dim and distant past.

"When I went to work," said one of the group, "I worked from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. and never thought of Saturday afternoons off. I might have thought of this half-holiday proposition but that's as far as I ever got. As a boy I had to sweep up the office. Now all that is done by the scrubwomen and the office boy never thinks of taking a broom in his hand. He gets in at 8:30 or 9 o'clock and goes to his desk. He is an important member of the office force and isn't the general drudge that he used to be."

Another spoke up with, "Say, don't tell me about this office-boy stuff. I had a job that began at sunrise and lasted until after sunset. The boss spent most of his time trying to find more things for me to do. When there was a let-up I was sent to his house to chop wood, cut the grass and do chores in the house for his wife."

"And you got about $5 a week for that?" I ventured.

"Five dollars!" he repeated, "nothing like it. My recollection is that I was paid $2.50 and when I asked for a raise I was threatened with discharge." "What do office boys get now?" was the next query I presented.

"My office manager has to pay $10 at least to beginners and $12 or $15 to a boy that is worth his salt," came the reply.

"Yes," said another of the party, "and the boys today think they are being worked to death. We give them Saturday afternoons and don't ask half of what was asked of office boys in my day. O, what's the use," he exclaimed, tossing his cigar into the brass receptacle, "the youngsters of today put it all over us and we sit still and let them."

It has often occurred to me that only a comparatively small number of the resources of the Massachusetts State Library in the State House. The librarian is Edward H. Redstone, who stands as one of the best in the country. He is constantly alert to the needs of expanding this highly important adjunct to the Commonwealth's administration.

Many volumes may be found here that other libraries do not possess. Naturally the State library specializes on books that are of value to those engaged in governmental interests and also to those who are studying this subject. Current reports, old records, legal publications, histories of the Colonial and Constitutional periods, general description and travel, exploration, biographies, miscellaneous educational material and a wide variety of other subjects comprise the contents of the State library's shelves.

It was in 1811 that the library had its origin. At that time the Legislature directed the Secretary of the Commonwealth to arrange for a "present and future exchange of statutes for the use of executive and legislative departments." Results, far more extensive than was anticipated, followed. It set an example for the other States where other libraries have been established along the lines of those of the Massachusetts institution. Here is another instance of the rest of the country following the lead of this State.

Founded for the use of the Governor and the Legislature, the library and all that it contains is available to everybody who conforms to the regulations for its use. Frequently I have observed at least a score of law students making notes from this or that volume which could only be found at the State House.

In these days we talk much of service. Here is found that which serves the people of Massachusetts as no other library can and which I sincerely hope is appreciated as thoroughly as it deserves to be.

I have discovered that the United States mails are used for about everything. You can never tell what the letter-carrier has for you. Here's something he brought me:

"Dear Lev:—Just a little message in verse on a subject which has been troubling me ever since the last snow storm commenced to melt away. My apologies to any and all concerned, but not you, Lev, not you."

O, you of the many initials,
You of the noble dome,
Here's spring with its posies and thistles!

It's time to get down to the bone.
Your poor hats you often disparage
And threaten to leave them at home;
Get down off your high horse and carriage.

It's time to get down to the bone!
You don't like to wear 'em. No doubt you can spare 'em.
Then leave 'em at home on the rack.
But lay off us sane folks, don't hit us with poor jokes.

If you do this, we're sure to come back.
So wear your head bare. Go out if you dare.
With nothing to shade or protect you.

Go, risk your long hair. But aren't you in fear
That the woodpeckers will come out and peck you?

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB
Thirty-seven members of the Highland Glee Club braved the stormy weather last Sunday night and journeyed to Christ Episcopal Church, Fitchburg, where an evening of song had been arranged by the rector, Vincent Bennett. The rector and his welcoming committee made the arrival of the singers a very happy one and after a short practice to familiarize the singers with the organ, a wonderfully planned dinner, which every member of the club appreciated, was served in a nearby clubhouse, one of the auxiliaries of the church, with Director Ralph MacLean and George H. Wight presiding. The club was ably assisted by Mr. Deane Hanscomb as the soloist in the service which followed at the church, before a large congregation. The club sang several groups of songs, including "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," "O Lord Most Holy," "A Hymn Before Action," "Deep River," "Invictus," "The Long Day Closes" and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones."

GIRL SCOUTS

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Girl Scout Council was held on March 14th at the Newton Girl Scout headquarters. After the business was concluded a surprise party was tendered to Mrs. Frank A. Day, Girl Scout Commissioner for Newton, who sailed for Europe the following Saturday to be gone six months.

Wednesday evening the captains met with Miss Freeman at headquarters to discuss the coming rally and the camping program for the summer.

The spring rally is to be at the gymnasium of the Newton High School on Saturday, March 31st, at 2:30 p. m. The program will consist of usual competitive events between the troops and the girls are now practicing at all their meetings making ready for the affair. Over 200 merit badges will be awarded to girls who successfully passed the requirements of these awards, 32 of them being for the Home-maker badge. Many of the books handed in for this test, original plans of a house, furnishings and daily schedule of work, were very fine and two of the best are at headquarters for exhibition and reference. Other awards will be given at this rally and all the Girl Scouts are eagerly awaiting the day as it is the big event of the spring program.

Arrangements have been made with St. Agnes' School in Newton for the use of the swimming pool through the spring of every other Wednesday afternoon beginning this week. From 2:30 to 3:30 will be reserved for swimmers and from 3:30 to 4:30 there will be a class in Red Cross Life Saving. The first group will be limited to 25 girls and the second to 20. Tickets may be had at Girl Scout headquarters, 297 Walnut street, Newtonville. Each Scout must provide her own bathing suit, cap and towel. Girl Scout officers who are Red Cross Life Savers will have charge of the first group and a Red Cross Life Saving examiner will give instruction to the second group for the Junior Red Cross Life test. This latter course is only open to girls twelve years old or over who are able to pass the preliminary Red Cross Swimmer's test.

Troops 4 and 24 of Waban gave an entertainment in the Union Church on Friday evening, March 16, consisting of two plays, one given by each troop. The Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps played, candy was sold, and the evening was a very enjoyable one.

Saturday, March 24, will be "Cookie Day" in West Newton. Scouts in all of the three troops are busy getting orders for the cookies and on Saturday will be busy delivering them. The girls' mothers are making cookies and the troop committee will bake all day Friday at the Unitarian church to meet the demands. The money realized will go to complete the West Newton share of the Newton Girl Scout budget.

There is to be a conference at Cedar Hill, Waltham, on Monday and Tuesday of next week at all commissioners and council members in the Metropolitan division of Girl Scouts. On Monday evening there is to be a troop demonstration and Newton has been asked to supply the troop. Miss Freeman has asked Troop 14 of Waban to undertake to do this and the girls who are members of the troop are quite thrilled and very much pleased at being asked.

Camp Mary Day folders are out and letters are already coming in each day asking to be put on the list to receive applications for the camp. Camp will open on July 2nd and will be open to Scouts until August 25th, after which there will be a two-weeks' officers camp. Last year 100 girls enjoyed a period of two weeks each at the camp and this year as many can be taken. But there has always been a long waiting list each year since the camp was started and those girls who send their application back on time will probably be the ones fortunate enough to get in.

Miss Sarah B. Hackett of Newtonville is chairman of the Camp Committee. Miss Alice Boyden and Mrs. Roy V. Collins, both of Newtonville, serve with her. The Advisory Committee is made up of the following women: Mrs. Carl Somers, Newtonville; Mrs. Edwin Smith, Newton; Mrs. C. N. Burghardt, Newton Centre; Mrs. Fred W. Allen, West Newton; Mrs. Arthur Cady, Upper Falls; Mrs. K. E. Carriek, Highland; Mrs. Donald Williams, Auburndale; Mrs. A. L. Stephen, Waban. Miss Freeman will be the camp director.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"Cherry Blossom Isle, the Land of the Rising Sun" will be the subject upon which K. Yamaguchi, a Japanese student, will talk to boys and girls at the Children's Museum of Boston on Saturday, March 24, at 3 p. m. Colored lantern slides will illustrate Mr. Yamaguchi's talk on his native country.

That the translation of the word Japan is literally Land of the Rising Sun is further home out by the emblem of glittering light on their national flag, according to Mr. Yamaguchi. In explaining the meaning of the fish used on the boy's festival flags it is said that since a carp can swim up a waterfall it is to Japanese boys an inspiration to struggle for success in life.

Colored lantern slides used in connection with the Story Hour for small children at 10:30 on Saturday mornings is to be a regular feature during the coming months at the Museum.

Week-end lectures are planned especially for children, but many adults are present and welcome at the lectures, according to Miss Mildred E. Manter, director. The Museum is open free from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on week days, and from 1:30 to 5 p. m. on Sundays.

C. A. R.

On March 16th the C. A. R. Chapter "Old Ironsides" held a bridge party at the Bonar-Atwood studio at Newtonville. A fine crowd attended and the party was a financial success as well as a great social success. The money earned by this party will be used by the Chapter in its patriotic work. Refreshments were served by some of the younger people.

Newton Community Club

Spring is beginning to stir the gardener's fancy, and to beckon the lover of the great outdoors. Many Clubwomen are joining Garden Classes, and many are attending the spring exhibition of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, which is being held at Horticultural Hall, Boston, from March 20th to the 25th. In the interest of conservation, and of this planting season, it seems timely to quote from the Newton Community Club Bulletin for March these Beatitudes that are so well worded, so clever in adaptation, and so worth reading for all Clubwomen.

BEATITUDES OF THE CONSERVATION DIVISION

By Mrs. Jack H. Pryor, Florida.

1. Blessed are they who plant the long-lived tree and shrub, for generations shall rise up and call them blessed.

2. Blessed are they who are owners of flower gardens, for in the heart of a flower may be seen its Creator.

3. Blessed are they who appreciate nature's gifts, for they shall be known as lovers of beauty.

4. Blessed are they who clean the highways, byways and home grounds, for cleanliness is next to godliness.

5. Blessed are they who brighten and freshen their buildings and fences with paint, for improvement and the praise of many people shall be their reward.

6. Blessed are they who war on signs and banish the billboards along the rural highways, for they shall be called protectors of roadside beauty and landscape scenery.

7. Blessed are they who stand against friend and relative in the protection of nature's gifts to our Nation, for they shall be recognized as true patriots of America.

8. Blessed are the towns with planning boards, for great beauty, prosperity, and peace shall descend upon them.

9. Great shall be the reward of those who protect our forests from fire, for the bird shall continue to serve him, and the fish and wild animal to furnish him food.

10. Whosoever conserveth our natural resources serveth himself and generations following.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

One of the delightful personal touches that added to Newton Centre's gala Club day last Thursday when presidents of all Clubs were invited guests, was the tribute paid by Mrs. Frank Stewart, formerly State Art chairman, in a luncheon at her home preceding the Club meeting, tendered to Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, State Federation President, of Greenfield. Mrs. J. Porter Russell, president of the Newton Federation and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., president of the hostess club, were of the luncheon party. Mrs. Stewart's former chairmanship in the State made this entertaining of the State President especially appropriate.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Dr. Anna C. Palmer, adviser of the Department of Public Health in the General Federation, gave what the members considered a most interesting and instructive talk before the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club Monday evening. She urged periodical examination, in order to keep fit, as she stated only 14 out of 1,000 are in perfect condition. These yearly examinations, she considers prevent diseases caused by high blood pressure, such as "stroke", kidney trouble or Bright's disease and various diseases of the heart, ear, throat, and lungs. Nothing is so important in the Medical world as cancer, 75% being cured or relieved, if taken in time. The theory is that it is not hereditary or contagious, as it is considered thorough research has proven. At the hospital in Norfolk, which is the first hospital under direction of the State, patients receive the best of care, at a minimum of expense. The week of April 23 is "cancer week" and April 27 open house at the hospital will give the public a chance to inspect it. "Time, Tide and Cancer Wait For No Man."

Miss Doris Greenwood of the Massachusetts Junior Safety Council, gave some startling information, saying that Newton has a bad record of increase in accidents. In 1926 there were 314 adults injured and 115 children, while in 1927 there were 331 adults and 134 children. Of these, 20 children were killed. The bill for compulsory teaching of safety in schools has come up before the Legislature and has been "killed" three times. All work in schools has been killed by a committee of teachers, which works on a contract basis of education. To belong to the Junior council the child must "do" two acts of safety. Amusing illustrations were given, which, underneath the mirth, showed the children do absorb their instruction. Rallies are held once a year in different cities. On April 28, at the Arena there will be a rally comprising 6000 children, 1,500 of whom will take part. This was not only the largest rally planned in New England but in the whole country. "Home and mother" must be back of all safety instruction in the schools, said Miss Greenwood, so that next year there will be a reduction in accidents.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Some twenty members of the Newtonville Woman's Club participated in a program of dance, music, and tableau which proved to be one of the most popular of the Newtonville Woman's Club year. The musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, were accompanied by tableaux with very lovely lighting effects. Following each number, Mr. Guy Del Galzo and Miss Katharine Dickson, of the Hazen School of Dancing, gave an exhibition dance in the modern popular steps. Miss Chelise R. Cook contributed an interpretative dance to the piano solo "To Spring."

Those participating in the musical program were Mrs. William F. Fern, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings, Mrs. A. Chester Carter, Mrs. Carl C. Davis.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Samuel E. Locke to Industrial Bank & Trust Company, dated May 12, 1927, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 507, Page 210, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises hereinafter described on Wednesday, April 18, 1928, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows:

"A certain parcel of land situated on Westchester Road, in the City of Newton, Middlesex County, and being Lot No. 73, as shown on 'Plan of Subdivision of the Towle Estate' owned and developed by Henry J. O'Meara, March 1925, Rowland H. Barnes and Henry E. Beale, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds as File Plan 806. Said lot is more fully bounded and described as follows:

Southerly by Westchester Road, seventy-eight (78) feet; Easterly by Lot 72, as shown on said plan, one hundred thirty-one and 85/100 (131.85) feet; Northerly by part of Lots 65 and 64, as shown on said plan, one hundred forty and 90/100 (140.90) feet and eleven (11) feet respectively; Westerly by Lot 71, as shown on said plan, one hundred thirty-eight and 34/100 (138.34) feet; and containing according to said plan, 810 square feet of land, be any of said measurements, distances, or contents more or less or however otherwise described, measured or described."

The above conveyance includes all furniture, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings, and all other fixtures of whatever kind or nature contained in any building or buildings now standing or hereafter erected on said premises prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage.

The above conveyance is made subject to the zoning law requirements of the City of Newton, if any there be, so far as the same may now be in force and applicable.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles and municipal assessments, if any.

Two thousand dollars ($2,000.) will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale, balance in ten days from the date of sale on delivery of the deed.

The New Dictator Champion of Its Class

Studebaker

IN this new and more powerful Dictator at $1195 f.o.b. factory, Studebaker engineers present the champion of its price class. Under supervision of the American Automobile Association, a Dictator sedan recently traveled 24 hours at better than mile-a-minute speed with no repairs and no stops except for gas and oil.

This new Dictator is designed and finished in custom-built taste and luxury. It carries many items of extra equipment without extra charge, including shock absorbers.

A remarkable value due to Studebaker's One-Plant manufacturing facilities which reduce profits of outside parts-makers to a minimum. Savings thus made allow for extra quality and added refinements without corresponding increase in price.

shower to the Christians of the first century. In a similar way, Mary Baker Eddy is the only Leader the Christian Science movement has ever had, or ever will have.

CHRIST-HEALING

We all recognize the world's great need for deliverance. Humanity needs to be delivered from pain, poverty, strife, grief, sin, sickness, and death. Now no individual can do much towards freeing himself or others from these discordant conditions, so long as he thinks of God as responsible, in any way, for the distresses of mankind. How grateful we should be that the true theology, which Christ Jesus taught and practiced, makes plain the fact that God does not and cannot afflict anyone. A clear realization of this fact has healed many a case of sickness and many a case of grief.

Jesus never connected evil in any way with God. He traced discords of all sorts to the opposite of God, in other words, to the devil or Satan. Indeed, John says of Jesus' mission, "For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil." When Jesus healed the sick, comforted the sorrowing, raised the dead, he utilized God's redemptive power, and he destroyed the works of Satan. His own words leave no room for doubt on this point. When someone objected because he healed a woman on the Sabbath day, Jesus called attention to the fact that people provide for the needs of their animals on that day, and then said: "And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?"

Now what is the devil whose works the Master came to destroy? As the word "God" means good, so the words "devil" and "Satan," as used in the Bible, simply mean the opposite of good, or evil. Since God is the one infinite cause and creator, who produces all that has actual existence, and since He cannot produce anything unlike Himself, it is evident that God can have no real opposite. This relegates evil to the realm of unreality, and that is exactly where Jesus placed evil in his teaching and in his practice. When the great Master said, "If ye continue in my word, ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," he certainly meant that the truth which he was revealing would set the race free from all its woes. He also certainly meant that all those woes are illusions and not facts; for all the truth which a man might learn could never set him free from a single fact.

A chief factor in every case of sickness is fear. In one of his remarkable discourses Jesus said to his disciples, "Peace I leave with you, my peace I

Elizabeth Arden has a scientific preparation for every need of the skin

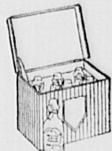

Eau de Nile Soap

A delightful soap for the bath and the hands. Made of purest oils, it lathers freely and fragrantly, and leaves the skin fine and soft. A big chubby cake, green as the soft waters of the Nile. $1 a cake. Three cakes in a box, $3.

Venetian Dusting Powder

A smooth fine powder, pure, soft and lightly perfumed. Removes every trace of moisture from the skin, prevents chapping, cools the skin, so that you slip into your clothes feeling exquisitely refreshed from your bath. A large box, gaily flowered, with a big puff. $3.

Venetian Velve Shampoo

A wonderful new shampoo to be used with almost no water, requires no rinsing, dries in a few moments, and leaves the hair soft and full of velvety lights. Use instead of hard water, which dries and roughens the hair. Excellent for traveling. Six bottles in a box, $3.

Venetian Velve Bath

A creamy preparation to be used instead of soap for the bath and hands. Softens and soothes the skin, heals redness and roughness. Tube, $1.50.

Venetian Bleachine Cream

A bleaching and nourishing cream, made with fresh lemons, to soften, smooth and whiten the skin. $1.25.

Venetian Milk of Almonds

A skin food and emollient, made with oil of fresh almonds. To be rubbed into the skin after the bath, to keep it fair and white. Especially delightful for the arms and hands. $2.50.

SMART WOMEN everywhere know and use Elizabeth Arden's Venetian Toilet Preparations. Venetian Cleansing Cream, Ardena Skin Tonic, Orange Skin Food—these are regarded as necessities. They are used in every Treatment given in the Arden Salons, and should be the basis of your daily care of the skin at home. But there are at least a dozen other Preparations that every fastidious woman needs. An enchanting bath soap, powder, shampoo—who can resist them?

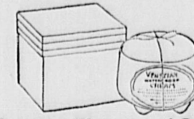

Poudre d'Illusion

Miss Arden has made still another shade of this famous lovely powder. It is Banana, a tint just yellow enough to subdue the flush of the face and to make your skin creamy smooth. Poudre d'Illusion is a powder of superb quality, fine, pure, and adherent. Other shades are Illusion (a peach blend), Rachel, Ocre, Minerva and White. $3.

Savon Kenott

Antiseptic and remedial tooth paste. Cleanses thoroughly and safely—makes the teeth white as pearls—preserves and restores their sparkling health. Strengthens and firms the gums—keeps them pink and vigorous—prevents and checks pyorrhea. Refreshes and purifies the tissues of the mouth—banishes all odor and taste of tobacco. In box, 75c. In tube, 60c.

Venetian Waterproof Cream

A pearly pink finishing cream to be used on the face, neck and arms under powder. It gives the skin a smooth bloom which is waterproof, keeps the skin attractively soft during hours of swimming and sports, prevents sunburn and freckles. A perfect foundation cream also for evening make-up. $3.

Oboy Compact

Elizabeth Arden's smart compact containing generous powder and just enough rouge, with a puff for each, tucked cleverly together within a round gold case, handsomely chased and flat as a wafer. In combinations for Blonde, Medium and Brunette. $2.50.

June Geranium Guest Soap

Fine imported soap of pure vegetable oils, rosy pink and fragrant of rose geranium, in miniature cakes, each cunningly wrapped, for your guest bathroom. Six cakes in a box, $1.50.

Venetian Anti-Wrinkle Cream

A nourishing and astringent cream. Its mellow richness is due to the fresh eggs of which it is made. Fills out fine lines and wrinkles, leaves the skin smooth and firm. Excellent for an afternoon treatment at home. $2, $3.50.

Venetian Healing Cream

A healing and remedial preparation formulated to prevent and correct eruptions of the skin. Keep a jar on hand, to apply at once to any inflamed spot on the face. $1.25.

give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Jesus knew that there is no real reason for fear. He taught his disciples how to rid themselves of fear. No man can be afraid who clearly perceives that God is the only power there is, and that God is wholly good, or in other words, is divine Life, Truth, and Love. Hence John's declaration, "Perfect love casteth out fear. . . . He that feareth is not made perfect in love."

The understanding that God is Love is the perfect remedy for pain. Pain is intimately connected with fear and cruelty. We all know how cruel, despotic, human rulers have conducted themselves, what hardships and distress they have imposed upon their subjects. We all know something about the patience, the forbearance, the kindness which benevolent rulers have manifested. If there existed a man in God's image, a host of people have been delivered from bondage, and ushered into a blessed peace and freedom. Daily it is being demonstrated, wherever active, alert Christian Scientists are found that the truth heals today just as it did in the days of primitive Christianity. The testimonies given every Wednesday evening in the Christian Science churches, and the well-authenticated testimonies of healing, published in The Christian Science Journal and the Christian Science Sentinel, clearly indicate that the practice of Christian Science is blessing the world to an extent far beyond the ability of any man to measure.

A wonderful accession of spiritual enlightenment, health, and freedom will come to the human race whenever it ceases to look upon death as an ancient and honorable institution which has divine sanction. Paul calls death "the last enemy that shall be destroyed." He refers to Jesus as "Our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel." Jesus' teaching and practice indicate beyond question that he regarded death as an error to be resisted and overcome through divine power. He commanded his followers not only to heal the sick, but to raise the dead. At Nain, he stopped a funeral procession, and restored to his widowed mother the young man who was being borne in that procession. He went to the house of Jairus, whose little daughter had just succumbed to the last enemy. On the way he comfortingly said to Jairus, "Fear not, believe only." He said to the mourners who had gathered at that house to grieve: "Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose." He raised his friend, Lazarus, four days after he had been laid in the tomb. Last of all, he allowed those who persistently opposed and resisted his teaching to take him and crucify him. Three days after, he appeared to his disciples. At intervals through a period of forty days, he instructed them. Then he ascended, or in other words, rose above the human sense of things to the divine. His true spiritual selfhood continues to exist, as it always has existed, in infinite Spirit, the perfect Son of the perfect Father. Thus he furnished the proof for all time that man in God's image is eternal and indestructible, and that death is a delusion and a falsity which can and must be overcome, that mortality may give place to immortality.

When Christ Jesus instructed his disciples to preach the gospel, he told them also to heal the sick. The record of healing made of Jesus' followers in the first century is a glorious one. A careful study of that remarkable book of the Bible, The Acts of the Apostles, makes plain this fact.

When Mrs. Eddy organized her church, she emphasized the importance of healing by the divine method which Christ Jesus and his disciples practiced. The Christian Science movement has grown, and is growing, because Christian Science heals. Just through reading "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," a host of people have been delivered from bondage, and ushered into a blessed peace and freedom. Daily it is being demonstrated, wherever active, alert Christian Scientists are found that the truth heals today just as it did in the days of primitive Christianity. The testimonies given every Wednesday evening in the Christian Science churches, and the well-authenticated testimonies of healing, published in The Christian Science Journal and the Christian Science Sentinel, clearly indicate that the practice of Christian Science is blessing the world to an extent far beyond the ability of any man to measure.

faith is understood, then faith merges into spiritual understanding. Faith plays an exceedingly important part in spiritual healing. Jesus' most common remark to those he healed was, "According to your faith be it unto you." He healed with certainty and with ease because his own trust in good was boundless. On page 200 of her book, "Miscellaneous Writings," Mrs. Eddy says, "It was the consummate naturalness of Truth in the mind of Jesus, that made his healing easy and instantaneous." Why should we not trust completely and unswervingly in the good? God, the one and only cause, is good; and all that he produces is good. Why should we ever trust in evil, or ever fear it? Evil is always abnormal, unnatural, un-God-like, and therefore unreal and powerless. Daily we can increase our trust in good, and diminish our false belief in evil. Daily we can increase our understanding of God and the real man. By this spiritual activity we are working out our salvation and aiding others. We are helping to make apparent the nothingness of evil. We are helping to bring nearer the grand day when God will be universally understood, and the perfection of man and the universe will be universally recognized.

K. of C. Again To Sponsor Big Debate

Intercollegiate Debate Between U. of Pitt. and B. C. on April 4

Aagin Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, give the citizens of Newton a rare educational treat through the sponsoring of intercollegiate debates by having the University of Pittsburgh debate Boston College. Wednesday night, April 4, at the Newton Centre Women's Club building.

In the "return match" for the University of Pittsburgh one of the most prominent and vital public questions of the day has been selected for discussion. The subject will be "Resolved: that the United States government should cease to protect by force of arms the private investments of its citizens in foreign countries."

University of Pittsburgh will debate in the affirmative and Boston College in the negative.

The timeliness of the subject with American investments dominating the discussion regarding protection by force of arms in Nicaragua, China, Mexico, Russia, in countries where the economic and social problems are quite upset should have a keen interest for Newton citizens.

The debate is open to the public and because of the limited capacity of the hall there is a moral for the early arrivals.

The personnel of the Boston College team will be of interest to Newton people although no Newton man is on the team. John H. Morris of Watertown, a senior at B. C. in the pre-medical course, Leo P. O'Keefe of Brighton, a junior who has participated in the Fulton Prize debate at the college and in the radio debate over Station WNAC and John L. Frawley of Brockton, also a junior and a member of the Boston College Lecture team are the three men to combat U. of P.

Mr. Sinclair Weeks, West Newton, Chairman of the Board of Aldermen, will preside. Charles E. Coyne, Deputy Grand Knight, is in charge of the arrangements.

Newton Council is also making arrangements for the second intercollegiate debate between Holy Cross and Boston College to be held at the Newton High School auditorium on Sunday night, May 13.

May Discontinue The Vocational School

Survey To Be Made May Extend To Entire School System

One of the outstanding features of the meeting of the School Committee Monday night was the discussion over a survey that will be made of the Vocational School by a sub-committee. This survey of the Vocational School will perhaps be followed by surveys of other schools in the city. Elliott B. Church, member of the committee from Ward 1, stated that in his belief it is the duty of the School Committee because of the attitude taken by the Finance Committee of the aldermen when the budget of the School Department was recently submitted to it. The aldermanic committee on finance at that time was of the opinion that the expenses of the Newton schools, and of the Vocational School in particular, have been growing so rapidly, that if this same rate of increase is continued it will not be many years before the expenses of running the schools of this city would take all the revenue of Newton and leave practically nothing for the other departments of the city.

Grossvenor Calkins, committee member from Ward 7 said he is opposed to experts being employed to make the survey of the Vocational School, and favors it being conducted by members of the School Committee.

The matter of moving a portable school to Oak Hill was again discussed and again referred to the sub-committee dealing with this problem which will report at the next meeting. The sums of $400 for moving bleachers at the High School athletic field and $1057.60 for care of the school grounds were added to the budget of the school department. The committee voted to ask for $14,000 for the purchase of furnishings for the new John Ward school at Chestnut Hill and the Hamilton School at Lower Falls. Committeeman Calkins voted in the negative on this matter. He is opposed to such appropriation being acted upon when the committee does not investigate the items in detail. Those favoring this expenditure claimed it was necessary to authorize the purchase of the furnishings at once to permit the new schools.

Committeeman Tracy reported that progress is being made on the acquiring of the two sites for new schools at Newtonville recommended by the joint committee of aldermen and school committee. It was voted to ask the mayor to provide a two-room portable school for the Clafin district and a one room portable for the Horace Mann district. District lines were established for the John Ward school. The sub-committee on transportation reported that the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway has agreed to run an extra bus morning to carry children from the Commonwealth avenue section to the Clafin School, and it will also provide a bus for these children noontimes if their parents will agree to underwrite the cost of running these noon trips, which is $5 per day.

Mr. Tracy called attention to the increasing number of thefts reported in the Newton schools; money and other articles having been taken from pupils' clothing in the lockers. Recently a girl attending the Levi Warren Junior High School had a fur coat, valued at $250, stolen.

The attitude of School Committee-men Calkins and Alderman Collins regarding the vocational high school has been misquoted. Both these gentlemen strongly deny having stated that "the vocational high should be discontinued." Mr. Calkins believed there should be a survey of the Vocational High because the cost per pupil there is double the cost of the other branches of the high school, and while the enrollment in the classical and technical departments has doubled in late years, that in the Vocational has (Continued on page 4)

Prof. Sharp Decries Idea Of Standards

Speaks At Annual Father's Night Of School Association

The annual Father's Night of the Newton Centre School Association was held Wednesday evening in Mason School Hall. About 200 parents turned out, some of the mothers not attending, through some misunderstanding, believing it to be for fathers only. This error should not have occurred since it has been repeatedly given out that all open meetings of the Association are for fathers, mothers, teachers and any and all friends of the organization who care to attend.

Mrs. William H. Royce, the president, having been ill for a number of weeks, was unable to be present, and the vice president, Mrs. H. G. Giddings, was called out of the city so that the duty of presiding fell to the secretary, Mrs. A. Maxwell Stone. After a rendition of Mendelssohn's Scherzo in E minor for piano by Mrs. Kirtley Mather, Mr. Samuel B. Paul, principal of the Mason School, welcomed the guests and especially urged the fathers to come out a little more often and learn what their children were doing in school and how they were doing it; and to get better acquainted with the teachers. He spoke of what a help the Association had become to himself and the teachers and said they now often wonder how they did without their help in years past.

Mrs. Stone then read a message from the president, giving a summary of the work of the past year and making a few helpful suggestions for the future. One was an urge to the parents to co-operate in teaching their children civic pride in keeping litter off the streets, not trampling lawns and also not marking with chalk in public places, so that Newton may continue to deserve her sobriquet of "The Garden City."

Dr. H. G. Giddings spoke briefly on the work of the Junior Safety Council and invited the parents to attend the rally to be held by the Council on April 28th in the Boston Arena.

Mrs. C. A. Ballou read the resolutions on the death of Mrs. Albert G. Hopkins, the past president of the Association, to whom much of the success of the organization is largely due.

Mrs. W. G. Parmelee played a group of violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. Mather, after which Mrs. B. K. Thorogood, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker of the evening, Professor Dallas Lore Sharp. His subject was "Five Days and an Education." He reviewed the modern idea of standardizing and classifying children and said that, despite this modern trend, each child is not an average child but an individual and should be treated and taught as such.

The physical side of school has leaped from the little red schoolhouse to the modern $3,000,000 high school, but he questioned whether the educational side had advanced in like manner.

Out of all his 19 years spent in acquiring an education, five days stood out as moments of great spiritual uplift. The first day, a day of investment—when he spent his first hard-earned money for two small volumes of Nature Studies which, in turn, inspired him with a thirst for knowledge and education. The second, a day of adventure, when he was sent out by his teacher, a pretty, young "school marm," to discover and bring in the first mistletoe found in New Jersey by his class. No Columbus ever set out on a greater adventure, and nowhere else is life so dangerous as right along the frontier of education. Third, the day of wonder, in which he discovered the Truth and Divine Significance in Beauty. Education is to give us the eyes of poets and children, that we may recognize and grasp them for our own. Fourth, the day of power.

Big Political Rally To Be Held on April 12

Newton League of Women Voters Sponsors Important Event

With the Primary on April 23rd less than a month away, and with the large number of candidates in the field this year, especially on the Democratic Ticket, the citizens of Newton are fortunate indeed to have the opportunity of hearing Senator Gaspar G. Bacon and Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald at the Pre Election Rally to be held in the auditorium of the Newton High School on Thursday, April 12th, at eight o'clock in the evening.

Seldom have two such vigorous, authoritative speakers appeared at a political rally in Newton. Senator Bacon, who is serving his second term in the upper branch of the Legislature from the Sixth Suffolk Senatorial District, is a son of the late Honorable Robert Bacon, who will be remembered as Secretary of the United States under President Roosevelt, and Ambassador to France under President Taft, and served his country as a Lieutenant-Colonel, dying as a result of his overseas service. One of his brothers, Lieutenant-Colonel Robert L. Bacon, is now serving his third term in Congress from Long Island, New York.

Senator Bacon enlisted as a private at the call to the colors in the recent World War being honorably discharged at the close of the war as Major of the 16th Field Artillery. He was the first National Treasurer of the American Legion, is Secretary of the Trustees of Boston University, an authority on Constitutional Law and is at present giving a series of lectures on the Constitution at Boston University.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, a daughter of Admiral Walker, is a graduate of Bryn Mawr and for a number of years has been active in politics. In 1920 she was alternate delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention and in 1925 was elected for one term to the Mass. House of Representatives. She is now serving the state as a member of the Necessaries of Life Commission. The subject of her address will be, "The Development of the Presidential Election."

Mr. William E. Brigham of the editorial staff of the Boston Evening Transcript will be the chairman of the meeting.

In addition, Professor Frederick Lincoln Anderson, running independently as candidate for Delegate at Large has been asked to be present and to speak on his candidacy or on the Preference Act just passed by the General Court.

On this day he had brought into the schoolroom a snake, and the teacher, instead of reprimanding and sending him to the principal to be chastised, called upon him to come before the class and tell of his finding it and why and how he had happened to bring it to school. The story was so interesting that he was urged to write it into an essay for the Friday afternoon exercises. He afterward sent a copy of this essay to the Youth's Companion, in which it was published and for it he received a check for $10. That was the day he discovered his power to give of his knowledge, for, after all, only half of education is in the taking, the other half is in giving out. The fifth, the day of weakness, is when we grasp how very finite and really human we are and learn the lesson of true humility.

Professor Sharp's whole address was most inspiring and instructive, as well as entertaining, and ended all too soon, judging by the prolonged applause accorded the speaker.

Sandwiches and coffee were served by the ladies during the social hour following and another Father's Night became Association history.

Will Give Its Third Concert of the Season

Newton Symphony Orchestra To Play In High School Hall

The third concert of the 1927-8 season will be given by the Newton Symphony Orchestra on Tuesday evening, April 3rd. As usual the comfortable hall of the Newtonville High School will be used.

A very fine program is promised for music lovers and, judging by their previous efforts the orchestra, as well as the soloist, should give us a wonderfully entertaining evening. Mrs. Ethel Ferrin, contralto, will be the soloist.

On February 2nd they presented a program which I was fortunate enough to hear. They gave, in my opinion, one of the most interesting and highly entertaining performances that I have heard.

Mr. D. Ralph Maclean is a conductor of great skill and it is seldom that a group of amateurs is privileged to be led by a man of his ability.

One of the chief points I noticed in this last concert was the fact that they played the accompaniments extraordinarily well. There is always a tendency to "swamp" a singer; in fact, in accompaniments one must often disregard the script markings and translate a fortissimo into a piano, or a forte into a pianissimo. Fifty or sixty instruments can go a long way toward entirely drowning the soloist. Mr. Richard Condie gave us three delightful and popular songs. He is a tenor of exceptional tone purity and obviously pleased the audience by the sheer natural beauty of his voice. His legato was very fine.

The orchestra's "piece de resistance" of the evening was Jean Sibelius' tone poem, "Finlandia." One might call this a tone epic of the Northland. During the war, the Finnish government, desirous to remain neutral, forbade its being played in public, as they considered it too stirring and too martial in nature for the somewhat war-frenzied spirit of the people. Mr. Maclean led his orchestra admirably through the number, the orchestra itself entering thoroughly into the spirit of the work, and the result equally reflected in the audience. A great number for the close of a program.

Do not fail to come to the High School Hall next Tuesday, April 3rd. Make a note of the date. One cannot always hear such programs as these over the radio. J. W. S.

BENEFIT SHOP

The Benefit Shop at 5 Washington terrace, Newtonville, has had a valuable gift which is offered for sale. A rare Cloisonne vase 32 inches high, of Chinese workmanship on copper, appraised by an expert at anywhere from $300 to $500 it is offered by the Benefit Shop at $100. Mr. Walter Hatch of Roxbury street, Boston, who is an authority on all things Chinese and Japanese considers it an unusually fine specimen. It may be seen by appointment or particulars may be had by calling Mrs. Francis Williams before 8:30 in the morning.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

A small sedan driven by Edward Mahoney of Commonwealth avenue, Allston, and a larger car driven by Gardiner Wardwell of Melrose, collided Tuesday afternoon on Commonwealth avenue, near Read court, Newton Centre. The small car turned a corner and two of its three occupants were injured. Mahoney received cuts on the face and hands, and Ernest Langford of 129 Longwood avenue, Boston, suffered a severe rash on his left hand which may result in the permanent disabling of one finger. The two injured youths were taken to the Brooks Memorial Hospital on Corey Hill for treatment.

School Teachers Ask Increase In Salary

Request of Flat Increase In Budget Now Before Aldermen

The teachers in the Newton schools have submitted a request to the School Committee asking for a flat increase in salaries of $100. The committee voted to acknowledge the receipt of the request and to inform the teachers that provision for such an increase had been made by the committee in the school budget submitted to the Board of Aldermen. The communication from the teachers read as follows:

"In September, 1926, many of the Newton teachers received an average of $100 toward a $2,000 maximum which the School Committee had already established. It was the understanding and earnest hope of the teachers that another $100 increase was to be granted in September, 1927. The grade teachers were keenly disappointed at not receiving the increase.

"It is the sincere desire and expectation of every grade teacher in Newton that this increase will be granted to become operative the next school year."

AUBURNDALE CLUB PLAYERS

"The Mask and the Face," a satirical comedy by C. B. Fernald presented before two large audiences at the Auburndale Club on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, met with much applause and favorable comment. The stage setting, a room in the House of Count Grazia, on the shore of Lake Como, Italy, was especially fitting, the furniture being obtained from the studio of Angelo Lualdi in Boston. Filene's supplied the gowns worn by Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Prelivitz in the first act and the Orthophonic Victrola was loaned by the Newton Music Co.

Great credit should be given Mr. Berry and his committee who designed and constructed the setting.

The cast included the Mesdames Lorraine Foat Holmes, Virginia Briggs, Florence Ferguson, Eunice Brown, Mrs. Prelivitz, Edith Gilpatrick, Messrs. James Graham, Charles W. Blood, Percy Crosby, Alan Dunlop, Robert Olmstead, Herbert Mayer, E. A. Hancock, Ernest Braithwaite and Charles Hewson.

The production was under the personal direction of Mr. Ernest Law Johnson, who has produced several worth while plays at the Auburndale Club.

Three Newton People Win At Flower Show

Auburndale Florist Wins Twenty-Seven Prizes With Thirty Entries

The annual spring flower show at Horticultural Hall, Boston, held from Tuesday, March 20, until last Sunday, was featured by the displays of three residents of this city—William A. Riggs of Auburndale, Mrs. R. M. Saltonstall and Edwin S. Webster of Chestnut Hill. Mr. Riggs, who conducts a greenhouse on Freeman street, Auburndale, swept the show with his beautiful collections of tulips, hyacinths and narcissi. Out of 39 entries made by him, he won 27 first prizes. Experts asserted that his plants were the finest of these varieties they had ever seen exhibited in this country. Mr. Riggs, who started to practice horticulture in his native Scotland, worked in some of the best private greenhouses around Boston before going into business for himself.

Mrs. Saltonstall won prizes for primulas and flowering plants and Mr. Webster captured awards for orchids, hyacinths, narcissi and tulips. A vote of commendation was given to Mrs. Saltonstall for a display of marguerites.

W. C. T. U.

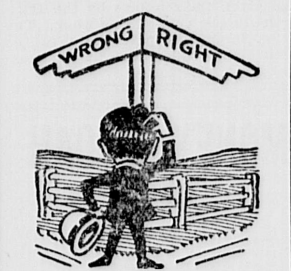

The Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will convene at the Methodist Episcopal Church—Rev. William Shaw, rector—Summer street, Newton Upper Falls, on Thursday, April 5th, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Miss Mable C. Bragg will provide the speaker for the afternoon. The subject, "Alcohol and Other Narcotics." Mrs. Frank Redman, Hostess. Special features, Music.

ROYAL ARCANUM

Mr. Ida Council held its last meeting Monday night at Grand Army Hall in the Masonic Building, Newtonville. The members were so well pleased with the hall that it was voted to make it the permanent meeting place of the Council. The trustees were authorized to secure the hall for the meetings. During the evening Brother Sidney Porter entertained with some more of those good stories of his.

At the next meeting April 9th the Council will have as its guests Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Mayor of Newton and John H. McGarran, Grand Regent R. A. of Massachusetts. An entertainment to be followed by a collation is being planned for the guests and members.

OUR PLAN

We lend money to help people buy, build and improve homes. Since our loans call for a regular schedule of $10 per month for each $1000 of the loan, $5 for interest and $5 on the shares, which in effect reduces the principal, these loans are best for the borrower.

Under our plan it is "about the same as paying rent" to pay out on a home. Besides, you attain complete ownership in a definite period.

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

FOUR ATHLETES NAMED ON TEAM

Newton high placed four members of its indoor track team on the all-scholastic outfit annually chosen by the Boston Globe. Five runners and field men were chosen in each event and only one of the four local athletes was a first choice. The others were rated as the second best of Massachusetts high school youths in their favorite events.

Edward Ebelhara was defeated but once and tied but once in the entire season. He was a consistent five foot ten inch high jumper and was rarely forced to his limit. In the B. A. A. schoolboy games he figured in a tie for first place with four other jumpers among whom were the attending preparatory schools, and therefore older and more experienced. Ebelhara's only defeat came a week later in the State meet when Janis, the Lawrence star, nosed him out. Ebelhara won the jump at the Andover interscholastics and in every dual meet where the opposing competitor was kept enough to shut out Milton Fine, Newton's second best high jumper, from first or second place.

Robert Kinraide, who won the broad jump for the orange and black, in every dual meet with the exception of the return meet at Brookline, was given second to Alfred Prince, the Brookline jumper who won the event at the State meet when the Newton lad had an off-day and failed to do better than the tie for fourth. These two meetings were the only ones in which Prince outdistanced the Newton lad but on the basis of the season's performances the sports writer who made the selection gave Prince the preference.

James McCrudden, Newton's star distance runner, started the season in fine style by forcing Tom Clausen to equal the track record at the high school in the Alumni meet. In the dual meet season McCrudden showed his heels to all his competitors by a wide margin until shortly before the Huntington meet when he cut his leg with an axe while chopping wood. This injury kept him out of that meet and practically ruined his chances of defeating Walter Langley, the Lowell star, in the interscholastic meets following.

At the Andover meet when the Newton runner dropped out of the race for the first time after his injury he ran on a schedule which Coach Enoch set for him at 2:25. For almost the entire distance he was right on the dot but the layoff showed its effects in the final lap and his time as winner of the first heat was two seconds slower than that of Langley of the second heat. Following that meet McCrudden's jinx came on his trail and forced him to bed with the flu for a few days. This forced Coach Enoch to keep his star out of the B. A. A. race which Ulrich, the Newark prep star, won over Langley. The latter beat himself by occasional springs in order to maintain his lead and when the final drive came Langley did not have any. At the State meet McCrudden managed to place third although he was in nowhere near the condition he had been in earlier in the season. Langley well deserved first choice in the event and McCrudden was second choice.

The fourth Newton athlete to gain a place on the all-star outfit was Romaine Cole whose hurdling was a big factor in all of the dual meets as well as the interscholastic meets. John Janis, the 1927 state champion, successfully defended his title over the timbers against Cole, Clifford of Brockton, and Gleason of Lowell. John Hayes of Somerville, winner of event at the Bowdoin interscholastics and also Class B state champion was chosen third. Romaine Cole, who was kept out of first by only the Lawrence star, will be a welcome addition to any prep school or college squad.

With the coming of spring the Newton mentor will soon call out all the candidates for the outdoor track season which opens April 28th, with a dual meet at Brockton. The schedule includes dual meetings with Andover, 2nd, and Milton, and a triple meet in addition to the interscholastic affairs. McCrudden is captain of the outdoor team and is anticipating a good season as a half-miler. McCrudden will probably develop into a better miler than a half-miler but the high schools do not participate in that event because of it being too great a strain on a youth of school age. When he goes to Penn State next fall where former captain Wallace Fullerton is now a student he will try his luck at the longer distance. With nearly every member of this year's indoor team available for outdoor competition the orange and black should be among the leaders this spring on the cinders and in the pits. Much is expected from Dick Reynolds, captain-elect of the 1929 indoor outfit, and the fastest 449-yard runner in school.

SPORT NOTES

Cronin Goes to Providence

Bill Cronin, the West Newton youth who has been with the Boston Braves at their St. Petersburg training quarters, will again play with the Providence team of the Eastern league. At the beginning of the season Cronin's chances of being retained were rather bright as the club had sent Hogan to the New York Giants as part of the deal for Hornsby and Luke Urban, the second string catcher was a hold-out. The Braves then obtained Taylor and Urban came to terms leaving Cronin to fight it out with Baxter Williams, another rookie, for the third string berth. Williams was obtained in the draft and under that law must keep him until May 15th, which gives him the advantage over the local youth although the pair were on even terms as far as ability goes. Cronin is considered a prospect for future big league play and the Braves will probably keep a string on him.

TENNIS TEAM IN LEAGUE MATCHES

The Newton high tennis schedule recently announced gives an indication of the interest expected to be displayed in that sport this coming spring with five of the fifteen dual affairs being with the other members of the new Greater Boston High School Tennis Association which was formed a short while ago. Coach Wendell Smith, the Newton high team was one of the organizers of the league and was named chairman of the governing board which includes one representative from each of the schools holding membership. The school principals make the appointments. The rules of the league are those of the Massachusetts High School Athletic Association. A cup will be awarded the league champion.

David Scott is captain of the tennis team which has for a nucleus Arthur Noble, Norman Harris and Charles Gluck in addition to Scott. Among the other tennis players in school who are considered good prospects for the team are Gordon Naylor and Norman Payne. Naylor has won several titles in the past few years while Payne is an all-around athlete of football and basketball fame.

SPORT NOTES

Bryant Wins Two Thirds

Captain Bryant of the Dartmouth swimming team finished third in both the 50 and 100-yard free style events at the Eastern intercollegiate swimming championships in Philadelphia last Saturday night. The Green star won his trial heat and finished second in the first semi-final heat on Friday night in the 100 and also qualified in the 50-yard. In the final of the shorter event on Saturday, Captain House of Yale, won with Wright of Columbia second and Bryant third while in the final of the century Howland of Yale was the winner with Phillips of the Navy second and Bryant third.

The Hanoverite's ability won him two places on the all-collegiate team picked by the coaches for the Associated Press. In both the 50 and 100 yard events he was second to the Yale men who beat him Saturday. In the relay he came close to gaining a place but was nosed out by Phillips of the Navy. He was named on the second team relay.

A feature of the meet Saturday night was the swimming of the Rutgers freshman relay team which defeated the Yale yearlings and established a new intercollegiate record for the distance. Hamilton Lincoln, who starred in recent years for Country Day school, was at anchor for the Blue first year merman.

Jinx on Shaw's Trail

The jinx which has been chasing Alan Shaw and kept him out of athletics for the greater part of his stay at Bowdoin college where he is a sophomore got in his work again last Friday. The former Newton high outfielder and catcher was sliding to base during a practice session in the cage and broke his ankle. He was one of the best prospective catchers on the Polar Bear squad.

Pioneer Nine Out Doors

The Boston University nine has been taking advantage of the recent good weather by holding practice at the Walpole street grounds. It gave the batters their first opportunity to look the pitching over, Carleton McCullough, former Newton high and Exeter outfielder, is among those that look unusually good. Both he and Gay, a former Maine star, take a good clean cut at the ball without trying to knock off the cover.

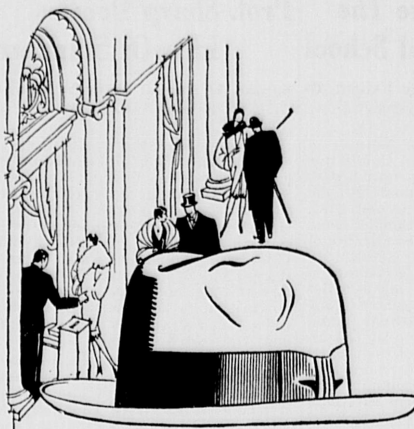

Middlesex Sweeps Waban

In the Newton bowling league matches on Wednesday night the Middlesex Club team continued serenely on its way by scoring a clean sweep over the Waban Neighborhood Club. The first string was a battle with the pace-setters winning out by a single pin on the Waban alleys. After that there was nothing to it with Pyatt turning in a high single of 133. In other league matches the B. A. A. took three out of four from the Newton club on their Union alleys while Maugus and Commercial were splitting even at Wellesley.

Gilligan Quarterback At Harvard

Tom Gilligan is holding down the quarterback berth on one of the two Harvard football teams now indulging in scrimmage practice. Coach Horween has divided his Spring squad into two teams, Army and Navy, with Gilligan calling the plays for the Army.

WIN TRIP TO MAT TRYOUTS IN MICH.

Two members of the Newton Y. M. C. A. wrestling team came through with flying colors in the Eastern Olympic tryouts Saturday afternoon and evening at the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. and won the right to compete at the National Olympic tryouts at Grand Rapids, Michigan, next July. The local pair were Joe Arsenault and Frank Cassidy. The former drew a first-round bye in the 145-pound class before meeting a teammate, Albert B. Evans, in the second round. He pinned Evans to the mat in eighteen seconds to gain the semi-final round. In that round he and John Hinkle of the Harvard University team wrestled the full time without a fall and the local man was given the decision. In the final round he met N. Der Marderosian of the M. I. T. team and gained the decision again. Winning the final bout won him recognition as the N. E. A. U. champion, since these sectional tryouts supplanted the customary title bouts. The runners-up in all the six classes on the program will also make the trip to the middle west this summer.

This fact gives Frank Cassidy the chance to continue his endeavors to make the team as he came through the field in the 134-pound class only to lose the decision in his final match with Neil Quimby of Springfield College which had to be extended two extra periods before the judges could choose the winner. Cassidy defeated Aldeo Levesque of the Lynn Y team in his first round match by a decision and then got a similar award over Mac Rapport of the Boston Y. M. C. U. in the semi-final. Following the final bouts trials were held for second place between the loser of the finals and the loser in the other semi-final bouts. This match went by default to Cassidy when Lawrence Worcester of the Boston Y. M. C. A. did not want to compete further.

The other members of the local team did not fare as well although Joe Vachon gained the semi-finals in the 158-pound class only to lose the decision to Walter Wentworth of Brown University. Henry Vachon lost in the first round of the 145-pound class to Der Marderosian, whom Arsenault defeated later in the finals. Arthur J. MacDonald, the other local entry, was eliminated in the first round of the 134-pound class by Mac Rapport of the Boston Union, who was later put out by Cassidy.

Locke Takes First Place

In the first interfraternity swimming meet held in Bowdoin College's new swimming pool, William Locke of Newtonville, Alpha Delta Phi, won first place in the 100 yd. breast stroke.

Lower Falls Runner In Marathon

Among the entries for the B. A. A. marathon on Patriot's Day which Manager Tom Kanaaly received this week was that of Herman Norton of Newton Lower Falls.

Rice Reaches Forth Round

Lawrence B. Rice advanced to the fourth round of the South Atlantic tennis championship play at Augusta, Ga., on Wednesday by default on the part of Robert Baker of Charleston, S. C. The Newton Centre man won his third round match from Lt. J. Hedekin of Fort Macpherson, Ga., 61, 63. He experienced little trouble in putting out two previous opponents early in the week.

B. U. Hockey Players Get Letters

Of the twelve letters awarded to the B. U. varsity hockey squad two were won by local youths, Captain John Lawless of West Newton and Holmes Whitmore of Newton Highlands. Lawless is a senior at the Harvard school and has been a star for the past two seasons while Whitmore is a freshman who should be an important cog in the sextet for the next three years.

Yale Gives Hockey Letters

The Yale Athletic Association announced awards to athletes in four sports, hockey, basketball, boxing, and wrestling this week. Among those given the major Y in hockey were Captain Richard F. Vaughan of Newton Centre.

HARRINGTON TO LEAD 1929 SIX

Last week Thursday night the Newton high school championship hockey team was given a dinner and theatre party by George H. Brown of Newtonville, father of James, who captained the sextet. The dinner was given at the University Club to the twelve letter men, three managers, coach and two of the faculty. Before leaving for the theatre the team elected Daniel Harrington, goalie, to lead next year's outfit.

At the beginning of the season Harrington, who was a star linesman on the football team, went out for a position in the outer defence. All three of the defence players of the 1927 team had graduated in June and Coach Dr. Martin was confronted with a big problem to fill their places. After considerable experimenting he finally shifted Harrington to the net where the blonde youth made good from the start. With him on the job the team steadied and the team started on its way to its seventh title. Next winter's prospects are good considering the fact that among the missing ones will be Frank Spain, star centre ice, and Robert Bennett and Bill Sutcliffe, defence men. The regulars to return beside Harrington are ex-captain James Brown, Langdon Powers, and Art Fletcher on the forward line and Joe Gilligan on the outer cordon of the defence. It is not without the realm of possibility for the orange and black to annex its eighth league title under Dr. Martin's regime.

Vaughan Is Yale Second Best

Richard F. Vaughan of Newton Centre, for the past three years one of the outstanding athletes at Yale College, was recently chosen as the second most brilliant and versatile athlete in the institution by vote of the senior class. He was also voted the third best natured man in the class. This year, his final at New Haven, he has held the unusual honor of being captain in two sports. He led the hockey team and was a big aid in helping Palmer, the Yale wing, to score a record number of goals by his perfect passing. He is also captain of the baseball team which is now preparing for the coming season. Prior to his enrollment at Yale he was a student of high rank at Newton high and Andover where he excelled in the same sports. He captained the high school nine which had Howard Whitmore, now of Harvard, and Bill Cronin, now in the South with the Braves, as the battery. Guy Holbrook, also at present a Harvard athlete, held down the hot corner on the same team. In hockey he was a star schoolboy player, holding down the centre ice position for three years. His college record has been somewhat similar. As a freshman he captained the sextet and played on the baseball team. As a sophomore he made both the varsity teams and has held his position on them since. The only other athlete to receive more votes for the best athlete was Bruce Caldwell, the football star, who was ruled ineligible last fall shortly before the two big games of the season when it was discovered he had played football when a freshman at Brown University.

Lingham a Good Prospect

Coach Jean Dubuc of the Brown University baseball team has a number of good prospective pitchers among whom is Phil Lingham, former Newton high youth, freshman hurler last fall and defence player on the hockey team which ended its season a few weeks ago. Lingham is recovering from a recent illness however and is taking things easy. Last spring Lingham shone for the yearlings while on the mound.

Bryant Gets Letter

Captain John Bryant of the Dartmouth swimming team was among those given their letters by the Dartmouth athletic council this week. The star sprinter will participate in the national intercollegiate at Philadelphia tomorrow.

DeMOLAY OBSERVES PARENTS' NIGHT

Last Saturday evening in Temple Hall, Newtonville, the Newton Chapter of the Order of DeMolay observed Parents' Night with a banquet at 6:30 served by Seiler and followed by an evening's entertainment. While the occasion was especially for the parents of the members many brothers and sisters were among the welcome guests. Mayor Edwin O. Childs, chairman of the advisory council of the chapter, made a brief address. A program of music by the DeMolay Band, which has won wide recognition for its ability, and bits of humor by Miss Florence Andrews completed the entertainment. Miss Andrews kept the audience in continual laughter with her seemingly endless repertoire of humor.

Bait, Switch, Then Sell

The appearance of this Service Message in these columns is evidence that this publication subscribes wholeheartedly to the principles of the Boston Better Business Bureau, and co-operates with the Bureau in protecting you . . . even to the extent of refusing to accept the advertising of firms whose advertising and sales policies are proved by the Bureau to be contrary to the public interest.

When a merchant advertises something that he doesn't want or intend to sell, he is using "BAIT" advertising. This practice is found all too frequently in low priced furniture advertising.

When you find the merchandise is unlike that advertised, or the salesman depreciates and "knocks" it, or you can't buy it, this may be preliminary to "SWITCHING" you to merchandise he does want to sell—at higher and usually exorbitant prices.

Such advertising has served the purpose of the unscrupulous merchant in luring you to the store. The next step is to lure you from the advertised merchandise to something on which the dealer will make a profit. This process is called "SWITCHING". Merchants who use these tactics, and fortunately there are only a few, are "gyp" artists interested only in selling cheap furniture at exorbitant prices.

Most advertising deserves your confidence. Only the few unscrupulous advertisers use "BAIT" advertising. Publications co-operating with the Boston Better Business Bureau realize the menace of "BAIT" and do not tolerate it in their advertising columns. You can help by reporting to the Bureau any experiences you may have.

Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Warren K. Lewis' talk on, "The Fuel of the Future," brought out a splendid group to the last meeting of the Fellowship Club. Dr. Lewis sketched briefly the development of the oil industry and assured us that chemists both in this country and in other lands had studied this question of fuel so carefully that there were several ways in which the fuel of the future could be procured at reasonable prices after the supply of crude petroleum was exhausted. There were several former pupils of Dr. Lewis present and many who were especially interested in the subject of motor fuel.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, April 2nd, will be Rev. Cornelius E. Clark, Pastor of the Congregational Church in Abundant. His subject will be, "Our Supreme Vocation."

The Board of Directors will meet on Tuesday evening, April 3rd, at eight o'clock.

Physical Department Notes

The volleyball team of the Business Men's gymnasium class of the Newton Y. M. C. A. played the Gloucester "Y" team last Saturday afternoon at the Gloucester "Y" and won three games to two. The scores of the games were 15-10, 9-15, 15-8, 14-16, and 15-5. Those who played for Newton were: H. E. Pelton, Captain; Arnold Barker, R. W. Beach, R. E. Holmes, F. S. Bacon, C. W. Baker, and A. N. Walker.

In the Boys' 1900 Point Athletic Contest which has been conducted in twenty-seven Associations in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the boys in the Newton Y. M. C. A. finished fifteenth. This contest has been a series of ten athletic events with one event conducted each week in the five different gymnasium classes of the local "Y," and include the 50 yard dash, 3 potato races, 8 lb. shot put, pull ups, standing hop, step, and jump, 100 yard dash, standing broad jump, and running high jump. The boys were divided into two weight classes: Class A under 110 pounds and Class B 110 pounds and over. The ten highest point winners in Class A are W. Earle, Joe Benson, C. Gallagher, L. Martin, P. Macklin, J. Leone, A. Kasper, G. Smith, L. Manion, and W. Winters. In Class B the high point winners are D. and T. Webber, H. Fisher, F. Jordan, A. Lombard, J. Simonds, G. Marsh, G. Dolbier, G. Crummett, and J. Griffin.

The ten events of the Boys 500 Point Aquatic Contest have been completed with fifteen Y. M. C. A.'s in Massachusetts and Rhode Island participating with Newton Y. M. C. A. finishing in fifth place. Teams ahead of Newton were Worcester, Brockton, Providence, and Cambridge. Among the "Y's" which Newton defeated were Lynn, Lawrence, Boston, Chelsea, and Springfield. The high point winners in the contest in Newton "Y" were Edgar Davidson, W. Perry, N. Stoney, J. Simonds, J. Benson, E. Keeler, L. Dion, G. Crummett, R. Drummond, and H. Fisher.

DAMON HALL NOTES

The entire student body listened to the second Edward Howard Griggs lecture, Thursday evening, upon Saint Francis of Assisi.

Three illustrated lectures were given last week by President Damon upon the subject of "Pirates and Buccaneers." Use was made of the remarkable set of colored slides prepared by the late Lewis Appleton Barker, Esq., the eminent authority and writer upon that subject.

The students of American History were the guests of President Daniel L. Marsh of Boston University, Monday, at the lecture given by Chief Justice Scott Wilson of Maine, and again on Friday at the lecture given by Chief Justice Robert James Peaslee of New Hampshire.

The members of the class in Economics made a careful study of the collection of thirty thousand specimens of money on display at the First National Bank in Boston. The students of the Course of Foreign Travel found much of value and interest in the unique exhibition of natural apparatus and collections at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The study was made under three heads: nautical astronomical instruments from the earliest times, the latest devices of radio, deep sounding, etc., and the naval models.

The students taking work in dramatic art were the guests of Leighton Rollins, Dean of the Repertory Theatre Workshop, at tea in his home at Wellesley.

The Faculty have announced the date of Class Day as June 5, at 2:30 P. M. and the class parties as follows: History, Alma Whitman; Vocal Solo, Rosamond Ayers; Prophecy, Helen Washburn; Poem, Joan Damon; Class Will, Jane Doughty; Year Book, Harriet Savage; Marshal, Elizabeth Harris.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

For some years the driveway at the railroad station at Newton has been a one-way street from Centre street to Centre Place by order of the Boston & Albany officials. This restriction has worked well and has been obeyed. It has been called to our attention that a Newton policeman has been ignoring this restriction. When Newton citizens obey this restriction, made to safeguard traffic, it seems that members of the police force should do likewise.

While thieving is not to be condoned, young girls attending public schools attired in costly fur coats, and leaving such garments in lockers or coat rooms, are only placing temptation in the way of some pupil who has less wealthy parents.

It would be to the mutual advantage of the city and whoever will own the new building on the site of Eliot Block to have the corner at Centre and Elmwood streets widened.

On January 24, an eight year old girl in Woburn was killed by an automobile, the driver of which sneaked away leaving the victim dying where she was hit. This sort of dastardly thing had been becoming so common that Gov. Fuller, with the consent of Executive Council offered a reward of $1000 for the apprehension of the driver of the car which had killed the child. A couple of weeks ago a Woburn man discovered a clue which led to the arrest and conviction of the guilty person who proved to be a 15 year old Medford boy. This man will probably be given the $1000 reward. The boy was sentenced to—30 days' imprisonment.

The other evening we rode out from Boston on a Boston Elevated car. The conductor, whose number was 3742, was very much on the job. He called out distinctly the name of every street and when two youths reversed the seats in front of them and started to use it for a footrest, he quickly ordered them to remove their muddy shoes from the seat—and they obeyed, as Conductor 3742 had the appearance of being able to enforce his order.

A number of citizens have spoken to us about the need of widening the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets where the Eliot Block stands. This has been regarded as a dangerous corner and in the opinion of many the city should widen it before another building will have been erected.

Out in Seattle, Washington, a humane society has taken action against a woman who proposes to have her pet Pomeranian operated on so that its bark will be silenced. The secretary of this society states that a veterinarian says, "Such an operation would be cruel and freakish and remove the dog's principal nervous outlet." Another veterinarian says, "The removal of a dog's bark by stifling its vocal cords is a thousand times less cruel than trimming its ears. The operation is less serious than the removal of tonsils in a man. It would not affect the dog's nervous system as the dog would go through the motions of barking just the same."

So much for the varying opinions of two veterinarians. We know of some dogs whose barking, while it may furnish an outlet for their nerves, works as an inlet on the nerves of many humans residing in the neighborhood where these dogs vocalize. In our neighborhood is one of that popular breed of dogs, commonly called "police dogs," officially known as a "shepherd dog," and in Germany, where this breed was developed, called a "schäferhund." This dog is wont to roam about the neighborhood nights and it is a regular occurrence to have him wake up many in the wee hours when his powerful voice is broadcast. More than once we have wished that his vocal cords were muffled. We don't mind dogs barking, if they do it in the daytime. It is not essential to a dog's health that his nerves have an outlet by means of undue indulgence in barking. Most dogs do not abuse the barking privilege. Some breeds—such as Samoyeds and Chow—rarely bark. A dog barks unduly because it has formed the habit of barking.

Cats do not find an outlet for their nerves in vocalizing. A cat does not meow or yowl unnecessarily. It resorts to vocal efforts only on special occasions. A cat finds its nervous outlet in its tail. But, if this nervous outlet (or appendage) is nonexistent, the cat does not suffer greatly. Many cats are no more nervous than the common varieties of felines. They have no tails.

Just at present our early morning slumbers are not being disturbed by dogs. Another one of our neighbors keeps hens—and a rooster. During the past week these hens and their consort, have started the practice of making a tour of the neighborhood just as dawn breaks. It seems that the rooster has picked out a spot under our window as the "locus" where he is to greet the morn loudly and repeatedly.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM

Mrs. Frederick R. Dixon, a missionary worker from Mt. Selinda, Rhodesia, in Africa was the speaker at the meeting Sunday evening of the Young People's Forum in Waban. Mrs. Dixon was taking the place of her friend, Mr. Leroy, also a missionary in Africa.

"The Africans," said Mrs. Dixon, "although they realize that there is one supreme God, nevertheless people the world with spirits and conduct ancestor worship to excess. They had never heard of Christ until we came and the Christian Religion was a great comfort to them because before they had no belief in the after life."

We have that comfort and faith in after life which eases the burden when a dear one dies, but the Africans used to tear their hair and mutilate their bodies in despair for their dead. It was such a wonderful message to them that the people were eager to grasp it and they were joyous to realize that God had not forgotten them.

Thirty years ago when we first went there the people lived in little huts of sticks with the bare ground for a floor. The roof was made of thatch. There were no windows and the door was the only a little hole in one side of the hut. They built their fires in the middle of the hut and let the smoke seep out through the thatch of the roof.

They used no furniture, except mats to sleep on which were coiled up and piled in a corner during the day. A few handmade clay pots sufficed for cooking. A man might have as many wives as he wished and these wives were constantly quarrelling as to which one should do the work; so the poor African led a rather unhappy life.

We built Christian schools with windows and doors and we taught them how to build good homes and look after their children. The children of the missionaries did the most good by influencing the younger generation of Africans to lead good Christian lives.

At the schools we teach them to work with their hands, the great mahogany forests are a fine background for industrial work since the Africans are taught how to commercialize these assets. Our aim is to have the people help themselves and we are training African teachers and nurses so that they may carry on this work.

We need financial help for equipment, but we need more your prayers. We have been anxious to expand our work and at last there is an opening. We believe that God is answering our prayers and will continue to do so and we ask you to pray that the news of Christ may be carried to every human creature on the earth."

Next Sunday at 4:30 there will be a vespers service in the Union Church to which the Forum members as well as everybody else is invited.

Doctor Brown, who has before proved very popular with the young people will speak at the next meeting of the Forum. His topic will be "Turkeys and its Easter customs." Supper will be served at 6:10 and the meeting starts at 6:30. The public is urged to attend as it is a rare treat to hear such a fine speaker as Dr. Brown.

MISS MATILDA HAMBLIN

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for Miss Matilda Hamblin at her late home, 435 Cambridge street, Allston. She was the daughter of the late Ephraim S. and Mary Homer Hamblin; the family residing for many years at 142 Washington street, Newton. Her father was for many years leader of the Boys' Choir at the Grace Church when Rev. Dr. Shinn was rector. Miss Hamblin, who died on March 26 had been in the employ of the Cambridge Electric Light Company for more than 10 years. She was a member of St. Paul's Cathedral Church and of Keystone Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. She leaves a brother, Ephraim S. Hamblin of Palmer, and a sister, Mrs. Harriet H. Jones, who is principal of the Perry-Kindergarten Normal School.

THE DARTMOUTH CLUB

The annual meeting of the Dartmouth Club of Newton will be held at the Women's Club, Newton Centre square, on Thursday April 5th, at 8:15 p. m. The speakers will be: Prof. E. Bradley Watson '02, formerly Dean of Robert College, Constantinople, now Professor of English at Dartmouth; Al Priddy '13, assistant treasurer of Ginn & Co.; Al Masters '30, Dartmouth sensational halfback, and Bob Burt '15, Monologist and broadcaster for WEEI. The Ex-Barbary Coast Jazz Band will furnish music for dancing.

REV. CONRAD QUIRBACH ILL

Rev. Conrad J. Quirbach, who for a number of years has been a curate at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, is seriously ill at St. Elizabeth's Hospital following an operation. His condition is improved and it is hoped he will soon be able to leave the hospital.

EDITORIAL

We have frequently urged the adoption of the two platoon system for the fire department of Newton. In our opinion the Police and Fire departments are both entitled to the same consideration in wages and hours. For many years the city government has treated members of both departments alike so far as wages is concerned but has repeatedly refused to grant equal conditions so far as hours of service are considered. Because in the early days, men were so fond of fire duty that they were willing to serve without compensation and sleep in the fire stations as well, is no reason why a modern department should continue obsolete conditions for its members. The old hand pump engine has passed away. Let all other ancient methods be discontinued as well.

Let us prepare to give Prof. Anderson a rousing vote for delegate to the Republican National Convention. Prof. Anderson is pledged to Hoover for president and is a staunch dry and in our opinion correctly represents the sentiment of Newton.

Congress has been up in the air for so many times that even a trip with Lindbergh was no novelty to most of its members.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Apparently the question of tinkering with the prohibition law has been settled as far as the 1928 General Court is concerned. Efforts to obtain a referendum on the question of the repeal of the 18th amendment have ended in failure. Massachusetts voters will not have a chance to express themselves as the opponents of prohibition hoped they would. All arguments of the "Wets" will have to be placed on ice for the summer and brought out again next fall.

The biggest battle as far as the Legislature was concerned was the attempt in the House last Tuesday to substitute for an adverse committee report the bill of Francis Bangs and others for a referendum vote as described above. This was defeated by rollcall, 114 to 96. No Newton members participated in the debate. Mr. Saltonstall, however, voted in favor of substitution and Mr. Luitwieler against. Mr. Hollis, who was absent because of his legislative duties with the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, was paired in favor of substitution with Mr. Green of Cambridge, who voted against. Mr. Thompson was not recorded.

Mr. Hollis has been traveling with the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs this week. The committee has before it bills for a tunnel or bridge between Boston and East Boston. It was voted by the Legislature that the committee should study bridges and tunnels in New York, Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., and the inspection was made this week.

The Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles this week acted on the petition of Mayor Childs that cities and towns be authorized to regulate traffic at intersecting ways by signs and mechanical devices. This was asked in order to make the signs and silent policemen respected as much as a live traffic cop. The committee has taken Mayor Childs' bill, along with others of a similar nature, and made them part of a bill placing the control of traffic regulations throughout the State in the hands of the Department of Public Works. At the present moment it does not clearly appear that the purposes of the Mayor's bill have been accomplished, but it is believed that the traffic engineer, which the Department of Public Works is to employ, gets at the matter the particular question Newton has raised will probably be settled.

Newton's four Representatives voted to sustain Governor Fuller's veto of the bill to require the Boston Elevated to establish and maintain a shelter for passengers in Watertown square. Representative Saltonstall appeared before the Ways and Means Committee to urge that the State provide a memorial of its own for the late Henry Cabot Lodge. Mr. Saltonstall said he appreciated the fact that the late Senator's daughter had offered to give a bronze bas relief of her father to be placed in the State House, but felt that there should also be a State memorial. He urged the passage of a resolve providing for an appropriation of $30,000 to cover the cost. He added that he was expressing the opinion of the Committee on State Administration, of which he is House chairman.

Another veto of the Governor which was promptly sustained was that of the bill extending from 30 days to six months the period during which an automobile owner from another State without obtaining local registration. The Governor, in his message, wisely pointed out that outside drivers would have the privilege of going about Massachusetts without compulsory automobile liability insurance, whereas the residents of this State must have themselves provided with this necessary form of insurance.

The third veto from His Excellency was of the bill which provided that the Commonwealth pay the entire salaries of the members of the Public Utilities Commission. At present part of these salaries are paid by the utilities which the commission supervises. Again the Governor showed his wisdom by stating there was no reason the various companies, including common carriers, telephone and telegraph companies, should not pay all the expenses of the commission. He declared that the State departments should be made self-supporting and he looked forward to the time when the law would require all commission salaries paid by the different utilities.

A good deal of nonsense and little else came out of the proposal to have the codfish placed on automobile registration plates as the permanent emblem of the Commonwealth. People from Gloucester were for that bill, people from Lynn said, "Make it a boot instead of a fish," and people from Boston demanded that the beaupot be placed on Boston-owned cars. The hearing on the question of admitting these bills, held by the House Rules Committee, turned itself into something akin to a vaudeville performance. Promptly the committee voted against admitting the three bills and the House later sustained their action. This means that Captain George A. Parker, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, will have his way and that in 1929 the truck plates alone will bear the codfish emblem but that after next year the codfish will be no more as far as registration plates are concerned.

There is promise of much excitement next week when hearings are to be begun on the investigation by a special committee of the House on the official conduct of Att. Gen. Reading. The question of making November 11 a legal holiday to be known as "Arms Day" is another matter to be settled before adjournment. The Committee on Legal Affairs, by a vote of 11 to 4, reported in favor of the proposition and their report is now up to the General Court.

One of the longest debates this year was that on the bill to permit the employment of women after 6 p. m. and until 10 p. m. in textile industries. The measure was rejected by a rollcall vote of 116 to 90. Representatives Saltonstall and Luitwieler voted for the bill. Representative Hollis was paired in favor and Rep. Thompson not recorded.

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

The assembly was opened by the singing of songs from our "Gay Books." Bill Perry and Dick Martinson led the students in the new school cheer—the Warren cheer and the Locomotive cheer. A safety play, "The Hero," was presented by various students, under the direction of a seventh grade pupil. This was very well done considering that there was no faculty supervision.

Faculty Wins Close Game

The same afternoon the gymnasium was crowded with basketball fans who had been attracted by the announcement that the faculty members were to play against a picked student team. Between the halves two 8th grade teams, (SF-1 and SF-2) opposed each other with the latter outclassing the former 20 to 3. But the main game was the chief attraction and created much enthusiasm among the spectators. The boys started the scoring with a basket shortly after the opening whistle but soon lost the lead to the faculty. At half time the latter were leading by the narrow margin of one point, 11 to 10. In the third quarter baskets by Mr. Brean and Mr. Otterson increased the faculty's lead. In the final period the boys began to overtake the teachers until Mr. Brean and Mr. Otterson scored again to end the game at 17 to 16.

On Tuesday, March 22, 1928, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team of the Warren Junior High School played a very exciting game with the Freshman Varsity team of Newton High School. The girls showed fine sportsmanship during the entire game, and the final score was fourteen to thirteen in favor of the Warren Junior High School.

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

The assembly March 21st took the form of a debate, suggested by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to acquaint school boys and girls with some of the great health heroes of modern times. The subject for debate was, Resolved that Walter Reed did more to promote the well-being, happiness and progress of mankind than did Woodrow Wilson. The affirmative side of the question was argued by three students from division IX, C. H. Briggs, Jane Marx and Robert Mead. The negative team was chosen from division IX D, Frank Farwell, Kendall Stiles and George Robertson. The judges included Mr. Thurber, formerly head of the English department in Newton schools, Mr. Wilson, head of the physical education work of Newton, and Mrs. Hutchinson, member of the Newton School Committee. Donald Bowen, IX F, was chairman of the debate. Both sides presented strong arguments. The affirmative, however, came back with a stronger rebuttal than did the negative, thus winning by a unanimous vote over the negative. We were honored to have as our guests, Superintendent of Schools Mr. Wheeler and his able assistant, Miss Bragg. At the close of the debate Miss Bragg offered to the winning team a beautiful little statuette symbolizing life, health and happiness.

The assembly this week took the form of a talk by Mr. Carr, instructing and advising the student body regarding the election of council members next year. Students planning to attend college must necessarily follow the college preparatory courses. Those intending to go into business and other branches of commercial work will find the commercial courses of greatest assistance in their preparation. Those students whose purpose it is to become skilled workmen in a trade such as mechanics, printers, cabinet makers, electricians, plumbers, etc., should follow the practical arts curriculum. The girls who are not preparing for college and are not interested in commercial subjects will find the general course very helpful. It gives opportunity to specialize in household arts the first year, and the training fills the requirements for entrance into the state normal schools. Since the period for choosing next year's courses draws near, it is well that pupils give this subject their attention.

Two snappy games of basketball were played off Wednesday afternoon in the gymnasium. The faculty's Students doubleheader drew a record crowd at the side lines. The first game, between the girls' varsity team and the women of the faculty, brought victory to the faculty to the tune of 18-9. The teachers who played on the winning team included: E. Greiner and E. Wright, guards; M. Lough and H. Wilson, centers; and T. Lacombe and "Miss" Read, forwards. Being unable to find the sixth player among the ladies the services of Mr. Read were enlisted and greatly appreciated. The men of the faculty fared not so well in their game against the boys' varsity team. The varsity won, scoring 25-17. The men's team was made up of Read and Barber, forwards; Grupe, center; Pohlman and Rush, guards. It was a fast game, well played. We wonder how many pairs of crutches will be needed among the faculty in the next day or two.

STEARNS SCHOOL NOTES

Among the interesting things which the children of the Fourth Grade have been doing recently have been several visits to the Children's Museum at Jamaica Plain. As a result of these visits one of the rooms has started a collection of its own entitled "Our Museum." Also in this same Grade a set of photographs of the Historical Scenes which were recently the center of so much interest in the windows of the Jordan Marsh Store in Boston, have been the basis of much interest.

In Mrs. Goddard's Third Grade room are a number of interesting exhibits. On a long table is to be seen a Japanese village constructed by the children, portraying life in Japan. In very gay and spring like colors may be noticed cherry trees in blossom, lively looking girikshaws with dainty (Continued on Page 8)

POLICE NEWS

Frank Morrill, of Geneva avenue, Dorchester, was arrested in Boston yesterday by Inspector Goode on the charge of larceny of a chauffeur's uniform from Robert Gould Shaw, 2nd, of Oak Hill. According to the police, Morrill had been in Shaw's employ as a chauffeur and when he got through there he took a chauffeur's uniform and when asked to give it up he refused. He will be tried today. Morrill claimed he was advised that he had a right to retain the uniform.

Carl Hokanson of Brockton was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested last week at Newton Corner by Patrolman Feeley and Marden.

Henry Hyde of Cambridge was in court yesterday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and going away after an accident without making his identity known. His case was continued until April 9.

Domenic Plantedosi of Pleasant street, Watertown, was fined $10 yesterday for transporting garbage without a permit.

Arthur Ahern of Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, was fined $10 yesterday for speeding and $5 for passing an automobile, going in the same direction, on the right.

The fur coat reported as having been stolen at the Levi Warren Junior High, was, according to the police, stolen at the senior high school in Newtonville.

Daniel Colari of Wellesley was arrested Wednesday night by Inspector Shaughnessy charged with a serious offense against a young Newton High school girl. He was bound over to the Grand Jury in $5000 bonds.

A car owned by Ruth Larkin of Somerville, stolen from Gardner street Tuesday night, was later found abandoned on Lincoln road. A car taken from the rear of the Y. M. C. A. on Monday night was recovered the following night on Green street.

Frank Hogan of Hastings street, Wellesley, was arrested last week at Newton Centre on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, was fined $100 in the Newton court Wednesday.

There are certain youths in Newton who think they are real smart and are proving it in their own opinions, by stealing automobiles night after night and after driving around abandon the cars some distance away. Like the pitcher that went to the well once too often, these "hard oiled" young men will pull this stunt one time more than will be good for their freedom.

A car owned by the Edison Company and operated by Harold Secord, an employee of that company, was stolen on Monday. It was found abandoned on Higgins street, Auburndale, early Tuesday morning by Patrolman Whalen with a tire and fire extinguisher missing from it.

FIRE RECORD

Box 212 at 133 Wednesday afternoon was for a fire in the two family home at 26-28 Elliot avenue, West Newton, occupied by Elroy Davis and George Place. The fire, supposed to have started in the cellar from an overheated furnace worked up into the house.

Engine 9 of Chestnut Hill was called out at noon yesterday for a grass fire on land off Reservoir avenue, Chestnut Hill.

Box 91 was pulled Tuesday night for a fire in the house at 290 Parker street, Newton Centre, occupied by George Hammell. The damage was slight.

A still alarm at 10:30 Monday night was for a chimney fire in the home of Mary Mayhew at 2312 Washington street, Lower Falls. At 7:57 the same night Engine 3 responded to a still alarm from 132 Homer street where a fire started in a rubbish barrel in the home of Dr. D. G. Wilcox.

Rev. Boynton Merrill, Minister

10:45 Morning Worship. Mr. Merrill will preach.

9:30 A. M. Church School.

*Thursday, 4:30 P. M. Vesper Services.

—On Easter Sunday night at 8 o'clock the Second Church Players are to present the sacred drama, "Magda." This play is considered by authorities as one of the best productions created by any Boston playwright. Miss Ethel Gesner Rockwell, the author of the play, has aided in the preparation of the interpretation for the Players. The church choir, under the leadership of Mr. William Lester Bates, will assist in a large measure in the interpretation of the great Easter message. The presentation of "Magda" is a church service. It aims to create an experience of the inner consciousness of Christ's power in the lives of men now, as on the first Easter morning.

—Mr. Elmer E. Ellsworth, a graduate of Columbia University, has been selected as the new principal of Pierce School, West Newton. Mr. Ellsworth served overseas one and one-half years during the war as an officer in the army. After his return he accepted the principalship of the Hollis School in Braintree. Mr. Ellsworth was married on June 28, 1926, to Miss Helen Dodge Nash of Connecticut. During the summer Mr. Ellsworth is head councillor at Camp Samoset, Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H., of which Mr. Freeman, a former principal of Pierce School, is the proprietor. Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth are residing at 113 Warwick road, and are already identified with the social functions of West Newton.

Eat Eels for Long Life

Eat eels and live long is the slogan of those in Japan who enjoy the dish and claim that it is nourishing and healthful, although somewhat of a luxury for many poor people. During the recent "eel day" festival many instances of old persons who were fond of the elongated fish were cited. Among these is Kihachiro Okura, the ninety-year-old retired financier and business man of Tokyo, who is called an eel epicurean. Another champion of the eel is Matsunosuke Onoye, aged eighty-five, an actor of the Imperial theater, Tokyo.

Reason for Insect's Name

The Praying Mantis is an insect belonging to the order Orthoptera. Its name is derived from the attitude it assumes when at rest or waiting to grasp another insect. The knees are bent and the front legs are held as though supporting a prayer book. Among the ancient Greeks the Praying Mantis was used in soothsaying. It was also revered by the Hindus. In southern France it is believed to point out a lost way. The Hottentots regard its lighting upon any person both as a token of saintliness and an omen of good fortune.

At the Enemy's Mercy

There are now more than six hundred thousand known species of insects living to drive the human race off the earth and more are being found each year. — Woman's Home Companion.

Jack Rabbit Forced to Succumb to Auto

A western physician returning from a professional call across the country stirred up a jack rabbit, says the Evansville Journal. The animal trotted along in front of the physician's car undisturbed, apparently while it was traveling 25 miles an hour. Here was a sporting chance to try out the runner made famous by Mark Twain. The physician speeded his car from 25 to 30 miles, and then to 35. The rabbit held its place in the road apparently enjoying the race at that pace. Then the doctor turned on the gas to a speed of 40 miles an hour. The rabbit held the road until it sensed the car was gaining upon it and then loped off into the brush at the side of the road. Thus it appears that the unknown speed of the famous animal has been established. Many a good hound dog has run itself almost to death in pursuit of a jack rabbit before it would give up the chase. Even the greyhound has never been able to carry on with a jack rabbit. It has taken an automobile to drive the jack from the field in a race for speed. No doubt the jack is wondering what sort of a dog has come into its field to defeat it in a trial of speed.

Brains and Beauty

Can genius be detected by facial expression? is a question yet to be solved by science. Socrates and Lincoln are notable examples of geniuses whose looks were not in keeping with their brilliant minds. On the other hand, Byron and Shelley were both attractive in appearance, so there is no ground for assuming that mental "beauty" and facial are connected. One peculiarity of many great men is that their faces are not the same on both sides. This can be tested with a photograph. By covering half of it and then comparing the two parts, two distinct faces will sometimes be revealed.

Rubber Plantations

Nearly all the plantation rubber in the world, which is now 12 times as much as that from the forests, is grown in the Malayan peninsula and Dutch East Indies.

Woman Causes Sensation

A woman in London created a sensation in the ballroom of a hotel by appearing with hair that glowed with phosphoric iridescence when the lights were dimmed.

LODGES

Middlesex Court No. 60, M. C. O. F., will hold a Grand Easter Whist Party and Dance on Tuesday evening, April 10, 1928, in Elks Hall, Center street, Newton at 8 p. m.

Dancing is to be enjoyed all evening in the main hall while the smaller hall will be given over to whist for those who do not dance.

Chief Ranger Christopher P. Bradley is the grand chairman of both committees and Vice Chief Ranger Miss Eleanor G. Mulcahy is Secretary.

P. C. R. Miss Mary E. Blake is in charge of whist and P. C. R. Thomas F. Fitzgerald is director of the dance.

These committees will be assisted by: I. S. Thomas F. Bryson; R. S. Mrs. Edward F. Bryson; Treas. Mrs. Mary Leahy; S. C. James McDonald; J. C. James Finnelly; Marshal Marcus Welch; I. S. Charles Fagan; O. S. Patrick Campbell; P. C. R. Miss Margaret C. Valley; P. C. R. Miss Elizabeth R. Dunne; P. C. R. Mrs. Mary Flanagan; Mrs. Bernard Hannon; Mrs. Mary Mulligan, and the newly formed degree staff headed by its Captains Miss Mae Mulligan and Helen Shea.

The proceeds of this party are to be given to the Special Fund of the Court.

Liberal Educators

Newspapers are the only reading matter of many adults. Children who learn to read newspapers intelligently, discriminating between the important and the unimportant, have acquired the basis for a liberal education which will grow broader and richer with every passing year. They have acquired the habit of really thinking about what they read, discerning from it the trend of history, the march of science and the progress of the art of living.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Out of Luck

Old Mose Parker was pretty slick and the darkey doctor promptly put him to bed and laid down all sorts of rules and regulations as to sleep and diet. After he had gone, Mose turned to his wife and complained:

"Mandy, how does dat dar fool doc tah reckon Ah's gwine eat breast ob chicken ebry day if Ah ain't got mah ebenin's free to go out an' git de chicken!"

Old Reliable

The salesman, passing through the back country of Georgia for the first time, was trying to demonstrate the merits of a new brand of lye. The old storekeeper listened politely and when the booster began to weaken he remarked:

"All them things you say about this new kind of lye may be true but we have so many other brands of lye around here I don't think I'll try any."

Can't Compel Thrift

While an employer may compel those who work under him to save a certain portion of their earnings actual experience along these lines has shown that this practice arouses resentment and prejudice and that infinitely more harm than good is done.—Thrift Magazine.

Our Choice

We like to listen to sprightly talk by people with tongues of sand paper; but for long-time company, we generally choose those with tongues of velvet.

A LETTER

To the Editor:

In announcing myself a candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention from the thirteenth Congressional District and stating that I am pledged to vote for Herbert Hoover for president it is unnecessary to enter into any extended discussion of his peculiar and eminent qualifications for that office as he is already sufficiently well known to the voters of this district as a man of achievement, ability and integrity, a man equal to all occasions, tried and true. Aloof from the backbiting and trickery of partisan politics, he stands out, dominant and pre-eminent above all other candidates as the one man capable of carrying the forces of clean and honest government into office and continuing the high standards and notable accomplishments of Calvin Coolidge.

The peculiar feature about our political mechanism for nominating a president is that the only way in which the individual voter can exercise any influence is by voting for a delegate to the convention who is pledged to vote for his candidate. Two delegates are to be elected from this district and, including myself there are three candidates for the two positions. The other two candidates are both unpledged which means they are liable to vote for anyone if sent to the convention. A vote for an unpledged candidate surrenders all discretion to the delegate and leaves him free to vote for whom he pleases or to be controlled and manipulated by some political boss, while a vote for a pledged delegate is as good as a direct vote for the presidential candidate to whom he is pledged and as the only candidate for delegate from this district pledged to Herbert Hoover I appeal to all the Republicans of this district who want Hoover nominated to go to the polls April 24 and vote for me for delegate from this district and for Frederick L. Anderson and Senator Frederick H. Gillette for delegates-at-large, both of whom are avowedly pledged to Hoover.

GEORGE W. WARDNER,
16 Upland Rd., Wellesley, Mass.

Hoffman's famous picture of "Christ and the Rich Young Ruler," will be presented Sunday evening at 7:00 p. m. to the Methodist Church of Newton Highlands by the Men's Class and will be unveiled at that time. This picture was painted in color by Mr. Albert E. Von Riegers, an artist of rare ability. The figures are more than life size and look so life-like that at first glance one would think they are living persons. This beautiful picture is placed in the rear of the choir loft which is in the front of the church. The entire choir loft has been redecorated, transforming it into a sanctuary which will be a challenge and an inspiration to all who worship there.

The double quartet of the Highland Glee Club will sing and Mr. Von Rieger will interpret the picture and its meaning to him. Dr. Martin, the founder of the American Bible Class and the grand president thereof, will be the speaker of the evening. The citizens of Newton are invited to attend this unusual and beautiful service.

Comparison of French and English Housewives

It is said that the French working woman's only thoughts concern food and money. She certainly manipulates the former with great skill and, as is well known, her savings are the backbone of her country. Whenever a fresh loan is floated in France long queues of housewives are always waiting outside the banks with their money.

In running a household in France one soon finds out that the maids must be well fed. They will put up with sleeping accommodations which British maids would not tolerate, but there is no compromise on food, says a writer in London Answers.

A cook, though she will keep her pots and pans spotlessly clean, will not wash a floor with much zeal. The hardest-working French women, it is interesting to note, have, as a rule, perfectly kept hands.

French women tell me that there is more love in a French home than in a British one, and that they are more concerned with the family well-being than we are.

Gossip, largely keenly critical in character, is rife among better-class French women. Their talk, indeed, is criticism, criticism, and always criticism. There is jealousy for the woman who looks nice and laughter for the one who doesn't. A French woman will not admit to age until it is really upon her. Then, socially, she becomes indeed a back number.

Spirit is said to be the keynote of a French woman's character. Armed with it, she never admits defeat, whether in the world of commerce or of conquest. And this spirit, with which she "downs" a rival, enables her also to cheer on her husband to fame and fortune.

Can Wed a Commoner

It has been customary for the heirs of the throne of the United Kingdom to marry either foreign princesses or members of the nobility, but the prince of Wales can lawfully marry a commoner without affecting his inheritance of the crown.

Deserves a Medal

Hall Rucke deserves the medallie humoresque (ain't that right?). He wrote a light and amusing piece about the rat without using the word "rat" anywhere.

Killing Time

Work is as good a way to kill time as any; and lots of people who are working won't admit that they are doing it for that very purpose.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

In the week ending March 26 there were 130 patients in the hospital, 34 of them, including babies, were free patients, 50 paid less than the cost of their care and 46 paid as much or more than the cost of care. One hundred and fifty patients were treated by the out patient department, 5 by the eye clinic and there were 17 accident cases. The social service department made 10 calls at homes and transferred four patients in its car.

Mr. Rogers, the chairman of the building committee in charge of the new hospital building, has called a meeting of the women's committee who are to advise in regard to the furnishings for the rooms.

Miss Elizabeth Wheeler, who is the social worker at the hospital and also the chairman of the ways and means committee of the New England district of the American Association of Hospital Social Workers, is to attend a committee meeting to be held in Cleveland on Saturday of this week at which the budget of the association will be planned. Representatives are expected to be present from St. Louis, Baltimore, New York, Detroit, Chicago, Montreal, Philadelphia, Rochester, Minn., Indianapolis and Cleveland.

Dr. Henry Watters, the surgeon on duty at the hospital for the present term, was in charge of the hospital staff meeting on Monday evening.

On Thursday the hospital was visited by the hospital committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club. They were first shown the out patient department, then the sewing room which is the source of the endless supply of sewing which is sent to the club during the winter and which they so graciously return neatly hemmed and seamed, next they were given a view of the construction that has been done on the new hospital and then they were taken to the Nurses' Home where they were served with luncheon and given an opportunity to ask the superintendent questions about the hospital, its work and its needs.

Of the ten babies born at the hospital last week six were boys and four were girls.

Four of the accident patients treated last week were children and in each case the accident was due to automobiles. One boy was dead when received at the hospital, a girl had a lacerated face and a boy received injuries to the back of his head. Two other automobile accidents were those of a man who caught his finger in the gear of a car and a man who was hit and lacerated about the face and on one of his hands. Other accidents treated were a toe injured by having a heavy pipe fall upon it, a broken pelvis from a fall on ice, an infected finger, severed tendons of the right wrist cut by a broken bottle, three fingers amputated due to an explosion caused by fooling with powder and a case of fright and nervousness resulting from a dog jumping at a woman.

One of the recent applicants for accident treatment was a man who had no discoverable injury or illness

Also the room has a very unusual Posture Chart on which are to be seen small individual snap shots of each pupil in the room.

The regular meeting of the Troop No. 3 Boy Scouts was held last Tuesday evening in the Assembly Hall of the School. Ex-Commander Julius Ramm of the American Legion was present to instruct the military formations. Mayor Childs, member of the Troop Committee, was present to talk to the boys on Citizenship. During the evening instruction was given individual patrols in First Aid, Artificial Respiration and Astronomy. On Sunday, March 25th, 12 members of the Troop visited the Ohio Camp at Dover, with Scoutmaster MacLeod, for an afternoon of field work.

ANGIER SCHOOL

The following children have had perfect attendance for the school year: kindergarten, Jean de Laval; first grade, Patricia de Laval, John Scarlett, Edward Goodspeed; 2nd grade, Theodore Davidson, Robert Black; 4th grade, William Mosser, Mildred Kelloway, Charles Linscott, Nancy Durgin, Edward Wood, Henry Shuster, Ruth Wheeler, John Robbins.

The Assembly on Wednesday morning was in charge of Mrs. Leavitt's 4th grade. A play, "The Quest for the Health Children," was given by the following children, who were beautifully costumed thanks to the hearty co-operation of the parents. King of Health, John Pettibone; Queen of Health, Eleanor Anslue; Pages, Aldrich Prouty, Herbert Buttrick; Sargent Food, Edward Mosser; Colonel Health, Calvin Hill; soldiers, Hugh Estes, Henry Shuster, George Kennison; nurses, Barbara Barrett, Betty Colburn, Caroline Gilpin; Herald, Prescott Welman; Exercise, Sally Roe; Rest, Nancy Durgin.

The Assembly last week was in charge of Miss Beaudreault's 5th grade. "A Party from Bookland." The following characters in costume visited today's child unfolding stories about themselves: Huck Finn, Little Black Sambo, Alice in Wonderland, Little Bo-Peep, Blue Bird, and Little Red Riding Hood.

Miss Benson's 2nd grade children have formed an organization by the name taken from the Scout Code. The teachings apply to health, and each pupil will receive merit badges. Betty Miller and Jack Mayberry have been awarded good citizenship pins which awards are made for character and good school citizenship.

The pupils of Miss Sears, 3rd grade have formed a Health Club, Phyllis Johnson, president; Beth Moir, vice-president; Lincoln Morton, secretary; all the members of which are trying for 100 per cent for the 19 rules of health.

Miss Doonan's 3rd grade has 100 per cent for drinking milk for 2 weeks, and 100 per cent in banking for 1 week.

The Assembly next week (Wednesday) will be in charge of Miss Timson's 4th grade. "A Trip Around the World" will be given.

Miss Dickson, teacher of the 6th grade, has been confined to the house with a severe attack of grippe, however, she hopes to resume her duties on Monday next. Mrs. Jenkins has been supplying during her absence.

Mrs. Jenkins, several years ago, taught the 3rd grade at the Angier School.

Out-door baseball practice has started with the Senior and Junior teams. The schedule which includes the Mason, the Hyde, Emerson and Bigelow Schools is in the mail. The Junior team will play other schools of 5th and 6th grade represented in the Junior League. Robert Patterson is captain of the Senior team.

The Angier School Basketball team was defeated by the St. Charles School. Valuing in a fast game 12-8, this victory entitles the St. Charles team to enter the Boston tournament.

Marble tournament practice has started and it is hoped to develop a Newton champion who may enter the Atlantic City Tournament. William Dunn of Newton Centre was the U. S. champion last year.

Apartment Houses Opposed By Madden

Former Alderman Gives Reason Against Them

John C. Madden, for ten years alderman from Ward 1, and for several years chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, voiced his views on the matter of apartment houses in Newton to the members of the Newton Business Associates at their recent meeting in the Vernon Court Hotel. He has been known to hold a conservative attitude on this question. He impressed upon his listeners that a statement made by him last year in a talk on this matter was not his personal view, but a suggestion offered in the deliberations of the Claims and Rules Committee. This suggestion was—"New zones to be known as apartment house zones should be created in Newton." He explained that this suggestion was made in case the Building Code should be changed so that apartment buildings could not be built anywhere in general residence zones and would not be limited to business districts, which are not desirable for dwelling purposes. Asked if streets such as Bacon, Peabody, Channing and Elmwood are not suitable for apartment houses, Mr. Madden replied that "in his opinion the lots on these streets are too small to permit the type of apartments which Newton would want."

Mr. Madden said, "We have come here for a frank discussion regarding apartment houses in Newton. The weakness of the proponents' arguments is—they are asking the City Government to let down the bars as have other cities; just what Newton has made a policy of not doing. People say, answering those who advocate apartments in Newton, 'if there is such a demand for this type of building here, why don't you build them?' The mass of public opinion in Newton is against apartment houses. People have been moving into this city because they feel they are safe here from the apartment house development which has been prevalent in Brookline, Allston and Dorchester."

Would Inflate Land Values

Mr. Madden expressed the belief that a strong opposition to apartments would assert itself if an attempt will be made to let down the bars. He thinks that if apartments are allowed they will extend the influence of the other residential districts, even as one undesirable resident on a street affects the whole street. He expressed confidence that the aldermen of Newton will refrain from lowering the high class residential aspect of this city, and that strong reasons must be shown before the requirements of the present Building Code will be cut down. He argued that if special permits will be issued to build apartment houses in specified locations, the same difficulties will arise which have been occasioned by petitions for permits to build gasoline filling stations, and if apartment zones will be established, monopolies of this type of building will be created here. He said, "You know what conditions exist in store properties in Newton." He contended that speculation in store sites in this city had brought the cost of such land so high that the merchants here must pay higher rents than they are able to afford, and that a parallel condition would follow should apartment houses be permitted in Newton. Inflated values on land in apartment house zones, in Mr. Madden's opinion, would overcome any savings which might result from allowing cheaper construction. Tenants would pay the cost of manipulation by speculators and high rents resulting would offset the argument being offered that "apartments will afford lower rentals for young married people of Newton."

More Apartments—More Stores

Arguing that the building of apartment houses will not be beneficial to Newton, storekeepers, Mr. Madden called attention to statements by garbage collectors that "apartment houses produce less of that commodity than do single or double dwellings," which would tend to prove that persons residing in apartments are not good customers for stores selling food. He asserted that if apartment buildings will be erected in Newton, there will be more stores and more competition for the present merchants to contend with.

Depreciate Property Nearby

Mr. Madden was asked, "Would not apartment houses, built in suitable locations bring the city more revenue than the buildings now on these locations?" He replied that while apartment buildings would bring more taxes to the city than do the old dwellings which they would replace, it is probable that the depreciation in values of surrounding properties because of the building of an apartment house, would more than offset the extra revenue which the apartment house would bring to the city.

Burt Rich did not favor business districts as locations for apartment buildings. He told of having resided for many years in an apartment house located next to a business block and related some of the disadvantages resulting—such as the proximity of the garbage and litter at the rear of the stores and the inability of tenants in the apartment block to find any parking space for their automobiles because of the intrusion of this space by cars from the business district. He favors apartments where some green grass may surround them.

Frank Westwood favored a limited number of apartment buildings in Newton. He told of his vain efforts to find an apartment in the city at a reasonable rent. He agreed with Mr. Rich that persons desiring to live in apartments should not be forced to reside in a business district.

William M. Cahill of the Newton Trust Company took issue with Alderman Baker on the latter's statement which included bankers as being among those who are anxious to see apartments in Newton, so that they can loan money. He stated that the growth of deposits in all the banks of Newton has been much less than the demands for mortgage loans on one and two family dwellings in this city during the past several years, so the local banks do not need apartment house construction to find an opportunity to make loans.

MINIATURE AIRCRAFT TOURNAMENT

Ernst Hermann, superintendent of Playgrounds in Newton is co-operating with the committee which is sponsoring the tournament to interest the boys and girls of this country in the new science of aviation. Through him the following communication has been received:

"The second national playground miniature aircraft tournament, under the auspices of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, will be held in Atlantic City October 5 and 6 in connection with the Fifteenth National Recreation Congress. The purpose of the contest, which has been officially endorsed by the National Aeronautic Association is to provide an enjoyable handcraft activity and to educate boys and girls in the principles of construction and flying airplanes.

"Henry Ford is the only new member of the national committee which sponsored last year's contest and will again serve this year. Orville Wright and Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh are the co-chairmen.

"Preliminary to the finals, local contests will be held throughout the country. In last year's tournament, 20,000 boys and girls took part in these preliminaries. According to the rules of the tournament, local competitions are to be conducted under a committee which shall include the president or vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, the director of playgrounds or recreation superintendent, newspaper editors, the president or vice-president of the local aeronautic society, flying field or airport, and other persons.

"Any person under twenty-one is eligible to compete. All planes must be built and operated by the contestants. The rules provide for ten junior and senior indoor and outdoor events for model and power driven planes. In most events rubber motors are specified. Launching by hand, rising off the ground, and rising off the water are some of the tests to which the tiny aircraft will be subjected.

Contestants who make the five best records in the country in each of the ten events will be eligible to compete in the finals at Atlantic City. Awards of medals and cups will be donated to the national winners by the magazine, Popular Aviation.

Colonel Lindbergh has issued the following statement on the tournament:

"The Playground and Recreation Association is greatly assisting in the advancement of aeronautics by enlisting thousands of boys in American cities in the National Playground Miniature Aircraft Contest.

"As flying activities increase, a basic education in elementary aviation is becoming a necessity for everyone. Any organization through which such education is distributed is worthy of the fullest support."

Full particulars and directions concerning the tournament may be obtained from the Playground and Recreation Association of America, 315 Fourth Avenue, New York City, the announcement states.

AUTO HITS CHILD

Barina DiMandis, 8, of 352 Boylston street, Newton Centre, in the Thompsonville district, was seriously injured last Friday evening when she was hit by an automobile driven by Arthur Munroe of Greendale avenue, Needham. Her left arm was broken and it was feared her skull was fractured. Munroe rushed the child to the Newton Hospital. He told the police that as he was driving along Boylston street, the little girl rushed in front of his car from behind a parked truck.

DUFFY BACK AT ALBEMARLE

Billy Duffy, who has been conducting a golf store in Newton, returned to the Albemarle Golf Club where he has resumed his professional duties.

POLICE NEWS

Joseph Amendola, of 364 Adams street, Newton, was in the Newton court Saturday charged with dispensing medicine at the drug store, 367 Boylston street, Newton Centre, without being a registered druggist. He was fined $25.

Robert Burke, of 825 Centre street, Newton, was fined $100 in the Newton court Saturday for driving while under the influence of liquor.

William J. Martin of Worcester street, Wellesley, was fined $10 in the Newton court Monday for speeding.

By Edw. H. Powers

It should be impressed upon some of the operators of Middlesex & Boston busses that it is their duty to drive even more carefully than persons who guide ordinary automobiles. A man operating a bus containing 20 or 30 passengers, has some responsibility. He should not step on the gas and do 30 or 35 miles an hour—even if such speed permits him to loaf several minutes longer at the terminals. He should not cut in sharply when passing other automobiles—a bus has a longer wheelbase than 103 inches. One of the operators who has a tendency to "cut-in" too sharply, came near causing a crash with another bus on Washington street at Centre place Monday morning. The first bus had stopped to discharge passengers, and had just started again, when the operator of the second bus breezed along, cut in and stopped directly in front of the first bus. Only the quick action of the operator on this bus averted a collision.

For several years residents of Wards 1 and 2 have been endeavoring to get the city to build tennis courts on that part of Cabot Park adjoining Newtonville avenue. Sometime ago the city covered Laundry Brook at this place and a considerable amount of gravel was dumped there and not graded. Since this was done this part of Cabot Park has anything but a park like appearance. There are many demands on the city for improvements and if all of them were granted the tax rate would soar to a figure that would cause some of the people asking for these improvements to recede from their demands. Nevertheless, considering the comparatively small amount it will cost to grade this section of Cabot park, which should be done without undue delay, to remove an eyesore, the aldermen could adhere to their commendable efforts to keep the tax rate within bounds and yet expend enough to make the reasonable improvement asked for at Cabot Park.

Several changes have been made in the Mayor's budget recommendations. For maintenance of streets he has increased his estimate of the amount required from $175,000 to $185,000, for traffic signs he increases the amount from $15,000 to $20,000—the amount asked for by Commissioner Stuart, for maintenance of property he increases the amount recommended from $10,000 to $15,000, for snow and ice removal from $25,000 to $35,000, for construction of grounds in the Forestry Division $9,000 instead of $7,500, for new trees $5,000 instead of $4,000. The Mayor may have used good judgment in reducing the amount asked for resurfacing streets by Commissioner Stuart from $175,000 to $100,000, but if the present condition of our streets, including a number of the main streets, is any evidence as to the amount needed for resurfacing purposes, $175,000 would have been little enough. Sooner or later, Newton must resurface its principal streets with concrete to provide for modern automobile transportation. The longer this is delayed, the greater the expense will be in the future.

Perhaps it was a fitting coincidence that the last vestiges of the walls at the entrance to the late Eliot Block should have been covered in their final days with posters advertising current theatrical attractions in Boston. In by-gone years the entrance to Eliot Block was surrounded by posters telling of the presentation in the auditorium upstairs in that building of such old time dramatic favorites as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "East Lynne," and other stirring vehicles for those barnstorming Theatrons who came to Newton.

Fred Hamel of East Haverhill was in town the other day. He visited the various Newtons in his especially equipped old touring-car selling the postal cards by which he supports himself. Fred eats and sleeps in this car when occasion requires—which is often. Despite the fact that both of Fred's legs are amputated and he must crawl about on the mangled stumps and his hands—he is an optimist, has a cheerful smile and radiates courage. Fred deserves to prosper.

The city should acquire land for a playground at Oak Hill now while land is cheap there. Fifteen years ago five acres of land at the Newton Highlands end of Crystal Lake could have been purchased for $6000. Today, when there is a growing demand that the city buy land for a bathing beach, one-eighth of the area referred to will cost perhaps $20,000.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Members of the Shakespeare Club are herewith notified of a change in the meeting place of the Club on Saturday afternoon, March 31st. Mrs. C. H. Keeler, who was to have been hostess, is in Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Charles H. Burr, of 147 Summer street, Newton Centre, will open her home for the meeting which takes place at 2.30 o'clock. Mrs. F. S. Keith is in charge of the Quiz, this to be on Act II of "Twelfth Night."

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The quotation in the Year Book of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club as ushering in the next program of the Club is so apt, and carries with it such a thrill of the coming awakening of the season that it is quoted: "For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land."

"The Lure of the Desert" is the imaginative stirring subject of an illustrated lecture which Helena C. Mahoney, known as Bangs Burgess, will present at the next meeting, April 2nd, in the Club rooms. She is the founder and president of the Seed Scatterers Association and her talks before Clubs on the propagation of wild flowers have been most instructive and inspiring. She has been the originator of many pageants, one of which was staged last summer at Weld, the home of the Larz Andersons. She is a soprano soloist and harpist and is a highly valued member of the Professional Woman's Club. Mrs. F. A. McDonald is chairman for the evening.

Newton Mothers' Club

The next meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club will be held at the home of Mrs. William L. Garrison, Jr., 65 Sterling street, West Newton, on Monday, April 2nd, at three in the afternoon. The speakers will be Mrs. Phister Cowin whose subject will be "Our Civic Responsibilities" and Mrs. Paul S. Phalen who will speak on "Our Religious Responsibilities." The hostesses are Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Leatherbee and Mrs. Patrick.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

As the topic of her concluding address for the season, Miss Eunice Avery of Springfield has chosen "Japan," and at the meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on Tuesday, the 3rd, will tell of political and economic conditions as she found them when visiting that country last summer. Before her address, Mrs. William F. Davy of the Club is to sing a group of songs which will include "The House and the Road," by John Adams Loud, and "Down in the Forest," by Landon Ronald.

A recent addition to the furnishings of the Workshop is a Kurd Mossoul rug, the gift of Mrs. G. Harry Adalian, one of the Club members. The coloring is warm and lustrous in the rich strength and style typical of the Gypsy tribes above Lake Van in the upland towns of Persia, and gives a most homelike touch to the room, placed as it is before the large fireplace. The andirons were the gift of another Club member, as was the mahogany gate-leg table, and the baby grand piano was presented to the Workshop by the Music Committee. Thus, little by little, necessities and luxuries are being acquired, and by the time the building is a year old, the equipment will undoubtedly be most complete, making it a thing of beauty and a joy forever for practical and aesthetic purposes for the Woman's Club of the Highlands, and their friends and guests.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Gerit Beneker will speak before the Newtonville Woman's Club on April 3rd, using as his subject "Art in Everyday Life." Mr. Beneker is an artist of considerable repute and has painted very wonderful pictures of the Cape and of Industrial Centres like Pittsburg. He was formerly a resident of West Newton and his many friends will be glad of an opportunity to hear him.

The music of the afternoon is to be arranged by Mrs. Chester H. J. Kepler and the tea is in charge of Mrs. Frederick W. Harding and Mrs. John S. Whittimore.

All Club members are invited to the home of Mrs. P. E. Woodward, 125 Highland avenue on Thursday, April 5th, at 2.30 p. m., to hear the reading of the manuscripts from the short story contest and the announcement of the decision of the judges. The pleasure of accepting hospitality from a Club member great as it is, will be doubled in the excitement and thrill of learning the awards so eagerly awaited.

Social Science Club

The regular monthly business meeting of the Social Science Club on April 4th will be followed by a talk by Mr. Harry W. Fitts, alderman-at-large, Ward 4. Miss Mary L. Spear and Miss Florence A. Graves will be the hostesses.

State Federation

NEW OFFICERS. Quite the most interesting news of the week is the report of the Nominating Committee of the State Federation, of which Mrs. Joseph C. Otis is chairman. It is, of course, no surprise to Massachusetts Clubwomen that first honor for the new year falls to Mrs. Axel A. Packard, now the first vice-president, but it is, as always, satisfying to find that the officer next in line, who has, unofficially perhaps, but still with forethought, been in training, has been given the new opportunity and has accepted it. Mrs. Packard has endeavored herself to countless Clubwomen, being of pleasing personality, of gracious presence, of wise tongue, and of logical mind. Background, too, plays with her its important part. Her mother founded the first Woman's Club, at Springfield, besides acquiring many other honors in the outer world, that made her rank high with courageous pioneers. Those who have known and admired Mrs. Packard will give allegiance to her successor as president the more willingly because Mrs. Packard and Mrs. Potter have long been warm personal friends as well as Club teammates, and for this reason the saying of farewell to Mrs. Potter will be a bit less hard, although the passing of one regime is always a saddening and regrettable event to admirers. Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of Belmont Woman's Club, moves up to the first vice-presidency; Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., of the North Shore Club of Lynn, to the second vice-presidency; Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, of the Whitinsville Woman's Club, to the third vice-presidency; and Mrs. John H. Kimball, formerly Legislative chairman, is nominated for the fourth vice-presidency. Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, of Somerville Woman's Club, popular clerk, continues for a second year in her vital task, as does, Mrs. Allan V. Mosher, of the Waltham Woman's Club, as assistant clerk. Mrs. Boyd F. Bowles, of the Wollaston Woman's Club, continues as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Frederick F. Davis, of the Ex-Regents Club of Boston, continues as treasurer. The announcement of new directors is perhaps of greatest news to Clubwomen. These are to be elected to serve for three years, and the districts affected are always keen to know who these may be. For Second District, Mrs. George E. Gornley, of the Abington Woman's Club, is nominated; for Fourth District, Mrs. Thomas G. Boes, of the Tuesday Club of Jamaica Plain; Sixth District, Mrs. William J. McDonald, of Boston Woman's Club; (known for so long on the Meetings Committee); Twelfth District, Mrs. Horace B. Gale of the Natick Woman's Club; and Fifteenth District, Mrs. Robert O. Haver, of the Thursday Morning Club of Great Barrington. The new chairman of the Nominating Committee for 1929-30 is to be Mrs. Clarence W. Clark, of the Old and New Club of Malden. The other members of this committee are Mrs. John W. Gould, of the Worcester Woman's Club, Mrs. Herman A. Harding, of the Chatham Woman's Club, Mrs. Frederick Judd, of the Southampton Woman's Club, and Mrs. Paul A. Peters, of the West Roxbury Woman's Club.

Our own District, the Twelfth, is one, therefore, to have a part in the inaugural festivities, of the last day of the Annual Meeting Thursday, May 17th, and while we, with the Natick Woman's Club which will especially delight to honor a past president, will pay fitting courtesy to the incoming director—and many of us have come to know her well in our Club perambulations—let us not forget to pay tribute by word and deed to the outgoing director, who is one of our very own Newton Federation and who has sought to serve Club interests so loyally and friendly.

RADIO. Mrs. Leon E. White, radio director, has arranged for Wednesday, April 4th, a most intriguing program to be broadcast over WNAC, beginning at 10.30 promptly. Mrs. Paul A. Peters, chairman of Co-operation with War Veterans, who has done such splendid and inspiring work for "our boys," will present an Easter message, and this should be most timely in its appeal to our memory and to our continued service in their aid. Miss Alice Gwendoline Albee, from Mrs. Reed's Department of the American Home, beloved for her excellent work on State publicity, and exceedingly clever in her concoctions of wit and wisdom, is to broadcast at 10.50—and trust her to give title to her talk that will awaken curiosity on "The Question." What "The Question" is, is, indeed, the question, the Club members will be sure to listen in to find out what this is all about, to be amply repaid, if Miss Albee is the originator of the talk. Added to this, home-makers will find something of value in the talk by Mr. Alton E. Briggs at 11.30. Between Mrs. Peters' talk and Miss Albee's, at 10.40, musical numbers will be furnished by Miss Bernadine Brooks, Violinist; Miss Virginia Brooks, Cellist, and Miss Helen Lyndon, Pianist, which makes an all-around worthwhile program for a pleasant hour.

CLUB INSTITUTES. Presidents, and especially Program Committees, will be especially interested in the topic of the next Club Institute meeting. This is the last of the season, to be held, as usual, at Hotel Vendome, at 10 a. m. Thursday morning, on April 5th. The program looks ahead for the next year in "Club Programs," and speakers will describe in detail, and tell the approximate cost of, the best Club programs they have heard this year. The speakers include Mrs. William Whynot, of the Mothers and Homemakers' Club of Roxbury; Mrs. J. Rodney Ball, of the Lawrence Woman's Club; Mrs. Charles R. Tuckett, of the Somerville Woman's Club; Mrs. George A. Mellen, of the Lawrence Woman's Club; Mrs. Philip E. Andres, of the Pilgrim Woman's Club of Dorchester; Mrs. Harvey M. Lyman, of the New Century Club of Needham; Mrs. Heman A. Harding, of the Chatham Woman's Club; Mrs. Nelson W. Howard, of the Professional Woman's Club of Boston; Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of the Belmont Woman's Club; Mrs. F. P. Bennett, of the Riverside Club of Saugus; Mrs. Edward A. Rice, of the South Deerfield Woman's Club; and Mrs. Leslie A. Hager, of the Littleton Woman's Club.

The Club Institutes Committee will also be at Swampscott and will be glad to be of service during the days of Annual Meeting. All letters and communications during the summer should be sent to Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, chairman, 33 Pleasant street, Whitinsville, who will be glad to see that all inquiries are answered.

BIENNIAL. All Clubwomen are looking forward to the dates May 28th to June 7th, when these days spent on the train and for interesting stopovers, and then in the enjoyment of a royal welcome from hospitable Texas, will be a never-to-be-forgotten experience for enthusiasm, inspiration, and friendships. The train trip arranged has been planned for comfort and opportunity for side trips of enjoyment. A stop will be made at St. Louis for a drive around the city. A day will be spent at Hot Springs National Park in Arkansas, giving a chance to see the

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

A welcome glad for days of Spring, hooray for all that they may bring. Of course I don't mean everything—But nearly.

The promise bright of warmer days, Of walks and rides through pleasant ways, When Man to Nature tribute pays—Sincerely.

The garden's prospects, too, we view, And all the work we love to do, Or have it done by some good crew—Of diggers.

Some find their merry Springtime joy, They care not whom they may annoy, By talking auto makes—O, boy—And figures.

"What car do you believe the best? "Now which will stand the hardest test? "I want one better than the rest— "Which is it?"

Such folks keep talking day and night, It's hard for me to be polite, I want to cuss with all my might— But only say, "Ziz-zit-it!"

It is no longer Centre place, but Centre avenue. The city fathers have made this change in designation on petition of those most interested—the occupants of the thoroughfare, which is fast developing as a location for business enterprises. The word avenue is more appropriate, and, I am sure, more acceptable not only to those who wanted the change but to everybody.

We have been told, through various mediums, what to do when in doubt. Some say, "lead trumps," others name a firm of well known furniture dealers and others certain brands of soap, and so on. I was in doubt as to the distinction between "place" and "avenue" and therefore I consulted the best "when in doubt" volume I know—the result of the labors of Noah Webster.

"Place" he defines as "an open space or square in a city or town, now usually a short street or court, a private residence terrace or some similar variation from the ordinary street." That surely was that Centre place used to be but has not been for a long, long time.

"Avenue," according to Noah, is "an opening or passageway by which a place may be reached or entered; a way of approach or exit—a broad street as Fifth avenue in New York."

No one can dispute the assertion that the change is justified. Centre avenue is an important thoroughfare. It is no more a "tucked away" section. I think that it should be more frequently used by automobilists who seek to drive from Centre street to Washington street and would avoid passing through Nonantum square.

Possibly the new name will make it better known and more often used. We are now prone to attach more significance to names than we used to be. I doubt very much if the word "place" is ever used when a new section of street is laid out. The words "terrace" and "road" are given these newly developed thoroughfares.

The word "place" has outlived its usefulness as applied to Newton streets. As a matter of fact it belongs to a congested city. Possibly Centre place was an appropriate designation when originally applied. It now has risen to the dignity of avenue and deserves that title. I congratulate those who had the enterprise to seek the change and commend those who made it.

Since there seems to be no hope that Nonantum square will ever be widened it becomes necessary for city fathers, officials of the street railway and good citizens in general to continually think of ways and methods for handling the ever-increasing traffic problem. The announcement that the Middlesex & Boston plans to bring more busses into the square in place of the Waltham-West Newton line of trolleys presents another complexity.

However, the idea of having east-bound busses turn off Washington street before reaching the square and proceed either through Peabody or Bacon streets, thence to Pearl, to Galen and into the square, is an excellent one. I am rather for Alderman Powers' plan that Peabody street be used instead of Bacon. It is wider and a bit further away from the center of congestion.

The fact that the busses would necessarily make a left-hand turn means absolutely nothing as other motorists would soon get used to that. Furthermore, a driver of a car is quite apt to give a bus all the room it needs, reasoning, no doubt that it is bigger and more powerful and not safe to buck against.

At any rate, swinging the cars from Galen street into the square brings them against the sidewalks on the right hand side of the street and headed for West Newton. As had been pointed out there need be no call for the Waban or Bemis busses to change their present loading places. These should remain across the square where they now are, while the High street busses and the line yet to come should have the Galen-Centre streets stop.

I do not wish to be unneighborly but it cannot be overlooked that much of this scheming and planning is for the benefit of Waltham people. They patronize these lines coming to and from Boston and it is they who by their presence increase the numbers of pedestrians in the square. However, it remains Newton's trouble and Newton no doubt will gladly solve for itself and Waltham, too.

It may not be considered nice to talk about one's neighbors, but as I have started I must as well go the limit. Therefore, I am going to ask the readers of this column to step down to Watertown and look over the square. The attractive park, which was obtained by the removal of buildings, is a decided ornament to the town and a monument to those who worked for the improvement as well as those who contributed their cash in order that it might be brought about.

Now this wide open square is not going to be any different. That is to say, the attempt to place a shelter for the Boston Elevated passengers on the plot of greensward has been thwarted by no less a personage than Governor Fuller. He recently vetoed a bill providing for the construction and maintenance of such a building, declaring that it was not needed and that the citizens in town meeting had voted against it. Incidentally, the Governor said something in a nice way about the General Court meddling with purely local matters.

Without going into the question of whether the shelter is needed—that is Watertown's problem and not Newton's—I am glad to have the Governor discuss the matter except that I hope Newton people read the message. After all, local affairs should be, as far as is reasonable, decided locally. What is the use of running to the State House every time some matter comes up that concerns only home town folks? There are too many statutes now under the terms of which municipalities are compelled to ask authority from Beacon Hill for this or that.

And another point that this case brings forth: Here was something on which the town voted thereby giving the Governor a knowledge of the will of the people. He refers to it at length in his message. Doesn't it prove what has more than once been said in this column—you can't beat the town meeting form of government. Newton, by the way, has been a city for over fifty years.

A postcard correspondent asks, "Are we expected to celebrate April Fools' Day on Monday even if the first of April falls on Sunday? I wish you would tell us because I want to know. Honestly, no fooling." The card bears the signature, "E. O. B."

Whether the writer assumes that I am an authority on holidays and public observances in general, or merely qualified to speak on April Fools' Day, I am at loss to understand. Still, I really isn't important except that I do not pretend to be either. As far as that goes I think he is the better fitted of the two since he has shown sufficient interest in the first day of April to glance ahead on the calendar. I hadn't even thought of doing that.

If "E. O. B." is in earnest, as he represents himself, I feel that I should make some sort of reply. Sunday is no day for fooling, that we all agree. As for Monday, I suppose it is as good as any day for practical jokes if one is determined to indulge in that sort of diversion. It seems to me that one is likely to appear a little bit dull, however, if one springs some fool trick and then explains, "Why, don't you remember yesterday was April Fools' Day?"

To my mind a practical joke has got to be a good one in order to be successful. That's what makes it practical. An impractical joke, as many of them turn out to be, is usually a disappointment. They don't always register in the manner intended.

But let us not get into a discussion of jokes, practical or otherwise. The question is "Is April 2 as good as April 1 under the present circumstances?" My answer to "E. O. B." is this—restrain your humorous desires for this year if you can, but if you can't then be prepared for rough treatment by those who don't agree with you that the April Fools' Day celebration has been postponed for twenty-four hours.

Must there be more fatal automobile accidents at night in Newton to arouse the city authorities to the need of better lighting for our streets? Everybody has known for a long time that the lighting of Washington street, one of the busiest thoroughfares in the city, has long been inadequate. The unfortunate occurrence in which a woman lost her life might have been avoided had there been a sufficient illumination of the intersection of the streets at that point.

I know it is the policy of our city administration to keep everybody feeling good at all times, but how is that to be accomplished if we live in fear of automobiles on miserably lighted thoroughfares?

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Reproductions of bird songs will feature the talk by Mrs. George A. Loveland at the Children's Museum of Boston on "How to Study Birds in the Field," April 1, at 3:30 p. m. Ways of identifying birds by their field marks, and by their songs, and hints on how and when to study birds will be given by Mrs. Loveland, who is a member of the Brookline Bird Club.

Colored lantern slides showing western range life, scenes of cattle ranches, rodeos, Indians and miners will accompany the western stories to be told at the Saturday morning Story Hour at 10:30 on March 31, in the lecture room.

Dr. Isaac Gerson, a native of Egypt, who will give an illustrated talk on the people and country of Egypt, will be the speaker on Saturday, March 31, at 3 p. m., according to announcement by Miss Mildred E. Manter, Director of the Museum.

Parents Asked How They Use Spare Time

Do You Read "Shakespeare" Or Try Calculus

Recently a number of parents of Newton school children were handed questionnaires by their youngsters with the caption, "How People Spend Their Leisure Time."

Under this heading was printed:

To the Teacher: Enlist the interest and co-operation of the pupils in the 7th and 8th grades and in the High School. Pupils with parents' help will fill out separate forms for father and mother. When the leisure time of the parents has been recorded for seven successive days, pupils will return forms to the teacher.

To the Parent:

We are studying the ways in which people use their leisure time. Will you not help by checking on your own leisure time for a week, using the form below? Under item, indicate as many more ways of using leisure time as you desire. Under time, indicate minutes spent on each item for 7 successive days. Be specific. Do not indicate "reading" as an item, but "reading Shakespeare," or reading the daily paper, and so for each item you add. Please indicate by a check after item 8 if you have taken any higher mathematics.

Use of Leisure Time for One Week

1. Reading daily paper.
2. At the dance.
3. Playing with, or reviewing arithmetic.
4. At the theatre.
5. In religious service.
6. At the club.
7. Playing cards.
8. Playing with, or reviewing higher mathematics (algebra, geometry, trig., analysis, calculus.)
9. Auto riding.
10. Walking.
11. Exercises at gymnasium.
12. Radio listening in.

Some of the parents who received these questionnaires were somewhat puzzled as to just what the big idea was. They had visions of espionage—they wondered if this government had started to emulate some of the Old World bureaucracies, or if the movement started by Henry Ford in probing into the private affairs of his employees was spreading. The School Department and authorities, in the opinion of some of the recipients who did not understand the real purport of the questionnaires, was accredited with, or blamed for this innovation. Inquiry revealed that the school officials were not the sponsors of the endeavor to ascertain what Newton people do with their leisure time.

"And how," it seems that someone in a Boston university is conducting a course in sociology and had some thousand of these questionnaires printed and distributed by means of teachers in schools around Greater Boston. When the Newton school authorities learned that misconceptions had resulted from the distribution of the questionnaires here, the pupils to whom they had been given were instructed not to have them filled out. If, as the persons drawing up this questionnaire, indicate, there are people who spend their leisure time endeavoring to solve problems in higher mathematics, Greater Boston is much more intellectual than many of us suppose. Most of the arithmetic that the great majority of folks hereabout play with in their leisure time is that which endeavors to make the receipts of the household equal the expenditures. There are many who feel constrained to resort to algebra or calculus to solve this problem.

It would be quite interesting to read some of these questionnaires if the persons answering them were specific, as requested. It is more than probable that Shakespeare is not being as much read as some of the writers who pander to more modern taste. And, the number of minutes father would have played stud poker, or mother had indulged in bridge, might appear large when compared with the "leisure time" spent in religious service.

There may be persons who would freely and candidly itemize all their leisure time for one week for the enlightenment of students of sociology. But such persons, in the opinion of at least one individual, are few—and far between.

THE ROISIN DHU CLUB

The Roisin Dhu Club will conduct a Dancing Party on Tuesday evening, April 10, in Bay State Hall on Centre street, Newton Corner. There will be both Gaelic and modern dancing under the direction of Joe Maher.

The entire proceeds of the dance will be used in the care of Irish Republican Army veterans who have lost their health as a result of the hardships they went through in the fight for freedom in Ireland and some of whom are now in hospitals in Massachusetts.

The following active members are working hard to make the dance a success. The Misses Kathryn Roche, Mary C. Coulston, Bessie Jordan, Marie Cotter, Anna Jordan, Agnes Murphy, Nellie O'Connor, Elizabeth Daly, Mary Sands and Mrs. Ellen McDonnell, Mrs. Christopher Ambrose, Mrs. Henry Swartz, Mrs. Thomas Gately and Mary Jordan.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report having sold the attractive California type semi-bungalow home located at 132 Beaumont avenue in the Newtonville district. This house, which contains eight rooms is located on a lot of 15,000 square feet. With the house there is a garage and the total value is $15,500. C. E. Lawrence was the grantor, and conveyed to Eva L. Lamb, who will occupy the premises as a home.

lovely Ozark Mountains. On the way home Houston, Galveston, New Orleans, and Memphis will be stopping places for a "look around." The program of the convention will be found under General Federation news. The Transportation chairman, Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, 4 Grove street, West Medford, or the Walter H. Woods Co., 80 Boylston street, Boston, await Clubwomen's orders for reservations. Mrs. Brackett pleads for early request of her, so that she may be able to arrange for a train to "Massachusetts own selves." She really ought not to have to plead with Clubwomen to express themselves speedily to her, that is, of course, if they know they can take this enthralling journey, and have the joy of this wonderful experience. She says, for the benefit of those who may be uncertain, that it is wiser for these to order, so that they may secure better accommodations, if they find they can go, and then they may cancel reservations April first, if this disappointing eventuality comes.

General Federation

BIENNIAL. Important as are the forthcoming conventions of the two great political parties, there is a third convention which looms even larger in the horizon of millions of American women; it is the nineteenth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in San Antonio, Texas, May 28th to June 7th, with the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs as hosts. Mrs. W. R. Potter, of Bowie, is president of the Texas Federation and Mrs. Henry Drought of San Antonio, is local Biennial chairman.

On the eve of her departure for a trip to the west and south, which will include San Antonio, Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation, said: "The local Biennial Board is finely organized, fully financed, and is working in such fine harmony that, knowing Texas Clubwomen as I do, I am confident that nothing will be spared to make this Biennial notable both for profit and pleasure. The hospitality of the south is proverbial, and every one who attends is assured of a right royal welcome."

A program of exceptional scope and interest is being arranged by Mrs. H. S. Godfrey, of Minneapolis, chairman of that committee. The general program of the Federation is built up around eight major departments, American Citizenship, American Home, Education, Fine Arts, International Relations, Legislation, Press and Publicity, Public Welfare. These subjects will be discussed by nationally-known women and men, and there will also be round-table discussions on achievement, past and projected. "The Fine Art of Living: Making the Federation Function in Daily Life," is the general theme of the Biennial and an effort will be made to present the practical every day aspects of Club work and their value in enriching family and community life.

sponsor a school of methods in adult teaching for Club women. This work is in line with the illiteracy survey which the Federation has been conducting at the instigation of the Commissioner of Education, Dr. J. J. Tigert. Mrs. Elizabeth C. Morriss of Asheville, North Carolina, a national authority in adult education, will conduct the school, and there will be lectures by Dr. Lewis R. Alderman, specialist in adult education in the Bureau of Education of the Federal Government.

Unusual interest attaches to the closing evening of the convention, as that is "President's Night" and Mrs. Sherman will be in charge of the program, the closing feature of which will be the presentation of the new officers. All sessions will be held in the municipal auditorium, erected by the citizens of San Antonio at a cost of more than $2,000,000 as a war memorial. Because of the unusual opportunity for exhibits, it is expected that the displays from the several departments will be more comprehensive than ever before. The program, the opening one being a dinner given by the American Home, which has been the keynote of this administration, will offer an exceptional exhibit. For the purpose of completing arrangements for this, Miss Bertha Nienberg of the Industrial Research and Survey Service of Washington, is now in San Antonio.

Social functions will have a considerable place on the program, the opening one being a dinner given by the Texas Board to honor the General Federation Board. A large reception will also be held. The several states will hold dinners and luncheons and there will be one day designated as "Play Day" when the delegates and visitors will be taken on excursions and picnics to points of interest.

The delegated body will consist of several thousand women, including representatives from every state in the Union and from many foreign countries where there are Clubs of English-speaking women holding membership in the General Federation.

HOME-MAKING. American school girls spend entirely too much time wrestling with Greek translations and integral calculus, and too little learning how to become efficient home makers, wives and mothers, according to a nationwide survey on conditions under which home economics is taught in the United States, just completed by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, through the division of Home Economics teaching, of which Mrs. Joseph C. Gawler of Yakima, Washington, is chairman.

Of the eligible enrollment in the states reporting—they represent every section of the country—but from 16 to 50 per cent are taking home economics courses; yet practically 90 per cent of these girls will be home makers. In its effort to find out why this is so, where the fault lies, and how the condition can be remedied, the General Federation has discovered that school officials frequently prefer to spend their appropriations upon what they term "cultural" courses than upon home economics.

Some mothers will not permit their daughters to put into practice in the home the principles taught them in school because of the personal inconvenience, expense, or annoyance to the maid.

If funds are limited, as they usually are, traditional courses are first provided for. Often equipment is inadequate and the superintendents, whose conception of home economics is sewing and cooking, employ as teachers practical women in preference to trained ones. Salaries are seldom commensurate with training requisites and work required.

Courses are said to need improving and reorganizing to include mothercraft, child training, hygiene, household management, and parental education. The inclusion of home economics in curricula varies from the sixth and seventh grades through junior and senior high schools with no semblance of uniformity, and whether or not it shall be taught rests all the way from the individual teacher or principal to the superintendent of public instruction. The fact that many institutions of higher learning, particularly those in the east, refuse to allow entrance credits for previous home economics work constitutes a setback to the inclusion of home economics in the high school curriculum.

In response to the inquiry for suggestions for advancing or improving the teaching of home economics, the chairman of this work in the different states offer these timely suggestions: less crowded conditions; smaller classes; longer time; more funds; more teachers; better informed Club women; state supervision of all scholastic dignifying the profession of home making; keener appreciation on the part of mothers and school administrators; advisory boards of Club women for evening schools home economics teaching; more comprehensive study of home making; higher requirements and higher salaries for teachers; reasonable teaching schedules; greater demand for home economics education; give seniors practice in supervising home projects during practice teaching experience; tie up school home economics and homes by pre-sending to Club groups local or state plans for teaching, encouraging visits and co-operation in which Clubs might offer prizes for best accomplishment in some phases of home economics.

"Epitomized, the outstanding need seems to be to create a greater appreciation of the value of home economics courses," said Mrs. Gawler, "and to awaken parents to their obligation to their daughters to equip them to meet efficiently their responsibilities of home maker, wifehood and motherhood. When these two things are effected, school executives will meet the demand and conditions will automatically improve, but until these objectives are reached every interested person should lend a hand and I am expecting the Club women to take the lead."

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The last meeting of the Newton Community Club was held at the Underwood School Hall on Thursday afternoon, March 22nd. Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, president, presided.

The chairman of the American Home Committee, Mrs. LeRoy E. Guion, invited the members of the Club to attend a "Boston Tea Party" at the rooms of the Salada Tea Company, 155 Berkeley street, on Thursday afternoon, March 22nd, at 2:30 p. m. Miss Anna Foster, of the American Home Makers' Association to be the speaker. Art treasures were to be exhibited, and tea served at 3:30 p. m.

Mrs. Fitts introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. A. A. Roback, who has been connected with a number of different universities as instructor of psychology, and is at present instructor of psychology at Harvard University and professor at Northeastern University. Dr. Roback is the author of several books on psychological subjects. The topic of Dr. Roback's talk was "Your Task and How To Lessen It."

He said all have tasks of one sort or another, and a task is made irksome usually by one's mental attitude toward it. Adjustment is the quintessence of intelligence. It is best hence to try to think not of the burden but of the results. Mental and physical fatigue can be saved by assuming the right attitude toward the task, and by being careful to avoid unnecessary interference, as, for instance, much time spent in useless conversation and in some popular pastimes which leave no definite benefit.

To accept the task as a pleasure is to grow with the task and this is done by systematizing the task.

The next meeting of the Club will be held at the usual place on April 12th, when there will be an afternoon of music arranged by the Music Committee. Mrs. James A. Moyer, chairman, Mrs. Stuart Mason will play. The third and last food sale will take place after this meeting.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

This Club met on Friday, March 23rd, at 2:30 p. m. in the Unitarian Parish House. After the business meeting, the program was in charge of the Education Committee, Mrs. George H. Jackson, chairman. Mrs. Jackson introduced Dr. Mace Andrews, well known resident of Newtonville, speaker of the afternoon, whose subject was "Healthy Personalities." He told his audience that a truly healthy person was one who had an abundance of vitality, and not one who is just able to resist a sick bed. He said that people should be mentally healthy as well as physically healthy; that one should develop a healthy personality and so avoid nervous breakdowns. Dr. Andrews said that life from infancy to old age is a drama of adjustments. To develop a healthy personality one should learn to grapple with life, and especially to learn to accept the inevitable. This talk was extremely interesting and greatly appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. Virginia Birgeford, formerly a Club member, sang beautifully a group of songs, after which everyone was invited to the tea room for refreshments. A food sale was held with gratifying results. It is pleasant to report that Hathaway's Bread Company donated thirty loaves of freshly baked bread and a generous supply of paper napkins, for all of which the Club was very grateful.

The Travel Class of this Club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Durkee, 19 Parsons street, West Newton, on Monday, March 26th, with Mrs. Lois A. Bacon assisting the hostess. Mrs. Bacon took charge of the meeting in the absence of the leader, Mrs. Clendenen Smith. Mrs. John McCarthy read a very interesting paper on "Hygiene, Dental Surgery and Medicine," telling of the progress made in these three subjects. Mrs. B. Howard Lester also gave a most interesting paper on "The literature of the United States," describing the works of American poets and authors, and quoting briefly some of their best known poems and essays. Coffee and dainty refreshments completed a very pleasant occasion.

The first paper of the morning was on "Snyderman and Haupman," with readings from the latter author's "Dame Care," and was given by Mrs. Franklin Leland.

The second paper was by Mrs. Ernest Drew comparing two of Germany's greatest philosophers, "Schopenhauer and Nietzsche." The last was on "The Grimm Brothers," joint writers of the famous Fairy Tales, and Godfrey Keller. This paper was written by Mrs. E. J. Frost and read by Mrs. Stephen Wright, as Mrs. Frost is still at Pinehurst. A group of four songs by Mrs. Graham with Mrs. Leland at the piano, were also enjoyed.

This is the first time that women voters have had this opportunity.

"YOU CAN RELY ON LEWANDOS" nical High School on Tuesday, March 27th, at 2:30 p. m. After the routine business of reports from the secretaries and treasurer, and short notices from the committee chairmen, Mrs. Bond, from the Social and Industrial Conditions Committee of the State Federation, gave a brief talk. She made a plea for increased interest in the work of her committee asking that, if possible, Clubs give one or more afternoons during the year for the presentation and study of one or more of the topics recommended by this committee.

Miss Ruth Chapin, executive secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, told in a few words some of the work of that organization, mentioning that in February, 119 families had been assisted by the Bureau with an expenditure of $465 and the distribution of 550 articles of clothing. She particularly stressed the need of all sorts of clothing, especially for children. Miss Chapin said that the proceeds of the Christmas Seals Sale gives the Welfare Bureau a valuable opportunity of helping in the tuberculosis work, the greater part of which is among the children. It was announced, also, that the Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring the Philadelphia Rice Players at the Newton Opera House on Saturday evenings during part of April and May.

The co-operation of the women of Newton in this effort to increase the funds of the Y. W. C. A. will surely make a success of this venture.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of the Civics Committee, Mrs. E. Payson Upham, Jr., chairman, who introduced Mrs. Trueworthy White, from the Massachusetts League of Women Voters. Mrs. White gave a most concise and interesting talk on the privileges and duties of women in regard to the franchise, elucidating some points about ballots that are not clear to all voters. She explained briefly the short ballot and the addition to this year's ballot that gives an opportunity at the Presidential Primary on April 24th for a personal choice for President to be indicated.

This is the first time that women voters have had this opportunity.

Notice was given of the preselection rally to be held at the Newton High School Auditorium on April 12th.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday morning, Mrs. Richard Walter opened her house for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club. During the business hour there were committee reports and an announcement of the Bridge and Food Sale, which is to be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Amos R. Wells, 43 Williston road, on Friday, April 13th, at 2:30 o'clock. The tickets are $1.00 each and the money realized will swell the Philanthropic Fund.

The first paper of the morning was on "Snyderman and Haupman," with readings from the latter author's "Dame Care," and was given by Mrs. Franklin Leland.

The second paper was by Mrs. Ernest Drew comparing two of Germany's greatest philosophers, "Schopenhauer and Nietzsche." GIRL SCOUTS

On Monday evening, March 26th, there was an open meeting of the commissioners conference in the big Cement Barn at Cedar Hill in Waltham. Commissioners, council members, captains and first lieutenants from all parts of the Metropolitan Division attended the meeting, the chairman of which was Mrs. Charles B. Moseley of Needham, commissioner for the Metropolitan Division. A plan for a model Girl Scout troop meeting was arranged by Miss Edith Sinnett, director for the Metropolitan Division and carried out by two patrols from Troop 14, Waban. It was a typical troop meeting provided by Court of Honor and Patrols in Council. For the opening ceremony the color guard was Phyllis Reinhardt, Mary Stephan, Elizabeth Adams, Elsie Stephan, and Charlotte Upham, bugler. Scout work was led by Captain Warren, and Lieutenants Burnham and Whitaker, both Golden Eagle Girl Scouts and former patrol leaders in Troop 14. The meeting closed with a discussion on troop spirit and Taps blown by Elizabeth Adams. The girls were then dismissed and the commissioners and their guests adjourned to the Rookery where a discussion on troop meetings was led by Miss Sinnett.

Girl Scouts from several different troops in Newton spent a very successful swimming afternoon in St. Agnes School tank in Newton on Wednesday, March 21st, under the direction of Captain Redfield and Lieutenant Burnham. The next swimming period will be at the same tank on Wednesday, April 4th, at 2:30. Tickets of admission will be on sale at the Girl Scout Headquarters, 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, for those who wish to join the swimming group. Girls who are interested in the Junior Red Cross Life Saving Course are asked to send their names in to headquarters. Their class will begin at 2:30. Each girl must provide her own bathing suit, cap and towel.

Interest in Girl Scout summer camps is reviving with the warmer weather and the appearance of the camp circulars. Miss Freeman, director for the Newton Girl Scout camp at South avenue, Natick, will be at Camp on Sunday, April 1st, after 2:30 o'clock to talk to parents and to show them the camp and its equipment. She will also be at the Newton Girl Scout Headquarters every morning during the coming week to talk to parents of prospective campers.

The Girl Scout Leaders Training which has met weekly in Waban since the first week in November will hold its last indoor meeting on Thursday, March 29th. The final meeting of the course will be an overnight hike to the Calf Barn at Cedar Hill on April 4th. The leaders will undertake this hike under the same conditions as the girls do, planning and cooking their own meals, and sleeping on bags of hay on the floor.

"THE LITTLE PRINCESS"

On March 20th at Newton Centre Club House the play, "Little Princess," was presented by Mrs. Everett W. Varney before a packed house. The very human story of Sara Crewe, written by Frances Hodgson Burnett, has a great appeal to children and grown up children as well. It is the story of a child whose fortune turns from luxury to poverty and who shows courage and courtesy through it all, who continues to be a little princess "though in rags and tatters." Alta Maloney, who was in the play, "A Prince There Was," was the lead. She not only looked the part but carried the personality throughout the play with poise and charm. She was supported by a large cast of seventeen children and seven adults. Especially good were the interpretations of Miss Minchin by Mrs. Ellis Spear, Ermengarde, by Ruth Stephenson, Becky, by Jane Nickerson, Lottie, by Helen Pigeon, and Donald, by Stephen Bailey. All took their parts so sincerely and so naturally that the audience of children for two hours forgot Newton Centre and became a part of the life of a London boarding school.

The appearance in the middle act of Melchizedek the rat, was cause of great enthusiasm and when the live monkey Aydnachuse was taken in through the attic window, there was nothing to do but stop a moment for the children to say their ohs and ahs of delight. It was the custom of Mrs. Varney several years ago to put on a children's play annually. Again she has begun to offer the children a play each year. It is most impressive to see the children pour out all the side streets into Centre street and like the sure of the Pied Piper of Hamelin follow the call of imaginative. The play will be repeated in the grand ball room of the Copley Plaza on Saturday, April 14th, at 11 a. m.

NEW THEATRE TO OPEN IN WALTHAM

The problem of where to park an automobile will never concern patrons of the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre which will open Monday, April 9th.

Thousands of feet of parking space has been provided and an attendant will be on duty at all times to insure the safety of the automobile of patrons. This feature is but one of the many features provided freely for the comfort and convenience of the Embassy patrons.

It will be the first New England theatre to have created within itself a brand new atmosphere. Stepping from the street inside the theatre will be like stepping from one world into another. The walls of the auditorium have been built to resemble the walls of a Spanish courtyard and this effect has been carried out in the whole structure.

The stage itself will be one of the largest stages in this section of the country, and was designed to permit the largest type of stage attractions. These stage attractions will be part of the regular program and will be in addition to regular photoplays.

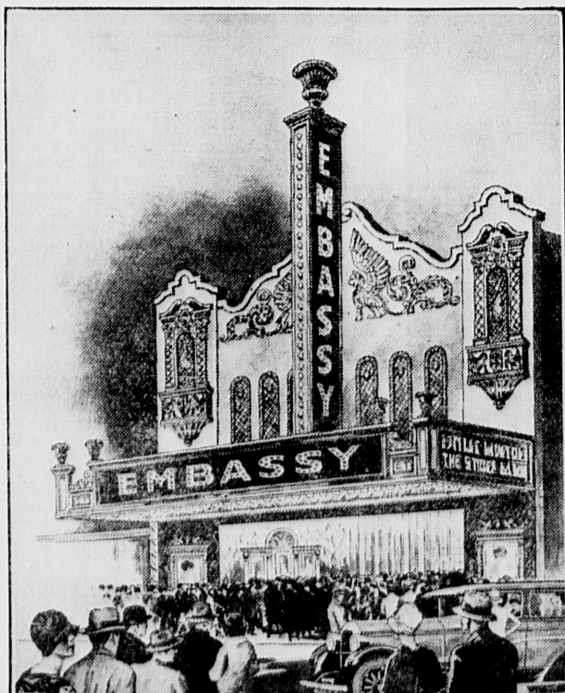

The theatre is located on Moody street, in the heart of the Watch City, and is expected to draw patrons from many of the surrounding cities and towns. It was with this idea in mind that the automobile parking was secured.

The staff of the theatre is now being drilled. The ushers and other attendants will be under the direct supervision of a trained executive who insists that courtesy to all patrons is an essential feature of any theatre.

There will be two performances a day, matinee and evening performance. The comfort which has been carried to the limit in the theatre is manifest in the seats and in the seating arrangements. The aisles are unusually wide. The seats are roomy, and there is plenty of leg-room even for unusually tall persons.

D. A. R.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter D. A. R. held its last meeting with Mrs. Charles E. Beane, Pine Crest road, Newton Centre. Mrs. C. W. Tudbury, delegate to the State Conference, gave a very fine report of the meetings held March 14, 15 at Hotel Statler. A paper on the "Early History of Newton," written by Miss Cora S. Cobb, has recently been accepted.

Com. Chadwick Makes Annual Dept. Report

In the annual report of the city building department, extracts from which are printed below, Commissioner Cecil C. Chadwick makes a number of important recommendations:

Eighty-two buildings come under the charge of the Building Department at an estimated valuation of $9,534,976.00. They are all in active use, and as some of them are quite old it is necessary that a considerable amount of money should be expended to properly maintain these buildings. The sum of $60,000.00 appropriated for the year 1927 to take care of all of these buildings, I feel is not a sufficient amount. After giving this matter very careful study, I feel that we should have not less than $100,000.00 appropriated for the maintenance, alterations and repairs of public buildings for the year 1928.

As the New Hamilton School will be ready for use in September, 1928, I would recommend that the old building be razed, as it is not a building that could be put to practical use.

The Oak Hill school, I believe, should be razed as it is in very poor condition. At present there is only one class-room being used, and the expense to make repairs on this building would be unreasonable. I would suggest the moving of the two-class-room portable building now located on the Police School lot to the Oak Hill district, and equip the same with toilet rooms.

Owing to the growth of the city which has increased the volume of the work necessary in the departments, I would recommend that some changes be made in City Hall; either by transferring some of the departments to the old church building attached to City Hall, or a different arrangement of the departments in the Hall. On account of the close connection of the work in the Building Department with the Engineering, Street and Water Departments, I would recommend that they stay in this building, and by slight alterations or changes the Building Department could be taken care of for some time to come.

Building Code

Our Building Code is quite out-of-date and much more economy could be occasioned in the construction of buildings by changing the structural conditions, and the code could be a great deal more simplified so that it could be read more easily.

I would recommend that the entire code be rewritten by a Commission, appointed by the Mayor, bringing it up-to-date. I would also recommend that thought be given to the possibility of a State Uniform Building Code, which would take care of only the structural parts of building, and would not touch on the Zoning, as I believe Zoning can only be done in each community by its ordinances.

Zoning Ordinance

On account of our very fast growth, I would recommend that our Zoning Ordinance be given close study, possibly eliminating some of the Zones we now have, and establishing a new zone, making the City more uniformly zoned.

Cesspool Permits

Cesspool permits are now granted by the Board of Health Department. There appears to be considerable confusion in the issuing of the same caused by incorrect information given by applicants. This function, being intimately connected with the construction and plumbing of buildings, should be placed with this department in which is located all other information with which cesspool permits should be checked before being issued. I have consulted with the Health Department in regard to this matter, and they agree with me that some action be taken for the best interests of both departments. It is my intention to give you a further report in regard to this matter.

Plumbing Code

Our present plumbing code is now six years old, no revision having been made since that time. The Department of Commerce in 1924 made public the findings of the sub-committee on plumbing, after four years of study and at a great expense to the federal government. Some nearby cities and towns have already adopted this code either wholly or in part. This code contains many points which, if incorporated into our code, would result in a considerable saving to home builders. I, therefore, recommend that the Plumbing Code be entirely rewritten with this end in view. This revision would take care of new types of construction and solve many difficulties in connection with enforcing the present code.

WHIST PARTY

Court Genoa, Catholic Daughters of America, of Newton, will hold a Bridge and Whist and Tea on Saturday afternoon, March 31st, at the League of Catholic Women House, 1 Arlington street, Boston. Bridge will begin at two thirty. For the past nine years Court Genoa has given an Easter Dinner to the boys of the Working Boys Home and this party is held to help defray the expenses of the dinner. The Committee in charge consists of Miss B. T. McGrath, Grand Regent; Miss Catherine C. McCarthy, Chairman; Miss D. L. McEhany, Miss Helen Davis, Miss Julia M. Eneagess, Mrs. Mary Lawless and Mrs. Louise Maher.

NEW CURATE AT NEWTON CENTRE

Rev. Ambrose E. Walker has been assigned by Cardinal O'Connell to succeed Rev. James Haney as curate at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. He is a native of Roxbury, graduated from Boston College in 1910 and from Brighton Seminary in 1914. Following his ordination he served as curate in Our Lady of Grace parish at Chelsea and at the Star of the Sea Church in Marblehead. He then was assigned to duties with the Society for the Propagation of the Faith in Boston and remained there until coming to Newton Centre.
